TITLE 27—INTOXICATING LIQUORS

FEDERAL ALCOHOL ADMINISTRATION

[Regulations No. 7, Amendment No. 1]

AMENDING CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE MALT BEVERAGES LABELING AND ADVERTISING REGULATIONS WITH REFERENCE TO DESIGNATING PRODUCTS AS "ALE," "PORTER," OR "STOUT," OR BY DISTINCTIVE OR FANCIFUL NAMES, AND TO OTHER MATTERS

Pursuant to the provisions of Sections 5 (e) and (f) of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act, as amended, Regulations No. 7,[1] Relating to Labeling and Advertising of Malt Beverages, are amended as follows:

1. Article II, Section 24 (a), of said regulations is amended to read:

"(a) The class of the malt beverage shall be stated and, if desired, the type thereof may be stated. Statements of class and type shall conform to the designation of the product as known to the trade. If the product is not known to the trade under a particular designation, a distinctive or fanciful name, together with an adequate and truthful statement of the composition of the product, shall be stated, and such statement shall be deemed to be a statement of class and type for the purposes of these regulations."

2. Article II, Section 24 (d), of said regulations is amended to read:

"(d) No product other than a malt beverage fermented at comparatively high temperature, possessing the characteristics generally attributed to 'ale', 'porter', or 'stout' and produced without the use of coloring or flavoring materials (other than those recognized in standard brewing practices) shall bear any of these class designations."

3. Article II, Section 24 (e), of said regulations is amended to read:

"(e) Geographical names for distinctive types of malt beverages (other than names found by the Administrator under subsection (f) to have become generic) shall not be applied to malt beverages produced in any place other than the particular region indicated by the name unless (1) in direct conjunction with the name there appears the word 'type' or the word 'American', or some other statement indicating the true place of production in lettering substantially as conspicuous as such name, and (2) the malt beverages to which the name is applied conform to the type so designated. The following are examples of distinctive types of beer with geographical names that have not become generic: Dortmund, Dortmunder, Vienna, Wien, Wiener, Bavarian, Munich, Munchner, Salvator, Kulmbacher, Wurzburger, Pilsen (Pilsener and Pilsner): Provided, That notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, beer which is produced in the United States may be designated as 'Pilsen,' 'Pilsener,' or 'Pilsner' without further modification, if it conforms to such type."

4. Article II, Section 24 (f), of said regulations is amended to read:

"(f) Only such geographical names for distinctive types of malt beverages as the Administrator finds have by usage and common knowledge lost their geographical significance to such an extent that they have become generic shall be deemed to have become generic, e. g. India Pale Ale."

5. Article V, Section 54 (d) (2), of said regulations is amended to read:

"(2) No product other than a malt beverage fermented at comparatively high temperature, possessing the characteristics generally attributed to 'ale,' 'porter,' or 'stout' and produced without the use of coloring or flavoring materials (other than those recognized in standard brewing practices) shall be designated in any advertisement by any of these class designations."

These amendments shall become effective fourteen days after the date of filing with the Division of the Federal Register.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

[Docket No. A–78 O–78]

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON PROPOSED ORDER AND ON AMENDMENT TO APPROVED MARKETING AGREEMENT REGULATING HANDLING OF MILK IN FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, MARKETING AREA

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture on February 1, 1937, entered into a marketing agreement with handlers of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, Marketing Area, which marketing agreement regulates such handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, Marketing Area as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce in such milk; and

Whereas, the Wayne Cooperative Milk Producers, Inc. has requested the Secretary to hold a public hearing on an amendment to said marketing agreement and on an order designed to regulate such handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, Marketing Area as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce in such milk; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture has reason to believe that the execution of an amendment to said marketing agreement or the issuance of an order or both will tend to effectuate the declared policy of Public Act No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 with respect to such handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, Marketing Area as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce in such milk; and

Whereas, under said act notice of and opportunity for a hearing is required prior to the execution of an amendment to a marketing agreement or the issuance of an order and the General Regulations, Series A, No. 1,[1] as amended, of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, United States Department of Agriculture, provide for such notice;

Now, therefore, pursuant to said act and said general regulations notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held in the Community Room, Court House, Fort Wayne, Indiana, on July 6, 1938, at 10:00 a. m., c. d. s. t., on an aforementioned amendment to said marketing agreement and on said proposed order.

At this public hearing representatives of the Secretary will receive factual evidence (1) as to whether the amendment to said marketing agreement will effectuate the declared policy of the act and (2) as to whether marketing conditions for such handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, Marketing Area as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce in such milk are so disorderly as to necessitate regulation in order that the declared policy of the act may be effectuated.

The proposed amendment to the marketing agreement provides, among other things, for (a) payment of premiums for grade A milk from the proceeds of the equalization pool, (b) changes in the classification of milk, (c) changes in the price for Class II milk, (d) changes in the method of computing the equalization pool, and (e) deletion of the provisions relative to base ratings.

The proposed order provides, among other things, for (a) selection of a market administrator, (b) classification of milk, (c) minimum prices, (d) reports of handlers, (e) payments to producers through the use of an equalization pool, (f) deductions from payments to producers for marketing services by the market administrator, and (g) expenses of administration.

It is hereby declared that an emergency exists in the handling of milk in the aforesaid area, which requires a shorter period of notice than fifteen (15) days; and it is hereby determined that the period of notice given is reasonable under the circumstances.

Copies of the proposed amendment to the marketing agreement and of the proposed order may be procured from the Hearing Clerk, Room 0318, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

4. Assignment of excepted employees.—A person appointed without competitive examination under section 3 of this rule or by authority of an act of Congress shall not be assigned to the work of a competitive classified position without the approval of the Commission or specific provision of law.

5. Laborers.—Laborers who, in connection with their usual duties, are to perform work of the grade performed by classified employees shall be appointed upon certification by the Commission from appropriate registers of eligibles in the manner provided by these rules; and a person employed merely as a laborer or workman without examination under these rules shall not be assigned to work of the grade performed by classified employees. Any such person who fails to meet the foregoing requirements of this section shall be separated from the service within thirty days (exclusive of leave to which he is entitled) after the Commission reports that he is ineligible for classification unless the head of the agency concerned certifies to the Commission that such person has rendered satisfactory service and that he should be retained although without acquiring a competitive classified status.

7. Classification in post offices.—The Postmaster General shall promptly notify the Commission of each order for the advancement of any post office from the third class to the second class, or for the consolidation of any post office with one in which the employees are classified as competitive. On the date of effect of such order, section 6 of this rule shall apply to the positions, officers, and employees of the offices affected, and all other provisions of these rules shall become applicable to all officers and employees who so qualify and to all such positions thereafter filled in the same manner as they apply to those in offices now classified. The Postmaster General shall, upon the date he reports the advancement of any post office from the third to the second class, or as soon thereafter as is practicable, notify the Commission as to which of the employees in such office he recommends for classification.

8. Appointment without competitive examination in rare cases.—Whenever the Commission shall find that the duties or compensation of a vacant position are such, or that qualified persons are so rare that in its judgment such position cannot, in the interest of good civil-service administration, be filled at that time through open competitive examination, it may authorize such vacancy to be filled without competitive examination, and in any case in which such authority is given, evidence satisfactory to the Commission of the qualifications of the person to be appointed without competitive examination shall be required. A detailed statement of the reasons for its action in any case arising hereunder shall be made in the records of the Commission and shall be published in its annual report. Any subsequent vacancy in such position shall not be filled without competitive examination except upon express authority of the Commission in accordance with this section.

RULE III. EXAMINATIONS

1. Competitive examinations.—The Commission shall prepare, recruit for, hold, and rate open competitive examinations for admission to the classified service, and in all other cases required by these rules or by executive order, which examinations shall be of a practical and suitable character, and shall be held at such times and places as may most nearly meet the needs of the service, with due consideration for the convenience of applicants.

2. Noncompetitive examinations.—The Commission may give noncompetitive examinations to test fitness for (a) reinstatement, (b) appointment to positions excepted from the classified service under these rules or by executive order; and shall give noncompetitive examinations for transfer or promotion when competitive promotion examinations are not held.

3. Examinations.—Examinations shall whenever practicable be assembled and include written or practical tests; the rating of experience when part of the test shall, so far as practicable, follow personal interview and be qualitative as well as quantitative. Whenever the announcement of any examination in which education, training, or experience is prerequisite shall so state, and the applicants are given opportunity to file detailed sworn statements of their qualifications, a preliminary competitive rating may be given on the basis of the duties, requirements, and conditions of work in the position to be filled before any applicant shall be required to travel for further tests. Applicants rated highest on such preliminary rating, to a number not incommensurate with the number of vacancies expected during the life of the list, shall be afforded opportunity to assemble or otherwise compete in such further competitive tests as the Commission may require. The character, record, and physical fitness of applicants shall be tested or investigated and approved whenever practicable prior to certification.

4. Examinations for professional or technical positions.—All examinations for professional or technical positions or positions which under existing executive practice are filled only by persons having professional or technical training shall be formulated by the Civil Service Commission in collaboration with the head of the affected department, independent establishment, or corporation, or his designated representative, and shall make due allowance for the particular training, experience, and skill regarded as requisite under existing administrative practice.

RULE IV. BOARDS OF EXAMINERS

1. Appointment and duties.—(a) The Commission shall designate from among persons in the federal service, after consulting the head of the department or office in which such persons serve, such boards of examiners as it shall deem necessary. Their members shall perform such duties as the Commission may direct, in connection with the execution of the Civil Service Act and these rules, and in the performance thereof they shall be under the direct and sole control of the Commission. Such duties shall be considered part of the duties of the office in which they are serving and time shall be allowed therefor during office hours. No such board shall be composed solely of adherents of one political party when other persons are available and competent to serve.

(b) Where qualified special examiners are not available in the federal service, the Commission may, by unanimous vote, designate individuals outside the service specially qualified by experience and training and of outstanding reputation in their own field to serve on a board of examiners for a particular examination and compensate them for such service on a per-diem basis.

2. Cooperation with other boards, commissions, and agencies.—The Commission shall render all practicable assistance to the Philippine and Puerto Rico civil-service boards, and such other federal, state, or local agencies as shall request its cooperation and offer like cooperation or adequately provide its share of the expense, and shall conduct or join in conducting examinations, upon their request, under such regulations as may be jointly agreed upon. Where the Commission has joined in the conduct of such examinations, it may certify eligibles from appropriate resulting registers to fill vacancies in the United States civil service.

3. Executive officers to facilitate examinations.—Persons in the executive civil service shall facilitate the holding of examinations and other work of the Commission; and executive officers in charge of public buildings shall permit and arrange for the use of suitable rooms under their charge, and for heating, lighting, and furnishing them.

RULE V. QUALIFICATIONS OF APPLICANTS

1. Citizenship.—No person shall be admitted to examination unless he is a citizen of or owes allegiance to the United States, and no person shall be examined or certified for appointment if his appointment would be contrary to law.

2. Form of application.—Application for examination must be made under oath, in such form and manner and accompanied by such certificates as the Commission may prescribe.

3. Disqualifications.—The Commission may, in its discretion, refuse to examine an applicant for appointment or reinstatement or to certify an eligible for any of the following reasons: (a) Dismissal from the service for delinquency, inefficiency, or misconduct; (b) physical or mental unfitness for the position for which he applies: Provided, that the Commission may, in its discretion, exempt from the physical requirements established for any position a disabled honorably-discharged soldier, sailor, or marine upon a certificate of the United States Veterans Administration attesting that he has completed an appropriate and sufficient rehabilitatory course of training for the duties of the class of positions in which employment is sought; And provided further, that the Commission, may in its discretion, waive the physical requirements in the case of a disabled veteran not so trained to permit his examination; (c) criminal, infamous, dishonest, immoral, or notoriously disgraceful conduct; (d) intentionally making a false statement as to any material fact, or practicing any deception or fraud in securing examination, registration, certification, or appointment; (e) refusal to furnish testimony as required by Rule XIV; and (f) the habitual use of intoxicating beverages to excess.

Any of the reasons stated in the foregoing clauses (b) to (f), inclusive, shall also be good cause for removal from the service.

4. Age limits.—The Commission may, with the approval of the proper appointing officer, change by regulation the existing age limits for entrance to the examinations under these rules, but persons entitled to veteran preference may be examined without regard to age except for such positions as the Commission shall by regulation specify: Provided, that they have not reached the retirement age for the position sought.

5. Trades positions.—Applicants for positions in the recognized mechanical trades must have served as apprentices or journeymen for such periods as the Commission may prescribe.

RULE VI. RATINGS AND ELIGIBILITY

1. Rating.—Examination papers shall be rated on a scale of 100 and the subjects therein shall be given such relative weights as the Commission may prescribe. Honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines, shall have 5 points added to their earned ratings in examinations for entrance to the classified service. Applicants for entrance examination who are honorably discharged and who establish by official records the present existence of a service-connected disability, or who are over fifty-five years of age and, because of disability, are entitled to pension or compensation under existing laws, and widows of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines, and wives of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines who because of service-connected disability or who are over fifty-five years of age and because of disability, are themselves not qualified but whose wives are qualified for appointment, shall have 10 points added to their earned ratings; and this shall also apply to retired officers and enlisted men who establish through official sources the present existence of a service-connected disability in the same manner as is required of others who are granted disability preference. In examinations where experience is an element of qualification, time spent in the military or naval service of the United States during the World War or the War with Spain shall be credited in an applicant's ratings where the applicant's actual employment in a similar vocation to that for which he applies was temporarily interrupted by such military or naval service but was resumed after his discharge. The Commission, not oftener than once each quarter, may reopen examinations to applicants granted disability preference.

Employees in any positions in the classified service who are qualified to enter any open competitive examination shall, upon earning a passing mark therein, be placed also upon a separate list of eligible government employees, which list may be certified separately in accordance with the civil service rules to fill vacancies occurring in the positions for which the examination is held. Age limitations may be waived for employees otherwise eligible to compete in such examinations. Employees eligible to compete in any such examination shall be granted leave of absence for the time required to take such examination.

Competitors shall be notified of their ratings, and upon their request, they shall also be notified of their standing on the list.

2. Eligible registers.—All competitors rated at 70 or more shall be eligible for appointment, and their names shall be placed on the proper register according to their ratings; but the names of persons entitled to disability preference as defined in section 1 of this rule shall be placed above all others.

3. Term of eligibility.—The term of eligibility shall be one year beginning with the date on which the name of the eligible is entered on the register. This term may be extended, in the discretion of the Commission, for one additional year, and thereafter a register may be certified only for such eligibles as continue to meet all examination requirements, and where experience was part of the test only after supplementary examination of additional and interim experience and rerating of such experience. All eligibles on a list more than two years old who fail to file additional experience data as required by the Commission or who fail to meet the requirements or receive a passing mark on rerating shall be dropped from the list. No register hereafter established shall be used for more than two years unless it has been extended and revised in accordance with the provisions of this rule.

RULE VII. CERTIFICATION

1. Method of filling vacancies.—All vacancies in any position or employment not excepted from examination shall be filled as hereinafter provided: (a) By transfer upon requisition to and certificate of the Commission, of any employee employed anywhere in the service holding a position in the same class of the same grade, or otherwise eligible for such transfer under Rule X; (b) by reinstatement upon requisition to and certificate of the Commission under Rule IX or by certificate without requisition under section 4 of Rule XII in the discretion of the Commission; (c) by competitive promotion upon requisition to and certificate by the Commission from a competitive promotion register of eligibles in the department or establishment where the vacancy exists, or if there are no such eligibles, then from such a register of eligibles in other departments or establishments having the same status in the service, such certification to be in the order of standing on such eligible register unless the Commission shall determine that a selective certification is necessary pursuant to the rules; (d) by noncompetitive promotion upon requisition to and certificate of the Commission following noncompetitive examination when competitive promotion examinations are not held; (e) by transfer from a lower to a higher position of any employee eligible for such transfer upon requisition to and certificate of the Commission following examination; and (f) from open competitive eligible registers upon requisition to and certificate by the Commission.

2. Method of certification.—Certification for original appointment and competitive promotion shall be made as follows:

(a) Certification.—The nominating or appointing officer shall request the certification of eligibles, and the Commission shall certify, from the head of the appropriate register of eligibles, a number of persons sufficient to permit the nominating or appointing officer to consider three persons in connection with each vacancy. When so provided by regulation of the Commission, selection shall be made from the register by the nominating or appointing officer without preliminary certification of the Commission. Where the Commission finds that there is no register in existence appropriate as a whole to fill a particular existing vacancy, the Commission in its discretion may certify selectively from the most nearly appropriate existing register, in the order of their ranking, the names of any individuals thereon found by it to be adequately qualified to fulfill the particular requirements of the vacant position. Certification of an eligible for temporary appointment shall not affect his eligibility for certification for probational appointment. Certification shall be made without regard to sex unless the sex desired is specified in the original requisition.

(b) Selections.—The nominating or appointing officer shall make selections for the first vacancy from not more than the highest three persons certified, or on the register, with sole reference to merit and fitness, unless objection shall be made and sustained by the Commission, to one or more of the persons certified, for any of the reasons stated in Rule V, section 3. For the second vacancy he shall make selection from not more than the highest three remaining, who have not been within his reach for three separate vacancies, or against whom objection has not been made and sustained in the manner indicated. The third and any additional vacancies shall be filled in like manner. More than one selection may be made from the three persons next in order for appointment, or from two persons if the register contains the names of only two, subject to the requirements of section 3 of this rule as to the apportionment.

An appointing officer who passes over an eligible veteran and selects another eligible with the same or a lower rating shall file with the Civil Service Commission a written statement setting forth in detail his reasons for so doing, which reasons will not be made available to the veteran or any one else except in the discretion of the appointing officer. The Commission will review these reasons and in every instance where they are not regarded as adequate will so advise the head of the appropriate department or independent establishment for his consideration.

Any eligible who has been within reach for three separate vacancies in his turn may be subsequently selected, subject to the approval of the Commission, from the certificate on which his name last appeared, if the condition of the register has not so changed as to place him in other respects beyond reach of certification.

(c) Probationary appointment.—A person selected for appointment shall be duly notified by the appointing officer and upon accepting and reporting for duty shall receive from such officer a certificate of probational appointment. The first year of service under this appointment shall be the probationary period unless a shorter period, not less than six months, is provided by regulation. If and when, after full and fair trial for not less than one month, the conduct or capacity of the probationer be not satisfactory to the appointing officer, the probationer may at any time thereafter during this period be so notified in writing, with a full statement of reasons, and this notice shall terminate his service. Efficiency-rating reports of all probationers shall be periodically filed with the Commission at such time and in such form as the regulations of the Commission shall provide. If at the end of the probationary period the probationer's service rating has been satisfactory, to the extent required by regulation, his retention in the service shall confirm his absolute appointment. If, however, his service rating has been unsatisfactory as so provided, his service shall be terminated at the end of the probationary period.

A probationer separated from the service without delinquency or misconduct may be restored to the register of eligibles in the discretion of the Commission for the remainder of any period of eligibility thereon.

3. Apportionment.—Certification for appointment in the departments or independent offices at Washington shall be so made as to maintain, as nearly as the conditions of good administration warrant, the apportionment of appointments among the several States and Territories and the District of Columbia upon the basis of population, but eligibles who have been granted military preference shall be certified without regard to apportionment, and the appointments of persons covered into the classified service by executive order or otherwise, or exempted from the restrictions of the quota provision in certification, shall be excluded from the apportionment figures: Provided, that appointments to the following positions shall not be so apportioned:

(a) In all departments and offices: Apprentice, electric lineman, electric wireman, engraver, gardner, helper (if approved by the Commission), skilled laborer (female), student, telephone operator, and mechanical trades and allied positions of the noneducational class incumbents of which are retirable at not over 65 years of age.

(b) In the Government Printing Office, mail equipment shops (now field), local offices in the District of Columbia, field service of the military staff departments, and at Army headquarters: All positions.

(c) In the Bureau of Engraving and Printing: Plate printer and skilled helper.

4. District certification.—The Commission may arrange the territory of the United States into appropriate districts for the purpose of certification to positions in parts of the service not subject to apportionment, and certification to any such position may be confined to residents of the district in which such position is located.

RULE VIII. TEMPORARY APPOINTMENT

1. Pending regular filling of vacancy.—Temporary appointment without examination and certification by the Commission shall not be made to a competitive position in any case, except when the public interest so requires, and then only upon the prior authorization of the Commission; and any appointment so authorized shall continue only for such period as may be necessary to make appointment through certification of eligibles, and in no case, without prior approval of the Commission, shall extend beyond thirty days from the date of the receipt by the appointing officer of the Commission's certificate. When a vacancy is to be filled by promotion or transfer under the civil service rules and a temporary appointment is authorized by the Commission under the provisions of this section pending the promotion or transfer, such temporary appointment shall in no case continue beyond the period of thirty days without prior approval of the Commission.

2. Pending establishment of register.—Whenever there are no eligibles upon a register for any grade in which a vacancy exists and the public interest requires that the vacancy be filled before eligibles can be provided by the Commission, the Commission may authorize temporary appointment without examination. Such appointment shall continue only for such period as may be necessary to make appointment through certification, and in no case, without prior approval of the Commission, shall extend beyond thirty days from the date of the receipt by the appointing officer of the Commission's certification of eligibles.

3. Pending full certification.—Whenever there is at least one eligible and not more than two eligibles on a register for any grade in which a vacancy exists, the Commission shall, upon requisition from the proper appointing officer, certify the one eligible or the two eligibles, as the case may be, who shall be considered by the appointing officer with a view to probational appointment; and if the appointing officer shall elect not to make probational appointment from such certification, and temporary appointment is required, such appointment shall be made from such certification unless reasons satisfactory to the Commission are given why the appointment should not be so made. Such temporary appointment may continue until three eligibles are provided. If selection is not made from the certification for either probational or temporary appointment under the provisions of this section, then temporary appointment, if required, may be made under the provisions of section 2 of this rule.

4. Job employment.—When there is work of a temporary character, at the completion of which the services of an additional employee will not be required, a temporary appointment may be made with the prior consent of the Commission for a period not to exceed three months, and may with like consent of the Commission be extended for a further period of three months. Such temporary appointment shall be made through certification from the Commission's eligible registers unless the Commission shall decide, in a particular case, that there are no available eligibles. Such temporary appointment shall not extend beyond six months, unless there are no eligibles available for the additional period or under unusual circumstances which seem to the Commission to justify an extension beyond six months; and in no case shall such temporary appointment extend beyond six months for any purpose other than to complete the job of work for which the person was originally employed. The Commission may restrict certification for temporary appointment to such eligibles as by reason of residence or other conditions are immediately available.

5. Temporary appointment made permanent.—The acceptance by an eligible of a temporary appointment shall not affect his standing on any register for permanent employment, and experience gained as a temporary appointee shall in no way vary the order of certification for permanent appointment. A temporary appointment may be made permanent when the temporary appointee is within reach for permanent appointment at the time of his temporary appointment or in case he is so within reach during his temporary service. In such case the probational appointment may date from the time when he became within reach for probational appointment. A person who has been temporarily employed under the provisions of one section of this rule shall not for that reason be ineligible for employment under any other section. Any appointment under sections 1, 2, or 3 of this rule shall be promptly reported by letter to the Commission, as made, with a statement of the action taken for making a permanent appointment.

The Commission is authorized to inspect the records of any department or office to aid it in observing and enforcing the operation of the provisions of this rule and reporting thereon to the President.

RULE IX. REINSTATEMENT

1. Certificate required—conditions.—A person separated without delinquency, misconduct, or inefficiency from a civilian position in the federal service after absolute appointment may be reinstated upon certificate of the Commission subject to the following limitations:

(a) Upon requisition for reinstatement by the appointing office having a vacancy to fill, made within one year of separation if the period of service was less than two years; within two years if the period of service was two years or more but less than three years; within three years if the period of service was three years or more but less than four years; within four years if the period of service was four years or more but less than five years; and without time limit if the period of service was five years or more: Provided, that the applicant is otherwise eligible under the conditions of the executive order of June 2, 1920.

(b) A former classified employee entitled to military preference in appointment may be reinstated without time limit.

(c) A former classified employee retired upon annuity under the Civil Service Retirement Act by reason of total disability who is eligible for reinstatement by reason of recovery and termination of annuity, shall be eligible for reinstatement subject to the conditions and limitations of the civil service rules.

(d) No person may be reinstated to a position in the classified service who did not have a classified status at the time of separation, or eligibility for such status through examination.

(e) No person may be reinstated to a position in the classified service without passing an appropriate noncompetitive examination testing fully his present fitness for the position when the Commission shall so require.

2. Probationer.—A person separated during or at the end of his probationary period unless separated solely by reason of reduction in force may not be reinstated, but if he has been restored through the discretion of the Commission to the eligible register he may be certified for a new probational appointment therefrom; and if said register has been terminated and separation was without fault on his part, he may be certified in the discretion of the Commission, during a period of one year following separation, for a new probational appointment upon requisition from any appointing officer for such certification to fill any vacancy for which he was originally eligible.

3. Removed person.—A person removed from the service, may, in the discretion of the Commission, be certified for reinstatement to any vacancy in any position for which he was formerly eligible to any other department or establishment pursuant to the provisions of Rule XII, section 4.

RULE X. TRANSFER

1. Transfers subordinate to promotions.—No transfer shall be made to a position above the grade in which the proposed transferee has served unless the position cannot practicably be filled by promotion.

2. Transfers from excepted to competitive position.—No person appointed without competitive examination to a position classified at the time of such appointment, and no person serving in an unclassified position or in a position excepted from the classified service under these rules or by executive order, not appointed by competitive examination, or by transfer or promotion from a classified position, shall be transferred to a classified position, except as hereinafter provided in this rule.

3. Retransfer.—Any person may be retransferred to a position in which he was formerly employed or to any position to which transfer could be made therefrom if, since his transfer, he has served continuously and satisfactorily under any of the following conditions:

(1) In the executive or judicial civil service of the United States or of its insular possessions.

(2) In the legislative service.

(3) In the service of a state, county, municipality, or foreign government in a position in which he has acquired valuable training and experience.

(4) In a training course approved by the Commission in any educational institution of recognized standing.

Such retransfer may be made without compliance with clauses (b), (c), and (d) of section 6 of this rule.

4. From the office of the President.—Any person who has served for at least two years in the office of the President of the United States may be transferred to a classified position upon such tests of fitness as the Commission may deem proper.

5. Without certificate. — Transfers within the same branch of the field service of a department or office, and transfers among the military staff departments and from the War Department to any military staff department, subject to the rules and regulations regarding promotions, may be made without certificate of the Commission unless different tests are prescribed for original entrance to the position to which transfer is proposed and unless otherwise provided by regulations of the Commission.

6. Certificate required.—Unless otherwise specifically provided in this rule no person shall be transferred except on certificate of the Commission previously obtained and subject to the following limitations:

(a) Absolute appointment. — Such person must have received absolute appointment and have served at least six months in the position from which transfer is sought; but this limitation may be waived by the Commission in any cases where reduction in force is involved.

(b) Examination.—Such person must pass an appropriate examination whenever different tests are prescribed for original entrance to the position to which transfer is proposed.

(c) Qualifications and experience.—Such person shall not be transferred unless, in the judgment of the Commission, he possesses experience, qualifications, or training which are required for the proper performance of the duties of the position to which transfer is proposed and unless promotion in the manner provided by the civil service rules is not practicable.

(d) Apportionment.—The apportionment must be observed unless waived by the Commission upon the certificate of the appointing officer that the transfer is required in the interests of good administration, setting forth in detail the reasons therefor.

7. Residence.—The person to be transferred from a nonapportioned to an apportioned position shall be required, previous to his transfer, to prove his residence in the same manner as for original appointment.

8. Philippine service.—An officer or employee occupying a competitive position in the Philippine classified service who has served three years or more therein, may be transferred to the federal classified service, subject to the provisions of these rules; but the Commission may authorize the transfer of an officer or employee who has served two years in the Philippine classified service and who has been separated by necessary reduction of force or by displacement by a Filipino, if he is especially recommended by the War Department because of his efficiency and good character. In all cases of proposed transfer from the Philippine classified service the War Department shall furnish the Commission, for its consideration, all relevant information contained in its files, together with the service record of the employee.

9. Puerto Rican service.—The Commission may, in its discretion, authorize the transfer of employees from the civil service of Puerto Rico to that of the United States, subject to the limitations respecting transfer within the civil service of the United States.

10. Panama Canal service.—A citizen of the United States in the service of The Panama Canal on or before January 1, 1915, in an excepted position may, if recommended by The Panama Canal, be transferred to any position in the classified service for which he can qualify, provided:

(a) This section shall not apply to a person appointed to a competitive position in accordance with the civil service rules, the transfer of such person to be governed by the general provisions of the rules.

(b) This section shall not apply to a person appointed without examination to perform the duties of clerk of any grade, bookkeeper, stenographer, typewriter, surgeon, physician, trained nurse, or draftsman.

(c) The transferee has rendered at least two years of service in a position above the grade of unskilled laborer in the service of The Panama Canal or of the Panama Railroad by transfer from The Panama Canal.

11. Service beyond seas.—In a case of exceptional merit where an employee has rendered long and faithful service beyond seas in a civil capacity, under conditions such that his appointment and services were not in contravention of the civil service rules or executive orders, he may be given a classified status by the head of the department or office in which such service was rendered on certification by such officer that the case is one of exceptional merit and with the approval of the Commission. The provisions of this section may be applied in the case of Philippine constabulary officers who have rendered at least seven years of efficient and satisfactory service.

RULE XI. PROMOTION

1. Competitive tests.—In addition to the method of competitive promotion provided by Rules III, VI, and VII, competitive examinations for promotion and transfer may from time to time be held under the direction of the Commission to test fitness for promotion and transfer, subject to the following limitations:

(a) No employee during probation shall be eligible to participate in a promotion examination or be promoted to a position higher than that for which he was eligible at time of appointment; and eligibility to participate in each such examination shall be limited to employees declared by the Commission to be in line of promotion and to employees declared by the Commission to be eligible for transfer to the position for which the examination is held and who are otherwise qualified.

(b) The service ratings of the employee in the position from which he seeks promotion, when declared by the Commission to be in line of promotion, shall be given due weight in any such examination, which weight shall constitute at least 50 per cent of the final rating.

2. Limitations.—Promotion registers shall be prepared by the Commission in the order of standing in such examinations. Employees eligible for promotion upon any register shall be certified in the order of their standing on the register to a vacancy in the bureau or department in which they have been serving before certification of eligibles who are serving in any other department or independent establishment shall be made. The apportionment and requisition as to sex shall be observed in certifications for promotion, and upon cause shown that particular experience or qualification is required for the position to be filled selective certification may be made by the Commission in its discretion, but otherwise certification for promotion shall be made from the first three eligibles in the order of standing on the promotion register.

3. Improper recommendations. — No recommendation for promotion except in the regular form of periodical service-rating reports or unless it be made by the person or persons under whose supervision such employee has served shall be considered by any officer concerned in making promotions. Recommendation in any other form or by any other person, if made with the knowledge and consent of the employee, shall be sufficient cause for debarring him from the promotion proposed, and a repetition of the offense shall be sufficient cause for removing him from the service.

4. Promotion of substitutes.—Substitutes shall be promoted to the first vacancies occurring in regular positions in the order of their original appointment, whenever there are substitutes of the required sex who are eligible and will accept, unless such vacancies are filled by promotion, transfer, or reinstatement.

5. Promotion to former grade.—A person who has been reinstated in the classified service in a grade lower than that from which he had been separated may be promoted to his former grade without examination.

RULE XII. REMOVALS AND REDUCTIONS

1. Reasons to be furnished.—No person in the classified service of the United States shall be removed therefrom except for such cause as will promote the efficiency of the service and for reasons given in writing, and the person whose removal is sought shall have notice of the same and of any charges preferred against him and be furnished with a copy thereof, and also be allowed a reasonable time for personally answering the same in writing; and affidavits in support thereof; but no examination of witnesses nor any trial or hearing shall be required except in the discretion of the officer making the removal; and copies of charges, notice of hearing, answer, reasons for removal, and of the order of removal shall be made a part of the records of the proper department or office, as shall also the reasons for reduction in rank or compensation; and copies of the same shall be furnished to the person affected upon request, and the Commission also shall, upon request, be furnished copies of the same.

2. Like penalties for like offenses.—In making removals or reductions, and in other punishment, like penalties shall be imposed for like offenses, and no discriminations shall be exercised for political or religious reasons.

3. Suspensions.—Pending action under section 1 of this rule, or for disciplinary reasons, a person may be suspended for a period not to exceed ninety days, but the reasons for such suspension shall at the time of the suspension be filed in the records of the proper department or office and copies shall be furnished the Commission upon request. The period of suspension may be extended beyond ninety days with the prior consent of the Commission.

4. Power to investigate.—The Commission shall have no jurisdiction to review the findings of a removing officer upon the reasons and answer provided for in section 1 of this rule, nor shall the Commission have authority to investigate any removal or reduction, unless it is alleged, with offer of proof, that the procedure required by section 1 of this rule has not been followed, or that the removal was made for political or religious reasons. The Commission may, however, receive or hear the statement of any employee removed on charges, and may, in its discretion, certify the employee to any other department or establishment for reinstatement to a vacancy in any position for which the employee is qualified, and in the event of such reinstatement the employee shall retain his former status and tenure in the service for all purposes.

5. Retention of soldiers and sailors.—In harmony with statutory provisions, when reductions are being made in the force, in any part of the classified service, no employee entitled to military preference in appointment shall be discharged, dropped, or reduced in rank or salary if his record is good, or if his efficiency rating is equal to that of any employee in competition with him who is retained in the service.

RULE XIII. REPORT OF CHANGES

1. Report by appointing officer.—Every nominating or appointing officer in the executive civil service shall report in detail to the Commission whenever and in such manner as it may prescribe, all changes in the service under his authority, whether they affect positions or employees that are classified, unclassified, excepted, permanent, temporary, or subject to contract.

2. List of positions.—Such officers shall also furnish to the Commission, when requested, and in such manner as it may prescribe, information as to numbers of employees, payroll data, and a list of all the positions, and employments under their authority, together with the names, designations, compensations, duties, and dates of appointment or employment of all persons serving therein.

3. Statement of duties.—Reports of appointments and changes in status of laborers or workmen shall be supplemented, when requested, by a statement setting forth specifically the kind of labor performed, in detail sufficient to enable the Commission to determine the status of each position as classified or unclassified; and a similar statement of duties performed by any employee or pertaining to any position in the executive civil service shall be furnished to the Commission on request. All essential changes of duties pertaining to persons appointed as laborers or workmen without examination under the civil service rules shall be reported at once to the Commission.

RULE XIV. TESTIMONY

Duty of officers and employees.—It shall be the duty of every officer and employee in the executive civil service, and of every applicant or eligible for a position therein, to give to the Commission or its authorized representative, all proper and competent information and testimony in regard to matters inquired of arising under the Civil Service Act and rules, and to subscribe such testimony and make oath or affirmation thereto before an officer authorized by law to administer oaths.

RULE XV. WITHHOLDING SALARY

EXECUTIVE ORDER

EXTENDING THE COMPETITIVE CLASSIFIED CIVIL SERVICE

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by the Constitution, by Section 1753 of the Revised Statutes (U. S. C., Title 5, Section 631), by the Civil Service Act of January 16, 1883 (22 Stat. 403), and as President of the United States, it is hereby ordered as follows:

SECTION 1. Effective February 1, 1939, all positions in the Executive civil service, including positions in corporations wholly owned or controlled by the United States, which are not now in the competitive classified civil service and which are not exempted therefrom by statute, except (1) policy-determining positions and (2) other positions which special circumstances require should be exempted, are covered into the competitive classified civil service: Provided, That this section shall not be deemed to apply to positions filled by appointment by and with the advice and consent of the Senate; And provided further, That no positions shall be exempted from the competitive classified civil service under clauses (1) and (2) above except such as shall be designated in subsequent Executive orders issued after investigation showing the necessity and justification for such exemptions. This section shall also apply to positions affected by statutes which exempt them from the competitive classified civil service but authorize the President in his discretion to cover them into such service.

SECTION 2. Within ninety days from the date of this order the heads of all departments and independent establishments, including corporations wholly owned or controlled by the United States, whose personnel or any part thereof is affected by Section 1 of this order, shall certify to the Civil Service Commission for transmission by it with its recommendations to the President the positions in their respective departments or agencies which in their opinion should be excepted from the provisions of Section 1 of this order as policy-determining or for other reasons.

SECTION 3. The incumbent of any position which is covered into the competitive classified civil service by Section 1 of this order shall acquire a classified civil service status (1) upon recommendation by the head of the agency concerned and certification by such head to the Civil Service Commission that such incumbent was in the service on the date of this order and has rendered satisfactory service for not less than six months, and (2) upon passing a suitable noncompetitive examination prescribed by the Civil Service Commission under the civil service rules: Provided, That he is a citizen of the United States and is not disqualified by any provision of law or civil service rule. Any such incumbent who fails to meet the foregoing requirements of this section shall be separated from the service within thirty days (exclusive of leave to which he is entitled) after the Commission reports that he is ineligible for classification unless the head of the agency concerned certifies to the Commission that such incumbent has rendered satisfactory service and that he should be retained although without acquiring a competitive classified status.

SECTION 4. New appointments to any positions covered into the competitive classified civil service by Section 1 of this order shall not be affected by the provisions of said section until the Civil Service Commission shall have established registers of eligibles for such positions as a result of examinations held in accordance with the civil service rules and regulations and with this order.

SECTION 5. The Civil Service Commission shall, subject to the Civil Service Act, the rules thereunder, and the Classification Act of 1923, as amended, initiate, supervise, and enforce a system as uniform as practicable, for the recruitment, examination, certification, promotion from grade to grade, transfer, and reinstatement of employees in the classified civil service, other than employees therein excepted by Executive orders, issued pursuant to clauses (1) and (2) of Section 1 hereof, which system shall, so far as practicable, be competitive, with due regard to prior experience and service.

SECTION 6. Effective not later than February 1, 1939, the heads of the Executive departments and the heads of such independent establishments and agencies subject to the civil service laws and rules as the President shall designate, shall establish in their respective departments or establishments a division of personnel supervision and management, at the head of which shall be appointed a director of personnel qualified by training and experience, from among those whose names are certified for such appointment by the Civil Service Commission pursuant to such competitive tests and requirements as the Civil Service Commission shall prescribe: Provided, however, that if the head of a department or establishment requests authority to appoint a presently acting personnel or appointment director, officer, or clerk, as such director of personnel, such personnel or appointment director, officer, or clerk may be appointed upon certification by the Civil Service Commission that he is qualified therefor after passing such tests as the Civil Service Commission shall prescribe. It shall be the duty of each director of personnel to act as liaison officer in personnel matters between his department or establishment and the Civil Service Commission, and to make recommendations to the departmental budget officer with respect to estimates and expenditures for personnel. He shall supervise the functions of appointment, assignment, service rating, and training of employees in his department or establishment, under direction of the head thereof, and shall initiate and supervise such programs of personnel training and management as the head thereof after consultation with the Civil Service Commission shall approve, including the establishment of a system of service ratings for departmental and field forces outside of the Classification Act of 1923, as amended, which shall conform as nearly as practicable with the system established under the said Act. Subject to the approval of the head of such department or establishment and of the Civil Service Commission he shall establish means for the hearing of grievances of employees and present appropriate recommendation for the settlement thereof to the head of his department or establishment. He shall serve as a member of the Council of Personnel Administration hereinafter established, and perform such other functions as the head of the department or agency after consultation with the Civil Service Commission shall prescribe. A director of personnel may be transferred from one department or establishment to another from time to time, subject to the provisions of the civil service rules and with the approval of the head of the agency to which transfer is proposed.

SECTION 7. Effective February 1, 1939, there is established a Council of Personnel Administration consisting of the directors of personnel of the several departments and independent establishments, one additional representative of the Bureau of the Budget, one additional representative of the Civil Service Commission, and such additional members as the President shall designate. The President shall designate one of the members of the Council to act as chairman thereof, and the Council may designate an executive director. The Council shall advise and assist the President and the Commission in the protection and improvement of the merit system, and recommend from time to time to the President or the Commission needed changes in procedure, rules, or regulations. When directed so to do by the President or the Commission, the Council shall hold hearings and conduct investigations with respect to alleged abuses and proposed changes. The Council shall carry on programs of study to coordinate and perfect the executive personnel service in all its branches, and shall report upon the progress of personnel administration throughout the service. The Council shall have an executive committee of five members: one representing the ten executive departments to be chosen by the Directors of Personnel thereof; one representing the independent establishments and agencies to be chosen by the Directors of Personnel thereof; one representing the Bureau of the Budget to be chosen by the Director thereof; one representing the Civil Service Commission to be chosen by it; and one to be designated by the President. Executive Order No. 5612 of April 25, 1931, is hereby revoked.

SECTION 8. The Civil Service Commission shall, in cooperation with operating departments and establishments, the Office of Education, and public and private institutions of learning, establish practical training courses for employees in the departmental and field services of the classified civil service, and may by regulations provide credits in transfer and promotion examinations for satisfactory completion of one or more of such training courses.

SECTION 9. Schedules A and B of the Civil Service Rules, as presently existing, relating to positions excepted from examination and positions which may be filled upon noncompetitive examination, will be superseded by schedules designating policy-determining positions and other positions which special circumstances require should be exempted, which schedules will be set forth in subsequent Executive orders as provided in section 1 hereof.

JUNE 25, 1938.

Under the authority conferred by law upon the Secretary of Agriculture the following regulations are hereby prescribed, to govern the condemnation, slaughter, or death after condemnation of animals, and expenditures on account of the control and eradication of tuberculosis, paratuberculosis, and Bang's disease of animals which for purposes of identification are designated as B. A. I. Order 367, and shall supersede B. A. I. Order 329, dated May 1, 1931, and amendments thereto; B. A. I. Order 344, dated June 12, 1934, and amendments thereto; and B. A. I. Order 347, dated July 19, 1934, and amendments thereto.

These regulations shall be effective on and after July 1, 1938.

[SEAL] H. A. WALLACE,
Secretary of Agriculture.

REGULATION 1.—DEFINITIONS

For the purpose of these regulations the following words, names, and terms shall be construed, respectively, to mean:

SECTION 1. The Department.—The United States Department of Agriculture.

SEC. 2. The Secretary.—The Secretary of Agriculture of the United States.

SEC. 3. The Bureau.—The Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture.

SEC. 4. Diseases.—Tuberculosis, paratuberculosis, and Bang's disease of animals.

SEC. 5. Bureau employees.—Inspectors and all other individuals employed in the Bureau who are authorized by the Chief of Bureau to do any work or perform any duty in connection with the arrest and eradication of diseases of animals.

SEC. 6. Accredited veterinarians.—Veterinarians accredited by State and Bureau.

SEC. 7. Destroyed.—Condemned and destroyed by slaughter or by death otherwise.

REGULATION 2.—PAYMENT FOR CATTLE

SECTION 1. If it appears to be necessary, for the control or eradication of tuberculosis, paratuberculosis, or Bang's disease of cattle, to destroy cattle affected with such diseases, and to compensate owners for loss thereof, an indemnity not to exceed one-third of the difference between the appraised value of each animal so destroyed and the value of the salvage thereof, shall be paid to such owner: Provided, however, That in no case shall any payment be more than $25 for any grade animal, or more than $50 for any purebred animal.

SEC. 2. For animals condemned or destroyed after May 1, 1939, no such payment shall exceed the amount paid or to be paid by the State, Territory, county, and municipality where the animal shall be condemned.

REGULATION 3.—APPRAISAL OF CATTLE

SECTION 1.—Cattle affected with tuberculosis, paratuberculosis, or Bang's disease shall be appraised by a representative of the Bureau, or a cooperating representative of the State, Territory, county, or municipality. However, the Bureau reserves the right to decline to accept any appraisals that appear to be unreasonable and out of proportion to the market value for similar cattle of a like quality. When such cattle are appraised, due consideration shall be given to their breeding value as well as to their dairy or meat value.

SEC. 2. Appraisals of cattle shall be reported on forms furnished by the Bureau (T. E. Form 23, revised). Reports of appraisals shall show the number of animals, the value of each per head, and shall be signed by the appraiser or appraisers and approved by the Bureau inspector in charge. Registration names, numbers, and ages of all purebred animals shall be shown (owners are required to present registration papers of all purebred animals 3 years of age or over at the time of appraisal). The Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry may grant a reasonable time for the registration of animals under 3 years of age, otherwise, such animals shall be appraised as grades. Ages of all animals shall be shown on T. E. Form 23 (revised). The T. E. Form 23 (revised) shall show the amount paid or to be paid by the State, Territory, county, or municipality for said animals, and it shall be signed by a duly authorized official of the State, Territory, county, or municipality making partial payment for said animals. The T. E. Form 23 (revised) shall be signed by the owner of the said animals or his agent certifying that the appraisal is accepted by him, and that the amounts due him from the United States and the State, Territory, county, or municipality are correct. One copy of T. E. Form 23 (revised) shall be submitted to the Bureau with the claim and one copy shall be retained by the Bureau inspector in charge who approves the claim. Additional copies may be prepared and furnished to the State, Territory, county, or municipality officials if required. One copy may also be furnished the owner.

SEC. 3. The tuberculous, paratuberculous, or Bang's disease reacting cattle, for the elimination of which payment is to be made, shall be slaughtered within a period of 15 days after the date of appraisal. When the situation is such as to make it appear justifiable to the Bureau inspector in charge, he may extend the period within which such slaughter shall take place to 30 days. In a like situation the Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry may extend the period within which such slaughter shall take place to more than 30 days. A report of the salvage derived from the sale of such animals shall be made on T. E. Form 24, which form shall be signed by the purchaser or his agent or by the selling agent handling the animals. If animals are sold by the pound, the T. E. Form 24 must show the weight, price per pound, gross receipts, expenses, if any, and net proceeds. If animals are not sold on a per pound basis, a full explanation must appear on T. E. Form 24, showing how the amount received was arrived at. In the event that the animals are not disposed of through regular slaughterers or through selling agents, in lieu of the T. E. Form 24 the owner shall furnish an affidavit showing the amount of net salvage obtained by him, and certify that said amount is all that he has received or will receive as salvage for said animal or animals. A certificate executed by the inspector in charge will be accepted in lieu of the owner's affidavit. The salvage is the net amount received for the animal. Freight, yardage, commissions, slaughtering charges, truckage, etc., may be deducted, but any charges for holding the animals on the farm pending slaughter shall not be deducted, and any such charges will not be paid by the Department. One copy of T. E. Form 24, or the affidavit or certificate of the inspector in charge which, as set forth above, may be furnished in lieu thereof, shall be submitted to the Bureau with the claim and one copy shall be retained by the Bureau inspector in charge who approves the claim. Additional copies may be prepared and furnished to the State, Territory, county, or municipal authorities, if required.

SEC. 4. Claim for tuberculous, paratuberculous, or Bang's disease reacting animals shall be presented on the Standard Form 1034, properly executed and accompanied by the above-mentioned T. E. forms.

REGULATION 4.—CLAIMS NOT ALLOWED

SECTION 1. No payment shall be made for any cattle destroyed on account of tuberculosis, paratuberculosis, or Bang's disease unless the owner has complied with all requirements contained in these regulations.

SEC. 2. Claims will not be allowed which arise out of the condemnation of cattle for tuberculosis, paratuberculosis, or Bang's disease on a tuberculin, johnin, or agglutination test applied by other than a Bureau veterinarian, a cooperating regularly employed State, Territory, county, or municipal veterinary inspector, or an accredited veterinarian.

SEC. 3. No compensation will be paid to owners of tuberculous, paratuberculous, or Bang's disease reacting cattle except for cattle in States, Territories, counties, or municipalities in which cooperative tuberculosis, paratuberculosis, or Bang's disease work is being conducted.

SEC. 4. Claims will not be allowed which arise (1) out of the condemnation of cattle for tuberculosis or paratuberculosis on a tuberculin or johnin test applied by an accredited veterinarian, or (2) the drawing of blood for the purpose of making an agglutination test for Bang's disease by such veterinarian, unless in either case, specific instructions have been issued to the accredited veterinarian by the proper State and Federal authorities.

SEC. 5. No compensation will be paid to any owner of tuberculous, paratuberculous, or Bang's disease reacting cattle whose entire herd is not under Federal and State supervision for the eradication of tuberculosis, paratuberculosis, or Bang's disease.

SEC. 6. No payment will be made for any cattle destroyed on account of tuberculosis, paratuberculosis, or Bang's disease after May 1, 1939, except in cooperation with, and supplementary to payments to be made by, the State, Territory, county or municipality, in which said cattle are condemned.

SEC. 7. No compensation will be paid to any owner for cattle destroyed on account of tuberculosis, paratuberculosis, or Bang's disease unless the infected premises have been properly cleaned and disinfected with a disinfectant permitted by the United States Bureau of Animal Industry in accordance with recommendations of the proper State or Bureau official.

SEC. 8. No compensation will be paid for tuberculous, paratuberculous, or Bang's disease reacting steers, except in cases of work oxen, nor will compensation be paid for bulls which are not purebred.

SEC. 9. No payment will be made for any cattle destroyed on account of tuberculosis or paratuberculosis unless such animals are marked for identification by branding the letter "T" on the left jaw, or for cattle destroyed on account of Bang's disease unless such animals are marked with the letter "B." In either instance the letter used shall not be less than 2 or more than 3 inches high. A metal tag bearing the serial number and the inscription "U. S. B. A. I. Reactor" or "U. S. B. A. I. Reactor, B. D.," or a similar State reactor tag shall be suitably attached to the left ear of each reactor animal.

SEC. 10. No compensation will be paid to owners for calves under 6 months of age that react to the agglutination test for Bang's disease.

SEC. 11. No claim for compensation for the destruction of cattle on account of tuberculosis or paratuberculosis shall hereafter be paid or allowed under the regulations contained in B. A. I. Order 237, dated March 19, 1915, but all such claims shall be presented and paid pursuant to and in compliance with regulations contained in this order.

SEC. 12. No compensation will be paid to any owners for cattle classified as tuberculous or paratuberculous unless such cattle react to the tuberculin test or johnin test, or reveal lesions of the disease upon autopsy.

SEC. 13. No payment shall be made for any cattle contained in a herd if there is substantial evidence that the owner or his agent has in any way been responsible for any attempt unlawfully or improperly to obtain indemnity funds for condemned cattle.

1. Authorization and Purpose

Investigations conducted at the Pittsburgh Experiment Station under the provisions of this schedule are authorized by the act of Congress approved February 25, 1913 (37 Stat. 682). This act, as amended by the act of June 30, 1932 (47 Stat. 410), contains the following provisions in regard to fees charged for investigations by the Bureau of Mines:

For tests or investigations authorized by the Secretary of the Interior under the provisions of this Act, as amended and supplemented, except those performed for the Government of the United States or State governments within the United States, a fee sufficient in each case to compensate the Bureau of Mines for the entire cost of the services rendered shall be charged, according to a schedule prepared by the Director of the Bureau of Mines and approved by the Secretary of the Interior, who shall prescribe rules and regulations under which such tests and investigations may be made. All moneys received from such sources shall be paid into the Treasury to the credit of miscellaneous receipts.

The purpose of the investigations made under this schedule is to aid in the development and use of electric lamps, other than cap lamps, that may be used in mines, especially in mines that may contain dangerous proportions of methane.

This schedule supersedes Schedule 10B, issued under date of June 1, 1932, and Schedule 11A, issued under date of January 13, 1936, and goes into effect when approved by the Secretary of the Interior.

Electric lamps and flashlights that meet the requirements set forth in this schedule will be termed "permissible" by the Bureau, and if actively marketed will be listed as such in publications relating to permissible equipment, in order that State mine inspection departments, compensation bureaus, mine operators, miners, and others interested in safety equipment for mines may have information in regard to electric lamps and flashlights approved by the Bureau.

2. Definitions

Adequate.—Appropriate and sufficient as determined by mutual agreement between the manufacturer and the Bureau of Mines.

Approval.—Official notification in writing, issued only by the Director of the Bureau of Mines to a responsible organization, stating that upon investigation its lamp has been adjudged satisfactory under the requirements of this schedule.

Explosion-proof compartment.—An enclosure that withstands internal explosions of methane-air mixtures without damage to itself or discharge of flame and without ignition of surrounding explosive methane-air mixtures.

Permissible.—A permissible lamp or flashlight is one that conforms in all respects to the design and assembly formally approved by the Bureau.

3. Instructions for Making Applications

Before the Bureau of Mines will undertake the active investigation of any equipment, manufacturers shall have filed an application in the form of a letter requesting that the necessary inspections and tests leading to approval be made.

A sample application for an investigation of a lamp or flashlight follows:

THE DIRECTOR OF THE BUREAU OF MINES
Department of the Interior,
Washington, D. C.

Subject: Investigation of the _____ electric lamp

DEAR SIR: We hereby make application for an investigation leading to the approval of our_____lamp (or flashlight) under the provisions of Schedule 10C. Attached is a certified check for_____dollars ( ) made payable to the Treasurer of the United States to cover the fee for the investigation.

A copy of this application, one set of drawings, one complete lamp, and a full set of instructions for operating the lamp are being sent to the Central Experiment Station, 4800 Forbes Street, Pittsburgh, Pa., marked "Attention of the electrical engineer."

Very truly yours,

(Signature of Applicant)

4. Fees Charged

The fees charged in connection with the investigation of lamps and flashlights are listed below. Manufacturers who desire to have their product investigated for permissibility, shall forward a bank draft or certified check covering the required fees, to Washington, D. C., with their letter of application. This shall be made payable to "Treasurer of the United States."

Item 1.—The fee for a complete investigation of a storage-battery lamp under this schedule is $75. The fee for a complete investigation of a lamp using dry cells is $65. A certified check for the proper amount should be submitted at the time the application is made.

The Bureau reserves the right to charge in amounts proportionate to the work involved in case an especially complicated design of lamp is submitted.

Item 2.—The fee for a partial investigation leading to the extension of an approval shall be proportional to the work involved. The applicant in this case will be advised of the amount of the deposit he should submit after an examination of the redesigned lamp has been made.

Item 3.—Extensions of approvals that do not require tests will be made without charge.

Item 4.—Tests to assist manufacturers in the development of electric lamps may be made upon request to the Director of the Bureau of Mines and will be charged for in amounts proportionate to the work involved. The making of this class of tests shall, however, be optional with the Bureau.

5. Conditions governing investigations

1. One complete lamp, with assembly and detail drawings that show the construction of the lamp and the materials of which it is made, should be submitted at the time the application for investigation is made. This material should be sent prepaid to the Central Experiment Station, 4800 Forbes Street, Pittsburgh, Pa., marked "Attention of electrical engineer."

2. When the lamp has been inspected by the Bureau's engineers, the applicant will be notified as to the amount of material that will be required for the tests. He will also be notified of the date on which the tests will start and will be given an opportunity to witness the tests.

3. No one is to be present during the tests of the lamp except the necessary Bureau of Mines engineers, their assistants, representatives of the manufacturer, and such other persons as may be mutually agreed upon by the manufacturer and the Bureau.

4. Permissibility tests will not be made unless the lamp is complete and in a form that can be marketed.

5. The results of the tests shall be regarded as confidential by all present at the tests and shall not be made public in any way prior to the formal approval of the lamp by the Bureau of Mines.

6. No verbal report of approval or disapproval will be made to the applicant. Approval will be made only in writing by the Director of the Bureau of Mines. The applicant shall not be free to advertise the lamp as being permissible, or as having passed the tests, prior to receipt of formal notice of approval.

6. Requirements for Approval

I. General

The lamps shall be durable in construction, practical in operation, and suitable for the service for which they are designed and approved.

The intensity of light, distribution of light, and battery capacity shall be adequate for the use for which the lamp is intended.

Battery terminals and leads therefrom, as well as the battery gas vents, shall be designed to minimize corrosion of the electrical contacts.

Bulbs and other replacement parts of the lamps shall be adequately marked as a means of identification.

II. Specific Requirements

Two general classes of electric lamps are recognized in these requirements, namely: Class 1, those that are self-contained and easily carried by hand, and class 2, those that may or may not be self-contained and not so readily portable as the first class.

Class 1 includes hand lamps, signal lamps, inspection lamps, flashlights, and animal lamps that are operated by small storage batteries or dry cells.

Class 2 includes lamps such as the pneumatic-electric types and large battery lamps.

(1) Class 1 Lamps:

Protection against explosion hazards.—Unless properly designed, class 1 lamps present two sources of probable explosion hazards: (1) Ignition of an explosive atmosphere by the heated filament of the bulb in case the bulb glass is accidentally broken, and (2) ignition by electric sparks or arcs from the battery or connections thereto. The Bureau, therefore, requires the following safeguards:

A. Safety device.—The lighting unit shall be provided with a safety device that will prevent the ignition of explosive mixtures of methane and air by the heated filament if the bulb glass surrounding the filament is broken.

B. Safety device (protection).—The design of the safety device and the housing which protects it shall be such that the action of the safety device is positive; yet the lamp shall not be too readily extinguished during normal service by the unnecessary operation of the device.

C. Locks or seals.—For lamps other than flashlights, all parts, such as bulb housing and battery container, through which access may be had to live terminals or contacts shall be adequately sealed or equipped with magnetic or other equally reliable locks to prevent opening by unauthorized persons. For flashlights, provision shall be made for sealing the battery container.

D. Battery current restricted.—Unless all current-carrying parts, including conductors, are adequately covered and protected by the sealed or locked compartments, the maximum possible current flow through that part shall be limited by battery design, or by an enclosed-type fuse inside the sealed or locked container, to values that will not produce sparks or arcs sufficient to ignite an explosive mixture of methane and air.

Protection against bodily hazard.—This hazard is chiefly due to the possible burning of the user by electrolyte spilled from the battery. The Bureau, therefore, requires that—

A. Spilling of electrolyte.—The lamp shall be so designed and constructed that when properly filled the battery will neither leak nor spill electrolyte under conditions of normal use. Lamps passing a laboratory spilling test will be considered satisfactory in this respect, contingent upon satisfactory performance in service.

B. Corrosion of battery container.—The material of which the container is made shall resist corrosion under conditions of normal use.

(2) Class 2 Lamps:

Safety.—Unless special features of the lamp prevent ignition of explosive mixtures of methane and air by the broken bulb or other igniting sources within the lamp, the bulb and all spark-producing parts must be enclosed in explosion-proof compartments.

Explosion-proof compartments will be tested while filled and surrounded with explosive mixtures of Pittsburgh natural gas[1] and air. A sufficient number of tests of each compartment will be made to prove that there is no danger of ignition of the mixture surrounding the lamp by explosions within the compartment. The lamp will not pass the above tests, even though the surrounding explosive mixtures are not ignited, if external flame is observed, if excessive pressures are developed, or if excessive distortion of any part of the compartment takes place.

Glass-enclosed parts of such compartments must be guarded and be of extra-heavy glass to withstand pick blows, and be adequately protected by shrouds or by an automatic cut-out that opens the lamp circuit if the enclosure is broken.

When an explosion-proof enclosure consists of two or more parts that are held together securely by bolts or some suitable means to permit assembly, the flanges comprising the joints between parts shall have surfaces with metal-to-metal contact, except enclosures requiring glass, in which case glass-to-metal joints are permitted. Gaskets, if adequate, may be used to obtain a firm seat for the glass, but not elsewhere. Rubber, putty, and plaster of Paris are not acceptable as material for gaskets. For enclosures having an unoccupied volume (air space) of more than 60 cubic inches the width of the joint measured along the shortest flame path from the inside to the outside of the enclosure shall not be less than 1 inch. When the unoccupied volume (air space) is less than 60 cubic inches, this path shall not be less than three-fourths inch.

Locks and seals (lighting attachment).—Explosion-proof compartments shall be equipped with seals or locks that prevent unauthorized and unsafe opening of the compartments in a mine.

Locks or seals (battery).—The battery shall be enclosed in a locked or sealed container that will prevent exposure of live terminals.

Temperature of lamp.—The temperature of the lamp under conditions of use shall not be such that a person may be burned in handling it.

Cable and connection.—(a) The cable or cord connecting the lamp to its battery shall be of high-grade design and materials, comparable to the specially recommended trailing cables as listed by the Bureau and shall be not more than 15 feet in length.

(b) The cable (or cord) shall be adequately protected at the battery end by a fuse in the locked battery box or housing. The cable (or cord) and the fuse shall be considered parts of the lamp, and specifications for them shall be submitted by the lamp manufacturer.

(c) The method of terminating the cable (or cord) at the lamp and at the battery housing shall be adequate, but in no case shall the cable or cord be detachable.

The Bureau reserves the right to make minor changes in the requirements outlined in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c), as experience and service prove to be necessary in the interests of safety.

III. Tests (Class 1 and 2 lamps)

Such tests will be made as are necessary to prove the adequacy of a lamp or any of its parts in fulfilling the purposes for which it was designed. These tests include the following:

(a) Safety tests, including tests of safety devices, electrical contacts, and explosion-proof features.

(b) Photometric tests.

(c) Tests to demonstrate adequacy of mechanical strength.

(d) Tests of nonspilling features (storage-battery lamps of class 1).

(e) Temperature tests.

7. Material Required for Bureau of Mines Records

In order that the Bureau may know exactly what it has tested and approved, detailed records are kept covering each investigation. These include drawings and actual equipment, as follows:

Drawings. — The original drawings submitted with the application for the tests and the final drawings which the manufacturer must submit to the Bureau before approval is granted, to show the details of the lamp as approved. These drawings are used to identify the lamp and its parts in the approval and as a means of checking the future commercial product of the manufacturer.

Equipment.—If the Bureau so desires, parts of the lamps that are used in the tests will be retained as a permanent record of the investigation and of the lamps submitted.

If the lamp is approved, the Bureau will require the manufacturer, as soon as his first manufactured lamps are available, to submit one complete lamp, with the approval plate attached, as a record of his commercial product.

8. How Approvals Are Granted

All approvals are granted through the Director's office at Washington, D. C. A lamp will be approved under this schedule only when the testing engineers judge that the lamp has met the requirements of the schedule and after the Bureau's records concerning the lamp are complete, including manufacturer's drawings that show the lamp as it is to be made commercially. No verbal reports of the Bureau's decision concerning the investigation will be given, and no informal approvals will be granted.

As soon as the manufacturer has received the formal approval he shall be free to advertise his lamp as permissible.

9. Wording, Purpose, and Use of Approval Plate

Approval plate.—The manufacturer shall attach, stamp, or mold an approval plate on the battery container or housing of each permissible lamp. The plate shall bear the seal of the Bureau of Mines, and be inscribed as follows: "Permissible _____ Lamp. Approval No. _____ issued to the _____ Company." When deemed necessary, an appropriate caution statement shall be added. The size, material, and position of the approval plate shall be satisfactory to the Bureau.

Purpose of approval plate.—The approval plate is a label that identifies the lamp so that anyone can tell at a glance whether or not the lamp is of the permissible type. By it the manufacturer can point out that his lamp complies with specifications of the Bureau of Mines and that it has been adjudged safe for use in gassy and dusty mines.

Use of approval plate.—Permission to place the Bureau's approval plate on his lamp obligates the manufacturer to maintain the quality of his product and to see that each lamp is constructed according to the drawings that have been accepted by the Bureau for this lamp and are in the Bureau's files. Lamps exhibiting changes in design that have not been approved are not permissible lamps and must not bear the Bureau's approval plate.

Withdrawal of approval.—The Bureau reserves the right to rescind for cause at any time any approval granted under this schedule.

10. Instructions for Handling Future Changes in Lamp Design

All approvals are granted with the understanding that the manufacturer will make his lamp according to the drawings that he has submitted to the Bureau and that have been considered and included in the approval. Therefore, when he desires to make any change in the design of the lamp, he should first of all obtain an extension of the original approval to cover the change. The procedure is as follows:

1. The manufacturer shall write to the Director of the Bureau of Mines at Washington, D. C., requesting an extension of his original approval and describing the change or changes proposed. He should send a copy of the letter, a revised drawing showing the change in detail, and one of each of the lamp parts affected to the Central Experiment Station, 4800 Forbes Street, Pittsburgh, Pa., marked "Attention of the electrical engineer."

2. The Bureau will consider the application and inspect the drawings and parts to determine whether it will be necessary to make any tests.

3. If no tests are necessary, the applicant will be advised of the acceptance or rejection of the proposed change through the Director's office.

4. If tests are judged necessary, the applicant will be advised of the material that will be required and of the necessary deposit to cover the fee for the test.

BONDS EXECUTED BY THE BANKERS INDEMNITY INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEWARK, NEW JERSEY, IN FAVOR OF THE UNITED STATES

JUNE 21, 1938.

To the Heads of Departments and Independent Establishments of the Government, Bond-Approving Officers, and Others Concerned:

The Bankers Indemnity Insurance Company of Newark, New Jersey, was authorized by the Treasury, effective March 16, 1929, to qualify as sole surety on recognizances, stipulations, bonds and all other undertakings permitted or required by the laws of the United States to be given with one or more sureties, as provided by the Act of Congress approved August 13, 1894, as amended by the Act of March 23, 1910 (U. S. C., Title 6, Sections 6 to 13). The company, because of particular business reasons, by resolution of its Board of Directors dated August 18, 1931, discontinued writing fidelity and surety business, and ceased writing bonds in favor of the United States, and has now requested permission of the Treasury to voluntarily withdraw from transacting any further business in favor of the United States. In accordance with the company's request, the certificate of authority issued by the Secretary of the Treasury to the company to act as an acceptable surety on obligations in favor of the United States expired on April 30, 1938, and was not renewed.

The provisions of the Act of Congress approved August 13, 1894, as amended, contemplate a constant supervision by the Treasury of all companies acting as sureties on Federal bonds. The Bankers Indemnity Insurance Company, therefore, entered into a reinsurance agreement with The European General Reinsurance Company, Limited, of London, England, with executive offices in New York, N. Y., dated June 6, 1938, under the terms and conditions of which The European General Reinsurance Company, Limited, reinsured, effective at and from 12:01 A. M., May 1, 1938, all the unexpired and unmatured fidelity and surety bonds or obligations of the Bankers Indemnity Insurance Company in favor of the United States of America and/or any wholly owned corporation thereof and/or the District of Columbia and all bonds or obligations naming as obligee officers or employees of the United States of America and/or any wholly owned corporation thereof and/or the District of Columbia, and accepted liability for all claims incurred on or after 12:01 A. M., May 1, 1938, in connection with such business.

The Bankers Indemnity Insurance Company of Newark, New Jersey is actively engaged in the transaction of business. Therefore, all administrative matters in connection with its bonds or other obligations in favor of the United States should continue to be transacted direct with the company.

The Treasury has obtained from The European General Reinsurance Company, Limited, a separate indemnifying agreement, dated June 6, 1938, whereby in consideration of the acceptance by the United States of America of The European General Reinsurance Company, Limited as reinsurer on such bonds, undertakings or other forms of obligations heretofore executed or assumed by the Bankers Indemnity Insurance Company, and allowing such bonds, undertakings, or obligations to be continued in force with the Bankers Indemnity Insurance Company without requiring principals to take out fresh bonds, The European General Reinsurance Company, Limited, agrees to assume and it does assume the liability for any losses and claims under or in connection with any bond, undertaking, or other form of obligation entered into and assumed by the Bankers Indemnity Insurance Company and reinsured by The European General Reinsurance Company, Limited, in which the United States of America has or may have an interest direct or indirect, except such losses as to which claims or notices of claims have been duly filed with the Bankers Indemnity Insurance Company on or before 12:01 A. M. May 1, 1938, it being expressly understood and agreed by The European General Reinsurance Company, Limited, that the purpose and intent of such agreement is to afford the United States of America complete and strengthening security and to indemnify and protect it against any and all losses that have arisen or may arise under or in connection with any and all bonds, undertakings, or obligations of the Bankers Indemnity Insurance Company as sole surety or co-surety, insurer, co-insurer or reinsurer, upon which the United States of America is or may become entitled to make demand or institute proceedings, and which may have been executed by the Bankers Indemnity Insurance Company on or before April 30, 1938, the date on which its authority to act as an acceptable surety on bonds or obligations in favor of the United States expired, except such losses as to which claims or notices of claims have been duly filed with the Bankers Indemnity Insurance Company on or before 12:01 A. M. May 1, 1938.

The aforesaid indemnifying agreement also provides that all persons who have supplied labor and/or materials in the prosecution of the work contemplated by any contract for the security of which a bond has been given to the United States of America with the Bankers Indemnity Insurance Company as sole or co-surety, and covered by the reinsurance agreement referred to above, shall have the same rights and equities against The European General Reinsurance Company, Limited, to sue and recover in the name of the United States of America, as such persons would have under the provisions of existing law against the Bankers Indemnity Insurance Company on account of its said bonds and obligations.

The agreement further provides that The European General Reinsurance Company, Limited, shall be subject to legal process for the purpose of all suits by the United States of America on account of said bonds, or undertakings and obligations included in the reinsurance agreement referred to, and, in the name of the United States of America for their use, by such persons furnishing materials and/or labor as aforesaid, under the provisions of existing law and on account of said bonds, obligations and undertakings, through the acceptance of service and entry of appearance by its duly appointed agents for such purpose in any judicial district of the United States as provided by law.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

[Note.—That part of the Federal Range Code approved March 16, 1938,[1] superseded the compiled Rules for the Administration of Grazing Districts, as approved June 14, 1937, as far as the heading "Fees", on page 3 thereof. The following rules supersede the remainder of the compiled rules of June 14, 1937, and constitute a continuation and completion of the Federal Range Code.]

SEC. 8. Fees; time of payment; refunds.—

PAR. a. Free-use licenses and permits.—No fee will be charged for the issuance of a free-use license or permit.

PAR. b. Regular licenses and permits.—A grazing fee of five cents per head for cattle and horses, and one cent per head for sheep and goats will be charged each regular license or permittee for each month of the grazing period covered by the license or permit, provided that a different fee may be charged in any district or unit thereof in which the carrying capacity of Federal range is increased by reason of the addition of land not owned by the United States or by reason of a cooperative agreement or memorandum of understanding between the Division of Grazing and any other governmental agency, State or Federal, or any person, association or corporation. When the grazing period involves a fraction of a month, the fees for such fraction will be prorated on the basis of a 30-day month. All livestock six months of age or over and allowed on the Federal range will be counted, at any point of time during the grazing period, as a part of the total number for which a license or permit has been issued.

PAR. c. Nonuse licenses and permits.—No fee will be charged for the issuance of a nonuse license or permit.

PAR. d. Crossing permits.—A fee of one-fourth of a cent per head per day, for cattle and horses, and one-twentieth of a cent per head per day, for sheep and goats, will be charged for a crossing permit, which will be issued upon application by any person showing the necessity of crossing the Federal range for proper and lawful purposes, except that no fee will be charged for a crossing permit to the extent that it involves the use of a stock driveway established under section 10 of the act of December 29, 1916 (39 Stat. 862), or a limited and defined trail.

PAR. e. Payment of fees.—All fees for crossing permits, and all fees for regular licenses or permits which total $10 or less or which are for a period of three months or less, shall be paid in full at the time of issuance of the license or permit. Fees for other regular licenses or permits may be paid in two annual installments, each of which must be paid before the license or permit will be effective for the portion of the grazing period covered by the particular installment. No license or permit shall be issued or renewed until payment of any amounts due as grazing fees has been made. Upon application by a transferee of any property or part thereof on the basis of which a license or permit has been issued, a new form of license representing that part of the grazing privileges to which he may thereby become entitled will be issued to him upon payment of his proportionate part of any unpaid installment of fees then due.

PAR. f. Refunds.—No refund of fees properly paid will be made because of a failure to use the grazing privileges, either in whole or in part, represented by a license or permit, except that during periods of range depletion due to severe drought or other natural causes or in case of a general epidemic of disease during the life of a license or permit, the Secretary of the Interior will in his discretion remit, refund, reduce in whole or in part, or postpone the payment of fees for such depletion period as long as the emergency exists. When fees have been paid which are not required by law, or in excess of lawful requirements, an application for refund may be made under the provisions of the act of June 27, 1930 (46 Stat. 822).

SEC. 9. Procedure in applications, hearings and appeals.—

PAR. a. Consideration of application; recommendation; service of notice.—An application for a grazing license or permit will be considered in the first instance by the advisory board of the district in which it is sought. The advisory board will make its recommendation to the Division of Grazing. If such recommendation is favorable, the Division will so notify the applicant by ordinary mail. If the recommendation is to any extent adverse, notice thereof will be served on the applicant personally either by the regional grazier or such person as may have been designated by him or by registered letter sent to the address given by the applicant in his application. Such notice will name a place and a date, not less than ten days thereafter, when protests against the recommendation of the advisory board will be heard.

PAR. b. Hearing of protests; reconsideration by advisory board; service of notice.—At the dates and places fixed for hearing protests any party may appear, either in person or by attorney or other representative, or may file a written protest with the advisory board, which thereupon will reconsider its previous recommendation in the light of the protest and make a final recommendation to the Division of Grazing. If such recommendation is favorable to the applicant, the Division will so notify him by ordinary mail. If the recommendation is to any extent adverse, notice thereof will be served on the applicant either personally by the regional grazier or such person as may have been designated by him, or by registered letter sent to the address given by the applicant in his application, and will contain the regional grazier's action thereon as provided in the next section.

PAR. c. Allowance or rejection of application by the regional grazier; modification; service of notice; appeal to examiner; intervention. — The regional grazier is vested with authority, in the light of all facts and circumstances, to issue or refuse to issue a grazing license or permit. If a grazing license or permit is refused or if the action of the regional grazier is to any extent adverse to the applicant, a notice including a recital of the specific reasons for the action taken will be served on the applicant either personally by the regional grazier or such person as may be have been designated by him or by registered letter sent to the address given by the applicant in his application. If the action taken by the regional grazier on any application is substantially different from that recommended by the advisory board, a notice including a recital of the specific reasons for the action taken will be served on any other applicant or applicants affected by such action, either personally by the regional grazier or such person as may have been designated by him or by registered letter sent to the address given by the applicant in his application. The notice given the particular applicant will advise him of his privilege to file an appeal to an examiner of the Division of Grazing. The appeal must be filed in the local office of the Division of Grazing within fifteen days following the receipt of the notice. The appeal shall be accompanied by specifications of error setting forth in a clear and concise manner the matter upon which it is based. Any party or parties who would be directly affected by the decision in the appeal may file a request for permission to be heard in the appeal and shall serve the appellant with a copy of such request. Such a party shall be known and designated as an intervener. Where separate appeals are filed and the issue or issues involved are common to both appeals, the appeals may be heard at the same hearing.

PAR. d. Fixing of place and date for hearing before examiner on appeal; notice.—Upon the filing of the appeal and specifications of error, the regional grazier will notify the Chief Examiner, naming a place within or near the district at which a hearing will be held. The Chief Examiner will then advise the regional grazier of the date of hearing, which shall be not less than ten days after the date of the filing of the appeal, and the regional grazier thereupon will notify the applicant and all interveners then of record of the time and place of hearing, which will be held by one of such representatives of the Division of Grazing as may have been designated by the Secretary of the Interior to conduct hearings. Such representative, however, shall be one other than the regional grazier from whose decision the appeal is taken. For the purpose of the hearing, such representative of the Division of Grazing shall be known and designated as an examiner.

PAR. e. Authority of Examiner.—The examiner is vested with general authority to conduct the hearing in an orderly and judicial manner, including authority to subpoena witnesses and to administer oaths, to call and question witnesses and to make findings of fact and a decision.

PAR. f. Conduct of hearing before examiner.—The appellant, the regional grazier, and recognized interveners will stipulate as far as possible all material facts and the issue or issues involved. The examiner will state any other issues on which he may wish to have evidence presented and issues which clearly appear to be unnecessary to a proper disposition of the case will be excluded, provided that the party asserting such an issue may state briefly for the record the substance of the proof which otherwise would be offered in support of the issue. The regional grazier, or his representative, will then state the grounds of the decision from which the appeal has been taken, together with such explanation as may be deemed necessary, and may call and examine witnesses on the issues involved. Upon the conclusion of this testimony the appellant shall present his case, following which recognized interveners may present evidence if such a presentation appears to the examiner to be necessary for a proper disposition of the matters in controversy. All oral testimony shall be under oath, and witnesses will be subject to cross-examination by any party. The examiner will himself question any witness whenever it appears necessary. Documentary evidence will be received by the examiner and made a part of the record, if pertinent to any issue, or may be entered by stipulation. Objections to evidence will be ruled upon by the examiner and exceptions duly noted, and such exceptions will be considered upon an appeal from the decision of the examiner. In noting an exception to a ruling sustaining an objection to the admission of evidence, the party affected may insert in the record, as a tender of proof, a summary written statement of the substance of the excluded evidence. The examiner will summarily stop examination and exclude testimony which is obviously irrelevant and immaterial.

PAR. g. Witness fees.—Under the subpoena issued a witness will be entitled to a witness fee of $1.50 per day, plus $0.05 per mile for miles actually traveled from his home to the place of hearing and return. Witnesses who attend hearings so far removed from their residences as to prohibit return thereto from day to day are allowed a par diem of $3.00 for expenses of subsistence for each day of actual attendance and for each day necessarily occupied in traveling to attend hearings and return home. The allowances for witness fees, mileage and subsistence are prescribed by the act of April 26, 1925 (44 Stat. 323), as modified and amended by the Economy Act of June 30, 1932 (47 Stat. 413), and the act of May 15, 1936 (49 Stat. 1331). Under the act of January 31, 1903 (32 Stat. 790), providing for issuance of the subpoena, a witness cannot be compelled to appear outside of his own county, and if he does so appear, can claim mileage in but one county, that is, the county of his residence. Claims for witness fees and mileage will be presented on Form No. 1–327, properly certified by the regional grazier and submitted in the usual way for payment.

PAR. h. Findings of fact and decision by examiner; notice; submittal to Secretary of the Interior.—Within ten days following the conclusion of the hearing the examiner will make findings of fact and render a decision, which shall become a part of the record in any appeal, and a copy of which shall be sent by registered mail to the appellant and all interveners, provided, however, that the examiner may, before promulgating a decision, submit it to the Secretary of the Interior for consideration. Upon approval by the Secretary it shall constitute the decision of the Department, without prejudice to the right of any party affected to be furnished with a copy of the transcript of testimony, as provided in the next paragraph, and to request reconsideration of the decision under the Rules of Practice of the Department.

PAR. i. Notice of appeal; furnishing copies of record.—Within ten days after the receipt of the decision of the examiner any party desiring to appeal to the Secretary of the Interior shall file a written notice of his intention to appeal and may request a copy of the transcript of testimony. Copies of the transcript will be furnished to the appellant and to the interveners, at a charge of 5 cents per folio, except that upon a sufficient showing to the examiner, supported by an affidavit, that an appellant or intervener is financially unable to pay such fee, a copy will be furnished him without charge. Notice of appeal and request for a copy of the transcript shall be filed in the office of the Chief Examiner, Division of Grazing, Department of the Interior, Salt Lake City, Utah.

PAR. j. Decision in effect pending appeal.—Pending an appeal to the examiner and determination thereof, the decision of the regional grazier shall be in full force and effect. Pending an appeal from the examiner to the Secretary of the Interior and determination thereof, the decision of the examiner shall be in full force and effect. Any action taken by the regional grazier pursuant to the examiner's decision shall be subject to modification or revocation by the Secretary upon an appeal from the decision of the examiner.

PAR. k. Appeals to the Secretary of the Interior.—An appeal from the decision of the examiner to the Secretary of the Interior shall be filed, together with any brief desired in support thereof, within thirty days after date of receipt of the transcript of testimony, or, in the event the transcript of testimony is not requested, such appeal shall be filed within thirty days after receipt of the examiner's decision, in the office of the Chief Examiner, Division of Grazing, Department of the Interior, Salt Lake City, Utah. The appeal in other respects shall be made in accordance with the Rules of Practice of the Department of the Interior in effect at the time such appeal is taken.

SEC. 10. General rules of the range.—

PAR. a. Acts prohibited.—The following acts are prohibited on the Federal range:

(1) Grazing livestock upon or driving livestock across the Federal range, including stock driveways, without an appropriate license or permit, whether regular or free-use, or a crossing permit.

(2) Grazing livestock upon or driving livestock across the Federal range, including stock driveways, in violation of the terms of a license or a permit, either by exceeding the number of livestock permitted, or by allowing livestock to be on the Federal range in an area or at a time different from that designated, or in any other manner.

(3) Allowing livestock to drift and to graze on Federal range, including stock driveways, without a license or a permit, either regular or free-use.

(4) Constructing or maintaining any kind of improvements, structures, fences, or enclosures on the Federal range, including stock driveways, without authority of law or a permit.

(5) Destroying, molesting, disturbing, or injuring property used or acquired for use by the United States in the administration of Federal range, including stock driveways, or improvements constructed or maintained under section 4 of the act.

(6) Cutting or removing vegetative cover, brush, woodland growth or timber for any purpose, except as authorized by law.

PAR. b. Rules of fair range practice.—The following rules of fair range practice shall be complied with by all licensees and permittees, both regular and free-use:

(1) The provisions of statutory law of any State in which grazing districts are located with reference to the number and kind of bulls permitted on land which is Federal range, the branding of livestock, and sanitary requirements, are hereby incorporated as a part of these rules and all licensees and permittees shall comply with the provisions in effect in the State or States in which any part of the grazing district or districts in which their licenses or permits are to be effective are located.

(2) A crossing permittee shall follow the route prescribed in the crossing permit at an average rate of not less than five miles per day for sheep or goats, and ten miles per day for cattle or horses.

SEC. 11. Procedure for enforcement of rules and regulations.—

PAR. a. Service of notice; report of violations.—Whenever it appears that there has been any willful violation of any provision of the act or of the Federal Range Code, the regional grazier shall cause the alleged violator to be served with a written notice, which shall set forth the act or acts constituting such violation and in which reference shall be made to the provision or provisions of the act or the Federal Range Code alleged to have been violated. Such notice may be served in person or by registered mail and the affidavit of the person making personal service or the registry receipt shall be preserved. Any violation of the act or the Federal Range Code shall be reported immediately to the Division of Investigations, Department of the Interior.

PAR. b. Unlawful grazing on Federal range; removal of livestock; impoundment; liability.—Whenever the charge consists of unlawfully grazing livestock on the Federal range, the notice served on the alleged violator will order him to remove the livestock or to cause them to be removed immediately or within such reasonable time as may be specified. If the alleged violator fails to comply with the notice the regional grazier shall forthwith issue a written order addressed to any grazier or other person designated by him, directing such person to remove the livestock from the area in which they are unlawfully grazing. Proper care will be exercised in such removal, which will be accomplished in the following manner:

(1) If the owner of the livestock has a license or permit which is then effective in any area, the number of livestock for which such license or permit has been issued will be removed to such area. Any livestock not covered by the license or permit will be removed either to land controlled by the licensee or permittee or will be impounded, in the manner hereinafter provided.

(2) If the owner of the livestock has no license or permit then in effect but controls land within or near the district, the livestock will be removed to such land.

(3) If in emergency the foregoing procedure is impossible or impracticable, or if resort by the United States to the particular local statutory procedure for the exercise of its right as a proprietor is impracticable, ineffective, or will entail delay, or if for any reason whatever the adequate protection of its property requires that the livestock be removed immediately from the Federal range, the regional grazier may order that the livestock be impounded. Written notice of the impoundment will be given to the owner or any other interested person, if known. Such notice will assert a lien in favor of the United States for a certain amount of damages incurred and the reasonable expense of driving, handling and feeding from the time of impoundment. Such notice shall be given also by posting in at least three conspicuous public places within the county in which the livestock were found unlawfully grazing. Upon payment of the amounts claimed the lien will be released and the livestock delivered to the owner or other person showing a right to their possession. In the event that payment of such amounts to discharge the lien is not made, then it shall be foreclosed in accordance with the law of the State in which the livestock have been impounded.

Neither the removal of livestock from unlawful grazing nor the foreclosure of a lien by the United States will relieve the alleged violator of civil liability for damages, except to the extent that its claim may have been satisfied through a foreclosure, and in neither case will the alleged violator be relieved of criminal prosecution.

PAR. c. Amicable settlement of civil cases involving damage to Government property.—Any offer of settlement for damage to Federal range or to other property of the United States resulting from an alleged violation of any provision of the act or of the Federal Range Code shall be transmitted by the regional grazier, with his recommendation, to the Department for consideration. An offer of settlement will not constitute satisfaction of civil liability for the damage involved until finally accepted by the United States and will in no event relieve the violator of criminal prosecution.

PAR. d. Disciplinary action for violations.—The regional grazier is authorized to reduce or revoke a grazing license or permit or to deny renewal thereof for a clearly established violation of the terms or conditions of the license or permit or for a violation of any of the provisions of the Federal Range Code. Before any license or permit is reduced or revoked, or renewal thereof denied, because of such a violation, however, the regional grazier shall cause the licensee or permittee to be served with a written notice which shall set forth the act or acts constituting the violation and the amount of damage resulting therefrom. Such notice also shall refer to the terms or conditions of the license or permit or to the provision or provisions of the Federal Range Code alleged to have been violated. The notice shall cite the licensee or permittee to appear before an examiner of the Division of Grazing at a designated time and place to show cause why his license or permit should not be reduced or revoked and satisfaction of damages made. The notice may be served in person or by registered mail and the affidavit of the person making personal service or the registry receipt shall be preserved.

The hearing before the examiner upon the order to show cause will be conducted in so far as practicable in the same manner as other hearings before an examiner. The licensee or permittee may appear in his own behalf or by counsel. The evidence shall be confined to the commission of the acts charged and the amount of damage due the United States. If upon the hearing of the order to show cause the violation with which the licensee or permittee is charged is established to the satisfaction of the examiner, he will make a finding of the amount of damages, in writing, and will direct the regional grazier to reduce or revoke the license or the permit, as the facts may warrant, provided that if the licensee or permittee makes an offer of settlement which appears reasonable and satisfactory to the examiner, he will, except in cases of flagrant or repeated violation, withhold such direction and will order the regional grazier to transmit such offer of settlement to the Department for consideration.

Upon the failure of the person served in the notice to appear at the time and place designated in the notice, and in the absence of a good and sufficient showing to the examiner of the reason for his failure to appear, the examiner may direct the regional grazier to reduce or revoke the license or permit, as the violations charged in the notice and the amount of damages alleged may warrant.

No license or permit shall be issued or renewed until payment of any amounts found by the examiner to be due the United States as damages under this section has been offered, and until payment of any amounts due as grazing fees has been made.

The decision of the examiner on any matters in this section shall be final unless an appeal is taken within 15 days to the Director of Grazing, whose decision likewise shall be final unless an appeal is taken within 30 days to the Secretary of the Interior. Pending an appeal and final determination thereof the decision of the examiner or of the Director of Grazing, as the case may be, shall remain in full force and effect. Appeals to either the Director of Grazing or the Secretary of the Interior shall be filed in the office of the Director of Grazing, Washington, D. C.

SEC. 12. District advisory boards.—

PAR. a. Authorization for establishment; number of members; qualifications.—To assist the Director of Grazing in the performance of his duties, the establishment of an advisory board of local stockmen in each grazing district is authorized. The regional grazier will fix the number of members to be elected to each board in the region and may fix the number to be elected as representatives of each class of stockmen, according to the kind of livestock owned, or the number to be elected from each voting precinct established by him, or both, provided that the free-use applicants or free-use licensees or permittees in each district will be entitled to one representative, who shall be a member of the class represented. All district advisors shall be elected in the manner hereinafter provided and, excepting free-use and wild life representatives, shall be electors qualified to vote at the particular election. If a district is divided into precincts, an advisor representing a precinct shall qualify in the precinct in the same manner as in the district.

PAR. b. Elections—Time and place of holding; notice.—An election of district advisors will be held in each grazing district within 90 days after the publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of the order establishing the district, and annually thereafter. The regional grazier may divide the district into voting precincts and will designate a voting place within each district or precinct. Notice of the time and place or places of holding an election will be given by publication in one newspaper of general circulation in the district, by posting in the office of the regional grazier and in the office of each district grazier and by such posting in such other public places as may be necessary to give the matter proper publicity. No election shall be held to be invalid by reason of failure to give any of the foregoing notices unless it shall be made to appear that there was a failure to give substantial notice.

PAR. c. Elections — Qualifications of electors.—At the first election after the establishment of a grazing district only qualified applicants for grazing licenses or permits in such district shall be eligible to vote and at any subsequent election any person offering to vote shall be one of the following:

(1) A regular licensee or permittee;
(2) A free-use licensee or permittee;
(3) A nonuse licensee or permittee;
(4) Anyone having the personal qualifications of an applicant for a grazing license or permit and controlling land or water in any of the three classes of base property, provided that if such an elector has not been the holder of a license or permit for the preceding grazing season, he shall register his name with the representative of the Division of Grazing in charge of the election before voting begins.

An elector may vote in more than one district if so qualified. A minor may vote if otherwise qualified, provided that upon request by his natural or legal guardian his ballot may be cast by the guardian in the name of the minor. The judges at any election will be furnished by the representative of the Division of Grazing in charge with a list of all electors entitled to vote in the district. No one whose name does not appear on such list shall be allowed to vote, provided that any one claiming to have been wrongfully omitted from the list may have his name placed thereon upon submitting two qualified electors' sworn statements of facts qualifying him as an elector.

PAR. d. Elections — Judges; nominations; ballots; registration; challenges.—The representative of the Division of Grazing in charge of an election will choose three qualified electors to act as election judges. The electors present may then place in nomination the names of candidates, but ballots may be cast for any other person qualified to represent a particular class of precinct. Voting shall be only by ballots cast personally by qualified electors and proxies will not be recognized. No elector shall receive a ballot until he has registered by signing opposite his name on the list of persons entitled to vote. Before receiving a ballot any elector may be challenged by any other elector qualified to vote in the district and thereupon the judges, or any of them, may require the elector challenged to answer such questions concerning his qualifications as a voter as may be deemed necessary. Upon his failure or refusal to answer such questions satisfactorily, he shall not be permitted to register or to receive a ballot. Each candidate may designate any qualified elector to remain within the polling places during the casting and counting of votes and the declaration of the results thereof, and such person may act as a challenger. Before any elector shall be permitted to deposit his completed ballot in the ballot box, the judges shall write "Voted" opposite his signature on the registration list.

PAR. e. Elections—Method of voting.—Only one ballot may be cast by the holder or holders of any one license or permit, whether regular, free-use or nonuse, or by a qualified elector or electors controlling any one base property. An elector eligible only for a free-use license or permit may cast a ballot for one free-use candidate only and for no other candidate. All other electors, regardless of the precincts in which they may reside or operate, each shall cast one ballot on which shall be written the name or names of the total number of candidates to be elected in the district as representatives of the class of owners of livestock to which the elector belongs, provided that if he belongs to more than one such class he shall vote only for the candidates of the class in which he predominates in numbers of livestock, on the basis of one cow being the equivalent of five sheep. If a certain number are to be elected from each precinct, no ballot shall include the names of more candidates from any one precinct than are to be elected therefrom.

PAR. f. Elections—Close of polls; results; ties; judges' certificate.—Polling places shall remain open on the day of the election from 2:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m., or until those present at 5:00 p. m. shall have voted. Upon the closing of the polls the judges shall open the ballot box and count the votes. In case of a tie vote, a choice by lot shall be made by the judges in the presence of the tie candidates or of at least one representative designated by each such candidate for such purpose. As soon as the ballots have been counted, the judges shall make out a certificate of returns under their hands, stating the number of votes cast, the number of excess, unused or spoiled ballots, and, in both words and figures, the number of votes received by each candidate. The certificate, together with the ballots and the registration list of voters, shall be enclosed and sealed and forthwith delivered to the representative of the Division of Grazing in charge of the election.

PAR. g. Appointment by Secretary of the Interior; oath and term of office; removal; vacancies.—No person elected as a district advisor may assume office until he has been appointed by the Secretary of the Interior and has taken an oath of office. Persons elected as district advisors at the first election after the organization of a grazing district shall be divided into three classes by lot by the regional grazier. Those in class 1 shall hold office for one year, those in class 2 for two years and those in class 3 for three years, and until their successors are elected and have qualified. Thereafter at each election the class whose term has expired shall be elected for a term of three years. The Secretary of the Interior may remove any district advisor from office for failure to discharge his duties or for the good of the service. Upon a vacancy occurring in the office of a district advisor by reason of resignation, removal or otherwise, the board shall recommend to the Secretary of the Interior the name of a person to fill the vacancy and such recommendations, together with that of the regional grazier, shall be transmitted by him to the Secretary for consideration. A person appointed by the Secretary to fill a vacancy shall hold office until the next regular election, when a successor shall be elected to serve for the remainder of the unexpired term, if any, of the member causing the vacancy.

PAR. h. Meetings; organization.—District advisory boards shall meet at any time and place within the district designated by the regional grazier or his authorized representative. At the first meeting of a board after an election, it shall organize by electing one of its members as chairman and such other officers from its membership as it may deem necessary. Meetings of a district advisory board shall be open to the public except that, with the approval of the representative of the Division of Grazing present, it may meet in executive session in considering applications for the granting of licenses or permits or any other business.

PAR. i. Functions and duties of district advisors.—District advisors may advise or make recommendations on the following matters:

(1) The carrying capacity of the Federal range in the district.

(2) Applications, under the Federal Range Code, for grazing licenses or permits, either regular, free use, or nonuse, provided that no board shall make a recommendation on an application by any of its members. Such an application shall be acted on in the first instance by the regional grazier or district grazier.

(3) Proper rules for fair range practice.

(4) Allotments of range by classes of livestock or for community or individual use.

(5) Seasonal use of the Federal range or any part thereof.

(6) Applications for the construction or maintenance of improvements on the Federal range under section 4 of the act.

(7) Any recommendations made by local associations of stockmen in the district.

(8) Any other matters on which their opinion may be requested by the Secretary of the Interior.

SEC. 13. Local associations of stockmen.—

PAR. a. Organization.—Qualified applicants for grazing licenses or permits in any grazing district may organize a local association, or several associations, according to classes of livestock, or by community of interest or otherwise.

PAR. b. Articles of incorporation, constitutions and bylaws.—Such associations shall be organized as corporations "not-for-profit", if permissible under the laws of the State in which the grazing district, or the greater part thereof, is situated; otherwise, they may be organized as cooperative unincorporated associations. In either case the articles of incorporation, the charters, or the constitutions of such associations, together with the by-laws, shall be submitted to the Secretary of the Interior before the organization of the association shall be recognized by the Department of the Interior.

PAR. c. Powers.—Such local associations should be authorized to exercise the following powers:

(1) To lease, or otherwise acquire the control of State, county, privately owned, tax-default, or other lands within or near a district.

(2) To make contributions in cash, property, material or labor, toward the administration, protection and improvement of the Federal range lying within the district.

(3) To construct and maintain fences, wells, reservoirs and other improvements necessary to the care and management of the livestock grazed in the district, if and when authorized by the Secretary of the Interior.

(4) To act in an advisory capacity to the Secretary of the Interior in the administration of the Federal range lying within the district. All recommendations made by the association to the Secretary shall be subject to the provisions of the Federal Range Code and shall include the right of a hearing before an examiner of the Division of Grazing on the necessity and propriety of any action recommended and an appeal to the Secretary from the examiner's findings of fact and decision.

(5) To recommend the amount, manner of apportionment, time and method of collection of assessments for strictly association purposes, as well as for the public purposes contemplated by the act.

(6) To enter into cooperative agreements with the Secretary of the Interior for any of the foregoing purposes or for any other purpose authorized by the act.

PAR. d. Cooperative agreements for use of lands; obligation of all licensees and permittees to share cost.—Whenever the carrying capacity of Federal range is increased by reason of the acquisition of control of any lands by the Division of Grazing through a cooperative agreement with a local association, any licensee or permittee benefiting thereby, whether a member of the association or not, shall pay to the association his proportionate share of the cost of the association lands, based on the number of livestock by which his license or permit is increased by reason of the administration of the association lands by the Division of Grazing, plus any authorized association assessments for other expenses. The regional grazier is authorized to refuse to issue a license or permit to any applicant or to cancel or refuse to renew the license or permit of any licensee or permittee to graze on any lands covered by such an agreement, whether public or association lands, and whether or not such applicant, licensee or permittee is a member of the association, if he fails or refuses to pay to the association any of the foregoing charges.

SEC. 14. Construction and maintenance of improvements on the Federal range.

PAR. a. Statutory authorization.—Section 4 of the act provides:

> Fences, wells, reservoirs, and other improvements necessary to the care and management of the permitted livestock may be constructed on the public lands within such grazing districts under permit issued by the authority of the Secretary, or under such cooperative arrangement as the Secretary may approve. Permittees shall be required by the Secretary of the Interior to comply with the provisions of law of the State within which the grazing district is located with respect to the cost and maintenance of partition fences. No permit shall be issued which shall entitle the permittee to the use of such improvements constructed and owned by a prior occupant until the applicant has paid to such prior occupant the reasonable value of such improvements to be determined under rules and regulations of the Secretary of the Interior. The decision of the Secretary in such cases is to be final and conclusive.

PAR. b. Applicants for permits and cooperative agreements; qualifications.—An applicant for a permit or for a cooperative agreement or an arrangement to construct and maintain improvements of the character described in section 4 of the act, or to use and maintain improvements of such character constructed and owned by a prior occupant, on the Federal range, if an individual, must be a citizen of the United States or must have declared his intention to become such. If an association, its members must possess like qualifications, and if either an association or a corporation, it must be authorized to do business in the State in which the lands upon which the improvements to be erected are situated.

PAR. c. Applications; form and contents; filing.—Applications for such permits, cooperative agreements or arrangements shall set forth the location of such improvements by legal subdivision of the public land survey, the necessity, use, cost and description of such improvements, item by item, shall designate the time and manner of their construction, the period of use, the method of operation, protection, repair, removal or other disposition, and shall include any other pertinent information. If an application concerns the use and maintenance of improvements constructed and owned by a prior occupant under permit issued by the authority of the Secretary, it shall include also an itemized showing of their reasonable value at the time of filing the application and either evidence that the applicant has paid this amount to the prior occupant and has obtained title to the improvements free of all encumbrances, or a clear and concise explanation of the reasons for a lack of such agreement between the applicant and the prior occupant. When necessary properly to explain the improvements and matters connected therewith, the application shall be accompanied by a sketch of the improvements with specifications and a map showing their location in the grazing district. All applications shall be made on forms provided by the Division of Grazing, with such modifications as may be necessary, and shall be filed in triplicate with the regional grazier, who will submit them to the advisory board for consideration and recommendation.

PAR. d. Applications for construction of improvements; consideration; appeals.—When an application concerning the construction of improvements entailing a cost of three hundred dollars or less in labor and material is filed, the regional grazier shall, after the recommendation of the advisory board, act on the application and such action shall be final unless the applicant appeals to the Director of Grazing within 15 days following receipt of notice. If the improvement entails a cost in excess of three hundred dollars in labor and materials, the regional grazier immediately will submit it, together with his own recommendation and that of the advisory board, to the Director of Grazing for action. The decision of the Director of Grazing on any such application, irrespective of the cost involved, shall be final unless the applicant appeals to the Secretary of the Interior within 30 days. In the latter event, the decision of the Secretary shall be final.

PAR. e. Applications for use of improvements owned by prior occupant; procedure upon failure to agree.—An application to use and maintain improvements constructed and owned by a prior occupant, under permit issued by the authority of the Secretary, if accompanied by the evidence of ownership provided for in paragraph c of this section, shall be considered in the same manner as an application for the construction of improvements. Upon the filing of such an application showing that the applicant and the prior occupant have not agreed on the value of the improvements, the regional grazier will immediately, at the applicant's expense, cause the prior occupant to be served either personally or by registered mail with a notice of the filing of the application, together with copies of the application and any accompanying papers and an order to show cause within thirty days why the improvements should not be determined to be of the value alleged by the applicant. Upon such a showing or, if the prior occupant applies within thirty days from the date of service for a hearing, in the light of such evidence as the applicant and the prior occupant may desire to present in such hearing, the regional grazier will determine the present reasonable value of the improvements. Such determination shall be final unless an appeal is taken within 15 days to the Director of Grazing, whose decision in the matter likewise shall be final unless an appeal is taken within 30 days to the Secretary of the Interior. In the latter event, the decision of the Secretary shall be final. Upon the failure of the prior occupant to show cause or to apply within 30 days for a hearing, the reasonable value of the improvements will be determined by the regional grazier, provided that in the event of such default by the prior occupant the value determined shall not be less than the amount alleged by the applicant in his application and the decision of the regional grazier in such cases shall be final. In any case when a decision has become final, payment by the applicant to the prior occupant of the amount determined and a showing that the improvements are free of all encumbrances shall be a condition precedent to favorable action on the application.

PAR. f. Approval of application.—Upon the approval of an application concerning the construction or use and maintenance of any improvements on the Federal range by the issuance of a permit or the approval of a cooperative agreement or other arrangement, the applicant may construct the improvements or use the improvements constructed and owned by the prior occupant, as the case may be.

SEC. 15. Special rules for grazing districts.—Whenever it appears to a regional grazier that local conditions in any district in his region make necessary the application of a special rule on any of the matters in this code in order better to achieve an administration consistent with the purposes of the act, he may recommend such a rule, supported by a factual showing of its necessity, to the Secretary of the Interior for approval.

SEC. 16. Penal provision.—By section 2 of the act any willful violation of the provisions of the act or of the rules and regulations thereunder (the Federal Range Code), after actual notice thereof, is punishable by a fine of not more than $500.

F. R. CARPENTER,
Director of Grazing.

TITLE 45—SECURITIES AND EXCHANGES

PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANY ACT OF 1935

CORRECTION OF RULE U-9A2-3 AND THE INSTRUCTIONS TO FORM U-12D-2

The Securities and Exchange Commission announces two minor corrections of clerical errors in Rule U-9A2-3[1] and in the instructions accompanying Form U-12D-2 which is used by a registered holding company making application for approval of a sale of utility assets. The text of the Commission's action follows:

Rule U-9A2-3 (sec. 15.U-9A2-3).—In the first clause of paragraph (a) of Rule U-9A2-3 (sec. 15.U-9A2-3) the "(d)" should read "(c)" so that the first clause of this paragraph (a) will read, "Subject to the provisions of paragraph (c) of this rule."

Rule U-9A2-3 (sec. 15.U-9A2-3) appears in Holding Company Act Release No. 929 and in the General Rules and Regulations under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, as amended May 15, 1938, at page 902 and the correction here made should be noted in both places.

Instructions to Form U–12D–2 (sec. 17.U–12D–2).—Item 1 in the instructions to Form U–12D–2 (sec. 17.U–12D–2) is corrected by striking out the words "or for the sale of utility assets by a subsidiary of a registered holding company to another company in the same holding company system," so that Item 1 to the instructions will read, "This form is to be used for applications for the approval of the sale of utility assets by registered holding companies." The instructions to form U–12D–2 (sec. 17.U–12D–2) are attached to the Form U–12D–2 and this correction should be noted thereon in the instructions.

[Form 38—Tobacco 11—Supp. 1]

INSTRUCTIONS FOR DETERMINATION OF FLUE-CURED TOBACCO FARM MARKETING QUOTAS FOR 1938

Issued pursuant to the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 as amended

Section II, A (3) of Form 38–Tobacco 11, "Instructions for Determination of Flue-Cured Tobacco Marketing Quotas for 1938,"[1] is amended by striking out the first three sentences and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(3) The farm yield shall be the 1935 yield per acre for the farm, if such yield is known, subject to the following adjustments:

(a) If the 1935 yield per acre for the farm is more than 300 pounds below the 1935 county average yield,[2] the farm yield shall be fixed at 300 pounds below the 1935 county average unless adjusted upward as provided in (c) below.

(b) If the 1935 yield per acre for the farm is more than 300 pounds above the 1935 county average yield[2] the farm yield shall be fixed at 300 pounds above the 1935 county average yield[2] or, if larger, at the average yield per acre for the farm in the three years, 1935, 1936 and 1937.

(c) If the committee finds that because of flood, drought, hail or blue-mold the 1935 yield per acre for any farm was materially lower than the yield which otherwise would have been obtained, the committee shall assign as the farm yield that yield which it finds to be normal for the farm, taking into consideration the yield on farms in the locality which have similar types of soil; provided that such yield shall not be more than the higher of the 1936 or 1937 yield per acre for the farm nor more than the maximum yield which could be established under (b) above.

If the 1935 yield per acre for a farm is not known, the 1935 community average yield per acre[2] shall be used as the farm yield.

Section V "Definitions" is amended by striking out the definition of "family" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Family means a body of persons who live in one house and under one head. In the determination of the number of families on a farm, a family shall be considered as "on a farm" if the head of the family and other members of the family who ordinarily take part in farm work are regularly engaged in work on the particular farm, even though such family may not live in a house located on the farm. If a family lives in a house located on one farm and works part time on that farm and part time on another farm, the family shall be included as a family on the farm on which the greater proportion of time is spent in work.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of June 1938. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

INTRODUCTION

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under Sections 7 to 17, inclusive, of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, and in connection with the effectuation of the purposes of Section 7 (a) of the said Act in 1938, payments and grants of aid will be made in Thomas County, Kansas, for participating in the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program in accordance with the provisions of this bulletin and such modifications thereof or other provisions as may hereafter be made.

The provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program for Thomas County, Kansas, are necessarily subject to such legislation affecting said program as the Congress of the United States may hereafter enact.

The rates of payments (and deductions) specified herein are subject to an increase or decrease of not more than 10 percent depending upon the extent of participation in the Thomas county program and the final estimate of payments which would be made in Thomas county under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program.

The provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program as contained in this bulletin are applicable only in Thomas County, Kansas.

SECTION I. County acreage allotments and goals.—A. County acreage allotments of soil-depleting crops.—The Agricultural Adjustment Administration with assistance of the State committee shall establish for Thomas county, county acreage allotments for total soil-depleting crops and for wheat as hereinafter set forth. The soil-depleting acreage allotments for Thomas county shall not exceed its prorata share of the applicable acreage allotments established for the State by the Secretary except as otherwise provided in the bulletin.

1. Total soil-depleting acreage allotment.—The county acreage allotment of total soil-depleting crops shall be established for Thomas county by assigning to Thomas county its proportionate share of the State acreage allotment of total soil-depleting crops on the basis of the average acreage of soil-depleting crops grown in whichever of the periods of five or more consecutive years since 1927 the Agricultural Adjustment Administration finds is most representative of normal conditions and the base acreages of total soil-depleting crops established in connection with the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program, adjusted where necessary for farms for which provision was not made in 1937, with due allowance for trends in acreage of soil-depleting crops.

2. Wheat acreage allotment.—The county acreage allotment of wheat for Thomas county shall be established by assigning to Thomas county its proportionate share of the State acreage allotment of wheat determined by the Secretary on the basis of the acreage of wheat seeded for the production of wheat during the ten years, 1928 to 1937, inclusive, plus in applicable years the acreage diverted under agricultural adjustment and conservation programs. If, on account of abnormal weather conditions, the acreage seeded for the production of wheat in the county in any year of such ten-year period was less than 50 percent or more than 150 percent of the average computed for the other nine years, such year shall be eliminated in calculating the average acreage seeded for the production of wheat in the county. The average acreage seeded in the county for the production of wheat so determined shall be adjusted for trends in acreage by giving equal weight to the acreages seeded for the production of wheat and the acreages diverted from the production of wheat during the years 1935, 1936, and 1937, and to the acreages so seeded and diverted during the ten-year period 1928 to 1937, inclusive, as adjusted for abnormal weather conditions.

B. County soil-building goals.—Insofar as practicable, a county goal shall be established for particular soil-building practices which are not routine farming practices and which are most needed in the county in order to preserve and improve soil fertility and to prevent wind and water erosion.

SEC. II. Farm acreage allotments and goals.—The county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, shall determine acreage allotments, wind erosion control goals, and soil-building practice goals, in accordance with provisions contained herein and instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. The soil-depleting acreage allotments determined for the farms in the county shall not exceed the applicable county acreage allotments established for the county by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and the sum of the acreage allotments for farms furnishing required forms and information shall not exceed their proportionate share of the county acreage allotments.

A. Soil-depleting acreage allotments.—1. Total soil-depleting acreage allotment.—The total soil-depleting acreage allotment for any farm shall be established on the basis of good soil management, tillable acreage on the farm, type of soil, topography, degree of erosion and the acreage of all soil-depleting crops customarily grown on the farm taking into consideration allotments established for individual soil-depleting crops. The total soil-depleting acreage allotment for any farm shall be comparable with the allotments determined for other farms in the same community which are similar with respect to such factors.

2. Wheat allotment.—Acreage allotments of wheat shall be determined for farms on which wheat has been seeded for harvest in one or more of the years 1935, 1936, and 1937, on the basis of tillable acreage, crop rotation practices, type of soil and topography. Not more than 3 percent of the county wheat acreage allotment shall be apportioned to farms in such county on which wheat was not seeded for harvest in any one of the three years 1935, 1936, and 1937, on the basis of tillable acreage, crop rotation practices, type of soil and topography. The wheat acreage allotment for any farm shall be comparable with the allotment determined for other farms in the same community which are similar with respect to such factors.

B. Soil-Building goals.—1. Soil-building goal.—The soil-building goal for any farm shall be the number of units of soil-building practices equal to 30 percent of "the number of dollars" computed for the farm under Section III, subsection A, items 1, 2, and 3. The goal so established shall represent the number of units of applicable practices to be carried out on the farm. On farms which are all noncrop pasture land the soil-building goal expressed in units shall equal the number of dollars in the total payment computed for the farm under Section III, subsection A, item 3. Insofar as practicable, the county committee shall determine for individual farms practices to be followed in meeting the goal which are not routine farming practices on the farm but which are needed on the farm in order to preserve and improve soil fertility and prevent wind and water erosion, and which will tend to accomplish the goals, if any, established for the county with respect to particular soil-building practices.

2. Wind erosion control goal.—On a farm on which the county committee has designated special wind erosion acreage a wind erosion control goal in units shall be established equal to the number of dollars computed for the farm under Section III, subsection A, item 4.

C. Posting of acreage allotments.—All acreage allotments established for farms in a county shall be posted or kept freely available for public inspection in the office of the county committee or county agricultural extension agent.

SEC. III. Payment for full performance.—Payment will be made with respect to any farm for not exceeding soil-depleting acreage allotments, and for achieving soil-building and wind erosion control goals in an amount which shall be the sum of the following:

A. Acreage allotments.—70% of the total of items 1, 2 and 3 below shall be payments for not exceeding the total soil-depleting acreage allotment.

1. Wheat.—10 cents per bushel of the normal yield per acre of wheat for the farm for each acre in the wheat acreage allotment; or, if the acreage planted to wheat is less than 80 percent of the wheat acreage allotment and the county committee finds that the failure to plant 80 percent of such wheat acreage allotment was not due to flood or drought, for 125 percent of the acreage planted to wheat. The acreage planted to wheat shall be deemed to be that acreage which is seeded to wheat classified as soil-depleting under subsection B of Section XI.

2. Cropland.—70 cents per acre adjusted by farm productivity for the acres of cropland in excess of acres used in determining wheat payment under item 1 above.

3. Non-cropland.—20 cents per acre of noncrop open pasture land in the farm.

4. Designated wind erosion acres.—65 cents per acre of designated wind erosion acreage. Designated wind erosion acreage under this item of payment which may be alloted to the county shall not exceed a total of 15,000 acres.

B. Soil-building goal.—30 percent of the total of items 1, 2, and 3 of subsection A above shall be payment for achieving a soil-building goal.

SEC. IV. Payments for partial performance.—Payments computed for any farm under the provisions of Section III shall be subject to all the following deductions which are applicable to the farm.

A. Deductions for excess acreages of soil-depleting crops.—1. $5.00 multiplied by farm productivity for each acre by which the 1938 acreage of soil-depleting crops exceeds the total soil-depleting acreage allotment for the farm.

B. Deductions for failure to carry out soil-building practices and conservation measures.—1. $1.00 for each unit by which the soil-building goal is not reached.

2. $1.00 for each unit by which the wind erosion control goal is not reached.

C. Deduction for failure to prevent wind and water erosion.—$1.50 for each acre of land, with respect to which there are not adopted in 1938 methods recommended by the State committee and approved by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration for the prevention of wind or water erosion if such protection is needed.

D. Deduction for breaking out of native sod.—$3.00 for each acre of native sod or any other land which has been cropped but is not classified as cropland which is broken out during the period November 1, 1937 to October 31, 1938, inclusive, unless the breaking out of such land is approved by the county committee as a good farming practice and an equal acreage of cropland on the same farm is restored to permanent vegetative cover, such acreage of cropland to be in addition to that designated as restoration land.

SEC. V. Division of payments and deductions.—A. Payments and deductions in connection with acreage allotments and restoration land goals.—The net payment or net deduction computed for any farm with respect to 70 percent of items 1, 2 and 3 of Section III, A, or item A, 1, Section IV shall be divided among the landlords, tenants, and sharecroppers in the same proportion (as indicated by their acreage shares) that such persons are entitled, at the time the crop is harvested, to share in the proceeds of the wheat, or if there is no wheat, as the proceeds of the major soil-depleting crop is divided on the farm in 1938.

In computing such net payments and net deductions with respect to acreage allotments the total amount of deductions computed under Section IV with respect to (1) soil-depleting crops grown in excess of the total soil-depleting acreage allotment (subsection A–1); (2) failure to prevent wind and water erosion (subsection B–2 and subsection C); and (3) breaking out of native sod (subsection D) shall be regarded (a) as deductions with respect to 70 percent of items 1, 2 and 3 in Section III.

In the event that wheat or other soil-depleting crops are not harvested in 1938 on the farm the payment, if any, with respect to 70 percent of items 1, 2 and 3 of Section III-A shall be divided among the landlords, tenants, and sharecroppers in the same proportion that the county committee determines that such persons would have shared in the proceeds of the wheat crop had wheat been harvested on the farm in 1938.

B. Payments with respect to soil-building and wind erosion control practices.—The amount of payment earned in connection with the soil-building goal and wind erosion control goal for the farm shall be paid to the landlord, tenant or sharecropper who carried out the soil-building and wind erosion control practices. If the county committee determines that more than one such person contributed to the carrying-out of soil-building and wind erosion control practices on the farm in 1938, such payment shall be divided in the proportion that the units contributed by each such person to such practices bears to the total units of such practices carried out on the farm in 1938. Each person contributing to the practice carried out on a particular acreage shall be deemed to have contributed equally to the units of such practice unless such persons establish to the satisfaction of the county committee that their respective contributions thereto were not in equal proportion, in which event such unit shall be divided in the proportion which the county committee determines each such person contributed thereto. Payment earned in connection with practice A–7 of restoring farmland to pasture shall be divided as the wheat payment is divided or if no wheat payment is computed with respect to a wheat acreage allotment on the farm this payment shall be divided as the proceeds of general crops are divided.

C. Proration of net deductions.—If with respect to any farm the sum of the net payments computed for all persons on the farm exceeds the sum of the net deductions computed for all persons on the farm, the net deduction computed for any person on the farm shall be prorated among the persons on the farm for whom a net payment is computed in the proportion in which the net payment computed for any person is of the sum of the net payments computed for all persons on the farm. If, with respect to any farm the sum of the net deductions computed for all persons on the farm equals or exceeds the sum of the net payments computed for all persons on the farm, no payment will be made with respect to such farm and the amount of such net deductions in excess of the net payments shall be prorated among the persons on the farm in the proportion which the net deduction computed for any person is of the sum of the net deductions computed for all persons on the farm.

SEC. VI. Increase in small payments.—The total payment computed under Section III to V, inclusive, for any person with respect to any farm shall be increased as follows:

(1) Any payment amounting to 71 cents or less shall be increased to $1.00;

(2) Any payment amounting to more than 71 cents but less than $1.00 shall be increased by 40 percent;

(3) Any payment amounting to $1.00 or more shall be increased in accordance with the following schedule:

SEC. VII. Deductions incurred on other farms.—A. Other farms in the same county.—If the deductions computed under Section IV with respect to any farm exceed the payment for full performance on such farm computed under Section III, any person's share of the amount by which such deductions exceed such payments shall be deducted from such person's share of the payments which would otherwise be made to him with respect to any other farms in the county.

B. Other farms in the State.—If the deductions computed for any person with respect to one or more farms in a county exceed the payments computed for such person on other farms in the county, the amount of such excess deductions shall be deducted from the payments computed for such person with respect to any other farms in the State, if the State committee finds that the crops grown and practices adopted on the farms with respect to which such deductions are computed are such as substantially to offset the contribution to the program made on such other farms.

SEC. VIII. Deduction for association expenses.—There shall be deducted pro rata from the payments with respect to any farm all or such part as the Secretary may prescribe of the estimated administrative expenses incurred or to be incurred by the county agricultural conservation association in the county in which the farm is located.

SEC. IX. General provisions relating to payments.—A. Payment restricted to effectuation of purposes of the program.—All or any part of any payment which otherwise would be made to any person under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program may be withheld (1) if he has adopted any practice which the Secretary determines tends to defeat any of the purposes of the 1938 or previous agricultural conservation programs, (2) if, by means of any corporation, partnership, estate, trust or any other device, or in any manner whatsoever, he has offset, or has participated in offsetting, in whole or in part, the performance for which such payment is otherwise authorized. No payment, other than a payment in connection with soil-building practice A 7, shall be made with respect to any farm which is idle in 1938.

B. Payments computed and made without regard to claims.—Any payment or share of payment shall be computed and made without regard to questions of title under State law, without deduction of claims for advances (except as provided in subsection D of this Section IX) and without regard to any claim or lien against any crop, or proceeds thereof, in favor of the owner or any other creditor.

C. Changes in leasing and cropping agreements, reduction in number of tenants, and other devices.—If on any farm in 1938 any change of the arrangements which existed on the farm in 1937 is made between the landlord and the tenants or sharecroppers and such change would cause a greater proportion of the payments to be made to the landlord under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program than would have been made to the landlord for performance on the farm under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program, payments to the landlord under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program with respect to the farm shall not be greater than the amount that would have been paid to the landlord if the arrangements which existed on the farm in 1937 had been continued in 1938, if the county committee certifies that the change is not justified and disapproves such change.

If on any farm the number of sharecroppers or share tenants in 1938 is less than the average number on the farm during the years 1935 to 1937, inclusive, and such reduction would increase the payments that would otherwise be made to the landlord, such payments to the landlord shall not be greater than the amount that would otherwise be made if the county committee certifies that the reduction is not justified and disapproves such reduction.

If the State committee finds that any person who files an application for payment pursuant to the provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program has employed any other scheme or device, the effect of which would be or has been to deprive any other person of any payment under any agricultural conservation program to which such other person would normally be entitled, the Secretary may withhold in whole or in part from the person participating in or employing such a scheme or device, or require such person to refund in whole or in part, the amount of any payment which has been or would otherwise be made to such person in connection with the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program.

D. Assignments.—Any person who may be entitled to any payment in connection with the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program may assign his interest in such payment as security for cash loaned or advances made for the purpose of financing the making of a crop in 1938. No such assignment will be recognized unless (1) the assignment is made in writing on Form ACP–69 in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and is filed in the office of the county agricultural conservation association; (2) the farmer files with the assignment a statement that the assignment is made to pay or secure an indebtedness incurred in connection with financing the making of a 1938 crop and not to pay or secure any pre-existing indebtedness; and (3) the person to whom such assignment is made certifies that the payment is being assigned without discount for such purpose.

Nothing in the provisions of this section shall be construed to give an assignee a right to any payment other than that to which the farmer is entitled nor shall the Secretary or any disbursing agent be subject to any suit or liability if payment is made to the farmer without regard to the existence of any such assignment.

E. Excess cotton acreage.—Any person who knowingly plants cotton on his farm in 1938 on acreage in excess of the cotton acreage allotment established for the farm for 1938 shall not be eligible for any payment under the provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program. Any person having an interest in the cotton crop on a farm on which cotton is planted in 1938 on acreage in excess of the cotton acreage allotment for the farm for 1938 shall be presumed to have knowingly planted cotton on his farm on acreage in excess of such farm cotton acreage allotment if notice of the farm allotment is mailed to him prior to the completion of the seeding of cotton on the farm, unless the farmer establishes the fact that the excess acreage planted to cotton was due to his lack of knowledge of the number of acres in the tract(s) planted to cotton. Such notice, if mailed to the operator of the farm, shall be deemed to be notice to all persons sharing in the production of cotton on the farm in 1938.

F. Use of soil-conserving crops for market.—No payment will be made with respect to any farm unless on such farm in 1938 an acreage, not devoted to soil-depleting crops, is withheld from the production of soil-conserving crops for market, equal to the acreage by which the normal acreage of soil-depleting crops on such farm exceeds the larger of (1) the total soil-depleting acreage allotment for the farm or (2) the acreage devoted to soil-depleting crops on the farm in 1938; Provided, That payment shall not be denied any farmer for using such soil-conserving crops for market (1) if in the county in which the farm is located the number of cows kept for the production of milk or products thereof for market does not exceed the normal number of such cows; (2) if on such farm the number of cows kept for the production of milk or the products thereof for market does not exceed the normal number of such cows; or (3) if the Agricultural Adjustment Administration determines either (a) that the farmer has substantially complied with the provisions of this paragraph, or (b) that the county, as a whole, is in substantial compliance with such provisions.

Any farmer shall be deemed to have substantially complied with the provisions of the foregoing paragraph either (1) if the increase above normal in the number of dairy cows on his farm does not exceed two cows; or (2) if none of the soil-conserving crops to which such provisions are applicable is used for market other than through the disposition of dairy livestock for slaughter or through the disposition of less than ten percent of the milk, or products thereof, produced on the farm. A county, as a whole, shall be deemed to be in substantial compliance with such provisions if the increase above normal in the number of dairy cows in the county does not exceed ten percent.

The normal acreage of soil-depleting crops and the normal number of cows kept for the production of milk, or the products thereof, for market shall be determined for any farm in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall determine from the latest available statistics of the Department and shall announce the counties in which the number of cows kept for the production of milk, or the products thereof, for market exceeds by more than ten percent the normal number of such cows.

As used in this subsection F, the term "for market" means for disposition by sale, barter, or exchange, or by feeding (in any form) to dairy livestock which, or the products of which, are to be sold, bartered, or exchanged, and such term shall not include consumption on the farm. An agricultural commodity shall be deemed to be consumed on the farm if consumed by the farmer's family, employees, or household, or if fed to poultry or livestock other than dairy livestock on his farm, or if fed to dairy livestock on his farm and such dairy livestock, or the products thereof, are to be consumed by his family, employees, or household. As used in this subsection F, the term "soil-conserving crops" means grasses and legumes grown on cropland except those classified as soil-depleting under Section XI hereof.

SEC. X. Application for payment.—A. Persons eligible to file applications.—An application for payment with respect to a farm may be made by any person for whom, under the provisions of Section V a share in the payment with respect to the farm may be computed and (1) who at the time of harvest is entitled to share in the crops grown on the farm under a lease or operating agreement, or (2) who is owner of such farm and participates thereon in 1938 in carrying out approved soil-building and wind erosion control practices.

B. Time and manner of filing application and information required.—Payment will be made only upon application submitted through the county office. The Secretary reserves the right (1) to withhold payment from any person who fails to file any form or furnish any information required with respect to any farm which such person is operating or renting to another person for a share of the crops grown thereon, and (2) to refuse to accept any application for payment if such application or any other form or information required is not submitted to the county office within the time fixed by the Regional Director. At least two weeks' notice to the public shall be given of the expiration of a time limit for filing prescribed forms. Such notice shall be given by mailing the same to the office of each county committee and making copies of the same available to the press.

C. Applications for other farms.—If a person has the right to receive all or a portion of the crops or proceeds therefrom, produced on more than one farm in a county and makes application for payment with respect to one of such farms, such person must make application for payment with respect to all such farms. Upon request by the State committee such person shall also file with the committee such information as it may request regarding any other farm in the State with respect to which he has the right to receive all or a portion of the crops or proceeds thereof.

SEC. XI. Soil-depleting crops.—Land devoted in 1938 to any of the following crops or uses or such other similar crops and uses as are designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall be classified as soil-depleting.

A. Land planted to the following crops for harvest in 1938:

1. Corn (including field corn, sweet corn, and popcorn).
2. Oats.
3. Cowpeas.
4. Flax.
5. Speltz.
6. Potatoes.
7. Field beans.
8. Sweet potatoes.

B. Land planted to wheat harvested for grain or hay in 1938 or any other land planted to wheat between August 1, 1937 and July 31, 1938, except

1. When used as temporary pasture under practice A–2.

2. When the acreage of such crop seeded in the fall of 1937 is tilled, before May 1, 1938, in preparation for another crop or in connection with an approved conservation measure, provided, that the conservation measure to be instituted before such date shall be approved by the county committee and the land to be so handled shall be designated in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

C. Land devoted in 1938 to buckwheat, Broomcorn, grain sorghums, sweet sorghums, Sudan grass, millet, when harvested for grain or seed, (except when used under practice F–1 or A–4 in which case these crops are not soil-depleting) sirup, or silage.

D. Land planted in 1938 to field peas harvested for peas or soybeans harvested for seed for crushing. Field peas or soybeans hogged off shall be deemed to be harvested.

E. Land devoted to Barley and rye except when used as nurse crops and not harvested for grain or hay or except when used as temporary pasture under practice A–2.

The acreage of land which is devoted consecutively to two or more of the above soil-depleting crops in 1938 shall be counted as follows: If only one of such crops reaches maturity such land shall be regarded as devoted to the crop reaching maturity. If none of such crops reaches maturity or if more than one of such crops reaches maturity and an individual crop acreage allotment is established for one of such crops, such land shall be regarded as devoted to the crop for which an individual crop acreage allotment is established. If one or more of such crops reach maturity or if none of such crops reaches maturity and individual crop acreage allotments are not established for any of such crops the land shall be regarded as devoted to the last planted of such crops.

The acreage of land which is devoted simultaneously to two or more of the above soil-depleting crops shall be divided among such crops on the basis of the land determined in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to be devoted to each.

In connection with determinations regarding the maturity of crops, field corn, sweet corn, and popcorn hogged off or cut for silage, fodder or other similar uses, will be deemed to have reached maturity.

Land devoted to volunteer crops harvested shall be classified as if such crops were planted.

SECTION XII. Soil-building and wind-erosion control practices.—The soil-building practices listed in the following schedule shall count toward the achievement of the soil-building goal and the wind erosion control practices shall count toward the achievement of the wind erosion control goal to the extent indicated therein, when such practices are carried out in 1938 in the county and in accordance with the following specifications and such modifications thereof or additions thereto as may be issued by the Regional Director or by the State committee with the approval of the Regional Director. Each practice must be carried out in accordance with the individual specifications applicable thereto and such of the general specifications as apply.

Practices carried out with labor, seed, trees, and materials furnished entirely by any Federal or State agency other than the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall not be counted toward the achievement of the soil-building goal. If a portion of the labor, seed, trees, or other materials used in carrying out any practice is furnished by a State or Federal agency other than the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and such portion represents one-half or more of the total cost of carrying out such practice, such practice shall not be counted toward the achievement of the soil-building goal; if such portion represents less than half of the total cost of carrying out such practice, one-half of such practice shall be counted toward the achievement of the soil-building goal.

If trees are purchased from a Clark-McNary Cooperative State Nursery, such purchases shall not be deemed to be paid for in whole or in part by a State or Federal agency.

General Specifications

(1) Seed used for or in connection with any seeding practice must be good clean seed free of noxious weeds and of good quality.

(2) All soil-building practices, including minimum seeding rates and methods of seeding, unless otherwise specified under the individual practice, shall be such as are determined by the county committee to be in accordance with the generally accepted good farming practice in the county.

(3) Approval of a soil-building practice carried out on the same land as other soil-building practices shall not be approved for payment, by the county committee, if the carrying out of the two or more practices on the same land results in one practice interfering with the effects of other practices. Practice specifications under certain practices prohibit such practices from being carried out for credit on the same acreage as other specified practices.

(4) The term "good stand" when used in connection with seeding practices shall mean a stand which would produce a normal crop without any reseeding.

(5) The soil-building practices listed below may be carried out on cropland and noncrop land unless otherwise provided in the specifications applicable to individual practices.

Schedule of Soil-Building Practices

A–1. Protecting summer fallow.—Rate of credit—1⅓ acres equal 1 unit.

Specifications. — Protecting summer fallow by using tillage implements that will leave a rough, cloddy surface with small grain stubble and straw incorporated into the surface soil.

This practice is applicable on cropland only.

First tillage operation shall be completed before May 15.

The surface must be reasonably free from weeds and volunteer growth at all times.

A–2. Seeding wheat, rye and/or barley for temporary pasture.—Rate of credit—1 acre equals 1 unit.

Specifications.—For each four acres of non-crop pasture land on which practice L–3 is adopted there may be planted on cropland, before August 1, 1938, one acre of wheat, rye, and/or barley for temporary pasture. Such acreage planted for temporary pasture under this practice will not be classed as soil-depleting; Provided, That (1) a soil-depleting crop has not been harvested on such land in 1938; (2) no other practice except L–1 may be performed for credit on the same acreage.

A–3. Seeding Sudan grass for temporary pasture.—Rate of credit—1 acre equals 1 unit.

Specifications.—For each four acres of non-crop pasture land on which practice L–3 is adopted there may be planted on cropland one acre of Sudan grass for temporary pasture. No other practice except practice L–1 may be performed for credit on the same acreage as A–3.

A–4. Planting cover crops on contour.—Rate of credit—1 acre equals 1 unit.

A–5. Protecting summer fallow by stripcropping.—Rate of credit—1 acre equals 1 unit.

Specifications.—The fallow strips (two or more strips of fallow) to be not less than five rods nor more than twenty rods in width with intervening strips of equal or twice the width of the fallow strips. Cover on the protective strips shall consist of small grain crops, sorghums, and/or Sudan grass, or small grain stubble. Only the heads of the crop may be harvested or removed.

This practice is applicable on cropland only.

A–6. Protecting summer fallow by contour cultivation.—Rate of credit—1 acre equals 1 unit.

Specifications.—Protecting summer fallow from erosion by cultivating on the contour with implements which will create and maintain a rough and cloddy surface with sufficient small grain straw and stubble in the surface soil to protect the summer fallow from erosion. The line of operation shall not deviate from a true contour line by more than one percent. Contour guide lines shall be marked with a ridge. An acceptable ridge is one back furrow with at least two rounds of a single bottom plow or any equal sized ridge.

When the lister is used as the implement of tillage the practice may be approved without straw and stubble in the surface soil.

This practice is applicable on cropland only.

A–7. Restoration of farm land to natural vegetative cover.—Rate of credit—⅔ acre equals 1 unit.

Specifications.—Restoring farm land (cropped once since 1930) to natural vegetative cover. No soil-depleting crop shall be harvested in 1938. The land must be so handled as to prevent erosion. Practices A–2 and A–3, seeding temporary pasture, shall not be given credit on the same acreage as A–7.

In future programs, the acreage approved under this practice may be considered as non-crop land.

Land used for credit under this practice shall not be designated as special wind erosion control acreage.

B–1 Seeding perennial legumes, biennial legumes, and perennial grasses.—Rate of credit.—1 acre equals 2 units.

Specifications.—Approved varieties of alfalfa for Thomas County include Kansas common, other northern strains of common, Grimm and Ladak. Varieties which are not approved include southern common, peruvian, hairy peruvian, Utah common and all foreign seeds except Canadian grown.

Approved varieties of perennial grasses include western and slender wheat grass, perennial rye grass, Italian rye grass, crested wheat grass, blue hairy and side oats grama, and harvested native perennial grasses.

Sweet clover is the only approved biennial legume.

Fall seedings prior to September 20 will be approved if seedbed is fine and firm and there is a good supply of moisture in the soil.

B–2. Cultivating, protecting, maintaining, and replacing one acre of forest trees.—Rate of credit—1 acre equals 2 units.

Specifications. — Cultivating, protecting, maintaining, and replacing one acre of forest trees which were planted between January 1, 1934, and January 1, 1938. One hundred living trees per acre at compliance time shall be considered a good stand.

Cultivation shall consist of at least four cultivations for the period April 1 to August 31.

Trees must be protected from livestock damage.

C–1. Seeding and establishment of a good stand of biennial legumes, perennial legumes and perennial grasses.—Rate of credit—1 acre equals 3 units.

Seeding and establishing a good stand of the crops applicable under practice B–1.

C–2. Control of seriously infested plots of bindweed the second year.—Rate of credit—1 acre equals 3 units.

Specifications.—Second year means an attempt was made to control the bindweed in 1937.

(a) Control by chemicals.—If only a partial kill of bindweed was obtained from the first season's work and a considerable number of old plants remained alive after May 1, the area shall be sprayed again by May 15 with chemicals as recommended in Bulletin 269, "Field Bindweed and Methods of Control," issued July, 1934, by the Agricultural Experiment Station at Manhattan, Kansas.

(b) Control by cultivation.—Intensive cultivation shall start as soon as growth has started but not later than May 15, 1938. The soil shall be cultivated every two weeks thereafter during the balance of the season, except when there is no growth due to dry weather in which case the cultivation should be performed as soon as growth begins. Cultivation shall be to a depth of not less than 4 inches.

C–3. Planting sod pieces of perennial grasses.—Rate of credit—1 acre equals 3 units.

L–1. Construction of 130 feet linear of standard terrace.—Rate of credit—130 ft. of terrace equals 1 unit.

Specifications.—A terrace is a broad ridge of earth constructed immediately below and adjacent to a broad shallow water channel, running across the slope in such a manner that it will intercept the runoff water from above the terrace and either absorb and hold this water without overtopping the ridge, or carry it off the field at velocities that will not cause channel erosion. Terraces shall be built to the following minimum dimensions.

Land slope	Total width in feet from upper edge of channel to lower edge of ridge	Distance in feet center of channel to upper edge of channel	Distance in feet center of channel to center of ridge	Distance in feet center of ridge to lower edge of ridge	Vertical height in inches top of ridge above bottom of channel		Width in feet bottom of channel and width for top of terrace ridge
					Immediately after constructing	After settling
0 to 2½	44	14	16	14	18	12	4
2½ to 5	32	10	12	10	18	12	4
5 to 7½	26	8	10	8	18	12	4
7½ to 10	24	7½	9	7½	18	12	3

A maximum variation of 10 percent from the above dimensions will be allowed.

In general, a variable grade from 0 to 4 inches of fall per 100 feet towards the outlet shall be used. Grades may vary with length of terrace, local rainfall conditions, and soil type. Terraces may be built on the contour in highly pervious soils and in clay pan soils the terrace grade may be as much as 5 inches per 100 feet. Terrace spacing shall average not more than 5 feet vertically nor more than 200 feet horizontally from center to center of adjacent terrace channels. The first terrace shall not intercept water from more than 4 acres of drainage area.

When more than 4 acres of drainage is intercepted and diverted, the water carrying capacity of the channel shall be increased as found necessary and the resulting ditch and ridge shall be known as an interception ditch. When interception ditches are constructed to terrace dimensions or larger they may be approved under this section.

Adequate provisions shall be made to handle runoff water from terraces in such a manner that no serious erosion will occur in the vicinity of the outlet. The following methods will be approved:

(a) Outlets on permanent pasture sod, meadow sod, or woodland cover, when the water will spread widely over the ground and will not concentrate on definite channels or flow back into the field.

(b) Outlets on well sodded meadow strips 6 rods, or wider, if necessary to prevent concentration of water at ends of fields or adjacent to draws or gullies in the interior of fields when the flow of water from each terrace will spread over the sod and will not concentrate in definite channels or flow back into the field.

(c) Outlets without definite overfall into ditches when ditches are of sufficient capacity to handle the runoff water and when such ditches are adequately protected from erosion by paving, sod cover, or structures built with concrete, masonry, or other durable materials. (See table, page 39 Kansas Extension Bulletin 70 Revised.)

(d) Outlets that are more than one foot below the channel elevation at the end of a terrace shall have some type of structure made of durable material to drop the runoff water to the lower elevation without danger of erosion.

(e) Outlets other than the above shall be approved only after recommendations are secured from the State Committee.

This practice is applicable on cropland only.

L–2. Reseeding depleted pastures.—Rate of credit—5 pounds of seed equal one unit.

Specifications.—Approved varieties of grasses include western and slender wheat grass; perennial rye grass; Italian rye grass; crested wheat grass; blue hairy and side oats grama; and native harvested perennial grasses. Maximum credit per acre shall not exceed two units.

Specifications.—Restoration of twenty acres of non-crop open pasture by non-grazing for one month during the period April 1, 1938, to October 1, 1938, providing (1) non-grazing is adopted for three consecutive months, (2) period of non-grazing is continuous, (3) any other non-crop pasture which is being grazed in the farming unit is not grazed in such a manner as to injure the forage or watershed in such non-crop pasture.

L–4. Removing cactus plants from non crop pasture land.—Rate of credit—One cubic yard equals one unit.

Specifications.—Cactus plants shall be cut below the crown of the plant, removed from the pasture, and put into ricks for the purpose of burning.

L–5. Construction of reservoirs and dams.—Rate of credit—Seven cubic yards of material moved equals 1 unit.

Specifications.—A dam is an embankment of earth placed across the course of a drainage way in such a manner that the resulting reservoir will hold water and form a pond. The constructions shall conform to the following: For dams which are less than 10 feet high, the top width shall be at least 6 feet. The downstream slope of the embankment shall be not steeper than 2 feet horizontally to one foot vertically, and the upstream slope shall be not steeper than 3 feet horizontally to one vertically. All reservoirs shall be at least 5 feet deep in the deepest portion when measured from the elevation of the spillway floor. The lowest point on the top of the dam shall be at least 3 feet higher than the floor of the spillway section used to secure the area required in the following table: Spillways for small drainage areas shall be at least 6 feet wide at the bottom of the channel. Minimum widths required for various drainage basins up to one-half square mile are shown in the following table:

Drainage area—Acres	1	5	10	20	30	40	50	60	70	80	90	100	125	150	175	200	250	300	320
Minimum width of spillway—Feet	6	6	6	6	6	8	11	13	16	18	20	23	26	28	31	34	39	45	47

Dams which are more than 10 feet high when measured from the bed of the stream to the top of the dam or those which impound more than 15 acre feet of water or receive water from a drainage area of more than 320 acres shall not be approved unless prior approval is secured from the State Division of Water Resources, Topeka, Kansas. In cases of this kind, dams must be built strictly in accordance with specifications contained in the State Board of Agriculture Bulletin #213–B and Supplements, entitled, Dams of Dry Water Courses.

The dam shall be placed on compact, solid earth, Muck, stones, roots, sod, and other vegetative materials shall be removed from the base to be occupied by the dam before the embankment is started. This base shall be plowed or otherwise furrowed to provide bond before the first layer of the dam is placed. When the soil below the base of the dam is of porous material, a core-wall of puddled clay at least 3 feet wide shall be built along the center line of the dam or another type of impervious wall may be used. This core-wall shall extend through the porous material into the firm soil below at least 2 feet and up into the dam at least 3 feet. The material for the dam shall be clean and free from stones or vegetative materials. It is desirable that the embankments be placed in successive horizontal layers not over 6 inches thick for the full width and this thickness be more than 1 foot. The inner slope of the dam on ponds having a surface area of over 1 acre shall be protected from wave action by rock rip-rap, board or pole fencing, brush or timber securely staked in place, or by other applicable methods. A fence, capable of turning all livestock, shall enclose the dam and the spillway. Pipes through a dam, if used, shall be laid in a trench excavated below the natural ground level or below the surface of the embankment at any level during construction. At least two concrete collars 2 feet square shall be placed around the pipe approximately at the third points across the dam. The backfill into the trench shall be carefully tamped to prevent seepage along the pipe. (Recommended but not required.) The State Technical Committee strongly recommends fencing the entire pond and urges that cooperators adopt this practice even though it is not required for payment.

SEC. XIII. Normal yields and productivity indexes.—A. Normal yields of special soil-depleting crops.—The county committee with the assistance of other local committees in the county shall determine for each farm for which a wheat acreage allotment is to be established a normal yield for wheat in accordance with the provisions of this section and instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

1. Wheat.—(a) Where reliable records of the actual average yield per acre of wheat for the years 1928 to 1937, inclusive, are presented by the farmer or are available to the committee, the normal yield for the farm shall be the average of such yields adjusted for trends and abnormal weather conditions in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

(b) If, for any year of such ten-year period reliable records of the actual average yield are not available or there was no actual yield because the commodity was not planted on the farm in such year, the normal yield for the farm shall be the yield which, on the basis of all the available facts, including the yield customarily secured on the farm, weather conditions, type of soil, drainage, production practices and general fertility of the land, the county committee determines to be the yield which was or could reasonably have been expected on the farm for such ten-year period. Where the productivity index most recently established for the farm in connection with the agricultural conservation programs is determined by the county committee to be an accurate reflection of the foregoing factors, the yield obtained by multiplying such index by the county average yield established by the Secretary shall be used as the normal yield for the farm.

(c) The yields determined under paragraph (b) of this subdivision 1 shall be adjusted so that the average of the normal yields for all farms in the county (weighted by the wheat acreage allotments established for such farms) shall conform to the county average yield established by the Secretary.

B. Productivity indexes.—The Secretary shall establish a county productivity index or per-acre rate on the basis of the productivity of the cropland in the county devoted to the production of general soil-depleting crops as compared with the productivity of cropland in the United States devoted to the production of such crops

A productivity index or rate per acre shall be established in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration for each farm by the county committee, subject to the approval of the State committee. Such productivity index or rate per acre shall be based upon the normal yield per acre for the farm of the major soil-depleting crop in the county as compared with the normal yield per acre for such crop in the county. Where the yield of the major soil-depleting crop in the county does not accurately reflect the productivity of a farm, the yield of a crop that reflects the productivity of the farm may be used provided that the productivity index or rate per acre for such farm shall be adjusted, if necessary, so as to be fair and equitable as compared with the productivity indexes or rates per acre for other farms in the county having similar soils or productive capacity, and as contrasted with other farms in the county having different soils or productive capacity.

The average productivity index or per-acre rate for all farms in the county shall not exceed 100 or the county per-acre rate, respectively, unless it is determined that farms for which such indexes or rates per acre are established are not representative of all farms in the county and a variation from 100 or the county per-acre rate is approved by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

SEC. XIV. Appeals.—Any person who considers himself aggrieved by any recommendation or determination of the county committee with respect to any farm in which he has an interest may, within 15 days after notice thereof is forwarded to or available to him request the county committee in writing to reconsider its recommendation or determination with respect to any of the following matters: (a) eligibility to file an application for payment; (b) any soil-depleting acreage allotment or soil-building goal; (c) the division of payment; or (d) any other matter affecting the right to or the amount of his payment with respect to the farm. The county committee shall notify such person of its decision in writing within 15 days after receipt of such written request for reconsideration. If such person is dissatisfied with the decision of the county committee he may, within 15 days after such decision is forwarded to or made available to him, appeal in writing to the State committee. The State committee shall notify such person of its decision in writing within 30 days after the receipt of the appeal. If such person is dissatisfied with the decision of the State committee, he may, within 15 days after such decision is forwarded to or made available to him, request the Regional Director to review the decision of the State committee.

SEC. XV. Bulletins, instructions, and forms.—The Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall prepare and issue such bulletins, instructions, and forms as may be required in administering the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program in Thomas County, Kansas.

INTRODUCTION

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under Sections 7 to 17, inclusive, of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, and in connection with the effectuation of the purposes of Section 7 (a) of the said Act in 1938, payments and grants of aid will be made in Weber and Davis Counties, Utah, for participation in the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program in accordance with the provisions of this bulletin and such modifications thereof or other provisions as may hereafter be made.

The provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program are necessarily subject to such legislation affecting said program as the Congress of the United States may hereafter enact. The making of the payments and grants of aid herein provided are contingent upon such appropriation as the Congress may hereafter provide for such purpose; and the amount of such payments and grants of aid will necessarily be within the limits finally determined by such appropriation. The rates of payment and deductions specified herein which may be made in Weber or Davis County are subject to an increase or decrease of not more than 10 percent depending upon the extent of participation in Weber County or Davis County, as the case may be, under this program and the final estimate of payments which would be made in Weber County or Davis County, whichever is applicable, under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program.

The provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program as contained in this bulletin are applicable only in Weber and Davis Counties, Utah.

PART I.—1938 AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM

SECTION I. County acreage allotments and goals.—A. County acreage allotments of soil-depleting crops.—The Agricultural Adjustment Administration with the assistance of the State committee shall establish for Weber County and for Davis County, county acreage allotments for total soil-depleting crops, and for wheat and potatoes, as hereinafter set forth. The soil-depleting acreage allotments for Weber and Davis Counties shall not exceed their prorata share of the applicable acreage allotments established for the State by the Secretary except as otherwise provided in this bulletin.

1. Total soil-depleting acreage allotments.—County acreage allotments of total soil-depleting crops shall be established for Weber County and for Davis County by distributing their proportionate part of the State acreage allotment of total soil-depleting crops between such counties on the basis of the average acreage of soil-depleting crops grown in whichever of the periods of five or more consecutive years since 1927 the Agricultural Adjustment Administration finds is most representative of normal conditions and the base acreages of total soil-depleting crops established in connection with the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program, adjusted where necessary for farms for which provision was not made in 1937, with due allowance for trends in acreage of soil-depleting crops, farms for which the general crop acreage allotment will be as large as the usual acreage of general soil-depleting crops, and the relationship of the usual acreage of individual soil-depleting crops to the 1938 acreage allotments for individual soil-depleting crops.

2. Wheat acreage allotments.—County acreage allotments of wheat for Weber and Davis Counties shall be established by distributing their proportionate part of the State acreage allotment of wheat pro rata between such counties on the basis of the acreage of wheat seeded for the production of wheat during the ten years, 1928 to 1937, inclusive, plus in applicable years the acreage diverted under agricultural adjustment and conservation programs. If, on account of abnormal weather conditions, the acreage seeded for the production of wheat in either such county in any year of such ten-year period was less than 50 percent or more than 150 percent of the average computed for the other nine years, such year shall be eliminated in calculating the average acreage seeded for the production of wheat in such county. The average acreage seeded in either such county for the production of wheat so determined shall be adjusted for trends in acreage by giving equal weight to the acreages seeded for the production of wheat and the acreages diverted from the production of wheat during the years 1935, 1936, and 1937, and to the acreages so seeded and diverted during the ten-year period 1928 to 1937, inclusive, as adjusted for abnormal weather conditions.

3. Potato acreage allotments.—County acreage allotments of potatoes for Weber and Davis Counties, designated as commercial potato-producing counties, shall be established by distributing their proportionate part of the State acreage allotment of potatoes between such counties pro rata on the basis of the average acreage devoted to potatoes in such counties during the years 1933 to 1937, inclusive, taking into consideration trends in acreage on commercial potato-producing farms as reflected by the acreage planted to potatoes in 1937, as compared with the average acreage planted during such five-year period and also taking into consideration the acreage of potatoes on non-commercial potato-producing farms in such counties.

B. County soil-building goals.—Insofar as practicable, county goals for Weber and Davis Counties shall be established for particular soil-building practices which are not routine farming practices and which are most needed in the county in order to preserve and improve soil fertility and to prevent wind and water erosion.

SEC. II. Farm acreage allotments and goals.—The county committee for Weber County, and the county committee for Davis County, with the assistance of local committees in each such county, shall determine acreage allotments and soil-building practice goals for Weber and Davis Counties, respectively, in accordance with provisions contained herein and instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. The sum of the soil-depleting acreage allotments determined for all of the farms in each such county shall not exceed the applicable county acreage allotment established by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration for each such county, and the sum of the acreage allotments for farms furnishing required forms and information in each such county shall not exceed its proportionate share of the county acreage allotment.

A. Soil-depleting acreage allotments.—1. Total soil-depleting acreage allotment.—The total soil-depleting acreage allotment for any farm shall be established on the basis of good soil management, tillable acreage on the farm, type of soil, topography, degree of erosion and the acreage of all soil-depleting crops customarily grown on the farm, taking into consideration allotments established for individual soil-depleting crops. The total soil-depleting acreage allotment for any farm shall be comparable with the allotments determined for other farms in the same community which are similar with respect to such factors.

2. Wheat allotment.—Acreage allotments of wheat shall be determined for farms on which wheat has been seeded for harvest in one or more of the years 1935, 1936, and 1937, on the basis of tillable acreage, crop rotation practices, type of soil and topography. Not more than 3 percent of the county wheat acreage allotment for any county shall be apportioned to farms in such county on which wheat was not seeded for harvest in any one of the three years 1935, 1936, and 1937, on the basis of tillable acreage, crop rotation practices, type of soil and topography. The wheat acreage allotment for any farm shall be comparable with the allotment determined for other farms in the same community which are similar with respect to such factors. No allotment shall be established for any farm for which the normal production of wheat for market is less than 100 bushels.

3. Potato allotment.—In Weber and Davis Counties, designated as commercial potato-producing counties, allotments shall be determined for each farm normally producing potatoes excluding farms on which the acreage normally planted to potatoes for market is determined to be less than three acres. No potato acreage allotment shall be less than three acres. Potato acreage allotments shall be established on the basis of good soil management, tillable acreage on the farm, type of soil, topography, degree of erosion, production facilities, and the acreage of potatoes customarily grown on the farm. The potato acreage allotment for any farm shall be comparable with the allotments for other farms in the same community which are similar with respect to such factors.

B. Soil-building goal.—The soil-building goal for any farm shall be the number of units of soil-building practices equal to two-thirds of the number of dollars computed for the farm under Section III, Subsection B, with respect to the acreage of cropland for which a payment of 70 cents per acre is computed and the commercial vegetable acreage, commercial orchards, and non-crop pasture land. The goal so established shall represent the number of units of applicable practices to be carried out on the farm. Insofar as practicable, the county committee shall determine for individual farms practices to be followed in meeting the goal which are not routine farming practices on the farm but which are needed on the farm in order to preserve and improve soil fertility and prevent wind and water erosion, and which will tend to accomplish the goals, if any, established for the county with respect to particular soil-building practices.

C. Posting of acreage allotments.—All acreage allotments established for farms in a county shall be posted or kept freely available for public inspection in the office of the county committee or county agricultural extension agent.

SEC. III. Payment for full performance.—Payment will be made with respect to any farm for not exceeding soil-depleting acreage allotments, and for achieving soil-building goals in an amount which shall be the sum of the following:

A. Soil-depleting acreage allotments.—1. Wheat.—12 cents per bushel of the normal yield per acre of wheat for the farm for each acre in the wheat acreage allotment; or, if the acreage planted to wheat is less than 80 percent of the wheat acreage allotment and the county committee finds that the failure to plant 80 percent of such wheat acreage allotment was not due to flood or drought, for 125 percent of the acreage planted to wheat. The acreage planted to wheat shall be deemed to be that acreage which is seeded to wheat classified as soil-depleting under Subsection B of Section XI.

2. Potatoes.—3.6 cents per bushel of the normal yield of potatoes for the farm for each acre of potatoes planted on the farm in 1938 not in excess of the potato acreage allotment. The acreage planted to potatoes shall be deemed to be that acreage which is seeded to potatoes.

B. Payments in connection with soil-building practices.—1. 70 cents per acre of cropland on the farm in excess of the sum of (1) the acreages used in computing payments with respect to the wheat and potato acreage allotments established for the farm; (2) the acreage of sugar beets planted on the farm in 1938; and (3) the normal acreage of summer fallow for the farm, not in excess of the wheat acreage allotment established for the farm.

2. $1.50 per acre of the average acreage of land on which commercial vegetables were grown on the farm in 1936 and 1937.

3. $2.00 per acre of commercial orchards on the farm January 1, 1938.

4. (a) 3 cents per acre of noncrop open pasture land plus 75 cents for each animal unit of grazing capacity (on a 12-month basis) of such pasture.

SEC. IV. Payments for partial performance.—Payments computed for any farm under the provisions of Section III shall be subject to all the following deductions which are applicable to the farm.

A. Deductions for excess acreages of soil-depleting crops.—1. Potatoes.—(a) 10 times the payment rate specified in Section III for the normal yield for the farm on the acreage by which the acreage of potatoes exceeds the potato acreage allotments established for the farm, and on farms for which potato acreage allotments are not established on each acre by which the acreage of potatoes for market exceeds three acres.

2. Total soil-depleting acreage allotments.—The following applicable rate for each acre of land classified as soil-depleting in excess of the total soil-depleting acreage allotment, less the acreages for which deductions are made under item 1 of this subsection A:

(a) 5 times the rate of payment with respect to the wheat acreage allotment if a payment is computed for the farm under Section III with respect to a wheat acreage allotment.

(b) $4.00 per acre if a payment is computed for the farm under Section III with respect to a potato acreage allotment but no payment is computed for the farm under Section III with respect to a wheat acreage allotment.

B. Deductions for failure to carry out soil-building practices.—1. $1.50 for each unit by which the soil-building goal is not reached.

SEC. V. Division of Payments and Deductions.—A. Payments and deductions in connection with acreage allotments.—The net payment or net deduction computed for any farm with respect to the wheat or potato acreage allotment shall be divided among the landlords and tenants in the same proportion (as indicated by their acreage shares) that such persons are entitled, at the time the crop is harvested, to share in the proceeds (other than a fixed commodity payment) of the wheat or potatoes, respectively, grown on the farm in 1938.

The total amount of deductions computed under Section IV with respect to soil-depleting crops grown in excess of the total soil-depleting acreage allotment (item 2, subsection A); shall be regarded (a) as deductions with respect to the wheat acreage allotment on farms for which a payment is computed under Section III in connection with a wheat acreage allotment; (b) as prorata deductions with respect to the payments computed under Section III in connection with crop acreage allotments on farms for which no payment is computed in connection with a wheat acreage allotment; or (c) as deductions with respect to the soil-building goal on farms for which no payment is computed under Section III in connection with crop acreage allotments, provided, that any net amount of such deductions computed for such farms shall be divided equally among the landlords and tenants on the farm.

In the event that wheat or potatoes are not harvested in 1938 on the farm, or in the event the county committee, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, finds that due to crop failure the acreage of such crop(s) was reduced sufficiently to affect materially the division of payments or deductions, the net payment or net deduction, if any, with respect to the acreage allotment for such crop(s) shall be divided among the landlords and tenants in the same proportion that the county committee determines that such person would have shared in the proceeds of such crop(s) had such crop(s) been harvested on the farm in 1938 or the acreage of such crop(s) had not been reduced.

B. Payments with respect to soil-building practices.—The amount of payment earned in connection with the soil-building goal for the farm shall be paid to the landlord or tenant who carried out the soil-building practices. If the county committee determines that more than one such person contributed to the carrying-out of soil-building practices on the farm in 1938, such payment shall be divided in the proportion that the units contributed by each such person to such practices bear to the total units of such practices carried out on the farm in 1938. Each person contributing to the practice carried out on a particular acreage shall be deemed to have contributed equally to the units of such practice unless such persons establish to the satisfaction of the county committee that their respective contributions thereto were not in equal proportion, in which event such units shall be divided in the proportion which the county committee determines each such person contributed thereto.

C. Proration of net deductions.—If with respect to any farm the sum of the net payments computed for all persons on the farm exceeds the sum of the net deductions computed for all persons on the farm, the net deduction computed for any person on the farm shall be prorated among the other persons on the farm for whom a net payment is computed in the proportion in which the net payment computed for any person is of the sum of the net payments computed for all persons on the farm. If, with respect to any farm the sum of the net deductions computed for all persons on the farm equals or exceeds the sum of the net payments computed for all persons on the farm, no payment will be made with respect to such farm and the amount of such net deductions in excess of the net payments shall be prorated among the persons on the farm in the proportion which the net deduction computed for any person is of the sum of the net deductions computed for all persons on the farm.

SEC. VI. Increase in small payments.—The total payment computed under Sections III to V inclusive for any person with respect to any farm shall be increased as follows:

(1) Any payment amounting to 71 cents or less shall be increased to $1.00;

(2) Any payment amounting to more than 71 cents but less than $1.00 shall be increased by 40 percent;

(3) Any payment amounting to $1.00 or more shall be increased in accordance with the following schedule:

SEC. VII. Deductions incurred on other farms.—A. Other farms in the same county.—If the deductions computed under Section IV with respect to any farm in a county exceed the payment for full performance on such farm computed under Section III, a landlord's or tenant's share of the amount by which such deduction exceeds such payments shall be deducted from such landlord's or tenant's share of the payment which would otherwise be made to him with respect to any other farms in such county.

B. Other farms in the State.—If the deductions computed for a landlord or tenant with respect to one or more farms in a county exceeds the payments computed for such landlord or tenant on other farms in such county, the amount of such excess deductions shall be deducted from the payments computed for such landlord or tenant with respect to any other farms in the State if the State committee finds that the crops grown and practices adopted on the farm with respect to which such deductions are computed substantially offset the contribution to the program made on such other farms.

SEC. VIII. Deduction for association expenses.—There shall be deducted pro rata from the payments with respect to any farm all or such part as the Secretary may prescribe of the estimated administrative expenses incurred or to be incurred by the county agricultural conservation association in the county in which the farm is located.

SEC. IX. General provisions relating to payments.—A. Payment restricted to effectuation of purposes of the program.—All or any part of any payment which otherwise would be made to any person under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program may be withheld (1) if he has adopted any practice which the Secretary determines tends to defeat any of the purposes of the 1938 or previous agricultural conservation programs; (2) if, by means of any corporation, partnership, estate, trust, or any other device, or in any manner whatsoever, he has offset, or has participated in offsetting, in whole or in part, the performance for which such payment is otherwise authorized, or (3) if, with respect to forest land or woodland owned or controlled by him, he adopts any practice which the regional director finds is contrary to sound conservation practices. If on any farm for which no wheat or potato acreage allotment is established, the acreage of soil-depleting crops in 1938 is in excess of 50 acres and in excess of the total soil-depleting acreage allotment, the deduction provided in paragraph 2 (b) of subsection A of Section IV shall be applicable to such farm if the county committee determines that the increase in soil-depleting crops was not due to the rotation of crops normally followed on the farm. No payment shall be computed with respect to any farm which is idle in 1938.

B. Payment computed and made without regard to claims.—Any payment or share of payment shall be computed and made without regard to questions of title under State law, without deduction of claims for advances (except as provided in subsection D of this Section IX) and without regard to any claim or lien against any crop, or proceeds thereof, in favor of the owner or any other creditor.

C. Changes in leasing and cropping agreements, reduction in number of tenants, and other devices.—If on any farm in 1938 any change of the arrangements which existed on the farm in 1937 is made between the landlord and the tenants and such change would cause a greater proportion of the payments to be made to the landlord under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program than would have been made to the landlord for performance on the farm under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program, payments to the landlord under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program with respect to the farm shall not be greater than the amount that would have been paid to the landlord if the arrangements which existed on the farm in 1937 had been continued in 1938, if the county committee certifies that the change is not justified and disapproves such change.

If on any farm the number of share tenants in 1938 is less than the average number of the farm during the years 1935 to 1937, inclusive, and such reduction would increase the payments that would otherwise be made to the landlord, such payments to the landlord shall not be greater than the amount that would otherwise be made if the county committee certifies that the reduction is not justified and disapproves such reduction.

If the State committee finds that any person who files an application for payment pursuant to the provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program has employed any other scheme or device, the effect of which would be or has been to deprive any other person of any payment under any Agricultural Conservation Program to which such other person would normally be entitled, the Secretary may withhold in whole or in part from the person participating in or employing such a scheme or device, or require such person to refund in whole or in part, the amount of any payment which has been or would otherwise be made to such person in connection with the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program.

D. Assignments.—Any person who may be entitled to any payment in connection with the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program may assign his interest in such payment as security for cash loaned or advances made for the purpose of financing the making of a crop in 1938. No such assignment will be recognized unless (1) the assignment is made in writing on Form ACP-69 in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and is filed in the office of the county agricultural conservation association; (2) the farmer files with the assignment a statement that the assignment is made to pay or secure an indebtedness incurred in connection with financing the making of a crop in 1938 and not to pay or secure any pre-existing indebtedness; and (3) the person to whom such assignment is made certifies that the payment is being assigned without discount for such purpose.

Nothing contained in this Section IX shall be construed to give an assignee a right to any payment other than that to which the farmer is entitled nor shall the Secretary or any disbursing agent be subject to any suit or liability if payment is made to the farmer without regard to the existence of any such assignment.

E. Excess cotton acreage.—Any person who knowingly plants cotton on his farm in 1938 on acreage in excess of the cotton acreage allotment established for the farm for 1938 shall not be eligible for any payment under the provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program. Any person having an interest in the cotton crop on a farm on which cotton is planted in 1938 on acreage in excess of the cotton acreage allotment for the farm for 1938 shall be presumed to have knowingly planted cotton on his farm on acreage in excess of such farm cotton acreage allotment if notice of the farm allotment is mailed to him prior to the completion of the seeding of cotton on the farm, unless the farmer establishes the fact that the excess acreage planted to cotton was due to his lack of knowledge of the number of acres in the tract(s) planted to cotton. Such notice, if mailed to the operator of the farm, shall be deemed to be notice to all persons sharing in the production of cotton on the farm in 1938.

F. Use of soil-conserving crops for market.—No payment will be made with respect to any farm unless on such farm in 1938 an acreage, not devoted to soil-depleting crops, is withheld from the production of soil-conserving crops for market, equal to the acreage by which the normal acreage of soil-depleting crops on such farm exceeds the larger of (1) the total soil-depleting acreage allotment for the farm or (2) the acreage devoted to soil-depleting crops on the farm in 1938; Provided, That payment shall not be denied any farmer for using such soil-conserving crops for market (1) if in the county in which the farm is located the number of cows kept for the production of milk or products thereof for market does not exceed the normal number of such cows; (2) if on such farm the number of cows kept for the production of milk or the products thereof for market does not exceed the normal number of such cows; or (3) if the Agricultural Adjustment Administration determines either (a) that the farmer has substantially complied with the provisions of this paragraph, or (b) that the county, as a whole, is in substantial compliance with such provisions.

Any farmer shall be deemed to have substantially complied with the provisions of the foregoing paragraph either (1) if the increase above normal in the number of dairy cows on his farm does not exceed two cows; or (2) if none of the soil-conserving crops to which such provisions are applicable is used for market other than through the disposition of dairy livestock for slaughter or through the disposition of less than ten percent of the milk, or products thereof, produced on the farm. A county, as a whole, shall be deemed to be in substantial compliance with such provisions if the increase above normal in the number of dairy cows in the county does not exceed ten percent.

The normal acreage of soil-depleting crops and the normal number of cows kept for the production of milk, or the products thereof, for market shall be determined for any farm in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall determine from the latest available statistics of the Department and shall announce the counties in which the number of cows kept for the production of milk, or the products thereof, for market exceeds by more than ten percent the normal number of such cows.

As used in this subsection F, the term "for market" means for disposition by sale, barter, or exchange, or by feeding (in any form) to dairy livestock which, or the products of which, are to be sold, bartered, or exchanged, and such term shall not include consumption on the farm. An agricultural commodity shall be deemed to be consumed on the farm if consumed by the farmer's family, employees, or household, or if fed to poultry or livestock other than dairy livestock on his farm, or if fed to dairy livestock on his farm and such dairy livestock, or the products thereof, are to be consumed by his family, employees, or household. As used in this subsection F, the term "soil-conserving crops" means grasses and legumes grown on cropland except those classified as soil-depleting under Section XI hereof.

SEC. X. Application for payment.—A. Persons eligible to file applications.—An application for payment with respect to a farm may be made by any person for whom, under the provisions of Section V a share in the payment with respect to the farm may be computed and (1) who at the time of harvest is entitled to share in the crops grown on the farm under a lease or operating agreement, or (2) who is owner of such farm and participates thereon in 1938 in carrying out approved soil-building practices.

B. Time and manner of filing application and information required.—Payment will be made only upon application submitted through the county office. The Secretary reserves the right (1) to withhold payment from any person who fails to file any form or furnish any information required with respect to any farm which such person is operating or renting to another person for a share of the crops grown thereon, and (2) to refuse to accept any application for payment if such application or any other form or information required is not submitted to the county office within the time fixed by the regional director. At least two weeks' notice to the public shall be given of the expiration of a time limit for filing prescribed forms. Such notice shall be given by mailing the same to the office of each county committee and making copies of the same available to the press.

C. Applications for other farms.—If a person has the right to receive all or a portion of the crops or proceeds therefrom, produced on more than one farm in a county and makes application for payment with respect to one of such farms, such person must make application for payment with respect to all such farms. Upon request by the State commitee such person shall also file with the committee such information as it may request regarding any other farm in the State with respect to which he has the right to receive all or a portion of the crops or proceeds thereof.

SEC. XI. Soil-depleting crops.—Land devoted in 1938 to any of the following crops or uses or such other similar crops and uses as are designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall be classified as soil-depleting.

A. Land planted to the following crops for harvest in 1938:

1. Corn (including field corn, sweet corn, and popcorn, but excluding sown or close-drilled corn used as a cover crop or green manure crop.)
2. Grain sorghums.
3. Sugar beets.
4. Commercial mustard.
5. Broomcorn.
6. Mangels and cowbeets.
7. Cultivated sunflowers.
8. Truck and vegetable crops (including strawberries, melons, and sweetpotatoes) and their seeds.
9. Potatoes.
10. Bulbs and flowers.
11. Safflower.
12. Field beans.
13. Canning peas.

B. Land planted to wheat harvested for grain or hay in 1938 or any other land planted to wheat between August 1, 1937, and July 31, 1938, except—

1. When the acreage is seeded to true type winter wheat in the spring of 1938 (prior to June 15) on non-irrigated cropland and such crop is used only as a pasture or cover crop; or
2. When the acreage of such crop is used as a green manure crop in orchards, on commercial vegetable or potato land.

C. Land planted to oats, barley, rye, flax, emmer, speltz, or mixtures of these crops between August 1, 1937, and July 31, 1938, except—

1. When a good stand and good growth of such crop is used as a green manure crop in orchards, on commercial vegetable land, potato land or on irrigated land; or
2. When such crop is used as a nurse crop and is not harvested for grain or hay, or is used as a cover crop and is not harvested for grain or hay, and is not allowed to mature as grain.

D. Land planted in 1938 to buckwheat, sweet sorghums, Sudan grass, millet, or sown or close-drilled corn harvested for grain, seed, sirup, silage, or forage.

E. Land planted in 1938 to field peas harvested for peas or soybeans harvested for seed for crushing. Field peas or soybeans hogged off will be deemed to be harvested.

F. Land summer-fallowed; provided, however, that if such summer-fallowed acreage is seeded in 1938 to perennial grasses or perennial legumes in accordance with good farming practice such acreage shall not be classified as soil-depleting.

The acreage of land which is devoted consecutively to two or more of the above soil-depleting crops in 1938 shall be counted as follows: If only one of such crops reaches maturity such land shall be regarded as devoted to the crop reaching maturity. If none of such crops reaches maturity or if more than one of such crops reach maturity and an individual crop acreage allotment is established for only one of such crops, such land shall be regarded as devoted to the crop for which an individual crop acreage allotment is established. If none of such crops reaches maturity and individual crop acreage allotments are established for two or more of such crops, the land shall be regarded as devoted to the last planted of such crops for which an individual crop acreage allotment is established. If two or more of such crops reach maturity and individual crop acreage allotments are established for two or more of such crops reaching maturity, the land shall be regarded as devoted to each of the crops which reached maturity and for which an individual crop acreage allotment is established. If one or more of such crops reach maturity and individual crop acreage allotments are not established for any of such crops, the land shall be regarded as devoted to the last planted of such crops.

The acreage of land which is devoted simultaneously to two or more of the above soil-depleting crops shall be divided among such crops on the basis of the land determined in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to be devoted to each.

In connection with determinations regarding the maturity of crops, canning peas will be deemed to have reached maturity when such crop is harvested for canning and field corn, sweet corn, and popcorn hogged off or cut for silage, fodder or other similar uses, will be deemed to have reached maturity.

Land devoted to volunteer crops harvested shall be classified as if such crops were planted.

SEC. XII. Soil-building practices.—The soil-building practices listed in the following schedule shall count toward the achievement of the soil-building goal to the extent indicated therein, when such practices are carried out in 1938 in the areas designated and in accordance with the following specifications and such revision thereof or addition thereto as may be issued by the Regional Director or by the State Committee with the approval of the Regional Director. Each practice must be carried out in accordance with the individual specifications applicable thereto and such of the general specifications as apply.

Practices carried out with labor, seed, trees, and materials furnished entirely by any Federal or State agency shall not be counted toward the achievement of the soil-building goal. If a portion of the labor, seed, trees, or other materials used in carrying out any practice is furnished by a State or Federal agency and such portion represents one-half or more of the total cost of carrying out such practice, such practice shall not be counted toward the achievement of the soil-building goal; if such portion represents less than half of the total cost of carrying out such practice, one-half of such practice shall be counted toward the achievement of the soil-building goal.

If trees are purchased from a Clark-McNary Cooperative State Nursery, such purchases shall not be deemed to be paid for in whole or in part by a State or Federal agency.

General Specifications

(1) Seed used for or in connection with any seeding practice must be good clean seed free of noxious weeds and of good quality.

(2) All soil-building practices, including minimum seeding rates and methods of seeding, unless otherwise specified under the individual practice, shall be such as are determined by the County Committee to be in accordance with the generally accepted good farming practice in the county.

(3) Any seeding practice involving the use of red clover, either alone or in mixtures, requires that only adapted red clover seed be used. Any seeding practice involving the use of alfalfa seed, either alone or in mixtures, requires that only adapted alfalfa seed be used. Clover and alfalfa seed grown in the United States or Canada will be regarded as adapted except when grown in the following States or areas: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico, North Carolina, Nevada, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas; the area west of the Cascade Mountains in Washington and Oregon, or in Yakima or Klickitat Counties, Washington, unless certified by the State Pure Seed Growers Association of the State where the seed was grown; that area of Oklahoma including the counties of Roger Mills, Dewey, Blaine, Kingfisher, Logan, Payne, Creek, Okmulgee, Wagoner, Cherokee, Adair, and all counties south of those counties.

(4) Approval of a soil-building practice carried out on the same land as another soil-building practice shall not be approved for payment by the County Committee unless the carrying out of more than one practice on the same land is authorized in practice specifications.

(5) The term "good stand" when used in connection with seeding practices shall mean a stand which would produce a normal crop without any reseeding.

(6) The soil-building practices listed below are applicable in both Weber and Davis Counties, Utah, and may be carried out on cropland and non-crop land unless otherwise provided in any individual practice or the specifications applicable to such individual practice.

Schedule of Soil-Building Practices

PRACTICE A–1. Application of 300 pounds of 16 percent superphosphate (or its equivalent) except that no credit will be allowed when such application is made in connection with a soil-depleting crop.—Rate of credit—one unit.

Credit may be given for this practice in addition to credits given for practice A–14 carried out on the same land.

Specifications.—Application of 112 pounds of 43 percent treble superphosphate to, or in connection with the seeding of perennial or biennial legumes, perennial grasses, or permanent pasture.

Credit may be given for this practice in addition to credits given for practices A–7 or B–1 carried out on the same land.

PRACTICE A–5. Construction of 200 linear feet of standard terrace for which proper outlets are provided.—Rate of credit.—one unit.

Specifications.—(a) Terraces must be constructed so as to effectively control soil erosion or conserve moisture on the area involved. The work should preferably be done under supervision of a competent engineer. Terraces on dry land should be from 15 to 20 feet wide (the steeper the soil the narrower the terrace) and 18 inches high when settled, with sufficient grade to carry to the outlet. The length of a terrace should not exceed 1,800 feet. The vertical drop between terraces shall be approximately three feet on a 4% slope, 3½ feet on a 6% slope, 4 feet on an 8% slope, and 4½ feet on a 10% slope. Each terrace must have an outlet of such character to prevent erosion at the outlet.

(b) When terraces are constructed on irrigated land plans must be approved in advance by the county committee, and the practice must be carried out in accordance with good farming and irrigation practices for the locality. The grade of the terrace shall not be greater than 1½ percent.

Credit may be given for this practice in addition to credits given for practice A–14 carried out on the same land.

PRACTICE A–6. Construction of reservoirs and dams—15 cubic yards of material moved in making the fill or excavation.—Rate of credit—fifteen cubic yards moved equals one unit.

Specifications.—Construction of Reservoirs and Dams.—In the construction of small dams involving the placement of 15 cubic yards or less of earth fill, particular attention should be given to the type of soil; sloping of gully banks to at least the slope of repose of the parent material; an adequate bond between the earth fill and the native soil must be insured. Ordinarily, an impervious core wall will not be required on small dams of this type, but excavation for the base of the dam should be carried at least 2 feet below the bed of the gully and an excavation of equal depth should be made into the gully banks in order to provide a suitable bond between the fill material and the parent earth. The foundation of the dam shall be stripped of all loose material and burmas, and the fill tied securely to the original earth. Excavation for fill material should be made from the reservoir and placed in the fill in layers of uniform thickness, not exceeding six inches in depth. Each layer should be thoroughly compacted by the trampling of teams or by the constant operation of a tractor or equally heavy equipment. Slope of the upstream side of the dam should not be less than 3:1 and slope of the downstream side of the dam should be not less than 2:1. Slopes of dams shall be adequately protected. Width of the crest of the dam should be not less than one-half of the height measured from the gully bottom to the top of the crest, with a minimum crest width of four feet. Freeboard should be at least 3 feet above the maximum stage when the spillway is discharged at the designed flood rate. Spillways must be provided which will adequately handle the estimated maximum flood discharge in accordance with recognized hydraulic practices. Spillways not lined with wood, stone or concrete shall be sodded or heavily grassed. Upon request of county agricultural agents, representatives of the Soil Conservation Service may be made available to assist cooperating farmers in working out proper practices in specific problem areas.

Prior approval of this practice by the county committee is required. Fencing may be required by the county committee. Dams are not to be constructed on active streams, nor on intermittent streams in excess of three miles of length. Practice is not applicable on sandy soils. The purpose of this practice is for stock-watering and erosion control. Such reservoirs cannot be used for irrigation.

PRACTICE A–7. Reseeding depleted pastures with good seed of adapted pasture grasses or legumes—ten pounds of seed.—Rate of credit—ten pounds of seed equals one unit.

Specifications.—(a) Applicable grasses and legumes are as follows: Mixtures of alfalfa, sweet clover, alsike clover, white clover, Kentucky blue grass, smooth brome grass, meadow fescue, perennial rye grass, tall meadow oat grass, orchard grass, crested wheat grass, Reed's canary grass; under dry land conditions crested wheat grass may be seeded alone.

PRACTICE A–10. Application of not less than two tons, air dry weight, of straw, excluding barnyard and stable manure, per acre in commercial orchards or on commercial vegetable land.—Rate of credit—application of two tons of mulching material equals one unit.

Specifications.—When straw or hay is applied in winter or early spring, it is recommended that this practice be followed immediately by an addition of three pounds of ammonium sulphate to each bearing plum, prune, apricot, or cherry tree or five pounds for each bearing apple or pear tree.

PRACTICE A–13. Restoration of noncrop open pasture by nongrazing during the normal pasture season on an acreage equal to one-half of the number of acres of such pasture required to carry one animal unit for a twelve-month period.—Rate of credit—one unit.

Specifications.—(a) The normal pasture season will be from the start of forage growth to seed maturity with a minimum period of four months during which period no livestock shall be grazed on the deferred pasture.

(b) On land on which cattle or horses are grazed the area to be restored by nongrazing must be fenced sufficiently to prevent the entry of livestock.

(c) On land used exclusively for grazing sheep either the area to be restored is fenced and the fence sufficiently maintained to prevent the entry of livestock or the entry of livestock is prevented by herding.

(d) The remaining noncrop open pasture land on such farm shall not be pastured to such an extent as will decrease the stand of grass or injure the forage, tree growth, or watershed.

(e) The operator shall submit to the county committee in writing the designation of the area to be restored by nongrazing previous to carrying out such practice.

Credit may be given for this practice in addition to credit given for practice A–7 carried out on the same land.

PRACTICE A–14. Prevention of soil erosion and leaching of irrigated cropland and orchard land by control of the application of irrigation water.—Rate of credit—One acre equals one unit.

Specifications.—1. The operator must obtain approval to use this practice from the county committee before the first irrigation.

2. Water distribution system and control structures with respect to any farm must be such as to make possible adequate control and measurement of irrigation water applications. Structures described in Utah Extension Service Bulletin New Series 69, or types of structure which have prior approval of the State committee, shall be deemed to be adequate.

3. Credit will be given for the acreage in fields on which there is no erosion or leaching resulting from excessive applications of irrigation water or from too frequent applications thereof on the area approved for this practice as evidenced by:

a. The absence of silt deposits at the end of irrigation runs,

b. No eroded furrows not leveled out or which will not level out at the next cultivation, when the furrow method of irrigation is practiced,

c. No gullies washed when other than the furrow method of irrigation is practiced, and

d. No evidence of excessive run-off or waste water from the field irrigated.

4. Accurate and complete records of all irrigations with respect to any farm shall be kept on forms supplied by the State committee and approved by the Director of the Western Division, these records to be made available for inspection by authorized representatives of the State or county committees at any time prior to the submission of such records to the county committee as a compliance requirement.

5. Credit for this practice shall not be recommended by the county committee if it determines from an examination of the irrigation records or from other evidence that irrigations with respect to any farm have been excessive or too frequent to be consistent with good farming practice.

Credit may be given for this practice in addition to credits given for practices A–1, A–5, A–10, B–1, B–3, C–6, D–2, E–2 or E–3 carried out on the same land.

PRACTICE B–1. Seeding biennial legumes, perennial legumes, perennial grasses (other than timothy or redtop) or mixtures (other than a mixture consisting solely of timothy or redtop) containing perennial grasses, perennial legumes, or biennial legumes.—Rate of credit—One acre equals one unit.

Credit may be given for this practice in addition to credits given for practices A–1 or A–14.

Specifications.—(a) Seeding alfalfa, sweet clover, alsike clover, white clover, Kentucky blue grass, smooth brome grass, meadow fescue, perennial rye grass, tall meadow oat grass, orchard grass, crested wheat grass and Reed's canary grass, or mixtures of legumes or perennial grasses named under A–4 above.

(b) For seeding on cropland in 1938, biennial sweet clover, alsike clover, orchard grass, or mixtures of timothy or redtop and legumes; provided such mixtures do not have a predominance by weight of timothy and/or redtop.

(c) Sweet clover, yellow or white, alsike clover or mixtures of timothy, redtop and biennial or perennial legumes, which mixtures do not have a predominance of timothy and/or redtop, may be sown.

(d) It is recommended that either yellow or white sweet clover be sown on irrigated land in Weber and Davis Counties, Utah, but that only yellow sweet clover be sown on dry land.

(e) This practice limited to cropland and orchard land.

PRACTICE B–3. Green manure and cover crops (excluding lespedeza and any crop for which credit is given in 1938 under any other practice).—Rate of credit—one acre equals one unit.

(a) Green manure crops of which a good stand and good growth is plowed or disced under on land not subject to erosion.—Crops applicable are: annual and biennial legumes, cereals (except wheat) and other crops commonly used as green manure (except perennial legumes, and perennial grasses).

The amount of such green growth to be turned under shall equal or exceed approximately one ton of air-dried material per acre. Crops to be turned under must be in a green succulent condition when turned under.

The above crops shall be utilized as green manure crops only on irrigated land and on orchards and on commercial vegetable and potato land as cover crops if not pastured or used for grain, hay, seed or forage.

Credit may be given for this practice in addition to credit given for practice A–14.

PRACTICE C–3. Cultivating, protecting, and maintaining by replanting, if necessary, a good stand of forest trees, planted between January 1, 1934, and January 1, 1938.—Rate of credit—One acre equals two units.

Specifications.—Two cultivations per season with suitable farm implements; the trees to be enclosed with fence to protect them from livestock. Replanting must maintain a minimum of 200 living trees per acre. The trees to be irrigated, if possible, when in need of irrigation water.

PRACTICE C–6. Green manure crops of which a good stand and a good growth is plowed or disced under on farms on which the average acreage of land on which commercial vegetables were grown in 1936 and 1937 exceeds 50 percent of the acreage of cropland in the farm in excess of the potato acreage allotment established for the farm.—Rate of credit—One acre equals two units.

Specifications.—Crops applicable as green manure are annual and biennial legumes (except lespedeza), cereals (except wheat) and other crops commonly used as green manure (except perennial legumes and perennial grasses). The amount of green growth to be turned under shall equal or exceed approximately one ton of air dried material per acre.

Credit may be given for this practice in addition to credit given for practice A–14.

PRACTICE D–1. Planting forest trees (including shrubs in protective plantings) provided such trees are protected and cultivated in accordance with good tree culture practice.—Rate of credit—One acre equals five units.

Specifications.—Species to be considered as forest trees or shrubs for protective planting: Russian olive, Siberian elm, Eastern red cedar, Green ash, Siberian pea tree, Black locust, Honey locust. Minimum spacing, 12 feet for conifers, 8 feet for hardwood species in rows, these rows to be spaced at a minimum of 8 feet. Trees to be staggered in adjoining rows, planting to be done in a workmanlike manner in the spring of 1938 in ground properly prepared for the planting of trees, preparation of ground to be done previously by plowing.

There shall be a minimum of 300 trees and/or shrubs per acre on land properly prepared for planting.

PRACTICE D–2. Control of seriously infested plots of perennial noxious weeds on cropland in organized weed control districts, in accordance with good chemical or tillage methods.—Rate of credit—One acre equals five units.

Specifications.—Approved chemical methods include the application at the rate of 2 pounds of sodium chlorate or 2 pounds of atlacide per square rod in the first application. Chemicals may be applied as a spray or a dust and should be applied to the plant preferably in the bloom stage. The second application of chemicals should be made if and when the weeds reappear, this application to be at the rate of 1 pound per square rod.

Approved tillage methods include the preparation of the ground by deep plowing so that cultivation may be readily effected. Cultivation should begin early in the spring and continue at 5 to 15 day intervals, the length of interval being determined by the dampness and fertility of the soil. That is, the more fertile, damper soils where the rate of growth is more rapid, and particularly in the spring of the year, cultivation should be more frequent than later in the season, or on poor dry soils. Cultivation should be done with effective weeders that cut off rather than mash the weeds along the ground.

Noxious weeds which may be cultivated under these practices include Russian Knapweed, white top, morning glory or bind weed, Canada thistle, leafy spurge.

An organized weed control district is an area defined under State statute as an area wherein designated officials are authorized to require effective weed control practices to be instituted on all land on which such practices are necessary to control or eradicate noxious weeds in such area, or any other organized area comprising all or a part of a county wherein the State committee finds that effective weed control practices will be instituted on all land on which such practices are necessary to control or eradicate noxious weeds in such area.

Credit may be given for this practice in addition to credits given for practice A–14.

PRACTICE E–2. Renovation of perennial legumes and mixtures of perennial grasses and legumes.—Rate of credit—two acres equal one unit.

Specifications.—One year old alfalfa and/or mixtures of perennial grasses and perennial legumes, by cultivation to a minimum depth of two inches shall qualify, providing the area is reseeded at a rate of not less than four pounds per acre. Irrigation must not follow this practice until all dislodged weed roots have been exposed long enough to completely die. Approval of this practice by the county committee is required prior to performance. This practice limited to cropland.

Credit may be given for this practice in addition to credits given for practice A–14.

PRACTICE E–3. Seeding timothy or redtop or a mixture consisting solely of timothy and redtop.—Rate of credit—two acres equal one unit.

Specifications.—It is recommended that these crops be seeded only in meadows having sufficient water. Seeding must be done in a workmanlike manner on a fine well-mulched seed bed.

Credit may be given for this practice in addition to credits given for practice A–14.

PRACTICE F–3. Contour-listing or furrowing noncrop land.—Rate of credit—four acres equal one unit.

Specifications.—Contour-listing consists of running a furrow with a corn lister, or other suitable implement, at right angles to the direction of the slope.

If the contour-listing is done with a view that the furrows shall retain all of the moisture that falls, the lister furrows shall be spaced close together. If the furrowing is done with a view only of retaining the moisture for a short period or to slow up its descent the furrows may be spaced farther apart. In this latter event the furrows should be of the discontinuous type wherein the lister is lifted out of the ground about every fifty feet along the length of the furrow and is allowed to remain out of the ground each time of lifting for a distance of about ten feet. The next furrow below each other furrow shall be listed in such a manner that the fifty foot listed section falls imediately below the non-listed space of the upper furrow. This creates a checkerboard pattern which causes the runoff water to work back and forth between openings in the furrows.

In contour-listing a small acreage, it is usually advisable to space either lister furrows or contour plow furrows very close together in order to retain all of the moisture that falls and to allow it to soak into the ground. This is especially true where there is no stand of perennial vegetation, under which condition some reseeding with grass or other perennial species should accompany the listing operations. When land that has a sparse vegetative cover is contour furrowed, it is usually good practice to space the furrows farther apart and make them of the discontinuous type. By spacing the furrows farther apart where there is a sparse stand of vegetation little of the native stand is disturbed and the accumulated moisture, due to the contour furrows, gives it an excellent chance to make a hurried vegetative come-back by natural reseeding or spreading by underground roots depending on the type of vegetation present.

Before institution of the practice of contour-listing or furrowing non-crop land the prior approval of the county committee, including plans and specifications, must have been obtained. Furrows shall be run on the contour. Furrows shall be at least 4 inches in depth below the original ground level, not less than 8 inches wide and spaced not more than 20 feet apart.

PRACTICE F–5. Protecting summer-fallowed acreage from wind and water erosion by incorporating small-grain stubble and straw into the surface soil. No credit will be given for this practice on any farm when carried out on light sandy soils or on soils in any area where destruction of the vegetative cover has resulted in the land becoming subject to serious wind erosion.—Rate of credit—four acres equal one unit.

Specifications.—Protecting summer fallow by incorporating sufficient small-grain stubble and straw into the surface soil to prevent wind and water erosion. All tillage implements used for incorporating the straw or trash into the surface soil shall leave the surface rough and shall leave the stubble and trash on and near the surface and no straw or stubble shall be burned or destroyed by other methods.

Credit may be given for this practice in addition to credit given for practice I–1.

PRACTICE I–1. Contour seeding of small-grain crops.—Rate of credit—ten acres equal one unit.

Specifications.—Contour seeding of small-grain crops in 1938 at right angles to the prevailing slope of the ground and on ground having a minimum slope of 2% average. Drill rows should not deviate from any contour line more than one percent. At the time performance is checked, at least 95% of the area should meet the foregoing specifications with respect to contour lines. The practice must be carried out according to specifications on an entire field if the field is to qualify.

Credit may be given for this practice in addition to credit given for practice F–5 carried out on the same land.

SEC. XIII. Normal yields and productivity indexes.—A. Normal yields of special soil-depleting crops.—The county committee with the assistance of other local committees in the county shall determine for each farm for which a wheat or potato acreage allotment is to be established a normal yield for each crop in accordance with the provisions of this section and instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

1. Wheat.—(a) Where reliable records of the actual average yield per acre of wheat for the years 1928 to 1937, inclusive, are presented by the farmer or are available to the committee, the normal yield for the farm shall be the average of such yields adjusted for trends and abnormal weather conditions in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

(b) If for any year of such ten-year period reliable records of the actual average yield are not available or there was no actual yield because wheat was not planted on the farm in such year, the normal yield for the farm shall be the yield which, on the basis of all the available facts, including the yield customarily secured on the farm, weather conditions, type of soil, drainage, production practices and general fertility of the land, the county committee determines to be the yield which was or could reasonably have been expected on the farm for such ten-year period. Where the productivity index most recently established for the farm in connection with the agricultural conservation programs is determined by the county committee to be an accurate reflection of the foregoing factors, the yield obtained by multiplying such index by the county average yield established by the Secretary shall be used as the normal yield for the farm.

(c) The yields determined under paragraph (b) of this subdivision 1 shall be adjusted so that the average of the normal yields for all farms in the county (weighted respectively by the wheat acreage allotments established for such farms) shall conform to the county average yield established by the Secretary.

2. Potatoes.—(a) The normal yield of potatoes for any farm shall be the yield which may reasonably be expected from the land devoted to the production of potatoes in 1938 with due consideration for type of soil, drainage, production practices, general fertility of the land and the yield of potatoes customarily secured on the farm. The average yield for all farms in any county with respect to potatoes shall not exceed the county average yield for potatoes established by the Secretary.

SEC. XIV. Appeals.—Any person who considers himself aggrieved by any recommendation or determination of the county committee with respect to any farm in which he has an interest may, within 15 days after notice thereof is forwarded to or available to him request the county committee in writing to reconsider its recommendation or determination with respect to any of the following matters: (a) eligibility to file an application for payment; (b) any soil-depleting acreage allotment or soil-building goal; (c) the division of payment; or (d) any other matter affecting the right to or the amount of his payment with respect to the farm. The county committee shall notify such person of its decision in writing within 15 days after receipt of such written request for reconsideration. If such person is dissatisfied with the decision of the county committee he may, within 15 days after such decision is forwarded to or made available to him, appeal in writing to the State committee. The State committee shall notify such person of its decision in writing within 30 days after the receipt of the appeal. If such person is dissatisfied with the decision of the State committee, he may, within 15 days after such decision is forwarded to or made available to him, request the regional director to review the decision of the State committee.

SEC. XV. State and regional bulletins, instructions, and forms.—The Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall prepare and issue such State and regional bulletins, instructions, and forms as may be required in administering the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program.

PART II—DEFINITIONS

A farm shall be regarded as located in the county or administrative area, as the case may be, in which the principal dwelling is situated, or if there is no dwelling thereon, it shall be regarded as located in the county or administrative area, as the case may be, in which the major portion of the farm is located.

All farms in Weber and Davis Counties, Utah, are class B farms, i. e., farms for which no general soil-depleting acreage allotment is established.

Cropland means farm land which is tilled annually or in regular rotation, excluding commercial orchards, restoration land, and any land which constitutes, or will constitute if such tillage is continued, a wind erosion hazard to the community, but including any other land which has been planted since January 1, 1930, to permanent pasture or forest trees and which was classified as cropland under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program, and including also land planted to non-commercial orchards other than abandoned orchards.

Commercial orchards means the acreage in planted or cultivated fruit trees, nut trees, vineyards, hops, or bush fruits on the farm on January 1, 1938 (excluding non-bearing orchards and vineyards), from which the principal part of production is normally sold.

Commercial vegetables means the acreage of vegetables or truck crops (including potatoes on farms where a potato acreage allotment is not established, sweetpotatoes, tomatoes, sweet corn, melons, cantaloupes, strawberries, and commercial bulbs and flowers, but excluding peas for canning and sweet corn for canning and artichokes for use other than as vegetables) of which the principal part of the production is sold to persons not living on the farm.

Noncrop open pasture means pasture land (other than rotation pasture land and range land) on which the predominant growth is forage suitable for grazing and on which the number or grouping of any trees or shrubs is such that the land could not fairly be considered as woodland.

NATIONAL BITUMINOUS COAL COMMISSION

[Docket No. 153–FD]

INVESTIGATION OF NATURE AND EXTENT OF TRANSACTIONS IN INTRASTATE COMMERCE IN BITUMINOUS COAL IN STATE OF MONTANA AND EFFECT OF SUCH TRANSACTIONS ON INTERSTATE COMMERCE IN SUCH COAL

At a regular session of the National Bituminous Coal Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 27th day of June, 1938.

It appearing, That by Orders Nos. 2 and 175,[1] the Commission, upon its own motion, entered into and conducted an investigation under the provisions of Section 4–A of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, for the purpose of determining the nature and extent of transactions in intrastate commerce in bituminous coal in the State of Montana and the effect of such transactions upon interstate commerce in such coal; and

It further appearing, That reasonable public notice of a hearing was provided and that at said hearing interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard; that the presiding Examiner duly designated by the Commission having filed his report and recommendations and the Commission having given due consideration to said report and recommendations and to the record of the evidence in this proceeding; and, the Commission having, on the 27th day of June, 1938, adopted the Examiner's report and recommendations as its own, which said report is hereby referred to and made a part hereof;

Now, therefore, It is by order declared:

That substantially all transactions in bituminous coal in intrastate commerce in the State of Montana directly affect interstate commerce in such coal; and

That there will be an undue or unreasonable advantage, preference or prejudice as between localities in Montana in such intrastate commerce on the one hand and interstate commerce in bituminous coal on the other hand, and an undue, unreasonable or unjust discrimination against interstate commerce in such coal if such transactions in intrastate commerce, or any substantial part thereof, are not regulated and subjected to the provisions of Section 4 of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

Therefore it is further ordered:

1. That on and after the 1st day of August, 1938, all bituminous coal sold, delivered or offered for sale in transactions in intrastate commerce in such coal in all localities within the State of Montana, shall be subject to the provisions of Section 4 of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, to the Bituminous Coal Code as promulgated by the Commission and made effective on the 21st day of June, 1937,[1] and to all relevant orders of the Commission in effect on the date of this order, as well as all further orders which may thereafter be issued by the Commission under Section 4 of said Act, so as to apply to such intrastate commerce in coal within the State of Montana.

2. That any producer of bituminous coal in intrastate commerce within the State of Montana, who may believe that his or its particular transactions in intrastate commerce in bituminous coal should be exempted from this order and/or from the provisions of Section 4 and 4-A of said Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, may file application at any time hereafter for exemption pursuant to the second paragraph of Section 4-A of said Act, and be entitled to a hearing and appropriate orders thereon.

3. That the Secretary of the Commission shall give notice to each known producer of bituminous coal within the State of Montana who is not, upon the date of this order, a member of the Bituminous Coal Code, by mailing, within five (5) days from this date, a copy of this order, together with three (3) copies of the Form of Code Acceptance and rules prescribed by the Commission for filing acceptances,[2] and a copy of the Bituminous Coal Code as promulgated under date of June 21, 1937.

The Secretary shall cause a copy of this order to be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and shall also publish a copy thereof in a newspaper of general circulation in each county within the State of Montana known to produce bituminous coal, publication thereof to be made three (3) times within fourteen (14) days from the date of this order.

By order of the Commission.

TITLE 22—FOREIGN RELATIONS

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

RULES OF PROCEDURE GOVERNING THE ISSUANCE OF LICENCES FOR THE EXPORTATION OF TIN-PLATE SCRAP

The Secretary of State announces that he has been authorized by the National Munitions Control Board to assign additional allotments to producers of tin-plate scrap under the provisions of paragraph (7) of the rules of procedure governing the issuance of licenses for the exportation of tin-plate scrap announced on December 6, 1937.[1]

These additional allotments will be granted to producers of tin-plate scrap only and will be assigned after July 1, 1938, in the order of the receipt of requests therefor, provided that, in the event that it shall be necessary in order that the quantity of tin-plate scrap to be exported during the calendar year 1938 shall not exceed the total figure agreed upon by the National Munitions Control Board, the available balance of such total shall be apportioned among the applicants on the basis of their production during the first six months of 1938. Allotments will be based on the individual producer's request therefor with the provision that no allotment of more than twenty-five long tons shall exceed in amount twenty-five percent of the quantity of tin-plate scrap produced by him during the first six months of the calendar year 1938. It is provided further that no allotment to any one producer, including his affiliated or associated companies, shall exceed 1,000 long tons. Requests for allotments of twenty-five long tons or less may be granted in full, without reference to the quantity of tin-plate scrap produced during the first six months of 1938, provided the producer concerned presents convincing evidence, in the form of a sworn statement, establishing that he will, as far as can be foreseen, during the calendar year 1938, produce at least the equivalent of the allotment he requests in excess of the total of any allotments previously assigned to him for export during the calendar year 1938.

No producer shall be eligible to receive an allotment under the provisions of paragraph (7) until the Secretary of State has received from him a sworn statement setting forth the quantity of tin-plate scrap, in long tons, produced by him during the first six months of the calendar year 1938. Sworn statements submitted under the provisions of this paragraph shall include the name and address of the producer, the name and location of each factory, and the quantity of tin-plate scrap produced at each factory.

The Secretary of State's announcement to the press, No. 196 of April 26, 1938, is modified accordingly.

[SEAL] CORDELL HULL,

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

BUREAU OF MARINE INSPECTION AND NAVIGATION

[Department Circular No. 304—Second Edition [1]]

PRE-SAILING EXAMINATION OF DANISH PASSENGER VESSELS AND COLLECTION OF FEES FOR SAME

By virtue of the authority conferred by section 4400 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, as amended (46 U. S. C. 362), the following regulations are established for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of that statute providing for the inspection of foreign passenger steamers carrying passengers from the United States, and the collection of fees for such examination:

It has come to the attention of the Department that the Government of Denmark, under the "Ordinance Relating to the Application of the Merchant Shipping (Inspection of Ships) Act of March 29, 1920, to Foreign Ships", with subsequent amendments and regulations promulgated thereunder, requires the inspection of all American passenger vessels prior to their departure from a Danish port for a voyage to a port or place in any country other than Denmark. A fee of kroner 10 is imposed against an American passenger vessel for each such pre-sailing inspection.

In view of the above and pursuant to the third understanding of the President of the United States contained in the ratification of the International Convention for Safety of Life at Sea, 1929, and the provisions of section 4400 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, it is hereby ordered that a pre-sailing examination shall be made of all passenger vessels flying the flag of Denmark prior to their departure from any port or place in the United States on a voyage to any port or place in any country other than the United States. No pre-sailing examination is required to be made of such Danish passenger vessel when proceeding from one port or place in the United States to another port or place in the United States, the examination to be made only at the final port of departure for a foreign port.

Fees shall be imposed against every Danish passenger vessel for such pre-sailing examination, the amount of the fee being the equivalent in dollars and cents, at the rate of exchange on the date on which the examination is made, of kroner 10.

In carrying out the pre-sailing examination and the collection of fees, the local inspectors and collectors of customs shall conform to the following procedure:

The certificate of examination, Form 989, shall be issued as heretofore and on the back of such certificate of examination the local inspectors will enter the date the pre-sailing examination is made. The certificate of examination so endorsed shall be presented by the master, owner, or agent at the time of clearance to the collector of customs, who shall collect the fee and endorse upon the certificate the fact of such collection. The collector of customs will issue a receipt to the master, owner, or agent of the vessel on Cat. 1008. The fee so collected shall be accounted for in the same manner as any other navigation fee. In order that this fee may be properly identified on Cat. 1008, the caption "Pre-sailing Examination" shall be inserted directly under the caption "Post Entry."

No clearance shall be granted to any Danish passenger vessel to depart for a foreign port or place unless the fee has been collected for such examination and receipt thereof endorsed on the certificate of examination. This procedure will be followed each time a Danish passenger vessel applies for clearance to a foreign port or place in order to insure that such vessel has been examined and the fee for such examination has been paid to the collector of customs.

This fee will be levied on and after May 1, 1938.

Approved, June 28, 1938.

Secretary of Commerce.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTABLISHMENT OF MINIMUM PRICES AND MARKETING RULES AND REGULATIONS

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING IN RE DETERMINATION OF WEIGHTED AVERAGE OF THE TOTAL COSTS OF THE TONNAGE PRODUCED WITHIN MINIMUM PRICE AREAS NOS. 2, 3, 4 AND 5

Pursuant to Act of Congress entitled "An Act to regulate interstate commerce in bituminous coal, and for other purposes" (Public No. 48, 75th Congress, 1st Session), known as the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, the National Bituminous Coal Commission hereby orders and directs:

1. Notice is hereby given to all interested parties that a hearing in this matter shall be held before the Commission commencing on the 13th day of July, 1938, at 10:00 A. M., in the Hearing Room of the Commission at 15th and Eye Streets, N. W., Washington, D. C., for the purpose of receiving evidence relating to the weighted average of the total costs per net ton of the tonnage of bituminous coal produced in the calendar year 1936, in each of Districts 9, 10, 11, 12, 14 and 15, inclusive, and so much of District 13 as is in Minimum Price Area 3, and evidence relating to any change or changes in wage rates, hours of employment or other factors, exclusive of seasonal changes, substantially affecting costs, in each of said Districts which may have been established since January 1, 1936, to enable the Commission to determine the weighted average of the total costs of the tonnage for Minimum Price Area 2 (Districts 9, 10, 11 and 12), Area 3 (so much of District 13 as is in Minimum Price Area 3), Area 4 (District 14), and Area 5 (District 15), in the calendar year 1936, as adjusted within the meaning of Section 4, Part II, of the Act, at which time all interested persons will be afforded an opportunity to be heard.

2. The District Boards of said Districts have submitted to the Commission, pursuant to its Order No. 240,[1] their determinations of the weighted average of the total costs of the total ascertainable tonnage produced in their respective Districts in the calendar year 1936, adjusted as aforesaid, as follows:

[2] In District 9, the wage increase became effective May 1.
[3] In District 11, wages were increased on April 1 and again on November 1. The figure cited is the average for 7 months at the April scale plus 2 months at the November scale, without attempt at proration.
[4] April and May omitted because of prolonged strike.
[5] Actual costs for nine-month period April to December 1937, combined with three-month costs for January to March 1937, so adjusted as to raise the three-month costs to the level of the wage scale effective April 1.
[6] For period of 1937 covered see above.

3. The Division of Research and Statistics of the Commission has submitted to the Commission the following computations of the weighted average of the actual costs of the ascertainable tonnage in each District and Minimum Price Area for the nine-months period (except as otherwise specified), April to December, 1937, the latest period for which cost data are available at the increased wage-rates that became generally effective April 1, 1937. These costs have been further adjusted to take account of known changes in Federal unemployment taxes, effective January 1, 1938, and to take account of the known effects of the tax imposed by the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

The Division of Research and Statistics has recommended to the Commission that the above costs be considered as evidence of weight in determining the adjusted costs, subjects to such further adjustments as may be proved at the hearing to be advisable, in order to take account of additional known factors of increase or decrease which are not herein fully reflected.

4. Any person desiring to offer affirmative evidence at such hearing shall, not later than the day preceding the date of said hearing, file with the Commission at its offices in Washington, D. C., a written appearance setting forth therein the nature of his interest and a concise written statement of the facts which he wishes to present. Such cross-examination as the Commission in its discretion deems proper will be permitted.

5. That the Secretary cause a copy of this Notice of and Order for Hearing to be published forthwith in the Federal Register and in two consecutive issues of a newspaper of general circulation in each of the aforesaid Districts and shall cause copies hereof to be mailed to each code member, the Consumers' Counsel and to the Secretary of each District Board, and to be made available for inspection by interested parties at each of the Statistical Bureaus of the Commission.

By order of the Commission.

[SEAL] F. WITCHER MCCULLOUGH,
Secretary.

section 103 (b), relating to minimum county acreage allotments. The production in 1938 of the acreage allotment referred to in section 102 (e), relating to a special fund of acreage allotments consisting of 4 percent of the State acreage allotment, and in section 102 (f), relating to minimum farm acreage allotments, shall be in addition to such national allotment. [Sec. 343 (a), (b), and (c).]

SEC. 102. State baleage allotments and State acreage allotments.—(a) Ten million standard bales of the national baleage allotment of cotton for the calendar year 1938 shall be apportioned among the several States on the basis of the average of the normal production of cotton in each State for the five years 1933 to 1937. The normal production of a State for each such year shall be (1) the quantity of cotton produced therein in such year plus (2) the normal production of the acres diverted from the production of cotton in all counties in the State under the agricultural adjustment or conservation program in such year. The normal production of the acres diverted from the production of cotton in any county in any year shall be the average yield per acre of the acres planted to cotton in such county in such year times the number of acres so diverted in such county in such year. [Sec. 344 (a).]

(b) A State acreage allotment shall be established for each State to which an allotment is made under subsection (a) of this section. The State acreage allotment shall be that number of acres equal to the result obtained by dividing the number of standard bales allotted to the State under subsection (a) of this section by the average yield per acre for the State expressed in standard bales. The average yield per acre for any State shall be determined on the basis of the average of the normal production for the State for the five years 1933 to 1937 and the average, for the same period, of the acres diverted from the production of cotton in the State under the agricultural adjustment or conservation programs and the acres planted to cotton. [Sec. 344 (b).]

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, the State acreage allotment for any State which is less than 5,000 acres shall be increased to 5,000 acres if at least 3,500 bales of cotton were produced in such State in any of the five years 1933 to 1937. [Sec. 344 (e) (2).]

(d) An acreage not greater than two percent of the State acreage allotment shall be made available for apportionment to farms in the State on which cotton was not planted in any one of the three years 1935, 1936, and 1937. [Sec. 344 (c) (2).]

(e) In addition to the State acreage allotment, a special fund of acreage allotments equal to 4 percent of the State acreage allotment shall be established for each State for apportionment as set forth in sections 103 (c) and 104 (b), (e), and (f). [Sec. 344 (g).]

(f) There shall be available in each State for allotment to farms that number of acres, in addition to the State acreage allotment and the special fund of acreage allotments equal to 4 percent of the State acreage allotment, equal to the total amount by which farm acreage allotments in the State are increased as set forth in section 104 (h) relating to minimum farm acreage allotments. [Sec. 344 (h).]

SEC. 103. County acreage allotments.—(a) The State acreage allotment (less that part set aside under section 102 (d) for apportionment to new farms) shall be apportioned among the counties in the State on the basis of the sum of (1) the acreage therein planted to cotton during the five years 1933 to 1937 and (2), in the applicable years, the acreage therein diverted from the production of cotton under agricultural adjustment and conservation programs, with adjustments for abnormal weather conditions and trends in acreage during such five-year period. [Sec. 344 (c) (1).]

(b) The acreage allotment for each county to which an allotment is apportioned under subsection (a) of this section shall be increased by the number of acres, if any, required to provide an acreage allotment for each such county of not less than 60 percent of the sum of (1) the acreage therein planted to cotton in 1937 and (2) the acreage therein diverted from the production of cotton in 1937 under the agricultural conservation program. The acreage so diverted shall be estimated in case data are not available at the time of making such allotment of additional acreage. [Sec. 344 (e) (1).]

(c) If the acreage allotment for any county is inadequate and not representative in view of the past production of cotton therein, the acreage allotment for such county shall be increased, after considering the increases set forth in section 104 (b) and (e), from any acreage remaining in the special fund of acreage allotments referred to in section 102 (e) after the allotments set forth in section 104 (b) and (e) have been made out of such fund. The apportionment under this subsection shall be made first to that county in which there is the highest relative disparity between the county acreage allotment established in accordance with subsections (a) and (b) and a county acreage allotment which is adequate and representative in view of the past production of cotton in such county; and thereafter such county and in turn other counties in which there is a disparity, but to a smaller degree, shall participate in the apportionment of such remainder of the special fund as is available until existing relative disparities have been reduced to a minimum, which shall be the same for all such counties in the State, or have been extinguished. [Sec. 344 (g) (2).]

(d) If in any county there are one or more areas which, because of difference in types, kinds, and productivity of the soil or other conditions, should be treated separately in order to prevent discrimination, each such area shall be designated by the county committee and the county acreage allotment, including the allotment, if any, made to such county as set forth in subsection (c), shall be apportioned among such areas (1) on the basis of the acreage in each such area planted to cotton in 1937 plus the acreage therein diverted from the production of cotton in 1937 under the agricultural conservation program, or (2) if conditions affecting the acreage planted to cotton were not reasonably uniform throughout the county in 1937, on the basis of the cotton base acreage in each such area which was or could have been established in 1937 under the agricultural conservation program. [Sec. 344 (f).]

SEC. 104. Apportionment of acreage allotments among established farms.—(a) The county committee, with the assistance of other local committees established in the county, shall apportion, in the manner set forth in this section, acreage allotments among all farms in the county on which cotton was planted in any one of the three years 1935 to 1937. The acreage allotments to be apportioned among such farms shall consist of (1) the regular county acreage allotment, consisting of an apportionment of the State acreage allotment made to the county, with such increase in the county acreage allotment as is necessary to provide for the county a minimum acreage allotment of not less than 60 percent of the planted plus diverted cotton acreage in the county in 1937, and (2) a distributive part, applicable to the county, of the special fund of acreage allotments consisting of that amount which is equal to 4 percent of the State acreage allotment. This distributive part, hereinafter referred to as the "special fund," is to be applied, insofar as the amount thereof will permit, and in the following order: (a) in supplying any deficiency in the regular county acreage allotment for the making of initial acreage allotments not exceeding five acres for each such farm; (b) in supplementing any acreage allotment made to any farm out of the regular county acreage allotment which, in consequence of the making of such initial acreage allotments, is inadequate and unrepresentative, and (c) in supplementing the regular acreage allotment made to the county which, in view of the past production of cotton in the county, is inadequate and unrepresentative. The committee shall not establish any farm acreage allotment which is not covered by the allotments mentioned above, except that after but not before the apportionment among farms of all the allotments mentioned above in this subsection an additional farm acreage allotment shall be made, as set forth in subsection (h), to any farm in respect to which the acreage allotment otherwise made is less than the minimum acreage allotment set forth in said subsection. The term "planted plus diverted cotton acreage", as used in this section, shall be taken to mean the sum of the acreage planted in cotton and the acreage diverted from cotton production under agricultural adjustment or conservation programs. [Sec. 344 (d), (e), (f), (g), (h).]

(b) The regular county acreage allotment shall be first apportioned among such farms, and in making such apportionment there shall be first established for each such farm an initial acreage allotment equal to the highest planted plus diverted cotton acreage on the farm in any one of said three years, provided that no initial allotment shall exceed five acres for any such farm. These allotments shall be known as initial allotments and are referred to accordingly in this section. Any deficiency in the amount of the regular county acreage allotment for the making of such initial allotments shall be supplied by the use of the special fund of acreage allotments, insofar as said fund will permit. [Sec. 344 (d) (1).]

(c) In the event that the regular county acreage allotment is more than sufficient to make the initial allotments, there shall be set aside, for increase of allotments to small farms, as set forth in subsection (g), an amount of not more than 3 percent of that amount of the regular county acreage allotment which remains after making the initial allotments. [Sec. 344 (d) (2).]

(d) The remainder of the regular county acreage allotment shall be apportioned among all farms on which the highest planted plus diverted cotton acreage in any one of said three years was more than five acres. The acreage thus to be apportioned to each such farm shall, together with the initial allotment made to the farm, be a percentage (which shall be the same percentage for all farms in the county or administrative area within the county) of the acreage on the farm in 1937 which is tilled annually or in regular rotation, excluding therefrom the acreage devoted to the production of sugarcane for sugar, wheat, tobacco, or rice for market, or wheat or rice for feeding to livestock for market. [Sec. 344 (d) (3).]

(e) If, as a result of the making of initial allotments, the farm acreage allotments for farms made in accordance with subsection (d) are substantially smaller than the farm acreage allotments which would have been made without regard to any provision for the making of initial allotments, the farm acreage allotments to such farms shall be increased to the acreage which would have resulted in the absence of any provision for the making of initial allotments, insofar as any portion of the special fund of acreage allotments not used in the making of initial allotments will permit. [Sec. 344 (g) (2).]

(f) The additional acreage allotment, if any, received by the county, consisting of that part of the special fund of acreage allotments not used in, or in consequence of, the making of initial acreage allotments as aforesaid, shall be apportioned, in accordance with the provisions of subsection (d), among farms receiving allotments under said subsection. [Sec. 344 (g) (3).]

(g) Any farm acreage allotment made as aforesaid of more than five acres, but not exceeding 15 acres, may be increased from the reserve of not more than 3 percent of the county acreage allotment mentioned in subsection (c). In making such increase due consideration shall be given to, and such allotments shall be made on the basis of, the land, labor, and equipment available for the production of cotton, crop rotation practices, and the soil and other facilities affecting the production of cotton. [Sec. 344 (d) (2).]

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, (1) the farm acreage allotment made to any farm shall not exceed the highest planted plus diverted cotton acreage in any one of said three years, and (2) any farm acreage allotment which after but not before the apportionment of all acreage allotments, as provided in the foregoing subsections of this section, is less than 50 percent of the planted plus diverted cotton acreage on the farm in 1937, shall be increased to such amount, provided that such increase shall not be so made as to raise the cotton acreage of the farm above 40 percent of the acreage on the farm which, as determined in accordance with applicable instructions, is tilled annually or in regular rotation. The acreage allotments required to effect this minimum provision shall be in addition to all acreage allotments represented by the regular county acreage allotment and by the special fund of acreage allotments. [Sec. 344 (d) (3), Sec. 344 (h).]

(i) After making the allotments under this section, any part of the acreage allotted to individual farms which it is determined, in accordance with applicable instructions, will not be planted to cotton in 1938, shall be deducted from the allotments to such farms and may be apportioned in accordance with applicable instructions, preference being given to farms in the same county receiving allotments which are inadequate and not representative in view of the past production of cotton and the acreage diverted from the production of cotton on such farms under the agricultural conservation program in 1937. Any transfer of allotments for 1938 as set forth in this subsection shall not affect apportionment for any subsequent year. The allotment for any farm shall not be increased under this subsection to an acreage greater than the highest planted plus diverted cotton acreage on the farm in any one of the three years 1935 to 1937, nor to an acreage greater than 40 percent of the acreage on such farm which is tilled annually or in regular rotation. [Sec. 344 (h).]

SEC. 105. Apportionment of acreage allotments among new farms.—The county committee, with the assistance of other local committees, shall, in accordance with applicable instructions, apportion among farms on which cotton was not planted in any one of the three years 1935 to 1937 and on which cotton is planted in 1938 the distributive part, applicable to the county, of acreage allotments which constitute a reserve of not more than 2 percent of the State acreage allotment. The basis of the apportionment shall be the land, labor, and equipment available on the farm for the production of cotton, crop rotation practices thereon, and the soil and other physical facilities affecting the production of cotton thereon. [Sec. 344 (c) (2).]

SEC. 106. Normal yields.—(a) The county committee, with the assistance of the other local committees established in the county, shall determine the normal yield per acre of lint cotton for each farm for which a farm acreage allotment is established.

(b) Where reliable records of the actual average yield of lint cotton per acre for all of the five years 1933 to 1937 are presented by the farmer or are available to the committee, the normal yield per acre of lint cotton for the farm shall be the average of such yields adjusted, in accordance with applicable instructions, for abnormal weather conditions.

(c) If for any year of the five-year period 1933 to 1937 (1) records of the actual average yield are not available, or (2) there was no actual yield because cotton was not planted in such year, the normal yield per acre of lint cotton for the farm shall be appraised by the county committee, taking into consideration the normal yield for the county, the yield in the years for which data are available, and the rainfall, temperature, and other weather conditions during the years for which data are available as compared with those for which data are not available, provided the appraised yield so obtained shall be adjusted in accordance with subsection (d) of this section.

(d) The yields determined under subsection (c) of this section shall be adjusted so that the average of the normal yields per acre of lint cotton determined for all farms in the county or local administrative area therein (weighted by the cotton acreage allotments established for such farms) shall conform to the county normal yield per acre of lint cotton established for 1938 by the Secretary of Agriculture. [Sec. 301 (b) (13) (B) and (E).]

SEC. 107. Applicability of detailed instructions.—The provisions of Part I hereof shall be carried out in detail in accordance with the provisions of Part I, "Determining 1938 Farm Cotton Acreage Allotments and Yields", of the following instructions applicable to the regions indicated below:

Southern Region.—Cotton 208-SR, "Instructions pertaining to cotton marketing quotas for 1938."

East Central Region.—Cotton 208-ECR, "Instructions pertaining to cotton marketing quotas for 1938."

Western Region.—Cotton 208-WR, "Instructions pertaining to cotton marketing quotas for 1938."

North Central Region.—Cotton 208-NCR, "Instructions pertaining to cotton marketing quotas for 1938."

PART II. FARM MARKETING QUOTAS

SECTION 201. Amount of farm marketing quota.—(a) The farm marketing quota for any farm for 1938 shall be that number of pounds of lint cotton equal to the sum of the following:

1. The amount of the normal production or the actual production, whichever is the greater, of the farm acreage allotment, and

2. The amount of cotton from any previous crop which the farmer has on hand.

(b) 1. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, the amount of the normal production of the farm acreage allotment, plus the amount of cotton from any previous crop on hand, shall be considered to be the farm marketing quota for any farm on which the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 is in excess of the farm acreage allotment for the farm, unless and until it is determined by the county committee that the actual production of the farm acreage allotment for such farm, as shown by the reports of cotton ginned from the farm or other satisfactory evidence, is in excess of the normal production of the farm acreage allotment.

2. If and when the actual production for 1938 of the farm acreage allotment for any such farm, as shown by the reports of cotton ginned from the farm or other satisfactory evidence, is found by the county committee to be in excess of the normal production of the farm acreage allotment, it shall adjust said farm marketing quota for the farm upward by that amount by which the actual production of the farm acreage allotment exceeds the normal production thereof. Such adjustment shall be made as soon as practicable after all the cotton produced on the farm in 1938 has been harvested and satisfactory records pertaining thereto have been presented or are available; however, one such adjustment with respect to any such farm may be made earlier if requested by the operator of such farm and deemed by the county committee, on the basis of the amount of cotton produced on the farm in 1938 that has been harvested at the time of the request, to be justifiable. [Sec. 346 (a).]

SEC. 202. Publication of farm acreage allotments and farm marketing quotas.—(a) Immediately upon the establishment of farm acreage allotments and the determination of normal yields per acre of lint cotton for farms in a county or other local administrative area, the county committee shall prepare a list on form Cotton 210 showing the calendar year for which the farm acreage allotments are made and the marketing year for which the farm marketing quotas shown are in effect and giving for each farm for which a farm acreage allotment is established (1) the farm acreage allotment, (2) the normal yield per acre of lint cotton, (3) the farm marketing quota (for the purpose of publishing farm marketing quotas, the farm marketing quota for each farm shall be expressed in terms of the normal production of the farm acreage allotment), (4) the name of the owner or operator and the legal description or location of the farm or the name by which it is commonly known, and (5) the farm serial number.

(b) A copy of the list prepared pursuant to subsection (a) shall be permanently kept freely available for public inspection in the office of the county committee and a copy of it shall be posted for not less than thirty days in a conspicuous place in the county (or in each local administrative area in the county if the county is divided into two or more local administrative areas for the purposes of the cotton marketing quota provisions of the Act). Another copy of such list shall be furnished to the county agricultural extension agent in the county, who shall keep the list permanently available for public inspection in his office. Each such list or copy shall be plainly marked on the front page "Property of the Government of the United States—must not be removed, taken, carried away, mutilated, altered, destroyed, or concealed." [Sec. 362.]

SEC. 203. Notice of farm marketing quotas.—(a) Immediately upon the establishment of farm acreage allotments and the determination of the normal yield per acre of lint cotton for farms in a county or other local administrative area, the county committee shall cause to be mailed to the operator of each farm for which such a farm acreage allotment is established a written notice on form Cotton 209 of the farm marketing quota for the farm. The notice shall contain at or near the top thereof the following statement: "To all persons who as operator, landlord, tenant, or sharecropper, are interested in the farm for which this quota is established". Notice so given shall constitute notice to all such persons. The notice shall contain the information required by section 202 to be contained in the list of farm acreage allotments and farm marketing quotas for publication, together with a brief statement that the amount of the farm marketing quota for the farm is the number of pounds of lint cotton equal to the amount of the normal production of the farm acreage allotment plus the amount, if any, of the cotton from any previous crop which the farmer has on hand and the amount, if any, by which the actual production of the farm acreage allotment exceeds the normal production thereof. The notice shall contain also on the face or back thereof a statement of the procedure whereby application for review of the quota may be made under Section 363 of the Act.

(b) A copy of each notice required pursuant to subsection (a), containing a notation thereon of the date of mailing the notice to the operator of the farm, shall be kept among the records of the county committee, and upon request a copy thereof, duly certified as true and correct, shall be furnished without charge to any person who as operator, landlord, tenant, or sharecropper is interested in the cotton produced in 1938 on the farm with respect to which the quota is established. [Sec. 362.]

SEC. 204. Apportionment of farm marketing quotas for farms planting within acreage allotments.—(a) If the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on any farm does not exceed the farm acreage allotment for the farm, each producer shall be entitled to a share of the farm marketing quota equal to the amount of his share in the cotton produced thereon in 1938 plus the amount of cotton from any previous crop which he has on hand.

(b) In case a producer is engaged in 1938 in the production of cotton on more than one farm in a county and the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on one or more but not all of such farms is in excess of the farm acreage allotment therefor, and a red marketing card (form Cotton 212) is to be issued under section 403 to such producer, the county committee shall, in accordance with the procedure prescribed in section 205, determine the share of such producer in the farm marketing quota (which share is hereinafter referred to as "producer marketing quota") for such farm or farms on which the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 is not in excess of the farm acreage allotment therefor.

SEC. 205. Apportionment of farm marketing quotas for farms planting in excess of acreage allotments.—If the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on any farm is in excess of the farm acreage allotment for the farm, the county committee shall apportion to each producer on the farm (where there is only one producer who shares in the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on the farm he shall receive the whole of the farm marketing quota) a share of the farm marketing quota (such share being hereinafter referred to as "producer marketing quota"), exclusive of cotton from any previous crop on hand, in accordance with the following:

1. The producer marketing quota for each producer shall first be determined, as soon as practicable after measurements with respect to the farm have been made as set forth in section 301, to be an amount of lint cotton equal to that percentage of the normal production of the farm acreage allotment for the farm which the normal production in 1938 of such producer's share of the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on the farm is of the normal production in 1938 of the total acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on the farm. The normal production in 1938 of any such producer's share of the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on the farm shall be the normal yield per acre of lint cotton for the farm times such number of acres.

2. If the farm marketing quota is adjusted as set forth in paragraph 2 of section 201 (b), relating to adjustments for actual production, or if the actual production of the acreage planted to cotton on the farm in 1938 is in excess of the normal production of the farm acreage allotment for the farm, the county committee shall adjust the producer marketing quota or quotas determined pursuant to paragraph 1 of this section so that the producer marketing quota for each producer shall be that amount of lint cotton equal to that percentage of the farm marketing quota as adjusted which the actual production in 1938 of such producer's share of the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on the farm is of the actual production in 1938 of the total acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on the farm. In making adjustments in producer marketing quotas before all cotton on the farm has been harvested, the county committee shall adjust them so that the producer marketing quota for each producer shall be that amount of lint cotton equal to that percentage of the farm marketing quota as adjusted which the normal production in 1938 of such producer's share of the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 is of the normal production in 1938 of the total acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on the farm. In making adjustments under this paragraph, no producer on the farm who produces in 1938 more than the amount of the producer marketing quota previously apportioned to him shall have such producer marketing quota reduced and such part of the producer marketing quota of any producer on the farm as is in excess of his actual production in 1938 on the farm shall, in cases where more than one producer shares in the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on the farm, be reapportioned to the other producer or producers on the farm.

3. If one or more of the producers on a farm complains in writing to the county committee that the apportionment of the farm marketing quota to producers as originally determined under paragraph 1 or as adjusted under paragraph 2 is not fair and equitable because of variations in productivity, the acreage planted to cotton by each producer, crop failure, or other cause and the county committee has good ground to believe that any complaint so made is well-founded, it shall review the apportionment made under paragraph 1 or paragraph 2, as the case may be, and, if it finds that such apportionment is not fair and equitable, shall reapportion the farm marketing quota among the various producers on the farm in a manner which, in view of all the facts adduced, is fair and equitable to all producers on the farm.

4. If the actual production of the acreage planted to cotton on the farm in 1938 is not in excess of the normal production of the farm acreage allotment for the farm and the county committee finds that the producer marketing quota for any producer with respect to such farm is in excess of the amount of his share in the actual production in 1938 thereon, that portion of his producer marketing quota which is in excess of his share in the actual production in 1938 on such farm shall, in cases where more than one producer shares in the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on the farm, forthwith be treated as an undistributed part of the farm marketing quota for such farm and shall be reapportioned by the county committee, in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this section, to the producer or other producers on the farm whose production is in excess of their respective producer marketing quotas. Not more than one such reapportionment with respect to any farm shall be made during the marketing year unless the county committee determines that more than one such reapportionment is necessary to assure a fair and equitable apportionment of the farm marketing quota among the producers thereon.

5. There shall be added to and made a part of any producer marketing quota, as determined in accordance with this section or section 204 (b), the amount of cotton from any previous crop which the county committee determines, in accordance with applicable instructions, that the producer has on hand at the time of the determination.

6. The producer marketing quota or the sum of all the producer marketing quotas with respect to any farm shall not exceed the sum of (1) the normal production of the farm acreage allotment or the actual production of the farm acreage allotment, as provided for in section 201 (b), and (2) the amount of cotton from any previous crop which the producer or producers on the farm have on hand.

SEC. 206. Successors in interest.—Any person who succeeds to the interest of a producer in a farm or in a cotton crop or cotton with respect to which a farm marketing quota has been established shall, to the same extent as his predecessor, be entitled to all the rights and privileges incident to such marketing quota and be subject to the restrictions on the marketing of cotton.

SEC. 207. Transfer of farm marketing quotas.—A farm marketing quota is established with respect to a farm and may not be assigned or otherwise transferred in whole or in part to any other farm. A producer marketing quota may not be assigned or otherwise transferred in whole or in part, except that it may be reapportioned among producers on a farm as set forth in these regulations.

SEC. 208. Review of quotas.—(a) Any producer who is dissatisfied with the farm marketing quota established for his farm may, by making application within 15 days after the mailing to him of the notice provided for in section 203, have such quota reviewed by a local review committee composed of three farmers appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture. Unless such application is made within such 15 days the original determination of the farm marketing quota shall be final. All applications for review shall be made in accordance with regulations issued by the Secretary of Agriculture. [Sec. 363 and 364.]

(b) If the producer is dissatisfied with the determination of the review committee he may, within 15 days after notice thereof is mailed to him by registered mail, file a bill in equity against the review committee to have the determination of the review committee reviewed by a court in accordance with Section 365 of the Act. [Sec. 365.]

SEC. 209. Marketing quotas in effect.—Marketing quotas shall be in effect during the marketing year with respect to the marketing of cotton. Cotton produced in the calendar year 1938 shall be subject to the quotas in effect notwithstanding that it may be marketed prior to August 1, 1938. [Sec. 345.]

PART III. MEASUREMENT OF FARMS

SECTION 301. Provision for measuring farms.—The county committee shall provide for measuring each farm in the county for which a farm acreage allotment was established for the purpose of ascertaining whether the acreage planted thereon to cotton in 1938 is in excess of the farm acreage allotment therefor. The measuring of any farm shall be done in accordance with the established procedure used by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. [Sec. 374.]

SEC. 302. Report of measurements.—A record of the result of the measurements made as provided for in section 301 shall be kept by the county committee. In the case of farms on which the acreage planted in cotton in 1938 is in excess of the farm acreage allotment, the county committee shall file promptly with the State committee a written report on form Cotton 218 stating for each such farm (1) the farm serial number, (2) the name of the operator, (3) the total acreage in cultivation in 1938, (4) the farm acreage allotment, (5) the acreage planted to cotton in 1938, and (6) the name of each person having an interest in the cotton crop produced thereon in 1938 or in the proceeds thereof. [Sec. 374.]

PART IV. MARKETING CARDS, MARKETING CERTIFICATES, AND IDENTIFICATION OF COTTON

SECTION 401. Issuing marketing cards for farms planting withing acreage allotments.—(a) As soon as practicable after it has been determined as set forth in section 301 that the acreage planted to cotton on any farm in 1938 does not exceed the farm acreage allotment for the farm, the county committee shall, except as provided for in subsection (b), issue a white marketing card (form Cotton 211) to the operator and, unless the county committee finds that it will not serve a useful purpose, to other producers on the farm, as evidence that such operator and all other producers on the farm may market without penalty all cotton produced on such farm in 1938 and the amount of cotton from any previous crop which they have on hand. Such marketing card shall show (1) the name and address of the operator, (2) the State and county code number and serial number of the farm, (3) the signature of a number of the county committee signing for the county committee, and (4) the countersignature of the operator or other producer to whom the card is issued, or his duly authorized agent.

(b) A marketing card shall not be issued under this section to any operator or producer who is engaged in the production of cotton on more than one farm in a county if the acreage planted to cotton on any of such farms in 1938 is in excess of the farm acreage allotment therefor.

(c) If the county committee finds that cotton from seed of a pure strain of Sea Island or American-Egyptian cotton that normally produces a staple of 1 1/2 inches or more in length in districts where it is commonly grown is the only cotton being produced in 1938 on a farm located in a district where such cotton is commonly grown and determines as provided for in paragraph 5 of section 205 that the producer of such cotton has on hand any cotton that was produced in a prior year, the county committee shall issue him a white marketing card (form Cotton 211) as evidence that such producer is entitled to market without penalty all cotton from any previous crop which he has on hand. A marketing card issued under this subsection shall bear evidence and show information comparable to that provided to be shown on a marketing card issued under subsection (a), except that the expression "carry-over" shall be endorsed in bold characters across its face.

(d) In any case where a white marketing card (form Cotton 211) has been issued to a producer, the county committee may furnish such producer a form of certificate, form Cotton 211–A, to be used by such producer only in the marketing of cotton by telephone, telegraph, or mail or by any means or method other than directly to and in the presence of a buyer or transferee as evidence of the fact that the county committee has issued to such producer a white marketing card (form Cotton 211).

SEC. 402. Issuing marketing cards for farms planting in excess of acreage allotments.—(a) As soon as practicable after it has been determined as set forth in section 301 that the acreage planted to cotton on any farm in 1938 exceeds the farm acreage allotment for the farm, the county committee shall (except as otherwise provided for in subsection (b) of this section) issue a red marketing card (form Cotton 212) to each producer on the farm as evidence that the producer to whom the card is issued is entitled to market without penalty the amount of the cotton entered on such card, provided such cotton is produced by or for him on such farm in 1938 or is cotton from any previous crop which he has on hand. Such marketing card shall show (1) the name and address of the operator, (2) the State and county code number and serial number of the farm, (3) the signature of a member of the county committee signing for the county committee, (4) the countersignature of the operator or other producer to whom the card is issued, or his duly authorized agent, and (5) the amount of the producer marketing quota for the producer determined as provided for in section 205 or the amount of the farm marketing quota if the card is issued to the operator as provided for in subsection (b). The farm marketing quota or the total of all producer marketing quotas with respect to any farm as evidenced by a marketing card, or marketing cards, issued under this subsection or subsection (b), as the case may be, shall not be greater than the normal production of the farm acreage allotment for the farm plus the amount of cotton from any previous crop which the producer or producers on the farm have on hand. In entering the amount of the producer marketing quota or the farm marketing quota, as the case may be, on a red marketing card (form Cotton 212) there shall be entered, in addition to that portion of the farm marketing quota or producer marketing quota to which the producer or producers to or for whom the card is issued are entitled with respect to the 1938 cotton crop, the amount of cotton from any previous crop which he or they, as the case may be, have on hand, determined as provided for in paragraph 5 of section 205, less the amount of any such cotton which is pledged as security for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan. If such a producer desires to market any such cotton so pledged, the county committee shall, upon his request, issue to him a red marketing card (form Cotton 212) for the amount of such cotton which he desires to market.

(b) In cases where more than one producer shares in the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on a farm, if all producers on the farm agree in writing, on form Cotton 212A, a red marketing card (form Cotton 212) showing the entire farm marketing quota for the farm shall be issued to the operator, but the operator shall nevertheless make available to each producer on the farm the amount of the producer marketing quota to which each such producer is entitled under section 205. Such operator shall report to the county committee, as provided for in section 603 (b), the distribution of the farm marketing quota among the producers on the farm.

(c) The county committee shall issue a red marketing card (form Cotton 212) to each producer on the farm for his proportionate share, if any, determined as provided for in paragraph 2 of section 205, of any increase, or a red marketing card (form Cotton 212) for the entire amount of any increase shall be issued to the operator as provided for in subsection (b), as evidence that such producer or producers may market without penalty the amount of any cotton produced by or for him or them on such farm in 1938 entered on such card or cards. A marketing card issued under this subsection shall bear evidence and show information comparable to that provided to be shown on the marketing card originally issued to the producer, except that the letters "XX" shall be placed before the State and county code number preceding the serial number of the farm, and the information shown with respect to the amount of the farm marketing quota shall be only the amount of the increase in the farm marketing quota for the farm if the card is issued to the operator under subsection (b), or the amount of the producer's share in the increase in the farm marketing quota for the farm if a card is issued to each producer on the farm. The farm marketing quota or the total of all producer marketing quotas with respect to any farm as evidenced by marketing cards issued shall not be greater than the amount of the farm marketing quota for the farm determined as provided for in section 201 (b).

(d) If the county committee has made an estimate that the actual production of the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on the farm will not exceed the normal production of the farm acreage allotment for the farm or has made an estimate of the amount of cotton to be produced on a farm in 1938 in excess of the farm marketing quota for the farm and the payment of the estimated penalty with respect to the marketing of such cotton has been secured, as provided for in section 507, it may issue a white marketing card (form Cotton 211) to the operator of such farm and, unless the county committee finds that it will not serve a useful purpose, to other producers on the farm as evidence that such operator and other producers on the farm may market all cotton produced on the farm in 1938 and cotton from any previous crop which they have on hand without paying the penalty at the time of marketing. A marketing card issued under this subsection shall bear evidence and show information comparable to that provided to be shown on a marketing card issued under section 401 (a), except that the words "Penalty Secured" shall be endorsed in bold characters across its face. The county committee shall not issue a white marketing card (form Cotton 211) under this subsection if the estimated penalty is to be secured by funds tendered in the form of a check, draft, or money order unless and until the treasurer of the county committee notifies such committee that such check, draft, or money order has been collected and the proceeds thereof are held in the special deposit account provided for in section 510, nor shall such committee issue a marketing card under this subsection to a producer or producers to whom a marketing card or cards has or have been previously issued until such card or cards previously issued has or have been returned to and canceled by such committee by endorsing thereon in bold letters the notation "Canceled—Sec. 402 (d)". Any marketing card issued under this subsection shall be issued upon condition that any producer to or for whom it is issued shall nevertheless be subject to the penalty referred to in section 501 with respect to the marketing of cotton in excess of the farm marketing quota for the farm.

(e) The county committee may, upon request, issue to any producer on a farm on which the acreage planted to cotton in 1932 exceeds the farm acreage allotment for such farm a white marketing card (form Cotton 211) as evidence of the fact that, notwithstanding the amount of the marketing quota for the farm, there may be marketed, without regard to the manner prescribed in Part V for the payment, collection, and remittance of penalties, the entire amount of the cotton produced on the farm in 1938 plus the amount of cotton from any previous crop which the producers on such farm have on hand, if the county committee finds (1) that the actual production on the entire farm in 1938 does not exceed one thousand pounds of lint cotton or (2) that the estimated production on the entire farm in 1938 does not exceed one thousand pounds of lint cotton and (3) that any marketing card or cards previously issued with respect to such farm have been returned to and canceled by such committee by endorsing thereon in bold letters the notation "Canceled—Sec. 402 (e)". A marketing card issued under this subsection shall bear evidence and show information comparable to that provided to be shown on a marketing card issued under section 401 (a), except that the words "One Thousand Pounds" shall be endorsed in bold characters across its face. Any marketing card issued under this subsection shall be issued upon condition that any producer to or for whom it is issued shall nevertheless be subject to the penalty referred to in section 501 with respect to the marketing of cotton in excess of the farm marketing quota for the farm if the total production in 1938 of the farm exceeds one thousand pounds of lint cotton.

SEC. 403. Issuing marketing cards for multiple farms.—(a) In case a producer is engaged in 1938 in the production of cotton on more than one farm in a county and the acreage planted to cotton on each of such farms does not exceed the farm acreage allotment therefor, separate white marketing cards (form Cotton 211) shall be issued by the county committee with respect to each of such farms in accordance with the provisions of section 401.

(b) In case a producer is engaged in 1938 in the production of cotton on more than one farm in a county and the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on each of such farms is in excess of the farm acreage allotment therefor, separate red marketing cards (form Cotton 212) shall be issued by the county committee with respect to each of such farms in accordance with the provisions of section 402.

(c) In case a producer is engaged in 1938 in the production of cotton on more than one farm in a county and the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on one or more but not all of such farms is in excess of the farm acreage allotment therefor and a marketing card is issued to such producer by the county committee with respect to any such farm on which the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 does not exceed the farm acreage allotment therefor, a red marketing card (form Cotton 212) shall be issued to such producer by the county committee in accordance with the provisions of section 402 for the amount of the producer marketing quota apportioned to such producer with respect to each such farm as provided for in section 204 (b). In case a red marketing card (form Cotton 212) is so issued, the county committee shall nevertheless issue a white marketing card (form Cotton 211) under section 401 (a) to or for all other producers on each such farm on which the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 does not exceed the farm acreage allotment therefor.

SEC. 404. Issuing marketing certificates.—(a) If the county committee finds that cotton from seed of a pure strain of Sea Island or American-Egyptian cotton that normally produces a staple of 1 1/2 inches or more in length in districts where it is commonly grown is being produced in 1938 on a farm in such a district, it shall issue a "Sea Island or American-Egyptian Cotton Marketing Certificate" on form Cotton 214 to each producer of such cotton as evidence that such producer is entitled to market without penalty all such cotton.

(b) Upon request of a responsible executive officer of any publicly-owned agricultural experiment station, the State committee shall issue to such experiment station, with respect to cotton which is grown solely for experimental purposes, a certificate, signed by the chairman or the secretary of such committee, evidencing the fact that the marketing of such cotton, as provided for in section 372 (d) of the Act, is not subject to the penalty. Such request shall be made in writing and shall show: (1) the name and address of the experiment station, (2) the location of the land on which such cotton was or is being produced, and (3) the number of acres planted to cotton on such experiment station in 1938 solely for experimental purposes.

SEC. 405. Reissuing marketing cards.—(a) In the event a portion or all of a producer marketing quota is reapportioned, as provided for in paragraph 2 or paragraph 4 of section 205, the county committee shall deduct the portion reapportioned from such producer marketing quota as shown on the marketing card by entering on such marketing card the amount deducted and the amount remaining of such producer marketing quota with the signature or initials of a member of the county committee signing next to the entry for the committee. Any marketing card issued to any producer shall be returned by such producer to the county committee at the time the amount of his producer marketing quota is reapportioned. In the event any producer fails or refuses, after being duly requested in writing to do so, to deliver to the county committee, within ten calendar days after the date of the request, any marketing card issued with respect to any producer marketing quota a portion or all of which has been reapportioned, the county committee shall forthwith cancel such marketing card by giving notice to such producer that such marketing card is void and of no effect by depositing written notice to such effect in the United States mails, registered and addressed to such producer at his last-known address. A copy of such notice, containing a notation thereon of the date of mailing, shall be kept among the records of the county committee. Such committee shall immediately notify the ginners and buyers in the county that the marketing card has been canceled. Such committee shall also notify the county committee of each adjoining county, which shall in turn notify the ginners and buyers in such county.

(b) After the county committee has reapportioned a portion or all of a producer marketing quota, as provided for in paragraph 2 or paragraph 4 of section 205, in cases where the farm marketing quota is not increased as provided for in section 201 (b), it shall issue to each producer who has received a portion of the amount of the quota reapportioned a red marketing card (form Cotton 212) for the additional amount so reapportioned. The word "Reissue" shall be endorsed in bold characters across the face of marketing cards issued under this section and such cards shall bear evidence and show information comparable with that provided to be shown in marketing cards issued under section 402 (a).

SEC. 406. Lost, destroyed, or stolen marketing cards.—(a) In case any marketing card issued to a producer is lost, destroyed, or stolen, any person having knowledge of such loss, destruction, or theft, shall, insofar as he be able, immediately notify the county committee of (1) the name of the operator of the farm with respect to which such marketing card was issued, (2) the name of the producer to whom the marketing card was issued, if someone other than the operator, (3) the serial number of the marketing card, (4) the color of the marketing card, and (5) whether in his judgment it was lost, destroyed, or stolen and by whom.

(b) The county committee shall make or cause to be made a thorough investigation of the circumstances of such loss, destruction, or theft. If, after such investigation, the county committee finds that such marketing card was in fact lost, destroyed, or stolen, it shall cancel such card by giving notice to the producer to whom the card was issued that such card is void and of no effect by depositing a written notice to that effect in the United States mail, addressed to such producer at his last-known address, and if it also finds that there has been no collusion or connivance in connection therewith on the part of the producer to or for whom it was issued, it shall issue to or for such producer a duplicate marketing card of the same color and bearing the same name, information, and identification as the lost, destroyed, or stolen marketing card. However, if the card lost, destroyed, or stolen was a red marketing card (form Cotton 212), such committee shall, after determining the amount of cotton marketed without penalty by or for the producer or producers to or for whom the card was issued, enter on the duplicate card issued, in addition to the amount of the farm marketing quota or the producer marketing quota, as the case may be, entered on the lost, destroyed, or stolen card, a deduction for the amount of the cotton which it determines has been so marketed without penalty. Each marketing card issued under this section shall bear across its face in bold characters the word "Duplicate". In case a marketing card is canceled as provided for in this section the county committee shall immediately notify the ginners and buyers in the county that the marketing card has been canceled and a duplicate has been issued. Such committee shall also notify the county committee of each adjoining county, which shall in turn notify the ginners and buyers in its county. Any ginner or buyer or any other person coming into possession of a canceled marketing card shall immediately return it to the county committee which issued it.

SEC. 407. Color of marketing cards.—The color of marketing cards (form Cotton 211) issued as provided for in sections 401, 402 (d), 402 (e), and 403 (a) shall be white and the color of marketing cards (form Cotton 212) issued as provided for in sections 402 (a), 402 (b), 402 (c), 403 (b), 403 (c), and 405 shall be red.

SEC. 408. Identification of cotton.—(a) Each buyer or transferee who buys or receives cotton during the marketing year, or prior to the beginning of the marketing year if the cotton was produced in the calendar year 1938, shall, unless it is identified by the producer as provided in these regulations, deem it to be subject to the penalty provided for in section 348 of the Act.

(b) A white marketing card (form Cotton 211), issued under sections 401, 402 (d), 402 (e), 403 (a), or 406, shall be used to identify cotton with respect to which it was issued as—

(1) Cotton which is not subject to the penalty provided for in section 348 of the Act;

(2) Cotton with respect to the marketing of which it has been estimated that the penalty will not be due or with respect to which a bond has been executed or money has been placed in escrow as provided for in section 507;

(3) Cotton with respect to the marketing of which the penalty, if any, will not be paid until it is determined whether the total production in 1938 of lint cotton on the farm on which it was produced exceeds 1,000 pounds.

If such cotton marketed directly to and in the presence of the buyer or transferee, the producer shall identify the cotton by showing his marketing card to the buyer or transferee. If the marketing of such cotton is effected by telephone, telegraph, or mail, or by any means or method other than directly to and in the presence of the buyer or transferee, the producer shall identify such cotton by delivering to the buyer or transferee a certificate properly executed in duplicate on form Cotton 211–A as evidence that the county committee has issued a white marketing card (form Cotton 211) to such producer.

(c) A red marketing card (form Cotton 212), issued under sections 402 (a), 402 (b), 402 (c), 403 (b), 403 (c), 405, or 406, accompanied by an applicable certified statement properly executed on form Cotton 213 shall be used to identify cotton with respect to which it was issued as—

(1) Cotton, the marketing of which is not subject to the penalty provided for in section 348 of the Act, if the total amounts of lint cotton entered on form Cotton 213, as provided for in part VI, as having been marketed under such card plus the amount of lint cotton being marketed, is not greater than the farm marketing quota or producer marketing quota, as the case may be, shown on such card;

(2) Cotton, the marketing of which is subject to the penalty provided for in section 348 of the Act, if the total amounts of lint cotton entered on forms Cotton 213, as provided for in part VI, as having been marketed under such card, is equal to or greater than the farm marketing quota or producer marketing quota, as the case may be, shown on such card;

(3) Cotton, the marketing of that amount of which is subject to the penalty provided for in section 348 of the Act, if the amount being marketed, together with the total amount of lint cotton, if any, entered on forms Cotton 213, as provided for in part VI, as having been marketed under such card, is in excess of the farm marketing quota or producer marketing quota, as the case may be, shown on such card.

If such cotton is marketed directly to and in the presence of the buyer or transferee, the producer shall identify such cotton by showing his marketing card and by delivering to the buyer or transferee an applicable certified statement properly executed on form Cotton 213. If the marketing of such cotton is effected by telephone, telegraph, or mail, or any means or method other than directly to and in the presence of the buyer or transferee, the producer shall identify such cotton by delivering to the buyer or transferee an applicable certified statement properly executed on form Cotton 213.

(d) A certificate issued on form Cotton 214 (Sea Island or American-Egyptian Cotton Marketing Certificate), as provided for in section 404, shall be used to identify cotton with respect to which it is issued as cotton the staple of which is 1½ inches or more in length and the marketing of which is not subject to the penalty provided for in section 348 of the Act. If such cotton is marketed directly to and in the presence of the buyer or transferee, the producer shall identify such cotton by showing his marketing certificate (form Cotton 214) to the buyer or transferee. If the marketing of such cotton is effected by telephone, telegraph, or mail, or by any means or method other than directly to or in the presence of the buyer or transferee, the producer shall deliver to the buyer or transferee a certificate in duplicate on form Cotton 211–A properly executed as evidence that the county committee has issued a certificate on form Cotton 214 to such producer.

(e) A certificate issued with respect to publicly-owned agricultural experiment stations, as provided for in section 404 (b), shall be presented by the producer to the buyer or transferee at the time the cotton is marketed, for the purpose of identifying the cotton with respect to which it is issued as cotton grown solely for experimental purposes by a publicly-owned agricultural experiment station and the marketing of which is not subject to the penalty provided for in section 348 of the Act.

(f) A certificate on form Cotton 221 by a Federally-licensed cotton classifier that the staple of cotton covered by such certificate is 1½ inches or more in length shall, if presented by the producer to the buyer or transferee at the time of marketing, be used to identify such cotton as not subject to the penalty provided for in section 348 of the Act. [Sec. 375 (a) and (b).]

PART V. PENALTIES

SECTION 501. General.—Any producer who, while farm marketing quotas with respect to the marketing of cotton are in effect, markets cotton subject to such quotas in excess of the farm marketing quota for the farm on which such cotton was produced shall, as provided for in section 348 of the Act, be subject to a penalty of two cents per pound with respect to the excess so marketed (hereinafter referred to as "the penalty"). Any producer shall be presumed to have marketed cotton in excess of the farm marketing quota for the farm on which such cotton was produced if he markets cotton in excess of the amount of the farm marketing quota or the producer marketing quota to which he is entitled under the terms of these regulations as evidenced by the marketing card issued to or for him in accordance with these regulations. [Sec. 348.]

SEC. 502. Farms producing less than 1,000 pounds of lint cotton.—As provided for in section 346 (b) of the Act, the penalty shall not apply to the marketing of cotton in excess of the farm marketing quota for a farm for which a farm acreage allotment was established if the total production of lint cotton thereon in 1938 does not exceed 1,000 pounds. [Sec. 346 (b).]

SEC. 503. Long staple cotton.—(a) As provided for in section 350 of the Act, the penalty shall not apply to the marketing of cotton the staple of which is 1½ inches or more in length. [Sec. 350.]

(b) Cotton produced from a pure strain of Sea Island or American-Egyptian cotton which normally produces a staple of 1½ inches or more in length shall be deemed to be cotton the staple of which is 1½ inches or more in length provided a "Sea Island or American-Egyptian Marketing Certificate", form Cotton 214, with respect thereto has been issued under section 404 and provided further that such cotton is being produced in a district where it is commonly grown.

(c) Any other cotton shall be deemed to be cotton the staple of which is less than 1½ inches in length unless the producer thereof obtains a certification by a Federally-licensed cotton classifier that such cotton has a staple of 1½ inches or more in length. Such certification shall be made in triplicate on form Cotton 221.

SEC. 504. Cotton marketed by publicly-owned agricultural experiment stations.—Except as set forth in sections 502 and 503, the penalty shall apply to any cotton grown by any publicly-owned agricultural experiment station which is not grown solely for experimental purposes. The penalty shall not apply to the marketing of any cotton grown for experimental purposes only by any publicly-owned agricultural experiment station. [Sec. 372 (d).]

SEC. 505. Payment and collection of penalties.—(a) The penalty shall be due at the time the cotton is marketed by sale, barter, or exchange. Cotton shall be deemed to be sold when either title to or actual or constructive possession of the cotton is delivered by or on behalf of the producer or any part of the purchase price is paid. Cotton shall be deemed to have been marketed by barter or exchange when it is delivered to the transferee of the cotton by actual or constructive delivery or the transferor has received any part of the property, goods, or services for which the cotton is being bartered or exchanged. The penalty with respect to the marketing of cotton by sale to any person within the United States shall be collected by the buyer at the time of sale. The penalty with respect to the marketing of cotton by barter or exchange or by sale to any person not within the United States shall be paid by the producer liable for the penalty and may be collected by the person to whom such cotton is transferred, in the case of an exchange or barter, if the producer and the transferee of such cotton agree, as evidenced by the form Cotton 213 covering the transaction, that the penalty shall be collected by the transferee as in the case of the marketing of cotton by sale to any person within the United States. The penalty, if any, due with respect to the marketing of any cotton produced on any farm with respect to which a white marketing card (form Cotton 211) is issued shall not be collected by the buyer or transferee of such cotton but shall be paid by the producer who marketed such cotton.

(b) Any producer who would be liable for the penalty upon the marketing of any cotton produced by or for him may nevertheless pay such penalty prior to the time such cotton is marketed and the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which such cotton was produced shall receive the penalty as in the case of other penalties.

(c) The penalty may be collected by a buyer by deducting from the purchase price of the cotton the amount of the penalty due with respect to the marketing of such cotton.

(d) Any buyer or transferee of cotton who, as provided for in subsection (a), collects the penalty with respect to the marketing of cotton shall issue to the producer who paid the penalty a receipt. [Sec. 372.]

SEC. 506. Remittance of penalties.—(a) The penalty shall be remitted not later than thirty calendar days next succeeding the day on which the cotton was marketed by the producer. For and on behalf of the Secretary of Agriculture, the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which the farm on which the cotton was produced is located shall receive the penalty and issue to the person remitting the penalty a receipt therefor on form Cotton 219 or form Cotton 219–A.

(b) The penalty shall be remitted only in legal tender or by draft, check, or money order drawn payable to the order of the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which the farm on which the cotton was produced is located. All checks, drafts, or money orders tendered in payment of the penalty shall be received by the treasurer of the county committee subject to collection and payment at par, and any receipt issued in connection therewith as provided for in subsection (a) shall bear a notation to that effect and a description of the check, draft, or money order.

(c) The penalty collected by the buyer or transferee as provided for in section 505 shall be accompanied at the time it is remitted by a copy of the receipt issued by such buyer or transferee to the producer from whom the penalty was collected. [Sec. 372.]

SEC. 507. Penalties secured by bonds or money held in escrow.—(a) In cases where the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on any farm is in excess of the farm acreage allotment for the farm, the county committee, upon request of the owner or operator of such farm, may estimate the amount of the penalty which may become due with respect to the marketing of cotton produced on such farm in 1938 in excess of the farm marketing quota for the farm and the penalty, if any, with respect to the marketing of such cotton may be paid as provided for in subsection (d), provided, that either (1) a good and sufficient bond of indemnity on form Cotton 215 is executed and filed with the treasurer of the county committee in an amount equal to not less than the amount of the estimated penalty for which the producers having an interest in the cotton crop produced on the farm would otherwise be liable upon the marketing of the cotton estimated to be produced in excess of the farm marketing quota or (2) an amount of money not less than the amount of such estimated penalty is deposited with the treasurer of the county committee to be held in escrow by him to secure the payment of any penalty which might accrue, or (3) it is estimated that the penalty will not be due with respect to the marketing of cotton produced on such farm in 1938 because it is estimated that the actual production of the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on the farm will not exceed the normal production of the farm acreage allotment for the farm.

(b) Any bond pursuant to subsection (a) shall be made on form Cotton 215 and executed as principal by the owner or operator of the farm for and on behalf of each producer having an interest in the cotton crop or proceeds thereof produced in 1938 on such farm and as sureties by two owners of real property (other than such owner or operator or producer) situated within the county and shall contain the condition that so much of the principal sum of such bond as is equal to the penalty incurred shall be forthwith paid to the Secretary of Agriculture upon proof that the penalty secured thereby or any part or amount thereof has not been paid as provided for in subsection (d). The county committee shall examine the bond and, if it finds such bond to be good and sufficient and in proper form, the same shall be marked "Approved" and signed by a member of the committee acting for the committee and the bond shall be delivered to the treasurer of the county committee for safe-keeping. Any funds delivered to the treasurer of the county committee to be held by him in escrow to secure the payment of the penalty shall be only in legal tender or in the form of a check, draft, or money order drawn payable to the order of the treasurer of the county committee and shall be deposited by him in a special deposit account as provided for in section 510. The treasurer shall issue a receipt for such funds to the person who tenders them to be held in escrow. Such funds shall be received subject to payment and collection at par, and the provisions of subsection (a) shall not be operative in favor of any producer unless and until such check, draft, or money order tendered by him has been collected at par and the proceeds thereof are held in such special deposit account.

(c) In estimating the production of cotton for any farm under the terms of this section, the county committee shall take into consideration the appraised yield of the cotton crop and the number of acres planted to cotton on the farm. Such estimate shall be made after bolls are formed on the cotton plants with respect to which the estimate is made. The number of pounds of lint cotton estimated to be produced on the farm in excess of the farm marketing quota shall be the amount by which the total estimated production of lint cotton in 1938 on the farm is in excess of the normal production of the farm acreage allotment established for the farm. Any bond or funds to be held in escrow pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this section shall be in an amount not less than the amount determined by multiplying two cents by the number of pounds so estimated to be produced in excess of the farm marketing quota.

(d) The owner or operator of a farm who has furnished bond or placed funds in escrow or the owner or operator of a farm with respect to which it was estimated that the actual production of the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on the farm would not exceed the normal production of the farm acreage allotment for the farm, as provided for in this section, shall file a report with the county committee, as provided in section 603 (b), for and on behalf of every producer having an interest in the cotton crop produced on such farm in 1938 or in the proceeds thereof. The report shall be in writing on form Cotton 217 and certified to be true and correct by the owner or operator, as the case may be, and shall show the amount of the penalty, if any, due with respect to the marketing of cotton in excess of the farm marketing quota for the farm. If the county committee finds such report to be true and accurate and in proper form, the same shall be marked "Approved" and signed by a member of the committee acting for the committee, and the report shall be delivered to the treasurer of the county committee. The amount of the penalty set forth in the report as approved by the county committee shall forthwith be paid to the treasurer of the county committee. If funds are held in escrow to secure payment of the penalty, the penalty shall be paid by the use of such funds or, in the event such funds are not sufficient to cover the amount of the penalty incurred, the producer or producers who incurred the penalty shall pay a sufficient additional amount. Any part of the funds held in escrow which is in excess of the amount of the penalty set forth in the report as approved by the county committee, shall be returned by the treasurer of the county committee to the owner or operator, as the case may be, against his receipt.

(e) If a producer is engaged in the production of cotton on more than one farm in the county on which the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 is in excess of the farm acreage allotment therefor, the county committee shall not accept funds to be placed in escrow or a bond to secure payment of the penalty under the terms of this section from or on behalf of such producer for any one such farm unless such funds or bond is offered and accepted with respect to all such farms in the county on which such producer is so engaged in the production of cotton.

(f) The provisions of this section shall have no effect on the apportionment of the farm marketing quota for a farm among producers as provided for in section 205.

SEC. 508. Adjustment of penalties by county committees.— (a) Any farmer who has paid the penalty or a sum of money with respect to the marketing of cotton may request the county committee to review the amount so paid to determine whether the amount thereof is in excess of that due for any one or more of the following reasons:

1. The penalty or sum of money was paid with respect to the marketing of cotton produced on a farm on which the actual production of the farm acreage allotment for the farm is greater than the amount of the farm marketing quota for the farm as expressed in terms of the normal production of the farm acreage allotment for the farm;

2. The penalty or sum of money was paid with respect to the marketing of cotton produced on a farm for which the farm marketing quota was increased by a determination of a review committee appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture or as a result of a court review of the determination of the review committee;

3. The penalty or sum of money was paid with respect to the marketing of cotton produced on a farm on which the total amount of production in 1938 on the farm did not exceed 1,000 pounds of lint cotton;

4. The penalty or sum of money was paid with respect to the marketing of cotton the staple of which is 1½ inches or more in length;

5. The penalty or sum of money was paid with respect to the marketing of cotton grown solely for experimental purposes by a publicly-owned agricultural experiment station; or

6. The penalty or sum of money was paid through error.

(b) Any request for a review of the amount of the penalty or sum of money paid shall be made in writing and signed by the person claiming to have paid the penalty or sum in excess of that due. If the claim is made with respect to any of the matters set forth in subsection (a), the county committee and the treasurer of the county committee shall determine the total amount of the penalty due with respect to the marketing of cotton in excess of the farm marketing quota for the farm and, on the basis of the apportionment or reapportionment of the farm marketing quota for such farm among the producers having an interest in the cotton crop or proceeds thereof produced in 1938 on such farm, shall determine the total amount of the penalty paid and the total amount of the penalty incurred by the claimant and all other producers having an interest in the cotton crop produced in 1938 on such farm. If the county committee and the treasurer of the county committee find that the amount paid with respect to the farm is in excess of the total amount of the penalty incurred and that the sum paid by the claimant is in excess of the total amount of the penalty due to be paid by him, the treasurer of the county committee shall pay to the claimant, insofar as the sum in excess of the penalty due with respect to the farm and the amounts of such excess due other producers on the farm will permit, an amount not to exceed the sum paid by the claimant in excess of that due. If the county committee and the treasurer of the county committee find that the amount paid with respect to the farm is not in excess of the total amount of the penalty incurred, or that, if the amount paid with respect to the farm is in excess of the total amount of the penalty incurred, the amounts of such excess due other producers on the farm equals the total amount of such excess, the claim shall be disallowed and the claimant so notified in writing. Any determination made by the county committee and the treasurer of the county committee under the terms of this section shall not prejudice the right of any other person who has paid the penalty or a sum of money and who has an interest in the cotton crop produced on the farm with respect to which the determination was made to request the county committee and treasurer of the county committee to review the amount of the penalty or sum of money paid by him nor shall such determination prejudice the right of a claimant to file a claim with the Secretary of Agriculture in accordance with the procedure set forth in section 511. Any determination of the county committee and treasurer of the county committee under the terms of this section shall be made in writing and signed by at least one member of such committee and such treasurer and filed with such treasurer. The county committee shall conduct any investigation or hold any hearing it deems necessary for a proper settlement of a claim made pursuant to this section.

(c) If the county committee and the treasurer of the county committee upon their own motion determine that, for any reason which, under the terms of these regulations, such committee and treasurer consider to be good and sufficient, any sum of money paid as the penalty by a producer who has not made a request for a review as provided for in subsection (a) is in excess of the amount of the penalty due by such producer, the county committee and the treasurer of the county committee shall review such sum in accordance with the procedure set forth in subsection (b) and pay to such producer the amount so determined which may be refunded to him, obtain a receipt therefor, and make and file a record of the transaction.

(d) No refund of the penalty or sum of money paid shall be allowed under this section unless the penalty or sum of money has been remitted to the treasurer of the county committee and has not been remitted by him to the Secretary of Agriculture.

SEC. 509. Remittance of penalties to the Secretary of Agriculture by treasurers of county committees.—The county committee and the treasurer of the county committee shall at the end of each month examine the amounts of the penalties or sums of money paid with respect to the marketing of cotton in excess of the farm marketing quota for each farm in the county. If the amounts of the penalties or sums are correct, and if no request for a review has been made, the treasurer of the county committee shall forthwith remit such penalties to the secretary of the State committee who, in accordance with applicable instructions, shall remit them to the Secretary of Agriculture (addressed for the attention of the Comptroller, Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Washington, D. C.) to be covered into the general fund of the Treasury of the United States, in accordance with existing procedure. [Sec. 372 (b).]

SEC. 510. Records and accounts of treasurers of county committees.—(a) The treasurer of each county committee or his successor in office is hereby authorized and empowered to receive for and on behalf of the Secretary of Agriculture the penalties referred to in section 501 and each such treasurer or successor in office shall give, in accordance with established procedure of the United States Department of Agriculture, a good and sufficient bond, with a corporate surety approved by the Treasury Department of the United States, for the faithful discharge of the duties required of him under these regulations.

(b) Any funds received by the Treasurer of the county committee in payment of the penalties referred to in section 501 or to secure payment of such penalties as provided in section 507 shall immediately be deposited by him in a special deposit account in a bank, designated by the county committee as the depository of such funds, which is covered by deposit insurance with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. The special deposit account shall be kept by the bank as a special deposit account and designated on its records as the "Cotton Special Deposit Trust Account, County Agricultural Conservation Association, _____, Treasurer." The funds deposited in the special deposit account shall be kept separate and apart from funds belonging to the bank or to any other account of the county agricultural conservation association or the county committee. At no time shall the balance in any such account exceed the sum of $5,000.00, and where necessary the county committee shall designate one or more such banks in addition to that first designated in which shall be deposited the excess sums. The treasurer of the county committee shall deliver all checks, drafts, or money orders in payment of the penalties referred to in section 501 or to secure payment of such penalties as provided for in section 507 to the bank for immediate collection. The proceeds of such checks, drafts, or money orders, when collected, shall be placed in the special deposit account. Any funds received by the treasurer of the county committee pursuant to these regulations shall be withdrawn or disbursed only by checks drawn by him to carry out the provisions of these regulations. The Administrator shall provide for periodical reports from each treasurer as to the status of the special deposit account and for periodic examination in the office of the county committee of the records and documents in connection therewith.

(c) Whenever a treasurer of a county committee is succeeded in office, any funds received by his successor shall be deposited in a new special deposit account. The Administrator shall cause the account of the former treasurer to be audited, and no withdrawal or disbursement shall be made from the special deposit account of the former treasurer until such audit is completed. The special deposit account used by the former treasurer shall be closed by transferring the balance thereof into the account established by his successor, who shall thereupon assume charge of the records of the former treasurer. [Sec. 372 (b).]

SEC. 511. Refund of penalties.—Whenever, pursuant to a claim filed with the Secretary of Agriculture within one year after payment to him of the penalty collected from any person, the Secretary of Agriculture finds that the penalty was erroneously, illegally, or wrongfully collected he shall certify to the Secretary of the Treasury for payment to the claimant, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, such amount as the Secretary of Agriculture finds the claimant is entitled to receive as a refund of all or a portion of the penalty. These rules promulgated by the Commission are designed to foster and promote fair competitive conditions in the interest of the industry and the public. They are not to be used, directly or indirectly, as part of or in connection with any combination or agreement to fix prices, or for the suppression of competition, or otherwise to unreasonably restrain trade.

Group I

Unfair trade practices which are embraced in Group I rules are considered to be unfair methods of competition, unfair or deceptive acts or practices, or other illegal practices, prohibited under laws administered by the Federal Trade Commission as construed in the decisions of the Commission or the courts; and appropriate proceedings in the public interest will be taken by the Commission to prevent the use of such unlawful practices in or directly affecting interstate commerce.

RULE 3. In the sale or distribution of woven cotton yard goods, it is an unfair trade practice: (a) to use, or cause to be used, directly or indirectly, the terms "Full Shrunk," "Preshrunk," "Shrunk," "Shrinkproof," "Will not Shrink," "Mill Shrunk," "Double Shrunk," "Non-Shrinkable," or word, term, mark, label, or representation of like effect or similar import, as descriptive of such goods when the same are not in fact shrinkproof or non-shrinkable, or have not in fact been fully shrunk or preshrunk to the extent that no residual shrinkage is left remaining in such goods, or (b) otherwise to use, or cause to be used, any such word, term, mark, label, or representation so as to mislead or deceive purchasers, prospective purchasers, or the consuming public into the belief that such goods have been shrunk to a greater degree than is in fact true or that the residual shrinkage of such goods is less than is in fact true.

RULE 4. Nothing in these rules shall prohibit the use of the term "Full Shrunk," "Preshrunk," "Shrunk," "Shrinkproof," "Non-Shrinkable," or word, term, mark, label, or representation of like effect or similar import, as descriptive of woven cotton yard goods which have undergone the application of a shrinking process and thereby have been shrunk or preshrunk to the extent that no residual shrinkage is left remaining in such goods, and provided that subsequent to the application of such shrinking process the goods have not been subjected to stretching or to any condition or process which has restored shrinking properties or residual shrinkage to such goods.

RULE 5. Use of terms "Preshrunk" or "Shrunk" with qualifications.—(I) In the case of woven cotton yard goods which have undergone the application of a shrinking process and have been shrunk to a substantial extent but as to which there remains a certain amount of residual shrinkage, nothing in these rules shall prohibit the use of the term "Preshrunk", "Shrunk", or term or word of like effect or similar import, as an integral part of or in immediate conjunction with a truthful phrase, statement, or assertion clearly and unequivocally stating the fact that such goods have been preshrunk or shrunk to a substantial extent and also setting forth in percentage or percentages the amount or residual shrinkage remaining in both the warp and the filling, or in the warp or the filling whichever has the greater residual shrinkage. To avoid confusion, deception, or misunderstanding, the standard shrinkage test provided for in paragraph (V) of this rule should be used in determining percentages to be specified in such designations. The following are typical examples of designations provided for in this rule:

(a) "Preshrunk (or shrunk)—will not shrink more than ----% under Commercial Standard CS59–36"

(b) "Preshrunk (or shrunk)—residual shrinkage will not exceed ----% under Commercial Standard CS59–36"

(c) "Preshrunk (or shrunk)—residual shrinkage will not exceed warp ----%, filling ----%, Commercial Standard CS59–36"

(d) "These goods have been shrunk (or preshrunk) to the extent that residual shrinkage will not exceed ----% when tested in accordance with the recognized and approved standards or tests."

(II) The residual shrinkage percentage designations provided for in this Rule 5 for woven cotton yard goods should be stamped on or otherwise firmly affixed to the material in conspicuous size and legibility of type or style, and should also appear similarly on all invoices, labels, marks, or advertisements which carry reference to the shrinkage of the goods.

(III) The use of residual shrinkage percentage designations not in conformity with results obtainable under the test specified in paragraph (V) of this rule, with the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers, prospective purchasers, or the consuming public, is an unfair trade practice.

(IV) The use or specification of an unreliable or inadequate test in any such designations, or the refusal to specify a test which is proper and applicable, when done for the purpose or with the capacity and tendency or effect of directly or indirectly misleading or deceiving purchasers, prospective purchasers, or the consuming public, is an unfair trade practice.

(V) The following test is deemed to be an accepted and recognized test for determining shrinkage properties or residual shrinkage of woven cotton yard goods in the application of these rules and is recommended for use as a standard shrinkage test for this purpose:

"Commercial Standard CS59–36"

RULE 6. It is an unfair trade practice for any person, firm or corporation to aid, abet, coerce or induce another, directly or indirectly, to use or promote the use of any unfair trade practice specified in these rules.

By the Commission.

SEC. 1.VI (Rule VI). Motions.—(a) Motions in any proceeding before a trial examiner which relate to the introduction or striking of evidence, or motions before a trial examiner in any proceeding pursuant to Section 8 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended,[1] which relate to amendment of the notice of hearing to include additional items of the registration statement as provided in Rule IV (a), [Sec. 1.IV] may be ruled on by the trial examiner. All other motions shall be ruled on by the Commission.

(b) Motions or similar pleadings calling for determination by the Commission shall be filed with the Secretary or other duly designated officer of the Commission in writing, provided that motions or similar pleadings calling for determination by the Commission but made in the course of a hearing, may be filed with the trial examiner in writing who shall refer such motion to the Commission. Any such motion or similar pleading shall be accompanied by a written brief of the points and authorities relied upon in support of the same. Any party or counsel to the Commission may file a reply brief within 5 days after service upon him of such motion or other pleading as provided in Rule XIV, [Sec. 1.XIV] unless otherwise ordered by the Commission. A hearing before a trial examiner shall begin at the time and place ordered by the Commission, but thereafter may be successively adjourned to such time and place as may be ordered by the Commission or by the trial examiner.*

SEC. 1.VIII (Rule VIII). Depositions.—(a) The Commission may, for cause shown, order testimony to be taken by deposition.

(b) If any party or counsel to the Commission desires to take a deposition he shall make application in writing, setting forth the reasons why such deposition should be taken, the name and residence of the witness, the matters concerning which it is expected the witness will testify, and the time and place proposed for the taking of the deposition. Thereupon the Commission may, in its discretion, issue an order which will name the witness whose deposition is to be taken and specify the time when, the place where, and the designated officer before whom the witness is to testify. Such order shall be served upon all parties and counsel to the Commission by the Secretary, or other duly designated officer of the Commission, a reasonable time in advance of the time fixed for taking testimony.

(c) Witnesses whose testimony is taken by deposition shall be sworn or shall affirm before any questions are put to them. Each question propounded shall be recorded and the answers shall be taken down in the words of the witness.

(d) Objections to questions or evidence shall be in short form, stating the grounds of objection relied upon, but no transcript filed by the officer shall include argument or debate. Objections to questions or evidence shall be noted by the officer upon the deposition, but he shall not have power to decide on the competency or materiality or relevancy of evidence. Objections to questions or evidence not taken before the officer shall be deemed waived.

(e) The testimony shall be reduced to writing by the officer, or under his direction, after which the deposition shall be subscribed by the witness and certified in usual form by the officer. The original deposition and exhibits shall be forwarded under seal to the Secretary of the Commission with such number of copies as may be requested by the Secretary of the Commission. Upon receipt thereof the Secretary shall file the original in the proceedings and shall forward a copy to each party or his attorney of record and to counsel to the Commission.

(f) Such depositions shall conform to the specifications of Rule XV [Sec. 1.XV].

(g) Any part of a deposition not received in evidence at a hearing before the Commission or a trial examiner shall not constitute a part of the record in such proceeding, unless the parties and counsel to the Commission shall so agree, or the Commission so orders.

(h) Depositions may also be taken and submitted on written interrogatories in substantially the same manner as depositions taken by oral examination. The interrogatories shall be filed with the application in triplicate, and copies thereof shall be served on all other parties and counsel to the Commission by the Secretary or other duly designated officer of the Commission. Within 5 days any other party or counsel to the Commission may file with the Secretary his objections, if any, to such interrogatories, and may file such cross-interrogatories as he desires to submit. Cross-interrogatories shall be filed in triplicate, and copies shall be served on all other parties and counsel to the Commission, who shall have 3 days thereafter to file their objections, if any, to such cross-interrogatories. Objections to interrogatories or cross-interrogatories shall be settled by the Commission or trial examiner. Objections to interrogatories shall be made before the order for taking the deposition issues and if not so made shall be deemed waived. When a deposition is taken upon written interrogatories and cross-interrogatories, neither any party nor counsel to the Commission shall be present or represented, and no person other than the witness, a stenographic reporter, and the officer shall be present at the examination of the witness, which fact shall be certified by the officer, who shall propound the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories to the witness in their order and reduce the testimony to writing in the witness' own words.*

SEC. 1.IX (Rule IX). Trial examiner's report.—(a) Following any hearing before a trial examiner, except hearings in proceedings pursuant to the provisions of Clause 30 of Schedule A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended,[2] or Section 24 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended,[3] or Section 22 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935,[4] the transcript of the testimony shall forthwith be filed with the Secretary of the Commission. Following any hearing before trial examiner in the excepted cases, the transcript of the testimony shall forthwith be filed with the Chairman of the Commission.

(b) Following any hearing before a trial examiner other than (1) a hearing under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, or (2) a hearing on the question of postponement of the effective date of registration of a broker or dealer under Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended,[5] pending final determination whether such registration shall be denied, or (3) a hearing pursuant to the provisions of Clause 30 of Schedule A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended,[2] or Section 24 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended,[3] the trial examiner shall, within ten days after service upon him by the Secretary or other duly designated officer of the Commission of a copy of the transcript of the testimony file with the Secretary of the Commission his report containing his findings of fact.

(c) Such report shall be advisory only, and the findings of fact therein contained shall not be binding upon the Commission. The initial page of the report shall contain a statement to such effect. In any proceeding in which, under the provisions of Rule XIII (b) [Sec. 1.XIII] of the Rules of Practice of the Commission, the report is first to be made available to the public on the opening date of public argument on the merits before the Commission, or in the event of submission to the Commission without argument, on the date of such submission, the initial page of the report shall also contain a statement to the effect that the report is confidential, shall not be made public, and is for the use only of the Commission, the respondent or respondents, and counsel, but copies of the report issued on or after

(d) A copy of such report shall be forthwith served on each party and on counsel to the Commission by the Secretary or other duly designated officer of the Commission.

(e) Within five days after the conclusion of the hearing in any proceeding any party or counsel to the Commission may submit to the presiding officer, or, in the case of a hearing before a trial examiner in respect of which no trial examiner's report is required to be submitted, to the officer designated in paragraph (a) of this rule as the person with whom transcripts of testimony are to be filed, a statement in writing in terse outline setting forth such party's request for specific findings, which may be accompanied by a brief in support thereof. A copy of such request and brief in support thereof shall be served upon each party and upon counsel to the Commission as provided in Rule XIV [Sec. 1. XIV] in the case of a hearing before a trial examiner in respect of which no trial examiner's report is required to be submitted. A copy of such request and brief in support thereof shall be served upon each party and upon counsel to the Commission by the presiding officer in the case of a hearing in which a trial examiner's report is to be submitted in which event the trial examiner shall immediately certify the facts concerning such service, including the dates thereof to the Secretary of the Commission. In all cases where such requests and briefs in support thereof are served upon each party and upon counsel to the Commission by the trial examiner the provisions of Rule XIII (d) [Sec. 1. XIII] shall not be applicable. This paragraph shall not apply to any proceeding on the question of postponement of the effective date of registration of a broker or dealer under Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended,[5] pending final determination whether such registration shall be denied.

(f) All requests for specific findings filed pursuant to paragraph (e) of this Rule shall be a part of the record.*

SEC. 1.X (Rule X). Exceptions.—(a) Within five days after receipt of a copy of the trial examiner's report, any party or counsel to the Commission may file exceptions to the findings of the trial examiner or to his failure to make findings, or to the admission or exclusion of evidence. A copy of such exceptions shall be forthwith served on each party and on counsel to the Commission by the Secretary or other duly designated officer of the Commission. Exceptions shall be argued only at the final hearing on the merits before the Commission.

(b) Objections to the findings of the trial examiner or to his failure to make findings not saved by exception filed pursuant to this rule will be deemed to have been abandoned and may be disregarded. Objections to the admission or exclusion of evidence not saved by exception at the time of the hearing for the purpose of taking evidence and included in the exceptions filed pursuant to this rule will be deemed to have been abandoned and may be disregarded.*

SEC. 1.XI (Rule XI). Briefs.—(a) Any party to a proceeding or counsel to the Commission may file a brief in support of his contentions and exceptions within 15 days from the date of service on such party or on counsel to the Commission of a copy of the trial examiner's report. In a case where no trial examiner's report is to be filed and a request for specific findings is filed by a party to the proceeding or counsel to the Commission, any party to the proceeding or counsel to the Commission may file a brief in support of his contentions and exceptions within 15 days of the filing as provided in paragraph (e) of Rule IX [Sec. 1.IX] hereof by such party or counsel to the Commission of such request for specific findings, or within 15 days from the date of service on such party or on counsel to the Commission of a copy of such request for specific findings. In a case where no trial examiner's report is to be filed and where no request for specific findings is filed, any party to a proceeding or counsel to the Commission may file a brief in support of his contentions and exceptions within 15 days from the date when the transcript of testimony is filed with the Secretary or other duly designated officer of the Commission.

(b) All briefs shall be confined to the particular matters in issue. Each exception or request for findings which is briefed shall be supported by a concise argument and by citation of such statutes, decisions and other authorities and by page references to such portions of the record, as may be relevant. If the exception relates to the admission or exclusion of evidence, the substance of the evidence admitted or excluded shall be set forth in the brief with appropriate references to the transcript. Reply briefs shall be confined to matters in original briefs of opposing parties. Reply briefs in proceedings held pursuant to the provision of Clause 30 of Schedule A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended,[2] or Section 24 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended,[3] or Section 22 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935,[4] will be received only by special permission of the Commission. Any scandalous or impertinent matter contained in any brief may be stricken on order of the Commission.

(c) Exceptions and, in cases where no trial examiner's report is to be filed, requests for specific findings not briefed in accordance with Rule XI [Sec. 1.XI] may be regarded by the Commission as waived.

(d) All briefs, including briefs filed pursuant to Rule VI [Sec. 1.VI], containing more than 10 pages shall include an index and table of cases. The date of each brief must appear on its front cover or title page. If briefs are typewritten or mimeographed, 10 copies shall be filed; if printed, 20 copies, provided that only 7 copies of briefs in proceedings held pursuant to the provisions of Clause 30 of Schedule A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended,[2] or Section 24 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended,[3] or Section 22 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935,[4] need be filed in any instance. No brief shall exceed 60 pages in length, except with the permission of the Commission.

Such reply briefs as are authorized by the Commission in proceedings held pursuant to the provisions of Clause 30 of Schedule A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended,[2] or Section 24 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended,[3] or section 22 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935,[4] shall be filed within 5 days after such authorization.

(f) Briefs not filed on or before the time fixed in these rules will be received only upon special permission of the Commission.

(g) Without regard to the foregoing provisions of this rule with respect to filing of briefs, in the event an application is submitted to the Commission for final determination pursuant to paragraph (e) of Rule X–UB2 [Sec. 10.X–UB2] under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or paragraph (c) of Rule U–22B–1 [Sec. 15.U–22B–1] under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, either party or counsel to the Commission may file a brief in support of his contentions within fifteen days from the time of such submission. In such proceeding, reply briefs will be received only upon special permission of the Commission.

(h) This rule shall not apply to any proceeding on the question of postponement of the effective date of registration of a broker or dealer under Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended,[5] pending final determination whether such registration shall be denied and in any such proceeding neither any party nor counsel to the Commission shall be entitled to file a brief.*

SEC. 1.XII (Rule XII). Hearing before the Commission.—(a) Upon written request of any party or of counsel to the Commission, which must be made within the time provided for filing the original briefs or, in the case of a proceeding on the question of postponement of the effective date of registration of a broker or dealer under Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended,[5] pending final determination whether such registration shall be denied, before the close of the hearing for the purpose of taking evidence, the matter will be

(b) In a case where no trial examiner's report is made, the Commission shall determine the matter on the moving papers, the transcript of the testimony and exhibits received at the hearing, requests for specific findings, if any, the briefs of the parties and counsel to the Commission, if any, and oral argument before the Commission, if any.

(c) The Commission, upon its own motion or upon application in writing by any party or counsel to the Commission for leave to adduce additional evidence which application shall show to the satisfaction of the Commission that such additional evidence is material and that there were reasonable grounds for failure to adduce such evidence at the hearing before the Commission or the trial examiner, may hear such additional evidence or may refer the proceeding to the trial examiner for the taking of such additional evidence.

(d) Any petition for rehearing by the Commission shall be filed within five days after issuance of the order complained of and shall clearly state the specific grounds and the specific matters upon which rehearing is sought.*

SEC. 1.XIII (Rule XIII). Filing papers—docket—computation of time.—(a) All reports, exceptions, briefs, and other papers required to be filed with the Commission in any proceeding shall be filed with the Secretary, except that all papers containing data as to which confidential treatment is sought pursuant to Rules S–580 [Sec. 5.S–580], X–UB2 [Sec. 10.X–UB2] or U–22B–1 [Sec. 15.U–22B–1] of the Rules and Regulations of the Commission, together with applications making objection to the disclosure thereof, shall be filed with the Chairman. Any such papers may be sent by mail or express to the officer with whom they are directed to be filed, but must be received by such officer at the office of the Commission in Washington, D. PART 2.—DEFINITIONS

SECTION I. Definitions for the Purpose of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under Section 7 to 17, inclusive, of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, and in connection with the effectuation of the purposes of section 7 (a) of the said Act in 1938, payments and grants of aid will be made in Pondera County, Montana, for participation in the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program in accordance with the provisions of this bulletin and such modifications thereof or other provisions as may hereafter be made.

The provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program are necessarily subject to such legislation affecting said programs as the Congress of the United States may hereafter enact. The making of the payments and grants of aid herein provided are contingent upon such appropriation as the Congress may hereafter provide for such purpose; and the amount of such payments and grants of aid will necessarily be within the limits finally determined by such appropriation. The rates of payments and deductions specified herein are subject to an increase or decrease of not more than 10 percent, depending upon the extent of participation in the Pondera County program and the final estimate of payments which would be made in Pondera County under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program.

PART 1.—1938 AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM

SECTION I. County soil-depleting base acreage, and restoration land goal—A. County soil-depleting base acreage.—The Agricultural Adjustment Administration with the assistance of the State Committee shall establish for Pondera County, Montana, a base acreage for total soil-depleting crops taking into consideration the average acreage of soil-depleting crops in Pondera County as compared with the average acreage of soil-depleting crops in other counties of the State in whichever of the periods of five or more consecutive years since 1927 the Agricultural Adjustment Administration finds is most representative of normal conditions and base acreage of total soil-depleting crops established in 1937 for Pondera County compared with the base acreage of total soil-depleting crops established for other counties of the State of Montana in connection with the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program.

B. County restoration land goal.—A county goal for restoration land shall be established for Pondera County, Montana, which is designated as a county subject to serious wind erosion and which contains large acreages unsuited to continued production of cultivated crops, by assigning to it its applicable part of the State restoration land goal on the basis of the amount of land in Pondera County which was cropped at least once since January 1, 1930, but on which, because of its physical condition and texture and because of climatic conditions, a permanent vegetative cover should be restored.

SEC. II. Farm soil-depleting base acreages, and restoration land goals.—The county committee for Pondera County, Montana, with the assistance of local committees in the county, shall establish base acreages for total soil-depleting crops, and restoration land goals for the farms within such county in accordance with provisions contained herein and instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. The total soil-depleting base acreages determined for the farms in Pondera County shall not exceed the total soil-depleting base acreage established for such county by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and the sum of the base acreages of total soil-depleting crops for farms furnishing required forms and information in such county shall not exceed their proportionate share of the county total soil-depleting base acreage.

A. Total soil-depleting base acreage.—The total soil-depleting base acreage for any farm shall be determined on the basis of good soil management, tillable acreage on the farm, type of soil, topography, degree of erosion and the acreage of all soil-depleting crops customarily grown on the farm, and when the Agricultural Adjustment Administration finds it applicable, the acreage of food and feed crops needed for home consumption on the farm. The total soil-depleting base acreage established for any farm shall be comparable with the total soil-depleting base acreages established for other farms in the same community which are similar with respect to such factors.

All base acreages established for farms in a county shall be posted or kept freely available for public inspection in the office of the county committee or county agricultural extension agent.

B. Restoration land goal.—A restoration land goal shall be determined on the basis of the land on the farm which has been cropped at least once since January 1, 1930 but on which, because of its physical condition and texture and because of climatic conditions, a permanent vegetative cover should be restored.

SEC. III. Payment for full performance.—A. Restoration land.—Payment of 50 cents per acre will be made with respect to any farm for each acre in the restoration land goal established for such farm.

B. Soil-building practices.—Payment for the following soil-building practices will be made with respect to any farm when such practices are carried out in 1938 on cropland or non-cropland, as designated in accordance with the following specifications and such revision thereof or additions thereto as may be issued by the Regional Director or by the State Committee, with the approval of the Regional Director, provided that the total payment for such practices with respect to any farm shall not exceed the farm allowance for such farm.

3. If trees are purchased from a Clark-McNary Cooperative State Nursery, such purchases shall not be deemed to be paid for in whole or in part by a State or Federal agency.

4. All soil-building practices, including minimum seeding rates and methods of seeding, unless otherwise specified under the individual practice, shall be such as are determined by the county committee to be in accordance with the generally accepted good farming practice in the county.

A. Deduction for excess acreage of soil-depleting crops.—If the 1938 acreage of soil-depleting crops on any farm is in excess of the soil-depleting base for such farm, a deduction in the amount obtained by multiplying the number of such excess acres by the rate of payment per acre for diversion from the soil-depleting base (Part I, Section III, practice T) will be made: Provided, however, That if the soil-depleting base for the farm is less than 20 acres, such deduction shall be computed only with respect to the 1938 acreage of soil-depleting crops in excess of 20 acres.

B. Deduction with respect to restoration land.—$1.00 for each acre of restoration land on which there are not carried out in 1938 conservation measures specified by the county committee in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

C. Deduction for failure to prevent wind and water erosion.—$1.00 for each acre of land, other than restoration land with respect to which there are not adopted in 1938 methods recommended by the State committee and approved by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration for the prevention of wind or water erosion.

D. Deduction for breaking out of native sod.—$3.00 for each acre of native sod or any other land which has been cropped but is not classified as cropland or pasture land which is broken out during the period November 1, 1937 to October 31, 1938, inclusive, unless the breaking out of such land is approved by the county committee as a good farming practice and an equal acreage of cropland on the same farm is restored to permanent vegetative cover, such acreage of cropland to be in addition to that designated as restoration land.

SEC. V. Division of payments and deductions—A. Payments and deductions in connection with practice T (diversion), erosion, breaking-out of native sod, and the restoration land goal.—For any farm the payment for deduction in connection with practice T (Diversion), the net payment or net deduction with respect to the restoration land goal and the deductions computed under the provisions of subsections C and D of Section IV shall be divided among the landlords and tenants in the same proportion (as indicated by their acreage shares) that such persons are entitled, at the time of harvest, to share in the proceeds of the soil-depleting crops seeded on the farm for harvest in 1938.

B. Payments with respect to soil-building practices, excluding practice T (diversion).—The amount of payment earned in connection with soil-building practices for any farm excluding practice T (Diversion), shall be paid to the landlord or tenant who carried out such soil-building practices. If the county committee determines that more than one person contributed to the carrying out of such soil-building practices on the farm in 1938, such payment shall be divided in the proportion that the contribution by each such person bears to the total contribution of all such persons who carried out such practices on the farm in 1938, as determined by the county committee.

C. Proration of net deductions.—If with respect to any farm the sum of the net payments computed for all persons on the farm exceeds the sum of the net deductions computed for all persons on the farm, the net deduction computed for any person on the farm shall be prorated among the other persons on the farm for whom a net payment is computed in the proportion in which the net payment computed for any person is of the sum of the net payments computed for all persons on the farm. If, with respect to any farm the sum of the deductions computed for all persons on the farm equals or exceeds the sum of the payments computed for all persons on the farm, no payment will be made with respect to such farm and the amount of such net deductions in excess of the net payments shall be prorated among the persons on the farm in the proportion which the net deduction computed for any person is of the sum of the net deductions computed for all persons on the farm.

SEC. VI. Increase in small payments.—The total payment computed under Sections III to V, inclusive, for any person with respect to any farm shall be increased as follows:

(1) Any payment amounting to 71 cents or less shall be increased to $1.00;

SEC. VII. Deductions incurred on other farms—A. Other farms in the same county.—If the deductions computed under Section IV with respect to any farm in a county exceed the payment for full performance on such farm computed under Section III, a landlord's or tenant's share of the amount by which such deduction exceeds such payments shall be deducted from such landlord's or tenant's share of the payment which would otherwise be made to him with respect to any other farms in such county.

B. Other farms in the State.—If the deductions computed for a landlord or tenant with respect to one or more farms in a county exceed the payments computed for such landlord or tenant on other farms in such county, the amount of such excess deductions shall be deducted from the payments computed for such landlord or tenant with respect to any other farms in the State if the State committee finds that the crops grown and practices adopted on the farm with respect to which such deductions are computed substantially offset the contribution to the program made on such other farms.

SEC. VIII. Deduction for association expenses.—There shall be deducted pro rata from the payment with respect to any farm all or such part as the Secretary may prescribe of the estimated administrative expenses incurred or to be incurred by the county Agricultural Conservation association in the county in which the farm is located.

SEC. IX. General provisions relating to payments.—A. Payment restricted to effectuation of purposes of the program.—All or any part of any payment which otherwise would be made to any person under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program may be withheld (1) if he has adopted any practice which the Secretary determines tends to defeat any of the purposes of the 1938 or previous agricultural conservation programs, (2) if, by means of any corporation, partnership, estate, trust, or any other device, or in any manner whatsoever, he has offset, or has participated in offsetting, in whole or in part, the performance for which such payment is otherwise authorized, or (3) if, with respect to forest land or woodland owned or controlled by him, he adopts any practice which the Regional Director finds is contrary to sound conservation practices. No payment, other than a payment in connection with the restoration land goal, shall be computed with respect to any farm which is idle in 1938.

B. Payment computed and made without regard to claims.—Any payment or share of payment shall be computed and made without regard to questions of title under State law, without deduction of claims for advances (except as provided in subsection D of this Section VIII) and without regard to any claims or lien against any crop, or proceeds thereof, in favor of the owner or any other creditor.

C. Changes in leasing and cropping agreements, reduction in number of tenants, and other devices.—If on any farm in 1938 any change of the arrangements which existed on the farm in 1937 would cause a greater proportion of the payments to be made to the landlord under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program than would have been made to the landlord for performance on the farm under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program, payments to the landlord under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program with respect to the farm shall not be greater than the amount that would have been paid to the landlord if the arrangements which existed on the farm in 1937 had been continued in 1938, if the county committee certifies that the change is not justified and disapproves such change.

If on any farm the number of share tenants in 1938 is less than the average number on the farm during the years 1935 to 1937, inclusive, and such reduction would increase the payments that would otherwise be made to the landlord, such payments to the landlord shall not be greater than the amount that would otherwise be made if the county committee certifies that the reduction is not justified and disapproves such reduction.

If the State committee finds that any person who files an application for payment pursuant to the provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program has employed any other scheme or device, the effect of which would be or has been to deprive any other person of any payment under any agricultural conservation program to which such other person would normally be entitled, the Secretary may withhold in whole or in part from the person participating in or employing such a scheme or device, or require such person to refund in whole or in part, the amount of any payment which has been or would otherwise be made to such person in connection with the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program.

D. Assignments.—Any person who may be entitled to any payment in connection with the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program may assign his interest in such payment as security for cash loaned or advances made for the purpose of financing the making of a crop in 1938. No such assignment will be recognized unless (1) the assignment is made in writing on Form ACP-69 in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and is filed in the office of the county agricultural conservation association; (2) the farmer files with the assignment a statement that the assignment is made to pay or secure an indebtedness incurred in connection with financing the making of a crop in 1938 and not to pay or secure any preexisting indebtedness; and (3) the person to whom such assignment is made certifies that the payment is being assigned without discount for such purpose.

Nothing contained in this Section VIII shall be construed to give an assignee a right to any payment other than that to which the farmer is entitled nor shall the Secretary or any disbursing agent be subject to any suit or liability if payment is made to the farmer without regard to the existence of any such assignment.

E. Excess cotton acreage.—Any person who knowingly plants cotton on his farm in 1938 on acreage in excess of the cotton acreage allotment established for the farm for 1938 shall not be eligible for any payment under the provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program. Any person having an interest in the cotton crop on a farm on which cotton is planted in 1938 on acreage in excess of the cotton acreage allotment for the farm for 1938 shall be presumed to have knowingly planted cotton on his farm on acreage in excess of such farm cotton allotment if notice of the farm allotment is mailed to him prior to the completion of the seeding of cotton on the farm, unless the farmer establishes the fact that the excess acreage planted to cotton was due to his lack of knowledge of the number of acres in the tract(s) planted to cotton. Such notice, if mailed to the operator of the farm, shall be deemed to be notice to all persons sharing in the production of cotton on the farm in 1938.

F. Use of soil-conserving crops for market.—No payment will be made with respect to any farm unless on such farm in 1938 an acreage, not devoted to soil-depleting crops, is withheld from the production of soil-conserving crops for market, equal to the acreage by which the normal acreage of soil-depleting crops on such farm exceeds the larger of (1) the total soil-depleting acreage allotment for the farm, or (2) the acreage devoted to soil-depleting crops on the farm in 1938: Provided, That payment shall not be denied any farmer for using such soil-conserving crops for market (1) if in the county in which the farm is located the number of cows kept for the production of milk or products thereof for market does not exceed the normal number of such cows; (2) if on such farm the number of cows kept for the production of milk or the products thereof for market does not exceed the normal number of such cows; or (3) if the Agricultural Adjustment Administration determines either (a) that the farmer has substantially complied with the provisions of this paragraph, or (b) that the county, as a whole, is in substantial compliance with such provisions.

Any farmer shall be deemed to have substantially complied with the provisions of the foregoing paragraph either (1) if the increase above normal in the number of dairy cows on his farm does not exceed two cows; or (2) if none of the soil-conserving crops to which such provisions are applicable is used for market other than through the disposition of dairy livestock for slaughter or through the disposition of less than ten percent of the milk, or products thereof, produced on the farm. A county, as a whole, shall be deemed to be in substantial compliance with such provisions if the increase above normal in the number of dairy cows in the county does not exceed ten percent.

The normal acreage of soil-depleting crops and the normal number of cows kept for the production of milk, or the products thereof, for market shall be determined for any farm in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall determine from the latest available statistics of the Department and shall announce the counties in which the number of cows kept for the production of milk, or the products thereof, for market exceeds by more than ten percent the normal number of such cows.

As used in this subsection E, the term "for market" means for disposition by sale, barter, or exchange, or by feeding (in any form) to dairy livestock which, or the products of which, are to be sold, bartered, or exchanged, and such term shall not include consumption on the farm. An agricultural commodity shall be deemed to be consumed on the farm if consumed by the farmer's family, employees, or household, or if fed to poultry or livestock other than dairy livestock on his farm, or if fed to dairy livestock on his farm and such dairy livestock, or the products thereof, are to be consumed by his family employees, or household. As used in this subsection F, the term "soil-conserving crops" means grasses and legumes grown on cropland except those classified as soil-depleting under Section X hereof.

SEC. X. Application for payment.—A. An application for payment with respect to a farm may be made by any person for whom, under the provisions of Section V a share in the payment with respect to the farm may be computed and (1) who at the time of harvest is entitled to share in the crops grown on the farm under a lease or operating agreement, or (2) who is owner of such farm and participates thereon in 1938 in carrying out approved soil-building practices or in carrying out conservation measures designed to promote restoration of a permanent vegetative cover on restoration land.

B. Time and manner of filing application and information required.—Payment will be made only upon application submitted through the county office. The Secretary reserves the right (1) to withhold payment from any person who fails to file any form or furnish any information required with respect to any farm which such person is operating or renting to another person for a share of the crops grown thereon, and (2) to refuse to accept any application for payment if such application or any other form or information required is not submitted to the county office within the time fixed by the regional director. At least two weeks' notice to the public shall be given of the expiration of a time limit for filing prescribed forms. Such notice shall be given by mailing the same to the office of each county committee and making copies of the same available to the press.

C. Applications for other farms.—If a person has the right to receive all or a portion of the crops or proceeds therefrom, produced on more than one farm in a county and makes application for payment with respect to one of such farms, such person must make application for payment with respect to all such farms. Upon request by the State committee such person shall also file with the committee such information as it may request regarding any other farm in the State with respect to which he has the right to receive all or a portion of the crops or proceeds thereof.

SEC. XI. Soil-depleting crops.—Land devoted in 1938 to any of the following crops or uses or such other similar crops and uses as are designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall be classified as soil-depleting.

A. Land planted to the following crops for harvest in 1938:

2. Grain sorghums.
3. Sugar beets.
4. Commercial mustard.
5. Hemp.
6. Mint.

C. Land planted to oats, barley, rye, flax, emmer, speltz, or mixtures of these crops between August 1, 1937 and July 31, 1938, except—

1. When a good stand and good growth of such crop is used as a green manure crop in orchards, on commercial vegetable land, potato land, or on irrigated land; or

2. When such crop is used as a nurse crop and is not harvested for grain or hay or is used as a cover crop and is not harvested for grain or hay, and is not allowed to mature as grain.

D. Land planted in 1938 to buckwheat, sweet sorghums, Sudan grass, millet, or sown or close-drilled corn harvested for grain, seed, syrup, or silage.

E. Land planted in 1938 to field peas harvested for peas or soybeans harvested for seed for crushing. Field peas or soybeans hogged off will be deemed as harvested.

F. Land summer-fallowed.—Cultivated fallow land (summer fallow) except any of such fallow land on which perennial or biennial legumes or perennial grasses have been seeded following such summer fallow when no soil-depleting crop has been seeded on such land for harvest in 1938.

The acreage of land which is devoted consecutively to two or more of the above soil-depleting crops in 1938 shall be counted as follows: If only one of such crops reaches maturity such land shall be regarded as devoted to the crop reaching maturity. If none of such crops reaches maturity or if more than one of such crops reach maturity and an individual crop acreage allotment is established for only one of such crops, such land shall be regarded as devoted to the crop for which an individual crop acreage allotment is established. If none of such crops reaches maturity and individual crop acreage allotments are established for two or more of such crops, the land shall be regarded as devoted to the last planted of such crops for which an individual crop acreage allotment is established. If two or more of such crops reach maturity and individual crop acreage allotments are established for two or more of such crops reaching maturity, the land shall be regarded as devoted to each of the crops which reached maturity and for which an individual crop acreage allotment is established. If one or more of such crops reach maturity and individual crop acreage allotments are not established for any of such crops, the land shall be regarded as devoted to the last planted of such crops.

The acreage of land which is devoted simultaneously to two or more of the above soil-depleting crops shall be divided among such crops on the basis of the land determined in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to be devoted to each.

In connection with determinations regarding the maturity of crops, canning peas will be deemed to have reached maturity when such crop is harvested for canning and field corn, sweet corn, and popcorn hogged off or cut for silage, fodder or other similar uses, will be deemed to have reached maturity.

Land devoted to volunteer crops harvested shall be classified as if such crops were planted.

SEC. XII. Soil-conserving crops.—Cropland devoted in 1938 to any of the following crops, excluding such cropland upon which no stand of a soil-conserving crop is secured in 1938, shall be regarded as used for the production of a soil-conserving crop:

A. The following legumes and perennial grasses, and such other legumes and grasses as may be approved by the Director of the Western Division, when seeded without a nurse crop or when seeded with a nurse crop if such nurse crop is not harvested for grain or hay.

1. Legumes: Alfalfa, sweet, red, alsike, white, strawberry, Ladino, Mammoth, crimson, bur, and sour clover, Austrian winter peas, sericea, kudzu.

2. Grasses: bluegrass; orchard, brome, wheat grasses; rye grasses; timothy, redtop, bent grasses; fescues; tall oat grass; Reed's canary grass, and velvet grass.

B. Green manure crops on irrigated land only, including annual legumes when turned under in 1938 after attaining at least two months' growth, when not followed by summer fallow.

C. Forest trees planted on cropland since January 1, 1934.

SEC. XIII. Diversion and farm allowance rates.—For any individual farm the rate of payment for diversions set up under Practice T of Section III and the rate to be used in computing the farm allowance with respect to acreage of cropland under Section III shall be determined by multiplying the applicable average rate per acre by the productivity index established for the farm and by dividing the result by 100.

The productivity index for the farm shall be determined on the basis of the farm yield as compared with the county yield of a crop which is generally grown throughout the county or, on such other basis as the Director of the Western Division may authorize for the purpose of obtaining an accurate reflection of the productivity of the cropland on the farm. The average of the productivity indexes for all farms for which work sheets are filed in the county, weighted by the respective crop acreages for such farms shall not exceed 100, unless a variance therefrom is recommended by the State Committee and approved by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration because of the fact that the average productivity of all farms participating in the program is found to be higher than the average productivity of all farms in the county.

SEC. XIV. Appeals.—Any person who considers himself aggrieved by any recommendation or determination of the county committee with respect to any farm in which he has an interest may, within 15 days after notice thereof is forwarded to or available to him request the county committee in writing to reconsider its recommendation or determination with respect to any of the following matters: (a) eligibility to file an application for payment; (b) the division of payment; or (c) any other matter affecting the right to or the amount of his payment with respect to the farm. The county committee shall notify such person of its decision in writing within 15 days after receipt of such written request for reconsideration. If such person is dissatisfied with the decision of the county committee he may, within 15 days after such decision is forwarded to or made available to him appeal in writing to the State committee. The State committee shall notify such person of its decision in writing within 30 days after the receipt of the appeal. If such person is dissatisfied with the decision of the State committee, he may, within 15 days after such decision is forwarded to or made available to him request the Regional Director to review the decision of the State committee.

SEC. XV. Instructions and forms.—Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall prepare and issue such instructions and forms as may be required in administering the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program for Pondera County.

SEC. II. County acreage allotments and goals.—A. Corn acreage allotment.—The Tama County acreage allotment of corn shall be 112,188 acres.

B. Soil-conserving goal.—The soil-conserving goal for Tama County shall be that acreage determined by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to be equal to the difference between the total cropland in the county and 199,409 acres, (such 199,409 acres representing the total soil-depleting acreage allotment which would be established under the provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program pertaining to the North Central Region [NCR–201] if said provisions were applicable in Tama County).

SEC. III. Farm acreage allotments and goals.—The county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county shall determine corn acreage allotments and soil-conserving goals in accordance with provisions contained herein and instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

A. Corn acreage allotment.—Acreage allotments of corn shall be determined for farms in Tama County on the basis of tillable acreage, crop rotation practices, type of soil, and topography. The allotment for any farm shall be comparable to the allotments recommended for other farms in the same community which are similar with respect to such factors. The corn acreage allotments for farms in Tama County shall not exceed the county acreage allotment for Tama County, specified in subsection A, Section II, and the sum of the corn acreage allotments for farms furnishing required forms and information shall not exceed their proportionate share of the county acreage allotment.

B. Soil-conserving goal.—The soil-conserving goal for any farm shall be established on the basis of good soil management, tillable acreage on the farm, type of soil, topography, and degree of erosion. The soil-conserving goal for any farm shall be comparable with the goals determined for other farms in the same community which are similar with respect to such factors. The soil-conserving goals for all farms in Tama County shall equal the county soil-conserving goal for Tama County determined in accordance with subsection B, Section II, and the sum of the soil-conserving goals for farms furnishing required forms and information shall equal their proportionate share of the county soil-conserving goal.

C. Posting of acreage allotments.—All acreage allotments and goals established for farms in Tama County shall be posted or kept freely available for public inspection in the office of the county committee or county agricultural extension agent.

SEC. IV. Payment for performance.—Payments will be made with respect to any farm in Tama County for not exceeding the corn acreage allotment, for any soil-conserving acreage on the farm not in excess of the soil-conserving goal, and for the adoption of acceptable soil-building practices not in excess of the soil-building allowance, as follows:

A. Payments with respect to corn.—Subject to the provisions of Sections V to X, inclusive, 6 cents per bushel of the normal yield per acre of corn for the farm for each acre in the corn acreage allotment; or, if the acreage planted to corn is less than 80 percent of the corn acreage allotment and the county committee finds that the failure to plant 80 percent of such corn acreage allotment was not due to flood or drought, for 125 percent of the acreage planted to corn. The acreage planted to corn shall be deemed to be that acreage which is seeded to corn, excluding (1) any acreage of sweet corn contracted to be sold for canning; (2) any acreage of sweet corn sold for canning or roasting ears; (3) any acreage of sweet corn to be sold or used as seed; and (4) any acreage of popcorn sold as popcorn or to be sold or used as seed.

B. Payments with respect to soil-conserving acreage.—Subject to the provisions of Sections V to X, inclusive, payments with respect to acreage classified as soil-conserving on the farm in 1938 as follows:

$0.75 per acre of the acreage on the farm classified as soil-conserving not exceeding one-half of the acreage in the soil-conserving goal, plus

$1.50 per each additional acre of the acreage so classified not in excess of one-fourth the acreage in the soil-conserving goal, plus

$6.75 per each additional acre of the acreage so classified not in excess of one-fourth the acreage in the soil-conserving goal.

Payment will be made for soil-conserving acreage at the $1.50 rate only in case payment is made at the $0.75 rate on all the acreage required to equal one-half of the soil-conserving goal. Payment will be made for soil-conserving acreage at the $6.75 rate only in case payment is made at the $1.50 rate on all the acreage required to equal one-fourth of the soil-conserving goal. The sum of the acreages upon which payment is made at the $0.75, $1.50, and $6.75 rates shall not be in excess of the acreage in the soil-conserving goal.

C. Payments with respect to soil-building practices.—Subject to the provisions of Sections V to X, inclusive, payment will be made for the adoption of soil-building practices listed in Section XIII at the rates applicable to these practices in an amount not in excess of a soil-building allowance for the farm, which allowance shall be that sum equal to $0.70 for each acre in the soil-conserving goal for such farm.

SECTION V. Deductions.—Payments computed for any farm under the provisions of Section IV shall be subject to all the following deductions which are applicable to such farm, the deductions to be made as indicated in Section VI.

A. Corn.—42 cents per bushel of the normal yield per acre of corn for the farm for each acre of corn in excess of the corn acreage allotment.

B. Soybeans.—$4.00 for each acre of soybeans grown in rows more than 8 inches apart which are not followed by a winter cover crop showing a good stand and a good vegetative growth on October 31, 1938.

C. Use of non-cropland as cropland.—$5.00 for each acre of native sod or any other land classified as non-cropland which is broken out during the period November 1, 1937 to October 31, 1938, inclusive, provided, however, that if the breaking out of such land is approved by the county committee as a good farming practice, the deduction provided for in this subsection C shall apply only with respect to (1) an acreage equal to the number of acres by which the sum of the soil-conserving goal and the acreage so broken out exceeds the soil-conserving acreage on the farm, or (2) the acreage so broken out, whichever is the smaller.

SECTION VI. Division of payments and deductions.—A. Payments and deductions in connection with corn acreage allotments.—Net payments or net deductions computed for any farm with respect to the corn acreage allotment shall be divided among the landlords and tenants in the same proportion (as indicated by their acreage shares) that such persons are entitled, at the time the crop is harvested, to share in the proceeds (other than a fixed commodity payment) of the corn grown on the farm in 1938.

In the event that corn is not harvested in 1938 on the farm, or in the event the county committee, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, finds that due to crop failure the acreage of corn was reduced sufficiently to affect materially the division of payments or deductions, the net payment or net deduction, if any, with respect to the corn acreage allotment shall be divided among the landlords and tenants in the same proportion that the county committee determines that such persons would have shared in the proceeds of the corn if corn had been harvested on the farm in 1938 or if the acreage of corn had not been so reduced. In computing such net payments and net deductions with respect to corn acreage allotments, the total amount of deductions computed under Section V with respect to (1) failure to follow soybeans grown in wide rows with an acceptable cover crop (subsection B, Section V); and (2) the use of non-cropland as cropland (subsection C, Section V) shall be regarded as deductions with respect to the corn acreage allotment.

B. Payments with respect to soil-conserving acres.—Except for farms rented for cash or a fixed commodity payment, the amount of payment earned in connection with the soil-conserving acreage for the farm shall be divided 50 percent to the landlords and 50 percent to the tenants. The payment to the landlords shall be divided among them as indicated by their acreage shares in the cropland in the farm. The payment to the tenants shall be divided among them as indicated by their acreage shares in the cropland in the farm. The payment computed for a farm rented for cash or a fixed commodity payment shall be made entirely to the tenant.

C. Payments with respect to soil-building practices.—The amount of payment earned under Section IV with respect to soil-building practices shall be paid to the landlord or tenant who carried out the soil-building practices. If the county committee determines that more than one such person contributed to the carrying out of one or more of such practices on the farm in 1938, such payment shall be divided in the proportion that the quantity of practices contributed by each such person bears to the total quantity of practices carried out on the farm in 1938. Each person contributing to the practice carried out on a particular acreage shall be deemed to have contributed equally to such practice, unless such persons establish to the satisfaction of the county committee that their respective contributions thereto were not in equal proportion, in which event credit for such practice shall be divided in the proportion which the county committee determines each such person contributed thereto.

D. Proration of net deductions.—If with respect to any farm the sum of the net payments computed for all persons on the farm exceeds the sum of the net deductions computed for all persons on the farm, the net deduction computed for any person on the farm shall be prorated among the other persons on the farm for whom a net payment is computed in the proportion in which the net payment computed for any person is of the sum of the net payments computed for all persons on the farm. If, with respect to any farm, the sum of the net deductions computed for all persons on the farm equals or exceeds the sum of the net payments computed for all persons on the farm, no payment will be made with respect to such farm and the amount of such net deductions in excess of the net payments shall be prorated among the persons on the farm in the proportion which the net deduction computed for any person is of the sum of the net deductions computed for all persons on the farm.

SEC. VII. Increase in small payments.—The total payment computed under Sections IV to VI, inclusive, for any person with respect to any farm shall be increased as follows:

SEC. VIII. Deductions incurred on other farms.—A. Other farms in Tama County.—If the deductions computed under Section V with respect to any farm in Tama County exceed the payment for performance on such farm computed under Section IV, a landlord's or tenant's share of the amount by which such deductions exceed such payments shall be deducted from such landlord's or tenant's share of the payment which otherwise would be made to him with respect to any other farms in Tama County.

B. Other farms in Iowa.—If the deductions computed for a landlord or tenant with respect to one or more farms in Tama County exceed the payments computed for such landlord or tenant on other farms in Tama County, the amount of such excess deductions shall be deducted from the payments computed for such landlord or tenant with respect to any other farms in the State, if the State committee finds that the crops grown and practices adopted on the farms with respect to which such deductions are computed are such as substantially to offset the contribution to the program made on such other farms.

SEC. IX. Deduction for association expenses.—There shall be deducted pro rata from the payments with respect to any farm all or such part as the Secretary may prescribe of the estimated administrative expenses incurred or to be incurred by the county agricultural conservation association in Tama County.

SEC. X. General provisions relating to payments.—A. Payment restricted to effectuation of purposes of the program.—All or any part of any payment which otherwise would be made to any person under the 1938 Tama County Agricultural Conservation Program may be withheld (1) if he has adopted any practice which the Secretary determines tends to defeat any of the purposes of the program, (2) if, by means of any corporation, partnership, estate, trust, or any other device, or in any manner whatsoever, he has offset, or has participated in offsetting, in whole or in part, the performance for which such payment is otherwise authorized, or (3) if, with respect to forest land or woodland owned or controlled by him, he adopts any practice which the director of the North Central Division finds is contrary to sound conservation practices. No payment shall be computed with respect to any farm which is idle in 1938.

B. Payment computed and made without regard to claims.—Any payment or share of payment shall be computed and made without regard to questions of title under State law, without deduction of claims for advances (except as provided in subsection D of this Section X) and without regard to any claim or lien against any crop, or proceeds thereof, in favor of the owner or any other creditor.

C. Changes in leasing and cropping agreements, reduction in number of tenants, and other devices.—If on any farm in 1938 any change of arrangements which existed on the farm in 1937 is made between the landlord and the tenants and such change would cause a greater proportion of the payments to be made to the landlord under the 1938 Tama County Agricultural Conservation Program than would have been made to the landlord for performance on the farm under the 1937 Tama County Agricultural Conservation Program, payments to the landlord under the 1938 Tama County Agricultural Conservation Program with respect to the farm shall not be greater than the amount that would have been paid to the landlord if the arrangements which existed on the farm in 1937 had been continued in 1938, if the county committee certifies that the change is not justified and disapproves such change.

If on any farm the number of sharetenants in 1938 is less than the average number on the farm during the years 1935 to 1937, inclusive, and such reduction would increase the payments that would otherwise be made to the landlord, such payments to the landlord shall not be greater than the amount that would otherwise be made, if the county committee certifies that the reduction is not justified and disapproves such reduction.

If the State committee finds that any person who files an application for payment pursuant to the provisions of the 1938 Tama County Agricultural Conservation Program has employed any other scheme or device, the effect of which would be or has been to deprive any other person of any payment under any agricultural conservation program to which such other person would normally be entitled, the Secretary may withhold in whole or in part from the person participating in or employing such a scheme or device, or require such person to refund in whole or in part, the amount of any payment which has been or would otherwise be made to such person in connection with the 1938 Tama County Agricultural Conservation Program.

D. Assignments.—Any person who may be entitled to any payment in connection with the 1938 Tama County Agricultural Conservation Program may assign his interest in such payment as security for cash loaned or advances made for the purpose of financing the making of a crop in 1938. No such assignment will be recognized unless (1) the assignment is made in writing on Form ACP-69 in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and is filed in the office of the county agricultural conservation association; (2) the farmer files with the assignment a statement that the assignment is made to pay or secure an indebtedness incurred in connection with financing the making of a crop in 1938 and not to pay or secure any pre-existing indebtedness; and (3) the person to whom such assignment is made certifies that the payment is being assigned without discount for such purpose.

Nothing contained in this Section X shall be construed to give an assignee a right to any payment other than that to which the farmer is entitled nor shall the Secretary or any disbursing agent be subject to any suit or liability if payment is made to the farmer without regard to the existence of any such assignment.

E. Cotton acreage in excess of allotment.—Any person who knowingly plants cotton on his farm in 1938 on acreage in excess of the cotton acreage allotment established for the farm for 1938 shall not be eligible for any payment under the provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program. Any person having an interest in the cotton crop on a farm on which cotton is planted in 1938 on acreage in excess of the cotton acreage allotment for the farm for 1938 shall be presumed to have knowingly planted cotton on his farm on acreage in excess of such farm cotton acreage allotment if notice of the farm allotment is mailed to him prior to the completion of the planting (seeding) of cotton on the farm, unless the farmer establishes the fact that the excess acreage planted to cotton was due to his lack of knowledge of the number of acres in the tract(s) planted to cotton. Such notice, if mailed to the operator of the farm, shall be deemed to be notice to all persons sharing in the production of cotton on the farm in 1938.

F. Use of soil-conserving crops for market.—No payment will be made with respect to any farm unless on such farm in 1938 an acreage of soil-conserving crops is withheld from market equal to the acreage by which the normal acreage of soil-conserving crops on such farm is less than the smaller of (1) the soil-conserving goal for the farm or (2) the acreage devoted to soil-conserving crops on the farm in 1938: Provided, that payment shall not be denied any farmer for using such soil-conserving crops for market (1) if in the county in which the farm is located the number of cows kept for the production of milk or products thereof for market does not exceed the normal number of such cows; (2) if on such farm the number of cows kept for the production of milk or the products thereof for market does not exceed the normal number of such cows; or (3) if the Agricultural Adjustment Administration determines either (a) that the farmer has substantially complied with the provisions of this paragraph or (b) that the county as a whole is in substantial compliance with such provisions.

Any farmer shall be deemed to have substantially complied with the provisions of the foregoing paragraph either (1) if the increase above normal in the number of dairy cows on his farm does not exceed two cows; or (2) if none of the soil-conserving crops to which such provisions are applicable is used for market other than through the disposition of dairy livestock for slaughter or through the disposition of less than ten percent of the milk, or products thereof, produced on the farm. A county, as a whole, shall be deemed to be in substantial compliance with such provisions if the increase above normal in the number of dairy cows in the county does not exceed ten percent.

The normal acreage of soil-conserving crops and the normal number of cows kept for the production of milk or the products thereof, for market shall be determined for any farm in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall determine from the latest available statistics of the Department and shall announce the counties in which the number of cows kept for the production of milk, or the products thereof, for market exceeds by more than ten percent the normal number of such cows.

As used in this subsection F the term "for market" means for disposition by sale, barter, or exchange, or by feeding (in any form) to dairy livestock which, or the products of which are to be sold, bartered, or exchanged, and such term shall not include consumption on the farm. An agricultural commodity shall be deemed to be consumed on the farm if consumed by the farmer's family, employees, or household, or if fed to poultry or livestock other than dairy livestock on his farm, or if fed to dairy livestock on his farm and such dairy livestock, or the products thereof, are to be consumed by his family, employees, or household. As used in this subsection F the term "soil-conserving crops" means those crops listed under subsection B of Section XII.

SEC. XI. Application for payment.—A. Persons eligible to file applications.—An application for payment with respect to a farm may be made by any person for whom, under the provisions of Section VI, a share in the payment with respect to the farm may be computed and (1) who at the time of harvest is entitled to share in the crops grown on the farm under a lease or operating agreement, or (2) who is owner of such farm and participates thereon in 1938 in carrying out approved soil building practices.

B. Time and manner of filing application and information required.—Payment will be made only upon application submitted through the county office. The Secretary reserves the right (1) to withhold payment from any person who fails to file any form or furnish any information required with respect to any farm which such person is operating or renting to another person for a share of the crops grown thereon, and (2) to refuse to accept any application for payment if such application or any other form or information required is not submitted to the county office within the time fixed by the Director of the North Central Division. At least two weeks' notice to the public shall be given to the expiration of a time limit for filing prescribed forms. Such notice shall be given by mailing the same to the office of each county committee and making copies of the same available to the press.

C. Applications for other farms.—If a person has the right to receive all or a portion of the crops or proceeds therefrom, produced on more than one farm in Tama County, and makes application for payment with respect to one of such farms, such person must make application for payment with respect to all such farms which he operates or rents to other persons. Upon request by the State committee, such person shall also file with the committee such information as it may request regarding any other farm in the State with respect to which he has the right to receive all or a portion of the crops or proceeds thereof.

SEC. XII. Classification of cropland.—Cropland in 1938 shall be classified as follows:

A. Corn.—For the purpose of determining whether corn has been planted on the farm in 1938 or the corn acreage allotment for a farm has been exceeded, corn means all acreages of field corn, sweet corn, and popcorn, except (1) any acreage of sweet corn contracted to be sold for canning; (2) any acreage of sweet corn to be sold for canning or roasting ears; (3) any acreage of sweet corn to be sold or used as seed; and (4) any acreage of popcorn sold as popcorn or to be sold or used as seed.

B. Soil conserving—

(1) Cropland upon which there is a good stand on or after July 1, 1938, of any of the crops listed in this subsection B seeded before November 1, 1937, shall be classified as soil conserving acreage.

(2) Cropland upon which there is on the date as of which final inspection is made for the purpose of determining performance, a good stand of annual sweet clover, or a good stand which would normally survive the winter of 1938–39, of any of the crops listed in a, b, c, e, and f of this item (2), subsection B, seeded with adapted seed between November 1, 1937 and October 31, 1938, inclusive, shall be classified as soil-conserving acreage:

a. Perennial legumes: alfalfa and white clover.

b. Perennial grasses: bluegrass, timothy, redtop, reed canary grass, orchard grass, Bermuda grass, bromegrass, crested wheat grass, slender wheat grass, western wheat grass, bluestem grasses, perennial ryegrass, meadow fescue, or mixtures of these grasses.

c. Biennial legumes: sweet, red, alsike, and mammoth clovers.

d. Annual sweet clover.

e. Mixtures of legumes listed under a, c, and d of this item 2, subsection B, or mixtures of such legumes and the grasses listed under b of this item 2, subsection B.

f. Trees, other than fruit or nut trees, planted since January 1, 1934.

(3) Cropland upon which there has been incorporated into the soil as green manure by plowing or discing a good green vegetative growth of close-drilled or broadcast soybeans, seeded before July 1, 1938, and followed by a winter cover crop shall be classified as soil conserving acreage.

(4) Cropland which otherwise qualifies as soil conserving according to the provisions of this subsection B of Section XII which is devoted to grassed waterways constructed according to good farming practice shall be classified as soil conserving acreage.

(5) Land devoted to volunteer soil conserving crops shall be classified as if such crops were planted.

No cropland from which a crop, other than a crop listed in item (2) of this subsection B, is harvested between November 1, 1937 and October 31, 1938, shall classify as soil conserving acreage.

C. Neutral.—Cropland devoted in 1938 to uses other than those specified in subsections A and B of this Section XII shall be classified as neutral.

SEC. XIII. Soil-building practices.—Payment will be made with respect to the soil-building practices listed in this section at the designated rate not in excess of the soil-building allowance for the farm only if such practices are carried out in 1938 in accordance with specifications issued by the Director of the North Central Division or by the Iowa State Committee with the approval of the Director of the North Central Division. The specifications issued shall be such as to assure that the soil-building practice will be performed in workmanlike manner and in accordance with good farming practice for the locality.

In order to count toward the earning of the soil-building allowance, all seedings of red clover and any mixtures containing red clover must be made with adapted red clover seed, and all seedings of alfalfa and any mixtures containing alfalfa on such farm must be made with adapted alfalfa seed, the origin of which must be certified by the county committee in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Red clover and alfalfa seed grown in Canada and in the following States shall be regarded as adapted: Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

Red clover and alfalfa seed grown in the following counties of the following States shall also be regarded as adapted: The counties of Alfalfa, Beaver, Cimarron, Craig, Delaware, Ellis, Garfield, Grant, Harper, Kay, Major, Mayes, Noble, Nowata, Osage, Ottawa, Pawnee, Rogers, Texas, Tulsa, Washington, Woods, and Woodward in Oklahoma; the counties of Baker, Creek, Deschutes, Gilliam, Grant, Harney, Jefferson, Klamath, Lake, Malheur, Morrow, Sherman, Umatilla, Union, Wallowa, Wasco, and Wheeler in the State of Oregon; the counties of Adams, Asotin, Benton, Chelan, Columbia, Douglas, Ferry, Franklin, Garfield, Grant, Kittitas, Lincoln, Okanogan, Pend Oreille, Spokane, Stevens, Walla Walla, and Whitman in the State of Washington. Red clover seed grown in counties in Washington and Oregon other than those enumerated in this paragraph shall be regarded as adapted if certification is made by the State Crop Improvement Association of the State in which such seed was produced that such seed was produced in such State and that such seed was produced from parent seed of Ohio red clover or Tennessee anthracnose-resistant red clover and evidence in the form of the special certification tag attached to such seed is filed with the county committee where quantities of 100 pounds or more are purchased.

Practices carried out with labor, seed, trees, and materials furnished entirely by any Federal or State agency other than the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall not be counted toward earning the soil-building allowance for the farm. If a portion of the labor, seed, trees or other materials used in carrying out any practice is furnished by a State or Federal agency, and such portion represents one-half or more of the total cost of carrying out such practice, such practice shall not be counted toward earning the soil-building allowance, if such portion represents less than half of the total cost of carrying out such practice, that practice will be counted at one-half the designated rate toward earning the soil-building allowance.

If trees are purchased from a Clark-McNary Cooperative State Nursery, such purchases shall not be deemed to be paid for in whole or in part by a State or Federal agency.

A soil-building payment for any practice listed under subsections A and B shall not be made on any land plowed in 1938 after the performance of that practice.

Where several soil-building practices are adopted on the same acreage, payment will not be made for (1) more than one of the practices listed in subsections C and F, inclusive, and (2) more than one practice of the nine soil-building practices listed in subsections A and B.

A. Seedings of adapted legumes.—Seedings of adapted seed of any of the following legumes on farm land:

1. Alfalfa, $2.00 per acre.
2. Red clover, mammoth, and white clover, $2.00 per acre.
3. Alsike clover, $1.50 per acre.
4. Legume mixtures or mixtures of legumes and the perennial grasses listed under subsection B hereof, which contain at least 50 percent by weight of alfalfa, red clover, white clover, alsike clover, and mammoth clover, or more than one of these legumes—$1.50 per acre.
5. Biennial or annual sweet clover, $1.00 per acre.
6. Legume mixtures or mixtures of legumes and the perennial grasses listed under subsection B hereof, except those qualifying under A (4) of this Section XIII, which contain at least 50 percent by weight of alfalfa, red clover, white clover, alsike clover, mammoth clover, biennial sweetclover, and annual sweet clover, or more than one of these legumes, $1.00 per acre.

B. Seedings of adapted perennial grasses.—Seedings of adapted seed of any of the following grasses on farm land:

1. Bluegrass and bromegrass, $2.00 per acre.
2. Orchard grass and permanent pasture mixtures of grasses or grasses and legumes containing at least 50 percent by weight of the grasses listed in item (1) of this subsection, $1.50 per acre.
3. Timothy, redtop, and permanent pasture mixtures of grasses or grasses and legumes containing at least 50 percent by weight of bluegrass, bromegrass, orchard grass, timothy, redtop, or more than one of these grasses, but which do not contain at least 50 percent of bluegrass, bromegrass, and orchard grass, $1.00 per acre.

C. Limestone.—Application on cropland or noncrop pasture land of ground limestone or its equivalent.

1. Application of ground limestone or its equivalent, $1.25 per ton. (The ground limestone should not be coarser than that obtained by grinding calcareous or dolomitic limestone so that not less than 90 percent with all finer particles obtained in the grinding process included, will pass through a ten-mesh sieve. It must contain calcium and magnesium carbonates equivalent to not less than 80 percent of calcium carbonate. The following quantities of other calcareous substances are equivalent to one ton of ground limestone; 1400 pounds of hydrated lime; 2 cubic yards of water softening process refuse lime.)

D. Phosphates.—Application of the following minimum amounts of phosphate materials per acre on non-crop pasture land or on cropland used in 1938 for the growing of a crop specified in subsection B of Section XII, and on which cropland or non-crop pasture land in connection with such application no crop (other than those listed in subsection B of Section XII) is planted in 1938.

1. One hundred and thirty-three pounds of 20 percent superphosphate or its equivalent, $1.00 per acre. (The 20 percent superphosphate designated in this subsection D shall contain 20 percent by weight of available phosphoric acid. Other phosphates may be substituted for 20 percent superphosphate, provided that the quantity of such substitute applied shall contain not less than the quantity by weight of available phosphoric acid contained in the specified quantity of 20 percent superphosphate.)

E. Planting and protection of trees.—Planting and protection of forest trees and trees for windbreak or shelterbelt purposes in accordance with good tree culture practices, $7.50 per acre: Provided,

1. In the case of forest planting there is on the date as of which final inspection is made for the purpose of determining performance on the farm, a stand of at least 650 living trees per acre; or if due to uncontrollable natural causes a stand of 650 living trees per acre is not obtained on the date as of which final inspection is made for the purpose of determining performance on the farm, there is satisfactory evidence that such trees were planted in accordance with good tree culture practice and that such trees have been properly protected.

2. In the case of windbreak or shelterbelt planting, there is on the date as of which inspection is made for the purpose of determining performance on the farm, a stand of at least 300 living trees per acre; or if due to uncontrollable natural causes a stand of 300 living trees per acre is not obtained on the date as of which final inspection is made for the purpose of determining performance on the farm, there is satisfactory evidence that such trees were planted in accordance with good tree culture practice and that such trees have been properly protected.

F. Terracing.—Terracing, between November 1, 1937 and October 31, 1938, of tillable land or non-tillable pasture land in accordance with good terracing practices—$0.40 per hundred feet, provided, the county committee after inspection has approved and designated in writing the area on which such practice is to be carried out.

SEC. XIV. Normal yields of corn.—The county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, shall determine for each farm for which a corn acreage allotment is to be established a normal yield for corn in accordance with the provisions of this section and instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

A. Where reliable records of the actual average yield per acre of corn for the years 1928 to 1937, inclusive, are presented by the farmer or are available to the committee, the normal yield for the farm shall be the average of such yields adjusted for trends and abnormal weather conditions in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

B. If for any year of such ten-year period reliable records of the actual average yield are not available or there was no actual yield because the commodity was not planted on the farm in such year, the normal yield for the farm shall be the yield which on the basis of all the available facts, including the yield customarily secured on the farm, weather conditions, type of soil, drainage, production practices, and general fertility of the land, the county committee determines to be the yield which was or could reasonably have been expected on the farm for such ten year period. Where the productivity index most recently established for the farm in connection with the agricultural conservation programs is determined by the county committee to be an accurate reflection of the foregoing factors, the yield obtained by multiplying such index by the county average yield established by the Secretary shall be used as the normal yield for the farm.

C. The yields determined under paragraph B of this Section XIV shall be adjusted so that the average of the normal yields for all farms in the county (weighted respectively by the corn acreage allotments established for such farms) shall conform to the county average yield established by the Secretary.

SEC. XV. Appeals.—Any person who considers himself aggrieved by any recommendation or determination of the county committee with respect to any farm in which he has an interest may, within 15 days after notice thereof is forwarded to or available to him, request the county committee in writing to reconsider its recommendation or determination with respect to any of the following matters: (a) eligibility to file an application for payment; (b) any acreage allotment or soil conserving goal; (c) the division of payment; or (d) any other matter affecting the right to or the amount of his payment with respect to the farm. The county committee shall notify such person of its decision in writing within 15 days after receipt of such written request for reconsideration. If such person is dissatisfied with the decision of the county committee he may, within 15 days after such decision, appeal in writing to the State committee. The State committee shall within 30 days after the receipt of the appeal inform such person of its decision. If such person is dissatisfied with the decision of the State committee he may, within 15 day thereafter, request the regional director to review the decision of the State committee.

SEC. XVI. Bulletins, instructions, and forms.—The Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall prepare and issue such bulletins, instructions, and forms as may be required in administering the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program for Tama County, Iowa.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 30th day of June 1938. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

It further appearing, That reasonable public notice of a hearing was provided and that at said hearing interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard; that the presiding Examiner duly designated by the Commission having filed his report and recommendations and the Commission having given due consideration to said report and recommendations and to the record of the evidence in this proceeding; and, the Commission having on the 29th day of June, 1938, adopted the Examiner's report and recommendations as its own which said report is hereby referred to and made a part hereof;

Now, therefore, It is by order declared:

That substantially all transactions in bituminous coal in intrastate commerce in the State of Alabama directly affect interstate commerce in such coal; and

That there will be an undue or unreasonable advantage, preference, or prejudice as between localities in Alabama in such intrastate commerce on the one hand and interstate commerce in bituminous coal on the other hand, and an undue, unreasonable, or unjust discrimination against interstate commerce in such coal if such transactions in intrastate commerce or any substantial part thereof are not regulated and subjected to the provisions of Section 4 of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

Therefore, it is further ordered:

1. That on and after the 1st day of August, 1938, all bituminous coal sold, delivered or offered for sale in transactions in intrastate commerce in such coal in all localities within the State of Alabama, shall be subject to the provisions of Section 4 of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, to the Bituminous Coal Code, as promulgated by the Commission and made effective on the 21st day of June, 1937,[2] and to all relevant orders of the Commission in effect on the date of this order, as well as all further orders which may thereafter be issued by the Commission under Section 4 of said Act, so as to apply to such intrastate commerce in coal within the State of Alabama.

2. C., 1934 Ed., Title 5, Sec. 22), Section 8, Liquor Law Repeal & Enforcement Act (U. S. C. 1934 Ed., Supp. II, Title 27, Sec. 157), the following regulations are prescribed:

MANUFACTURE, TAX-PAYMENT, REMOVAL, AND REGISTRATION OF STILLS AND WORMS

PARAGRAPH 1. Special tax liability.—(a) Rate of tax.—The Second subsection of Section 3244, Revised Statutes, as amended, provides that any person who manufactures any still or worm for distilling shall be deemed a manufacturer of stills, and shall pay a special (occupational) tax of $50 and, in addition thereto, a special (commodity) tax of $20 for each still or worm to be used in distilling made by him, i. e., $20 for each still and each worm, or condenser.

(b) Exemption.—By Section 18 of the Act of May 28, 1880, distillers in registered distilleries who manufacture wooden stills for their own use are exempted from the payment of the special taxes imposed under the provisions of the second subsection of Section 3244, Revised Statutes, as amended, but they are required to give written notice to the Collector of the District in which the distillery is located of each still manufactured before the same is used.

PAR. 2. Name plate of manufacturer on still.—Each still and worm or condenser must have a name plate securely attached hereto by riveting or brazing, or have cut by suitable die, legibly and durably in the material of which it is made, showing:

1. Name of Manufacturer.
2. Address of Manufacturer.

3. Manufacturer's serial number for the article.

Such marking of stills and worms or condensers must be by the manufacturer, and this information will be disclosed by the manufacturer or vendor in the notice to the Collector and in the affidavits required by Paragraph 8.

PAR. 3. When tax is due.—The commodity tax on each still, worm, or condenser is due when the manufacture thereof is completed, and must be paid by affixing to the article a special tax stamp as provided by Section 3238, Revised Statutes, as amended. At the time of affixing such stamp the same must be cancelled by the manufacturer by writing across the face thereof, in ink, the word "cancelled," followed by the date and name of the manufacturer. The special (occupational) tax as manufacturer of stills is due on the 1st day of July in each year, or on commencing such trade or business, as provided by Section 3237, Revised Statutes, as amended. It is provided in the former case that the tax shall be reckoned for one year, and in the latter that it shall be reckoned proportionately, from the first day of the month in which the liability to the special tax commenced, to and including the 30th day of June following. The statute further provides that it shall be the duty of the special taxpayers to render their returns with remittances to the collector at such times within the calendar month in which the special tax liability commenced as shall enable him to receive such returns, duly signed and verified, together with the remittances, not later than the last day of the month, except in cases of sickness or absence, as provided by Section 3176 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 Ed., Title 26, Section 1524). The special tax return, Form 11, will be used by manufacturers of stills in rendering their returns of the occupational and commodity taxes due on stills and worms, or condensers. Such returns shall be sworn to before a Notary Public or other official duly authorized to administer oaths. The special (occupational) tax stamp must be conspicuously posted in the place of business of the manufacturer of stills.

PAR. 4. Types of distilling apparatus subject to tax.—Under the law the $20 tax is due on each still, and on each worm or condenser used as herein indicated and not merely one tax on the unit. This means that tax is due on the beer still, and each successive still or worm or condenser through which the spirits are passed, subject to the following interpretation as to worms or condensers:

1. A tubular type condenser made up of numerous metal tubes, enclosed within a water jacket for the condensation of spirits in their course to the trybox, is subject to the tax of $20.

2. A worm or condenser for the condensation of aldehydes or fusel oil only, where such aldehydes or fusel oil contain only negligible quantities of alcohol, would not be subject to the $20 tax.

3. An intermediate or primary condenser for low wines, which require doubling, is subject to the $20 tax.

PAR. 5. "Distilling" defined.—The term "distilling" used in the Second subsection of Section 3244, Revised Statutes, as amended, means the distillation of spirits as defined by the internal-revenue laws including Section 1 of Title III of the National Prohibition Act, as amended, (U. S. C., 1934 Ed., Title 27, Section 71). Such distillation includes (a) the original manufacture of distilled spirits from mash, wort, or wash, or any material suitable for the production of spirits; (b) the redistillation of spirits, in the course of original manufacture; (c) the redistillation of spirits, or products containing spirits within the provisions of the Third subsection of Section 3244, Revised Statutes, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 Ed., Title 26, Section 1398 (f); (d) the redistillation or recovery of ethyl alcohol or of completely or specially denatured alcohol, or of proprietary solvents containing specially denatured alcohol; (e) the redistillation or recovery of tax-free alcohol.

PAR. 6. Manufacture of parts of stills and assembling thereof.—If separate parts of a still, worm, or condenser of any kind are furnished by the manufacturer to a distiller or other person who assembles the same into a complete unit for distilling, the manufacturer of the parts is liable as a manufacturer of stills. Conversely, if a distiller or other person procures parts which are not in themselves designed, constructed, or sold as stills, worms, or condensers, or parts thereof, for use in distilling, and alters and assembles such parts as a distilling unit, liability to the occupational and commodity taxes as a manufacturer of stills will be incurred by such distiller or person, as provided in Par. 1 (a).

PAR. 7. Reconstruction of stills.—(a) Repairs or alterations.—Whenever a still, worm, or condenser is repaired or altered by the addition of new material to such an extent as to virtually result in the construction of a new still, worm or condenser, the manufacturer, distiller, or other person making such repairs or alterations, will be held liable to the commodity tax of $20 for each still, worm, or condenser so repaired or altered, and in addition will incur liability to the occupational tax of $50 as a manufacturer of stills.

(b) Extent of changes.—Minor structural changes made in a still, worm or condenser, such as the limited replacement of parts or the addition of new materials, which do not effect any material change in the mode of operation, character, or capacity of the distilling apparatus, will not be deemed to constitute the manufacture of a new still, worm or condenser. Major alterations, however, involving extensive replacements of parts or additions of new materials to a still, worm or condenser, whereby the mode of operation, character or capacity of the apparatus is materially changed, and which result in the virtual construction of a new still, worm or condenser, will render the manufacturer thereof liable to the occupational and commodity taxes imposed by law on manufacturers of stills.

(c) Action by collector.—Collectors will determine in each instance whether repairs to any still, worm or condenser constitute the manufacture of a new still, worm or condenser, and will collect the taxes found to be due in such cases, according to law. District Supervisors will cooperate with Collectors in making such determinations. The necessary investigations and inspections in connection therewith will be made by District Supervisors. In the event of doubt whether repairs made to any still, worm or condenser are of such nature or extent as to incur tax, the case will be referred to the Commissioner by the Collector, together with all the evidence available, for a ruling. Such evidence should include a sketch of the apparatus showing the extent of new material and replacements.

PAR. 8. Taxable status of stills—(a) Evidence of use.—Any still, worm, or condenser of whatever size or capacity, with the exception only of retorts for the production of wood alcohol, and glass laboratory stills of trivial capacity, sold to a user by the manufacturer or otherwise disposed of or used by the manufacturer, will be presumed to be intended for use in the distillation of spirits, and special tax as manufacturer of stills and tax on the still, worm, or condenser, incurred by the manufacturer, unless such presumption shall be removed by filing satisfactory evidence as hereinafter provided showing that the same will not be used for the distillation of spirits, or products containing spirits.

(b) Purchase by mail order house, jobber or dealer.—When the purchase is by a mail order house, jobber, or dealer, the same presumption will prevail, unless the vendee furnishes the manufacturer with a sworn statement to the effect that sales will be made only for purposes other than distilling spirits and before removal of a still, worm, or condenser from the vendor's premises a sworn statement will be obtained from the user as herein provided.

(c) Successive sales between dealers.—In case of successive sales between dealers, the vendor shall, in each case, take an affidavit of similar purport from the vendee.

(d) Sale of still for purpose other than distilling spirits.—When a sale is made by a manufacturer or by a dealer to a person who intends to use the still otherwise than for distilling spirits, a sworn statement of the purchaser must be executed in triplicate, and must show the purchaser's name and address, the purpose for which the still will be used, that it will not be used for the distillation of spirits, or products containing spirits, the address where the still will be registered or other apparatus used, the manufacturer's serial number of the still, and the manufacturer's name and address. Such affidavit shall be filed with the manufacturer or vendor as the case may be, who will retain one copy for his files, and transmit two copies to the collector, as provided by Paragraph 9 (c).

(e) When a still, worm or condenser is manufactured by a person who intends to use the distilling apparatus for purposes other than the distillation of spirits, as defined in Par. 5, a sworn statement of such person must be executed in triplicate, and must show that such distilling apparatus was manufactured by him for his own use and is not to be used for the distillation of spirits or products containing spirits, the purpose for which it is to be used, the address where the apparatus will be registered and used, the manufacturer's serial number of the still, worm or condenser, and the manufacturer's name and address. Such affidavit shall be filed with the Collector, together with the application on Form 110, as provided by Par. 9.

PAR. 9. Procedure for removal—(a) Notice and permit.—No still, boiler (doubler or pot still), worm, or other distilling apparatus shall be removed from the premises of the manufacturer or dealer, as the case may be, for delivery to a user, or removed by the manufacturer for his own use, until the collector of the district in which the manufacturer or vendor is located has received from the manufacturer or vendor an application on Form 110, in triplicate, for permission to remove the distilling apparatus and permit on such form has been received from the collector to remove the same. The collector issuing the removal permit, shall furnish a copy of such permit to the District Supervisor, in whose district the apparatus is to be set up, registered and used. No such distilling apparatus may be set up or used for the distillation of spirits as defined by Paragraph 5, without application to and permit from the District Supervisor in whose district the apparatus is to be used, as provided in Paragraph 9 (b).

(b) Application and permit to set up and use distilling apparatus.—Upon receipt of such distilling apparatus and before setting up the same for distilling, as defined in Paragraph 5, the user shall apply to the District Supervisor on Part 1, Form 1609, in duplicate, for permission to set up such apparatus, specifying the type of apparatus, the capacity, the serial number thereof, the name and address of the manufacturer, the name and address of the vendor, and the purpose for which the apparatus will be used. The District Supervisor shall then, if he has in his possession copy of the permit issued by the collector for removal of the distilling apparatus from the premises of the manufacturer or vendor, issue permit on Part 2, Form 1609, authorizing the distilling apparatus to be set up by the user. Such permission will contain the stipulations: (1) That the distilling apparatus must be immediately registered when set up, as required by Paragraph 10 of these regulations; and (2) that all provisions of internal-revenue law and regulations, as may be applicable to the class of operations to be conducted, will be complied with prior to use of such apparatus for the distillation of spirits. Persons setting up stills for purposes other than distilling spirits are not required to obtain the permit to set up and use, but the apparatus must be registered as provided by Par. 10.

(c) Use of still for purposes other than distilling spirits.—In case the distilling apparatus is to be used for purposes other than the distillation of spirits, as defined in Paragraph 5, two copies of the required affidavit of the user must accompany the application on Form 110 filed by the manufacturer or vendor with the collector. The collector should send one copy of the affidavit to the District Supervisor of the district in which the apparatus will be used or set up and will retain the remaining copy for his files. The copy of the affidavit retained by the manufacturer or vendor will be filed with the permit to remove the still, worm, or condenser, etc., in his place of business and will be carefully preserved thereat, and will be subject to examination by internal-revenue officers at all reasonable hours.

(d) Failure to give notice; penalty.—Failure to give the notice of intention to remove and obtain the permit to set up a still is punishable in the sum of $500, and the distilling apparatus is forfeitable to the Government.

PAR. 10. Registry of stills—(a) Registration with district supervisor.—Every person having in his possession, custody, or under his control, any still or distilling apparatus, set up, shall register the same with the District Supervisor of the District in which such still or distilling apparatus is located, except where such stills have heretofore been registered and no change in ownership, possession, custody, control, or location has occurred since such registry. This requirement applies to all stills set up, except retorts for the production of wood alcohol and glass laboratory stills of trivial capacity. This registry of stills shall be made on Form 26, in triplicate, with the District Supervisor. The specific information required by the instructions on Form 26 will be entered in the spaces provided therefor. One copy of each registration of stills on Form 26 will be retained by the District Supervisor, one copy will be returned to the registrant, and the remaining copy will be immediately forwarded to the Commissioner. The approved copy of the Form 26, returned to the registrant by the Supervisor, shall be retained on the premises where the still is set up for examination by visiting internal-revenue officers.

(b) When still is "set up."—A still will be regarded as set up and subject to registry when the same is in such condition that spirits may be distilled therewith. When the still is in position over a furnace, or connected with a boiler so that heat may be applied, the still will be regarded as set up although the worm or worm tank is not in position. These instructions will apply to all stills of vacuum type, still or apparatus in a horizontal position capable of separating alcoholic vapors from liquid alcoholic mixtures, or solutions, or any other apparatus designed, intended, actually used, or capable of use for the distillation of spirits. These instructions as to stills set up are intended merely as illustrations and are not expected to cover all types of stills, worms, or condensers requiring registration under the law.

(c) Change in location or ownership of still.—In the event a user removes a still to another location, after the same has been registered, no permit therefor will be required, but the still, when set up at the new location must be immediately registered on Form 26 with the District Supervisor. Likewise, when a user sells, or otherwise disposes of a still, no permit for removal, sale, or disposition thereof will be required, but the new owner must immediately register the still on Form 26 with the District Supervisor of the district in which the still is set up. If the apparatus so removed or sold, is to be used for distilling, as defined in Paragraph 5, no permit to set up and use the same will be required, but prior to use of such apparatus there must be full compliance with the internal-revenue laws and regulations governing the class of operations to be conducted.

(d) Naval, Coast Guard, and War Department vessels.—The registration of stills, worms, or condensers, for use other than in the distillation of spirits, set up on vessels operated by the Navy Department, the War Department, or the Coast Guard will not be required.

PAR. 11. Illicit stills.—Internal Revenue officers in reporting illicit stills must, in all cases, if possible, ascertain the name and address of the manufacturer of the still, worm, etc., and whether or not the taxes due the Government have been paid. If the officer, upon investigation, shall ascertain that there has not been compliance with the provisions of law and these regulations, respecting tax-payment and removal, taxes and penalties should be asserted against the manufacturer. Every effort must be made by the officers to obtain convincing and complete evidence in such cases.

PAR. 12. Exportation of stills with benefit of drawback—(a) Exportation.—An exportation is a severance of goods from the mass of things belonging to this country with the intention of uniting them to the mass of things belonging to some foreign country. (Article 1267, Customs' Regulations, 1937.) The export character of any shipment will be determined by the intention with which it is made. The shipment assumes an export character only when destined for use in a foreign country.

(b) Puerto Rico and Philippine Islands.—Where reference is made in these regulations, and in the form prescribed, to exportation to a foreign country their provisions will apply to like shipments to Puerto Rico or to the Philippine Islands, the same as though such shipments were expressly mentioned.

PAR. 13. Drawback of tax.—Under the law the allowance of drawback is restricted to stills "manufactured for export and actually exported."

PAR. 14. Branding or marking.—Every person who manufactures stills intended for exportation will brand or stamp upon each still, and in a conspicuous place, the words "FOR EXPORT," followed by the serial number of the article and the manufacturer's name. When such stills are manufactured from metal plates the words "FOR EXPORT" with the serial number of the article and the manufacturer's name directly thereunder, will be stamped (in letters and figures which must, in no case, be less than one-half inch in height) thereon with a suitable die, or otherwise permanently affixed to each still. Where the still is constructed of or encased in wood, the words "FOR EXPORT," the serial number of the article and the manufacturer's name will be branded thereon.

PAR. 15. Request for inspection; entry for exportation; drawback claim.—After completion of the stills, and before the same are removed from the place of manufacture, the manufacturer (exporter) will forward to the collector of his district Form 1610, in quadruplicate, with Part 1 and Part 2 duly executed. Request for inspection and release of the stills for immediate exportation, and application for allowance of drawback, equal to the internal-revenue tax paid on the stills, when actually exported, will be made in Part 1 of Form 1610. Entry for exportation of the stills, and claim for drawback of the internal-revenue tax paid thereon, will be made and sworn to by the manufacturer (exporter) in Part 2 of the form. The stamps denoting payment of the tax must be attached to the original of the claim.

PAR. 16. Payment of tax; inspection by deputy; certificate.—Upon the receipt of claim and entry on Form 1610, and upon the payment of the tax due, the collector will direct a deputy to proceed to the place of manufacture, and, if the stills are found to agree with those described in the form, and are properly marked or branded as required by these regulations, the deputy will execute the certificate in Part 4 of the form. The stamp or stamps attached to the claim must, in the presence of the deputy, be cancelled by the manufacturer by writing across the face thereof in ink the word "cancelled" followed by the date and name of the manufacturer. The deputy will then release the stills for delivery to carrier or into customs' custody, and will mail or deliver three copies (one the original, with the tax-paid stamps attached), of the claim and entry, Form 1610, to the Collector of Customs and forward the remaining copy to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

PAR. 17. Delivery of shipment; bills of lading.—The manufacturer, upon release of a shipment of stills for export, will deliver such shipment either to the carrier or directly for Customs' inspection, as follows:

(a) If the place of manufacture is located at the port of exportation, he will deliver the shipment directly for Customs' inspection and supervision of lading. A copy of the export bill of lading shall be forwarded and filed with the Collector of Customs.

(b) If the place of manufacture is located elsewhere than at the port of exportation, he will deliver the shipment to the common carrier for transportation to the port of exportation. He shall procure two copies of the bill of lading covering such transportation. In case of exportation through a border port to foreign contiguous territory, the bill of lading will cover transportation to destination, and must show the routing, particularly the carrier which will deliver the shipment for Customs' inspection at the border; also that shipment was sent in care of the collector or deputy collector of customs at the border port. He will immediately transmit by letter one copy of the bill of lading to the collector of customs at the port of exportation, and transmit the other to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

PAR. 18. Inspection and lading.—The collector of customs to whom claim and entry on Form 1610 is transmitted by the deputy collector of internal revenue, will fill in on each copy of said form the order for inspection and lading. The inspector of customs will carefully examine the stills described in the entry and he will, if he finds the articles to be otherwise than described, make a special report thereon. After having complied with the order of inspection and after the stills have been duly laden on board the exporting vessel or car, the inspector will complete and sign the certificate of inspection and lading in Part 6 of Form 1610. If the inspector discovers any evidence of fraud, he will detain the stills and notify the collector of customs, who will inform the collector of internal revenue of the district in which said port is located. The collector of internal revenue will see that seizure is made and report immediately to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

PAR. 19. Certificate of Exportation.—After inspection and lading and clearance for a foreign port of the vessel or car on which the stills described in the entry are laden, and after receipt of the export or through bill of lading (Par. 17), the collector of customs will execute certificate of exportation on each copy of the claim and entry, Form 1610. Such collector will retain one copy for his entry record and transmit the remaining two copies of the Form 1610, to the collector of internal revenue for the district from which the stills were shipped.

PAR. 20. Approval and submission of claim—(a) Action by collector.—The collector of internal revenue will immediately examine the two copies of the claim for drawback on Form 1610, received from the collector of customs (Par. 19), and if satisfied that the claim is a valid one, he will indorse his approval thereon and forward both copies (one the original with the tax-paid stamps attached) to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, attention Alcohol Tax Unit.

(b) Action by Commissioner.—Upon review of the claim by the Commissioner appropriate action will be taken, and the amount of allowance of drawback due will be certified for payment on Form 1611. If the claim is allowed, in whole or in part, the Commissioner will forward it, together with his certificate, Form 1611, and schedule of claims, Form 1612, to the Comptroller General of the United States for certification of the amount allowed. If the claim is disallowed, the Commissioner will so notify the claimant and state the reasons therefor.

PAR. 21. Penalty for fraudulently claiming drawback.—One who fraudulently claims or seeks to obtain an allowance of drawback on merchandise on which no tax has been paid, or a greater allowance of drawback than the tax actually paid, is liable to forfeiture of triple the amount claimed or $500, at the election of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Administration of Regulations

PAR. 22. Administration.—These regulations shall be administered by the Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue in charge of the Alcohol Tax Unit.

Prior Regulations Revoked

PAR. 23. Prior regulations.—All prior regulations relating to the manufacture, tax-payment, sale, removal and registration of stills and worms, or condensers for domestic purposes are hereby revoked in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of these regulations. The provisions of Regulations 73, Chapter IV, relative to the drawback of tax on stills exported, are hereby revoked.

Effective Date of Regulations

PAR. 24. Effective date.—These regulations shall be effective on and after July 1, 1938.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Approved, June 27, 1938.

TITLE 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS

DIVISION OF PUBLIC CONTRACTS

IN THE MATTER OF DETERMINING THE PREVAILING MINIMUM WAGES IN THE FLINT GLASS INDUSTRY

This matter is before me pursuant to Section 1 (b) of the Act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. Sup. III 35), entitled "An Act to provide conditions for the purchase of supplies and the making of contracts by the United States, and for other purposes." At my direction the Public Contracts Board, created in accordance with Section 4 of the said Act by Administrative Order dated October 6, 1936, held a hearing on November 30, 1937, in the above entitled matter.

Notices of the hearing were sent to all known members of the industry, to trade unions, and to trade associations in the field. Invitation to attend the hearing was extended through the national press to all other interested parties. There were no members of the industry present at the hearing on November 30, 1937, but letters from glass manufacturers received in response to the notice of hearing were made a part of the record. A representative of the American Flint Glass Workers Union of North America was present at the hearing, and testified.

Subsequent to the hearing there was received from the American Glassware Association a copy of a labor survey of the American Glassware Industry, dated January 29, 1938. After consideration of the wage data contained therein and the information of record, the Board advised the Administrator that another hearing should be called to give interested parties an opportunity to show cause why the prevailing minimum wages in the flint glass industry should not be determined to be 42½ cents an hour or $17.00 a week for a week of 40 hours. This hearing was held on April 11, 1938. Notices of the second hearing were likewise sent to all known members of the industry, to trade unions, trade associations and trade publications in the field.

No members of the industry appeared at this hearing.

Twenty-seven letters received from glass manufacturers in response to the notice of hearing were made a part of the record. These letters set forth the views of manufacturers with respect to the proposed minimum wage and in some instances furnished wage data. The labor survey of the American Glassware Industry, dated January 29, 1938, heretofore referred to, was made a part of the record. A representative of the American Flint Glass Workers Union of North America was present at the hearing and testified. The Board has reviewed the testimony received at the hearing and on the basis thereof advises me as follows:

The flint glass industry produces such types of glassware as illuminating, table glassware, all thin blown glass, thermos bottles, chemical and laboratory ware, perfumery ware, stoppers, and bottles, and the like, which character of glassware is produced by the Pressed, Pressed and Blown, Off Hand and Blown Method, Cutting and Polishing; in fact all types of glassware other than window, plate and rolled glass, common bottles, containers, and prescription glassware.

It was estimated that there were between 23,000 and 24,000 workers in the industry in 1934. The Secretary-Treasurer of the American Flint Glass Workers Union at the 1937 convention stated that the total membership of the Union on May 31, 1937, was 19,017 workers. As of May 31, 1937, 11,992 of these workers were organized as miscellaneous workers, the category into which the low wage employees fall. The American Glassware Association in its labor survey has furnished wage data for 20,243 factory employees in the industry. The survey covers workers in 46 companies and it is estimated by the Association that 85% of the total production of the industry is accounted for by the companies included in the survey.

The Union representative has indicated that he believes that this survey prepared by the American Glassware Association is as adequate as any that could be furnished by the workers themselves. Wage data are given in the form of the average hourly rates currently paid by members of the industry. The lowest paid 25 percent of the workers in the wage sample, or in other words the first quartile, falls at 51 cents an hour. In the group below the first quartile, 110 workers averaged 38 cents an hour; 122 averaged 39 cents; 662 averaged 41 cents; 12 averaged 42 cents; and 2,190 averaged 43 cents an hour. Eleven percent of all the workers included in the labor survey and almost 45 percent of the workers whose wages fall below the first quartile are at this figure. In order to give recognition to the minor downward tendency indicated by a lesser concentration at 41 cents, the Board concludes from the labor survey that 42½ cents an hour is indicative of the minimum wage prevailing in the industry.

Several manufacturers have indicated an objection to the finding of a 42½ cent minimum, mostly on the basis that such finding would interfere with a collective bargaining relationship which has set a lower wage. The Union representative who appeared at the hearing indicated that he had no fear that such result would follow, inasmuch as there were only a few employees at the absolute minimum. The Union agreement provides for a basic minimum wage of 38 cents an hour for women and 45 cents an hour for men with a further provision that existing wage rates which are higher shall be maintained. The labor survey of the American Glassware Association, however, presents the actual wages paid in the industry and indicates clearly that the actual minimum paid are in excess of the basic minima provided for in the trade union agreement.

The Board finds that the geographic concentration of the industry is such that regional influences are not of primary consideration in the shaping of the wage structure of the industry, and that this factor and the fact that there is extensive collective bargaining in the industry exerts an influence toward uniformity throughout the entire industry.

The Board recommends that the minimum wage in the flint glass industry be found to be 42½ cents an hour or $17.00 a week for a week of 40 hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece work basis.

I have examined the findings and recommendations of the Board, and the record of the hearing, and I am of the opinion that such findings and recommendations are correct, and I adopt them as my own.

Therefore, I hereby determine:

That the minimum wage for employees engaged in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the provisions of the Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. Sup. III 35), for the manufacture or supply of flint glass shall be 42½ cents an hour or $17.00 a week of 40 hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece work basis.

This determination shall be effective and the minimum wage hereby established shall apply to all such contracts bids for which are solicited on or after July 12, 1938.

[SEAL] C. V. MCLAUGHLIN,
Acting Secretary of Labor.

Dated this 27th day of June, 1938.

R. 1052 DI), establishing minimum wages for employees engaged in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the provisions of the aforesaid Act for the manufacture or supply of envelopes, is amended by striking the last paragraph therefrom and substituting the following:

This determination shall be effective and the minimum wage hereby established shall apply to all such contracts for which bids are opened on or after May 12, 1938.

COMMODITY CREDIT CORPORATION

[1938 Wool Circular Letter No. 3]

1938 WOOL AND MOHAIR LOAN PROGRAM

AMENDMENT TO INSTRUCTIONS

JUNE 17, 1938.

The instructions (1938 CCC Wool Form 1) issued by Commodity Credit Corporation for the 1938 wool and mohair loan program [1] are hereby amended to provide for the making of loans and the purchase of eligible paper secured by pooled, graded wool in lines.

The following definition is added to Section 1 of the Instructions:

"(f) Graded wool pool.—Any informal pool of graded wool delivered by two or more producers of wool which is represented by a dealer or others acting as a borrowing or selling representative or agent for such producers pursuant to Producer's Authority to Pool and Grade (1938 CCC Wool Form L)."

The following forms are approved and available for use in connection with loans made and eligible paper purchased by Commodity Credit Corporation and secured by pooled, graded wool in lines:

"Producer's Authority to Grade and Pool (1938 CCC Wool Form L), Graded Wool Note (1938 CCC Wool Form M)."

Section 10 of the instructions is hereby amended by adding thereto a paragraph as follows:

"Producers may also join with other producers to form informal graded wool pools for the purpose of obtaining loans from Commodity Credit Corporation upon the security of pooled, graded wool in lines. The representative of such informal graded wool pools must obtain authority from the producers for the pooling, grading and the pledging thereof to Commodity Credit Corporation on a Producer's Authority to Pool and Grade (1938 CCC Wool Form L). Under this arrangement the representative will execute the note (1938 CCC Wool Form M) evidencing the advance and pledging the graded wool without further liability on the part of such representative to Commodity Credit Corporation except in case of fraud or misrepresentation or the failure of the representative to comply with the terms of the Producer's Authorities to Grade and Pool (1938 CCC Wool Form L). Dealers or others may act as representatives of graded wool pools. Commodity Credit Corporation will not accept notes on 1938 CCC Wool Form M which were originally secured by less than 75,000 pounds of graded wool in any one line or when the range of shrinkage in any pile exceeds four per cent. Such notes may be made payable to Commodity Credit Corporation and submitted immediately after appraisal with a Lending Agency's Letter of Transmittal (1938 CCC Wool Form F) in which case no allowance for interest will be made by Commodity Credit Corporation. However, if the representative of the graded wool pool has executed a Contract to Purchase (1938 CCC Wool Form H) allowance will be made by Commodity Credit Corporation for interest from the date of the note in accordance with the terms of the Contract to Purchase. Such notes on 1938 CCC Wool Form M may be endorsed without recourse by the lending agencies tendering same.

It is suggested that the representatives of such pools should arrange for the issuance of warehouse receipts on the basis of not more than 50,000 pounds of graded wool to each receipt, provided all the wool in the graded pile is pledged as security to one note. This will greatly aid in the partial release of such graded wool on a warehouse receipt basis. All the wool in the pool may be pledged as security to one note or a separate note may be used for the graded wool in each line subject to the minimum quantity noted

Section 15 of the Instructions is hereby amended by adding thereto a paragraph as follows:

"Partial releases of pledged wool or mohair pledged to secure a note on 1938 CCC Wool Form A, B, C, or M will be permitted upon condition that all wool or mohair represented by any one warehouse receipt is withdrawn and that the entire net sales proceeds in an amount not less than the loan value of the released wool or mohair are applied upon the note."

If the borrower's note is made payable and has been submitted to Commodity Credit Corporation, borrowers desiring to obtain partial releases should notify the Federal Reserve Bank or Branch thereof serving the district in which the wool or mohair is stored of the warehouse receipts representing wool or mohair to be released. If the note is not held by Commodity Credit Corporation the borrower should notify the holder of such note.

Warehouse receipts representing wool or mohair held by Commodity Credit Corporation will be forwarded to an approved bank to be released to the borrower or agent against payment of the net sales proceeds (as certified by the borrower), which shall be not less than the amount loaned on the wool or mohair to be released plus interest on such amount and any charges applicable thereto.

Banks and other lending agencies, including representatives of wool pools and graded wool pools, may also permit partial releases as provided above and Commodity Credit Corporation will purchase notes on which partial releases have been made, provided the note is credited by the lending agencies with the net sales proceeds (as certified by the borrower and attached to this note), which shall be not less than the full amount loaned on the wool or mohair released plus interest at the rate of four per cent per annum thereon. An amount equivalent to one and one-half per cent per annum on the amount of such principal collected at the time of such partial releases from the date of the note or notes to the date of payment should be remitted to Commodity Credit Corporation in accordance with the terms of the Contract to Purchase (1938 CCC Wool Form H).

The certification by the borrower in regard to the net sales proceeds should be substantially in the following form:

"The undersigned has heretofore executed a note on 1938 CCC Wool Form ____, dated ----------, in the amount of $----------. Warehouse receipt No. ____ has been withdrawn and the undersigned hereby certifies that the sales proceeds for the wool or mohair represented by such receipt is $----------, from which there has been deducted the amount of $----------, representing selling commission and transportation or handling costs, leaving net sales proceeds in the amount of $----------.

(Borrower)"

Payment will be made to the lending agencies on the basis of the amount loaned on the collateral remaining pledged as security to the note plus interest on such amount at the rate of two and one-half per cent per annum from the date of the note to the date of purchase.

Secretary.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

BUREAU OF ENTOMOLOGY AND PLANT QUARANTINE

MODIFICATION OF COTTON REGULATIONS

AMENDMENT NO. 4 OF RULES AND REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE IMPORTATION OF COTTON AND COTTON WRAPPINGS INTO THE UNITED STATES

Introductory Note

The Cotton Regulations revised effective February 24, 1923, provided for the entry of cotton lint and cotton linters from Mexico via border ports only when they originated in the Imperial Valley of Lower California, Mexico. Effective December 15, 1924, the regulations were modified to provide for entry from other specified areas in Mexico through ports on the border. Since that date, the Bureau has acquired a wider knowledge of pink bollworm control measures, and has been able, in connection with its administration of Quarantine No. 52, the domestic Pink Bollworm Quarantine, to acquaint itself more thoroughly, through the cooperation of the Mexican Government, with the pink bollworm conditions in areas in Mexico adjacent to the border and with control measures carried on in such areas by the Ministry of Agriculture and Development of that country.

In the light of this wider knowledge, a more liberal policy is adopted to allow the entry of baled cotton lint and linters from Mexico, subject to conditions of entry paralleling the conditions under which cotton lint and linters, produced in the pink bollworm infested areas of the United States, may move interstate under the provisions of Quarantine No. 52.

Regulation 13 of the Cotton Regulations, as hereby amended, is predicated upon a continuance of the enforcement, in cotton-producing areas of Mexico, of measures of suppression and of measures to prevent the spread of the pink bollworm which are deemed by the United States Department of Agriculture to be equal in effectiveness to measures enforced in cotton-producing areas of the United States having a similar status with respect to the pink bollworm. The importation of baled cotton lint and linters from Mexico, as provided in regulation 13, as amended, is further contingent upon the determination, from time to time, by manner and method deemed satisfactory to the Department, of the status of Mexican cotton-producing areas with respect to the pink bollworm and upon the determination, by manner and method deemed satisfactory to the Department, of suppression and control measures enforced in Mexican cotton-producing areas.

AVERY S. HOYT,
Actg. Chief, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

Under authority conferred by the Plant Quarantine Act of August 20, 1912 (37 Stat. 315) as amended, it is ordered that regulation 13, of the Rules and Regulations Governing the Importation of Cotton and Cotton Wrappings into the United States, be, and the same is hereby, amended to read as follows: Regulation 13. Provision for the Entry via Border Ports of Cotton Lint and Linters from Mexico.

Baled cotton lint and linters produced in Mexico may be imported into pink bollworm infested areas of the United States through border ports approved by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine for that purpose, subject to such treatment on arrival as is required under the regulations of the domestic Pink Bollworm Quarantine No. 52, for the interstate movement of cotton lint and linters produced in those areas: Provided, however, That no cotton lint and linters produced in areas of Mexico determined by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine as heavily infested with the pink bollworm may enter the United States under the provisions of this regulation unless such areas are adjacent to heavily infested areas of the United States.

Baled cotton lint and linters produced in areas of Mexico determined by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine to be uninfested with the pink bollworm may be imported through border ports approved by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine for that purpose subject to compression at compresses designated in the permit.

This regulation leaves in full force and effect the provisions of regulation 10 affecting the entry of cotton grown in the Imperial Valley in the State of Lower California, Mexico.

Regulation 13, as amended herein, shall be effective on and after July 1, 1938.

Done at the city of Washington this 30th day of June 1938.

Witness my hand and the seal of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 12—BANKING AND CREDIT

COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY

INVESTMENT SECURITIES REGULATION

By virtue of the authority vested in the Comptroller of the Currency by paragraph Seventh of Section 5136 of the Revised Statutes, the following regulation is promulgated:

SECTION 1

(1) An obligation of indebtedness which may be purchased for its own account by a national bank or State member bank of the Federal Reserve System, in order to come within the classification of "investment securities" within the meaning of paragraph Seventh of said Section 5136, must be a marketable obligation, i. e., it must be salable under ordinary circumstances with reasonable promptness at a fair value; and with respect to the particular security, there must be present one or more of the following characteristics:

(a) A public distribution of the securities must have been provided for or made in a manner to protect or insure the marketability of the issue; or,

(b) Other existing securities of the obligor must have such a public distribution as to protect or insure the marketability of the issue under consideration; or,

(c) In the case of investment securities for which a public distribution as set forth in (a) or (b) above can not be so provided, or so made, and which are issued by established commercial or industrial businesses or enterprises, that can demonstrate the ability to service such securities, the debt evidenced thereby must mature not later than ten years after the date of issuance of the security and must be of such sound value or so secured as reasonably to assure its payment; and such securities must, by their terms, provide for the amortization of the debt evidenced thereby so that at least 75% of the principal will be extinguished by the maturity date by substantial periodic payments: Provided, That no amortization need be required for the period of the first year after the date of issuance of such securities.

(2) Where the security is issued under a trust agreement, the agreement must provide for a trustee independent of the obligor, and such trustee must be a bank or trust company.

(3) All purchases of investment securities by national and State member banks for their own account must be of securities "in the form of bonds, notes, and/or debentures, commonly known as investment securities"; and every transaction which is in fact such a purchase must, regardless of its form, comply with this regulation.

SECTION II

(1) Although the bank is permitted to purchase "investment securities" for its own account for purposes of investment under the provisions of R. S. 5136 and this regulation, the bank is not permitted otherwise to participate as a principal in the marketing of securities.

(2) The statutory limitation on the amount of the "investment securities" of any one obligor or maker which may be held by the bank, is to be determined on the basis of the par or face value of the securities, and not on their market value.

(3) The purchase of "investment securities" in which the investment characteristics are distinctly or predominantly speculative, or the purchase of securities which are in default, either as to principal or interest, is prohibited.

(4) Purchase of an investment security at a price exceeding par is prohibited, unless the bank shall:

(a) Provide for the regular amortization of the premium paid so that the premium shall be entirely extinguished at or before the maturity of the security and the security (including premium) shall at no intervening date be carried at an amount in excess of that at which the obligor may legally redeem such security; or

(b) Set up a reserve account to amortize the premium, said account to be credited periodically with an amount not less than the amount required for amortization under (a) above.

(5) Purchase of securities convertible into stock at the option of the issuer is prohibited.

(6) Purchase of securities convertible into stock at the option of the holder or with stock purchase warrants attached is prohibited if the price paid for such security is in excess of the investment value of the security itself, considered independently of the stock purchase warrants or conversion feature. If it is apparent that the price paid for an otherwise eligible security fairly reflects the investment value of the security itself and does not include any speculative value based upon the presence of a stock purchase warrant or conversion option the purchase of such a security is not prohibited.

(7) As to the purchase of securities under repurchase agreement, subject to the limitations and restrictions set forth in the law and this regulation:

(a) It is permissible for the bank to purchase "investment securities" from another under an agreement whereby the bank has an option or a right to require the seller of the securities to repurchase them from the bank at a price stated or at a price subject to determination under the terms of the agreement, but in no case less than the market value at the time of repurchase.

(b) It is permissible for the bank to purchase "investment securities" from another under an agreement whereby the seller or a third party guarantees the bank against loss on resale of the securities.

(c) It is not permissible for the bank to purchase "investment securities" from another under an agreement whereby the seller reserves the right or the option to repurchase said securities itself or through its nominee at a price stated or at a price subject to determination under the terms of the agreement, notwithstanding the fact that the bank may also, under such agreement, have the right or option to compel the seller to repurchase the securities at a price stated or at a price subject to determination under the terms of the agreement.

(8) As to repurchase agreements accompanying sales of securities,

(a) It is permissible for the bank selling securities to another to agree that the bank shall have an option or right to repurchase the securities from the buyer at a price stated or at a price subject to determination under the terms of the agreement, but in no case in excess of the market value at the time of repurchase.

(b) It is not permissible for the bank selling securities to another to agree that the purchaser shall have the right or the option to require the bank to repurchase said securities at a price stated or at a price subject to determination under the terms of the agreement, notwithstanding the fact that the bank may also, under such agreement, have the right or option to repurchase the securities from the buyer at a price stated or at a price subject to determination under the terms of the agreement.

In view of the fact that some banks may have bought or sold securities under a form of agreement which is prohibited by this regulation, the bank should either terminate or modify same so as to conform to this regulation, where such action may lawfully be taken. Existing agreements of the prohibited type must not be renewed.

EXCEPTION

The restrictions and limitations of this regulation do not apply to securities acquired through foreclosure on collateral, or acquired in good faith by way of compromise of a doubtful claim or to avert an apprehended loss in connection with a debt previously contracted, or to real estate securities acquired pursuant to Section 24 of the Federal Reserve Act, as amended.

This regulation supersedes prior regulations governing the purchase of "investment securities" and is effective from and after July 1, 1938.

[SEAL] MARSHALL R. DIGGS,
Acting Comptroller of the Currency.

TITLE 42—PUBLIC HEALTH, WELFARE AND EDUCATION

PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE

REGULATIONS FOR CONTROL OF MANUFACTURE, IMPORTATION, AND SALE OF ARSPHENAMINE AND ITS DERIVATIVES, REFERRED TO COLLECTIVELY AS "THE ARSPHENAMINES"

Pursuant to the authority contained in section 4 of the Act of July 1, 1902, 32 Stat. 729 (U. S. C. title 42, sec. 145), the following regulations for the control of the manufacture, importation, and sale of arsphenamine and its derivatives, referred to collectively as "the arsphenamines," are hereby promulgated:

1. The arsphenamines (which term, as used in these regulations, means arsphenamine and its derivatives) shall not be sold, bartered, or exchanged, or offered for sale, barter, or exchange in the District of Columbia, or sent, carried, or brought for sale, barter, or exchange from any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, into any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, or from any foreign country into the United States, or from the United States into any foreign country, except after compliance with these regulations.

2. The arsphenamines shall be manufactured only in laboratories which have been duly licensed by the Secretary of the Treasury upon recommendation of the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, but no recommendation for license will be made until clinical evidence of the safety and therapeutic efficacy of the preparation has been submitted by the manufacturer.

3. Laboratories licensed for the manufacture of any of the arsphenamines shall be subject to inspection, at any time, by officers of the Public Health Service when detailed by the Surgeon General.

4. The manufacturer shall keep records (a) of the production, (b) of the tests made to determine the purity and safety, and (c) of the distribution of each lot of any of the arsphenamines which is to be sold under these regulations.

5. The tests to be made for determining the purity and safety of each lot of any of the arsphenamines shall include those for (a) stability, (b) solubility, (c) arsenic content, (d) moisture content, and (e) relative nontoxicity.

(a) Stability shall be determined by exposing the ampuled product to a temperature and for a period to be determined by the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, during which time it should show no marked change in color, consistency, or solubility.

(b) Any product, both before and after being subjected to the above test, shall be completely soluble in distilled water within 15 minutes, in a concentration as great as is recommended for its intravenous administration.

(c) The arsenic content shall be determined by Lehmann's method as described in Public Health Reports, volumes 33, June 21, 1918, page 1012; the minimal amount allowed for arsphenamine is 30 per cent and for any of its derivatives, 19 per cent, unless otherwise specifically provided by the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service. Variations above these figures are permissible provided the theoretical arsenic content of the preparation is not exceeded.

(d) The moisture content shall be determined by exposing approximately one gram of powder in a weighing bottle of not less than 20 mm. diameter in vacuum of at least 5 mm. over fresh phosphorus pentoxide for not more than 24 hours at room temperature.

(e) The relative nontoxicity shall be determined by administration of the arsphenamines, in the concentrations and doses given below, into the saphenous vein of healthy albino rats weighing from 100 to 150 grams (pregnant females excluded) at the rate of 0.1 c.c. in 12 to 15 seconds. For each toxicity test at least five rats shall be used, and at least 60 per cent must survive the periods of observation stated below, but, in any case, the final result must be based on the total number of rats injected. The rats should be fed a well-balanced ration but should have no access to food for from 12 to 18 hours preceding injection. An adequate supply of fresh clean water should be provided at all times.

Doses, concentrations, and periods of observation

		Percent	Days
Arsphenamine [1]	120	2	2
Neoarsphenamine	240	4	6
Sodium arsphenamine	180	4	2
Silver arsphenamine [2]	140	2	2
Neosilverarsphenamine [3]	240	4	4
Sulpharsphenamine	300	4	3

[1] Arsphenamine must be converted into its disodium salt solution before making up to final volume, by adding 0.85 c. c. normal sodium hydrate per 0.1 gram of the drug used. To insure stabilization of the solution it should stand at room temperature for from 15 to 30 minutes before the injections are begun.

[2] Silver arsphenamine should have a silver content of 13 percent, but a variation of 1 percent in either direction is permissible.

[3] Neosilverarsphenamine should have a silver content of between 6 and 7 percent.

6. The manufacturer shall forward to the National Institute of Health not less than 15 ampules, maximum size human dose, from each lot, together with the protocols of the tests set forth above; these protocols should be furnished on forms approved by the Surgeon General, Public Health Service, or his representative.

7. At the time of official release manufacturers shall retain not less than 15 ampules, maximum size human dose, of the product from each lot.

8. Each ampule shall be plainly labeled showing the amount (in grams) of drug contained, the lot number, the official name of the preparation, and the name of the manufacturer. The label should be small, leaving as much as possible of the glass exposed to afford ready inspection of the drug. The container of one or more ampules shall show the name of the manufacturer, his address, the license number, the official name of the drug, the amount contained in each ampule, the lot number, and the expiration date. Route for administration of products not intended for intravenous injection shall be plainly stated on the labels for both the carton and the ampule.

9. Dating decisions shall be issued by the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service from time to time as may be required.

10. When lots have satisfactorily passed the prescribed tests they may be offered for sale upon being released by the National Institute of Health, but the right is reserved to require withdrawal from the market of any lot designated by the Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service.

These regulations supplement the Regulations for the sale of viruses, serums, toxins and analogous products approved February 25, 1935, and supersede the Regulations for the control of the manufacture, importation and sale of arsphenamine and its derivatives approved September 20, 1923.

tation of butyraldehyde five tank-car tanks fabricated by fusion-welding granted.

R. W. Thompson for General American Transportation Corporation.

SUPPLEMENTAL REPORT OF THE COMMISSION [1]

McMANAMY, Commissioner:

In our several prior reports we granted upon applications therein considered authority to build and use for experimental service in the transportation of dangerous articles other than explosives a total of 522 tank cars to be equipped with tanks fabricated by fusion-welding but otherwise conforming to I. C. C. shipping container specifications.

By application dated March 14, 1938, filed with us by General American Transportation Corporation through the Tank Car Committee, Association of American Railroads, we are asked to authorize the construction and use of five further tank cars, conforming to ICC specification 103, except that tanks will be fabricated by fusion welding instead of riveting and be of stainless steel in place of carbon steel. The commodity to be transported is butyraldehyde.

This is the first application received for authority for experimental fusion welding and use of tank cars of I. C. C. specification 103 type for butyraldehyde. The commodity previously has moved under our regulations in drums and riveted tank cars. It is classed by those regulations as an inflammable liquid, having flash point of 12° F. Weight per gallon is 6.81 pounds. Among other facts, applicant submits the following:

Tanks will have capacity of 8,000 gallons each. Construction will be in accordance with herein proposed I. C. C. shipping container specification 103–W, except that stainless steel will be used in place of carbon steel. Stainless steel construction of tank is necessary to insure against contamination of the commodity, a water-white liquid, and not because of any corrosive action on an ordinary carbon steel tank. Plates for tank and all other rolled or forged parts and castings will be made of stabilized stainless steel alloy of appropriate composition and construction. Tank and anchor design is the same as that authorized by us for stainless steel tanks for nitric acid in 225 I. C. C. 607, except that 18–8 chrome-nickel alloy will be used instead of 16 percent straight chrome alloy, and tanks will have calculated bursting strength more than twice that of riveted tanks built under current specification 103. All essential fittings, openings, safety valves and other equipment will be in accordance with good design and practice as set forth in the application and drawings by which it is accompanied. Fabrication by fusion welding will be in compliance with procedure set out herein in 213 I. C. C. 207, understood to follow in substance that prescribed in current rules for construction of unfired pressure vessels approved by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Applicant further submits that the alloy steel to be used in cars herein considered has been successfully fusion welded into upward of 200 tanks for chemicals, which are as thick as one inch plate with working pressures up to 250 pounds per square inch, butyraldehyde having vapor pressure of 4.35 pounds at 104 degrees, Fahrenheit, and the proposed thickness of plate being 7/16 inch. The tanks for chemicals are being used under varying conditions of temperature and pressure in manufacturing processes in the chemical industry. American Society of Mechanical Engineers has approved the use of the proposed alloy steel for Class I welded construction, including X-ray photographing of all seams, special stress relieving and stabilizing heat treatment, embrittlement test and chemical analysis of deposited weld metal. Applicant anticipates a large increase in shipments in tank cars of the type for which authority is requested. The Tank Car Committee and Bureau of Explosives, Association of American Railroads, recommend approval of the application.

Upon further consideration of the record and in the light of added facts disclosed in the application, the construction and use of five additional tanks of tank cars, in accordance with current specification 103, is forthwith authorized, provided that tanks may be fabricated of chrome-nickel alloy steel and be fusion welded instead of riveted, and must be constructed and marked in compliance with proposed revised I. C. C. specification 103–W, filed as an exhibit at the hearing herein and referred to in our prior reports; cars to be used in further service tests in the transportation of butyraldehyde.

In all other respects the regulations for the transportation of dangerous articles herein referred to are and shall remain in full force and effect.

Owners or operators of cars, where construction is authorized herein, shall make semiannual inspection of the tanks and report their condition to the same parties as receive reports required by I. C. C. specification 103.

By the Commission, Commissioner McManamy.

DETERMINATION OF FAIR AND REASONABLE WAGE RATES FOR PERSONS EMPLOYED IN PLANTING AND CULTIVATING OF SUGARCANE IN MAINLAND CANE SUGAR AREA DURING CALENDAR YEAR 1938

Whereas, Section 301 (b) of the Sugar Act of 1937 provides, as one of the conditions for payment to producers of sugar beets and sugarcane, as follows:

(b) That all persons employed on the farm in the production, cultivation, or harvesting of sugar beets or sugarcane with respect to which an application for payment is made shall have been paid in full for all such work, and shall have been paid wages therefor at rates not less than those that may be determined by the Secretary to be fair and reasonable after investigation and due notice and opportunity for public hearing; and in making such determinations the Secretary shall take into consideration the standards therefor formerly established by him under the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, and the differences in conditions among various producing areas: Provided, however, That a payment which would be payable except for the foregoing provisions of this subsection may be made, as the Secretary may determine, in such manner that the laborer will receive an amount, insofar as such payment will suffice, equal to the amount of the accrued unpaid wages for such work, and that the producer will receive the remainder, if any, of such payment.

Whereas, The Secretary of Agriculture has held a number of public hearings in the mainland cane sugar area for the purpose of receiving evidence likely to be of assistance to him in determining fair and reasonable wage rates for persons employed in the planting and cultivating of sugarcane in such area in 1938.

Now, therefore, I, Harry L. Brown, Acting Secretary of Agriculture, after investigation and due consideration of the evidence obtained at the aforesaid hearings and all other information before me, do hereby determine fair and reasonable wage rates for persons employed in the planting and cultivating of sugarcane in the mainland cane sugar area during 1938 to be not less than the following:

Louisiana.—For adult male workers, not less than $1.20 per day, and for adult female workers, not less than $1.00 per day.

Florida.—For adult male workers, not less than $1.60 per day, and for adult female workers, not less than $1.30 per day.

Provided, however, That the producer shall furnish to the laborer, without charge, the customary perquisites, such as, a habitable house, a suitable garden spot with facilities for its cultivation, pasturage for livestock, medical attention, and similar incidentals; and Provided further, That the producer shall not, through any subterfuge or device whatsoever, reduce the wage rates to laborers below those determined above.

Nothing in this determination shall be construed to mean that a producer may qualify for a payment under the said act who has not paid in full the amount agreed upon between the producer and the laborer.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 2nd day of July 1938. Witness my hand and seal of the Department of Agriculture.

Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

(2) The taxes prescribed by section 601 (c) (8), as amended by section 702 of the Revenue Act of 1938, supra, apply to articles entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption on or after July 1, 1938, except that no tax should be collected under the said section on articles which arrived prior to May 11, 1934, within the limits of a port of entry with intent there to unlade.

(3) The taxes imposed by section 601 (c) (8), as amended, shall be levied, assessed, collected; and paid in accordance with the Customs Regulations of 1937 as heretofore or hereafter amended, in so far as they are applicable, and shall be scheduled, deposited, reported, and accounted for as, and with other collections of duties on imports, in the same manner as duties imposed by the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (U. Coconut oil, palm oil, and palm-kernel oil, whether or not refined, sulphonated, sulphated, hydrogenated, or otherwise processed, so long as they are oils of the kinds mentioned, are not subject to import tax under section 601 (c) (8) of the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended. [1] Coconut oil, palm oil, and palm-kernel oil (whether or not refined, sulphonated, sulphated, hydrogenated, or otherwise processed).

[2] Coconut oil, palm oil, palm-kernel oil, fatty acids derived from any of the foregoing oils, salts of any of the foregoing (whether or not such oils, fatty acids, or salts have been refined, sulphonated, sulphated, hydrogenated, or otherwise processed).

per pound equal to that proportion of the rate or rates prescribed in section 602½ of the Revenue Act of 1934, as amended, in respect of such oil, fatty acid, or salt which the quantity by weight of the imported article consisting of or derived from such oil, fatty acid, or salt bears to the total weight of the imported article. T. Ds. 48469 and 49161 (8) (a) are accordingly hereby modified to the extent herein indicated, and the rule set forth in T. D. 49161 (8) (b) is extended, effective July 1, 1938, to cover articles 10% or more of which consists of or is derived from coconut oil, palm oil, or palm-kernel oil, fatty acids derived from such oils, and salts of the foregoing. This rule also continues applicable to any article, merchandise, or combination 10% or more by weight of which consists of or is derived from one or more of the products (except seeds) specified in section 601 (c) (8), as amended.

(6) In conformity with the provisions of section 601 (c) (8), subparagraph (F), rapeseed oil imported to be used in the manufacture of rubber substitutes or lubricating oil may be released without deposit of the import tax imposed under subparagraph (B) upon compliance with the following conditions:

(a) There shall be filed in connection with the entry an affidavit of the importer that such rapeseed oil is imported to be used in the manufacture of rubber substitutes or lubricating oil.

(b) If the oil is entered for consumption there shall also be filed in connection with the entry a bond on customs Form 7551 or 7553 with an added condition, concurred in by the surety, for the payment of the tax prescribed by subparagraph (B) in the event the rapeseed oil is not used in the manufacture of rubber substitutes or lubricating oil. If the importer has on file a general term bond for the entry of merchandise, as provided for in article 1253 of the Customs Regulations 1937,[1] the rapeseed oil may be charged against such bond provided there is added thereto, with the concurrence of the surety, the beforementioned condition. When the rapeseed oil is entered for warehouse the regular warehouse entry bond, customs Form 7555, shall be given, unless the importation is charged against a general term bond for the entry of merchandise, customs Form 7595, and withdrawals shall be made on customs Form 7506. Liquidation of the consumption entries and warehouse entries shall be suspended pending the submission of proof that the rapeseed oil has been used in the manufacture of rubber substitutes or lubricating oil.

(c) Within three years from the date of entry (in the case of warehouse entries as well as consumption entries) the importer shall submit to the collector of customs at the port of entry an affidavit of the superintendent or manager of the factory or plant at which the rapeseed oil has been processed, showing: (1) The name and location of the factory or plant; (2) the entry number, date, and port of entry (if the factory or plant is not in possession of this information a reference to invoices, purchase orders or other documents which link the shipment with the entry may be substituted); (3) the date or inclusive dates of the processing of the oil; and (4) a description of the processing in sufficient detail to enable the collector to determine whether the rapeseed oil in question has been used in the manufacture of rubber substitutes or lubricating oil.

In appropriate cases the processing of rapeseed oil covered by more than one entry may be included in one affidavit. Such affidavits shall be based on adequate and carefully kept factory, plant, and import records, which shall be available at all reasonable times for inspection by proper officers of the Government. The affidavits shall be filed in duplicate, one copy to be forwarded to the comptroller of customs.

(d) Upon satisfactory proof that the rapeseed oil has been used in the manufacture of rubber substitutes or lubricating oil the entry may be liquidated free of the import tax imposed by section 601 (c) (8) (B), supra. When such proof is not filed within three years from the date of the entry, the entry shall be liquidated with the assessment of the import tax.

(7) Upon the presentation of satisfactory proof, the tax imposed by section 601 (c) (8) (C) shall not be assessed on any article, merchandise, or combination by reason of the presence therein of any coconut oil produced in Guam or American Samoa, or any direct or indirect derivative of such oil.

(8) With respect to lumber claimed to be exempt by reason of section 704 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1938 from the import tax imposed by section 601 (c) (6) of the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended, which exemption applies to such lumber entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption on or after July 1, 1938, there shall be filed in connection with the entry, preferably on the invoice filed with the entry, a declaration of the shipper or other person having actual knowledge of the facts, as to the species of the lumber comprising the shipment, that is, whether it is Northern white pine (pinus strobus), Norway pine (pinus resinosa), or Western white spruce, and in the case of Western white spruce the declaration shall contain in addition a statement as to the locality of origin of the wood from which the lumber was produced.

TITLE 42—PUBLIC HEALTH, WELFARE, AND EDUCATION

REGULATIONS OF THE SURGEON GENERAL GOVERNING ALLOTMENTS AND PAYMENTS TO STATES FROM FUNDS APPROPRIATED UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION 601, SOCIAL SECURITY ACT, FOR THE FISCAL YEAR 1939

I. Compliance with law and regulations.—In order that funds allotted to the States may be of maximum use in assisting States, municipalities, counties, and health districts, and other political sub-divisions of the States, in establishing and maintaining adequate public health service, payments made to a State under authority of Title VI of the Social Security Act will be certified by the Surgeon General only after such State has complied with the provisions of the Act and the Regulations authorized thereunder.

II. Allotments.—The Surgeon General pursuant to the authority contained in Title VI of the Social Security Act shall allot the total amount available for the fiscal year 1939 to the several States, including the District of Columbia, Alaska, and Hawaii on the basis of (1) the population, (2) the extent of special health problems, and (3) the financial needs of the respective States, "in establishing and maintaining adequate public health services" in accordance with the following percentage distribution:

(1) Population.—Allotments amounting to 34.1 percent of the available appropriations will be made to the several States in the ratio which the population of each State bears to the population of the United States as shown by the Census Bureau 1937 mid-year population estimates.

(2) Special health problems.—Allotments amounting to 31.8 per cent of available appropriations will be made to the several States on the basis of special health problems including the training of personnel, as determined by the Surgeon General.

The term "special health problems" shall be interpreted to mean necessity arising out of (a) high morbidity or mortality on a State-wide basis from particular causes, such as malaria, hookworm disease, bubonic plague, trachoma, typhus fever, and similar geographically limited diseases or other conditions that result in inequality of exposure to public health hazards among the States; (b) special industrial hazards; and (c) other special conditions which create unequal burdens in the administration of equal public health services among the States.

(3) Financial needs.—Allotments amounting to 34.1 per cent of available appropriations will be made to the several States on the basis of the financial needs of such States, which is determined to be the ability of the State to raise revenue expressed indirectly in terms of per capita income.

III. Balances from allotments.—Unpaid balances from allotments at the end of the fiscal year shall not be paid but shall remain in the appropriation for reallotment to the States in the succeeding fiscal year in accordance with the provisions of Subsection (b), Section 602, of the Social Security Act.

IV. Balances from payments.—Unexpended balances remaining from quarterly payments made to the States in accordance with the provisions of Subsection (c), Section 602, of the Social Security Act during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939, or any previous fiscal year, may be retained by the States and utilized for carrying out the purposes for which such funds were allotted and paid, subject to the following conditions:

(1) Balances required under these regulations to be matched with State or local funds must be so matched before they are expended.

(2) Itemized budgets for the expenditure of such balances must be submitted and approved prior to such expenditure.

(3) In those instances where unexpended balances have accumulated the Surgeon General may, in his discretion, make deductions from payments due in a subsequent quarter in the amount of such unexpended balances. Funds so deducted from the payment to a State may be paid to a State in the discretion of the Surgeon General in any subsequent quarter upon the submission and approval of budgets.

V. Submission of plans.—To be eligible to receive payments from allotments each State shall submit to the Surgeon General:

(1) A comprehensive statement of any changes in the State health organization, programs and budget since the last outline of such organization, programs and budget was filed. This statement should include activities initiated through the use of Social Security funds.

(2) A proposed plan for extending and improving the administrative functions of the State department of health.

(3) A proposed plan for extending and improving local (county, district, city) health services to be carried out with the assistance of funds available under the provisions of Title VI of the Social Security Act.

VI. Submission and approval of budgets.—Before payments shall be made to any State, the State health officer shall:

(1) Submit to the Surgeon General and secure approval of a proposed budget, for each project, on forms supplied by the Public Health Service. The budget shall show the sources, proposed uses, and amounts of all funds, the amounts requested from the Public Health Service for the fiscal year, together with such other information relating to such proposed project as the Surgeon General may require. The application for quarterly payment to a State shall include only those funds required for financing budgets actually in force, or which definitely will become operative, in the quarter for which payment is requested.

(2) Certify that State and local expenditures have not been replaced or curtailed through the use of federal funds.

VII. Budgets subsequent to July 1, 1938.—Budgets for new projects and revised budgets for existing projects may be submitted in any quarter after the beginning of the fiscal year, but such budgets will not be made effective prior to the beginning of the next succeeding quarter; provided, that exceptions to this rule may be made by the Surgeon General, when necessary, to meet emergencies.

VIII. Existing appropriations not to be replaced.—No funds paid to a State pursuant to Title VI of the Social Security Act shall be used to replace State or local funds in such a way as to affect a conservation or reduction of appropriations for health work by State and local governmental agencies.

IX. Matching requirements. — Allotments to the several States shall be available for payment when matched by State or local public funds appropriated and expended for public health work, as follows:

(1) The amount of funds (old and new) necessary to meet matching requirements for 1939 shall be the same as those determined in 1937 in accordance with the regulations for that year.

(2) The Surgeon General, in his discretion, may waive matching requirements in those States wherein the per capita[1] appropriation for the State health department (exclusive of funds for the maintenance of institutions) exceeds the average per capita appropriations of all of the States for the same purposes.

X. Training of personnel.—In order to meet the needs for properly qualified professional and technical personnel with which to conduct effectively the State and local health services, the sum of $947,500 shall be set aside for the fiscal year 1939 and allotted to the several States for this purpose. Of this sum $827,000 shall be allotted among the several States as far as practicable to meet in full the training demands as submitted by the State health officers. The sum of $120,500 shall be allotted for approved training centers.

Funds paid to a State for the training of personnel may be used to pay living stipends, tuition, and traveling expenses of personnel employed or to be employed in the State and local health services, such training period not to exceed one year for any individual.

The Surgeon General will specify to the States the maximum allowances for stipends, traveling and other permissible items of expense for the training of personnel with Public Health Service funds.

These funds may also be used to aid training centers in the equipment and maintenance of training courses.

XI. Method of payment to States and custody of funds.—Subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, payments shall be made in quarterly installments, to the Treasurer of the State or other State official authorized by law to receive such funds.

All such payments shall be held by the State official to whom made in a separate fund distinct from other State funds and shall be disbursed by him solely for the purposes specified in budgets approved by the State health officer and the Surgeon General and filed with such official.

XII. Financial reports.—The State health officer shall submit and certify to the Surgeon General on forms provided for that purpose financial reports as follows:

(1) A quarterly project financial report for each budget in force, which shall show the actual amount of expenditure of Public Health Service funds, of State, and of local funds budgeted, and such other information as the Surgeon General may from time to time require.

(2) A consolidated quarterly report summarizing all budget expenditures of Public Health Service, of State, and of local funds, and such other information as the Surgeon General may from time to time require.

(3) An annual report of all State expenditures for public health purposes, showing by appropriations all such State expenditures for the latest State fiscal year ended on or before December 31, 1938. This report must be certified also by the Treasurer or other State official charged with the responsibility for disbursing State health department funds.

XIII. Progress reports of activities.—Reports of activities will be required by the Public Health Service from each State health department as follows:

(1) Activities of central administration pursuant to approved budgets shall be reported annually in duplicate and may be submitted in narrative form.

(2) A copy of the progress report from each local health project pursuant to approved budgets shall be furnished quarterly to the Regional Office on forms of the State health department.

(3) A consolidated summary report for all local projects pursuant to approved budgets shall be made quarterly to the Surgeon General on forms provided by the Public Health Service for that purpose.

The listing of certain items on the summary report form referred to above should not be interpreted as requiring that all such activities be carried out in every local health project. Also, other activities not listed on the report form should be reported in an appropriate manner.

[1] To be calculated on the Census Bureau 1937 mid-year estimate of population.

Statistical reports may be submitted with narrative reports wherever considered desirable by the State health officer.

XIV. Reports of activities from other agencies not required.—No detailed reports of activities will be required for personnel paid from funds supplied by other agencies.

[SEAL] THOMAS PARRAN,
Surgeon General.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

CONDITION OF THE APPORTIONMENT AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1938

Important.—Although the apportioned classified civil service is by law located only in Washington, D. C., it nevertheless includes only about half of the Federal Civilian positions in the District of Columbia. Positions in local post offices, customs districts, and other field services outside of the District of Columbia which are subject to the Civil Service Act are filled almost wholly by persons who are local residents of the general community in which the vacancies exist. It should be noted and understood that so long as a person occupies, by original appointment, a position in the apportioned service, the charge for his appointment continues to run against his State of original residence. Certifications of eligibles are first made from States which are in arrears.

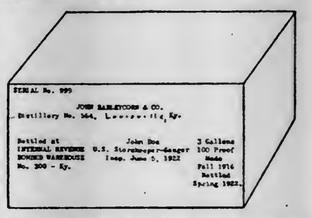
BOTTLING OF DISTILLED SPIRITS IN BOND

AMENDING REGULATIONS NO. 6



To District Supervisors and Others Concerned:

Sections 19, 30 (b) and 38, of Regulations No. 6, Bottling of Distilled Spirits in Bond, approved June 3, 1938,[1] are hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 19. Overprinting of stamps.—Bottled-in-bond stamps must be overprinted, such overprinting to be in the blank spaces provided therefor. At such time as the proprietor of the warehouse desires to have stamps overprinted and cut the storekeeper-gauger will deliver the stamps to him. One overprinting only will be permitted on any stamp and the printer will be approved by the supervisor. Overprinting will be done in red ink with not less than eight point type. The season when the spirits were made and the season when bottled will be placed in the blank space on the end of the stamp bearing the serial number, except in the case of stamps of "Less than ½ Pint" denomination, which do not have serial numbers, the season when made and the season when bottled will be placed on the right-hand end of the stamp. In the blank space on the other end of the stamp will be placed the name of the actual bona fide distiller, or the name of the individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association in whose name the spirits were produced and warehoused. Overprinting of the stamp will be in the following form:

SEC. 30. (b) The marks and brands will be placed on the cases in the following manner and order:

SEC. 38. Stamping and casing distilled spirits.—All distilled spirits of each particular "dump" transferred to a bottling tank should be immediately drawn off into bottles of the desired size or sizes, as provided in section 14. Application should be made in duplicate on Form 1515 (part 1) to the storekeeper-gauger-in-charge of the warehouse for stamps sufficient to cover the quantity of spirits to be bottled. Stamps will be issued by the storekeeper-gauger to the proprietor in proper serial order, starting with the lowest serial number of the stamps of the denomination desired on hand at the time of issuance. The proprietors will not be required to affix stamps to containers in serial order. If after filling the cases there remain bottles less than the number necessary to constitute a full case, such bottles may be stamped and placed in a container constructed in the same manner as the cases described in section 27 or section 28, which remnant is to be given the serial number of the last full case containing spirits in the same lot followed by the letter "R," thus: "100R," or "161R." Such remnant should be removed from the warehouse with the cases; appropriate entries to be made in the records. The stamps must be securely affixed to the bottles with the use of a good adhesive. The adhesive used must be in proper liquid condition, and care must be taken to cover the entire back of the stamp with the adhesive, and to press the whole surface of the stamp firmly against the surface of the bottle sufficiently long to cause the entire surface of the stamp to adhere securely to the bottle. The stamp must pass over the neck of the bottle, extending in equal distance on two sides of the bottle. No part of the stamp shall be concealed or obscured by any label or other covering, except that a cup may be placed over the opening of the bottle or the bottle may be placed in a carton as hereinafter provided. Seals made of cellulose or other material which is shrunk or otherwise fitted over the necks of the bottles to cover the stamps must be so completely transparent as to permit the stamps to be plainly seen and the printed matter thereon easily read. No cup or cap may be placed over the opening of a bottle and cover the stamp, unless such cup or cap is completely transparent or is so placed on the bottle that it may be readily removed at any time without injury to the stamp and the arrangement is such that the ends of the stamp will be plainly visible when the cap or cup is in place. Cartons or other coverings of bottles of distilled spirits are permitted, if so made that they may be opened and closed without being torn or broken. Sealed cartons or other coverings may not be used unless transparent or unless openings therein permit the entire stamp to be plainly seen and the printed matter thereon easily read. Upon completion of the bottling the storekeeper will enter the details thereof on part 2, of Form 1515, and will forward one copy of the form to the district supervisor and file one copy in his office.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

1. Statutory authority.—The act of March 20, 1922 (42 Stat. 465), provides that when the public interests will be benefited thereby, the Secretary of the Interior is authorized, in his discretion, to accept on behalf of the United States title to any lands within national forests which, in the opinion of the Secretary of Agriculture, are chiefly valuable for national forest purposes, and in exchange therefor may patent not to exceed an equal value of such national forest land, in the same State, or the Secretary of Agriculture may authorize the grantor to cut and remove an equal value of timber within the national forests in the same State; the values in each case to be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The act of March 20, 1922, was amended by the act of February 28, 1925 (43 Stat. 1090), by adding thereto section 2, which provides that either party to such an exchange may make reservations of timber, minerals, or easements, the values of which shall be duly considered in determining the values of the exchanged lands.

2. Preliminary negotiations.—All preliminary negotiations relating to an exchange under the act are to be conducted with the local representatives of the Forest Service, and any owner of land subject to exchange who desires to take advantage of the privilege conferred by this act must file with the local national forest officers an informal application describing the land to be conveyed as well as that to be selected, or if timber is desired in exchange the land on which such timber is located. The land must be specifically described according to Government subdivisions, and, as a rule, nothing less than a legal subdivision may be offered or selected, except where the applicant or the Government does not own the entire legal subdivision, or where a portion of a legal subdivision offered the Government is not valuable for national forest purposes, or where the United States desires to retain ownership of a portion or portions of a legal subdivision selected by the applicant due to the fact that such tract or tracts are chiefly valuable for national forest purposes. The selected land or timber must be entirely within national forest boundaries and in the same State in which the offered lands are located. The applicant must show by affidavit or other evidence satisfactory to the Forest Service that he is the owner of the land to be conveyed, and that such land is equal in value to the land or timber selected.

3. Approval of informal application.—When a tentative agreement has been reached between the applicant and the local national forest officer the case will be submitted to the Regional Forester and if approved by him to the Chief, Forest Service, Washington, D. C., for consideration. If the Chief, Forest Service, finds the exchange to be in the public interests and that the selected land or timber does not exceed the offered land in value, he will request the Secretary of Agriculture to advise the Secretary of the Interior that the acceptance of the certain described lands offered under the act and the granting in lieu thereof of other certain described lands, or of stumpage upon other described lands, meets with the approval of the Department of Agriculture; that the offered lands are chiefly valuable for national forest purposes, and that the appraised value of the land or timber selected does not exceed that of the land offered in exchange. The Secretary of the Interior, upon receipt of such letter from the Secretary of Agriculture, unless he has reason to do otherwise, will approve the exchange, subject to the submission of acceptable title to the offered lands and to full compliance by the applicant with these regulations, and subject to any protests or other valid objections which may appear.

4. Formal application.—The General Land Office will notify the register of the district land office in whose district the land or timber to be selected is located of the approval of the exchange, and such register will in turn notify the person desiring to make such exchange of the approval thereof and that he is allowed 60 days from receipt of notice within which to file his formal application specifically describing the offered and selected lands, and in case timber is selected, the land on which the timber is located. The application must be accompanied by the necessary affidavits and fees.

Applications for exchange under this act, and the affidavits required by these regulations as to the offered and selected lands, should be in accordance with the appended form, or its substantial equivalent. Each application will be given a serial number and have the hour and date of filing stamped thereon. The register will note on his records against the land, "Selected under act of March 20, 1922 (42 Stat. 465), by ---------- (date ----------, serial No. ------, pending)"

5. Affidavits required.—An affidavit by the applicant that he or it is the owner of the land offered in exchange and that said land is not the basis of another selection or exchange must be filed. There must also be furnished an affidavit by the applicant or by some credible person possessed of the requisite personal knowledge, showing that the land selected is nonmineral in character; that it contains no salt springs or deposits of salt in any form sufficient to render it chiefly valuable therefor; that it is not in any manner occupied or claimed adversely to the selector.

Where the application is filed by an individual he will be required to show by affidavit that he is 21 years of age, and otherwise capable of carrying through the transaction.

These affidavits may be executed before any officer qualified to administer oaths.

Where the application is made by or in behalf of a corporation, a certified copy of the articles of incorporation must be furnished.

6. Fees.—Fees must be paid by the applicant at the rate of $2 for each 160 acres, or fraction thereof, of the base lands offered and conveyed to the Government.

7. Publication and posting.—Within 30 days from the filing of his formal application to select land or timber the applicant will begin publication of notice thereof, at his own expense, in some newspaper or newspapers designated by the General Land Office and having general circulation in the county or counties in which the land offered and the land or timber selected are situated. Such notice must be published once each week for four successive weeks during which time a similar notice of the application must be posted in the district land office. The notice should describe the land or timber applied for as well as the land offered in exchange and give the date of filing of the application and state that the purpose thereof is to allow all persons claiming the land selected or having bona fide objections to such application an opportunity to file their protests with the register of the land district in which the land selected is situated. Proof of publication shall consist of an affidavit of the publisher or of the foreman or other proper employee of the newspaper in which the notice was published, with a copy of the published notice attached. The register shall certify to the posting in his office. The dates of such publication and posting must in all cases be given.

8. Action by register.—If a protest is filed, all the papers should be transmitted to the General Land Office for consideration; but should no protest be filed against the allowance of the selection within 30 days from the date of the first publication of notice, and no objections appear on the records of the district land office, the register will notify the selector that he is allowed 60 days from receipt of notice within which to file the deed conveying the offered land to the Government, and abstract of title, as prescribed in paragraphs numbered 9, 10 and 11. The proof papers necessary to complete a selection should be filed at the same time. However, if additional time is necessary to complete the abstract, the same will be granted upon a proper showing. After the filing of the required deed of conveyance, abstract of title, and other proof, the register will certify the condition of the record on the application and will promptly transmit the original application and accompanying papers to the General Land Office by special letter.

9. Deed of conveyance.—The deed conveying the land offered as a basis of exchange must be executed and acknowledged in the same manner as a conveyance of real property is required to be executed and acknowledged by the laws of the State in which the land is situated. The deed should also be duly recorded. The deed should recite that the consideration for the conveyance to the United States of the land offered is the exchange therefor of not exceeding an equal value of certain other land, or of timber equal in value to the land conveyed, depending upon whether the exchange is one of land for land, or land for timber. The act or acts under which the exchange is made should be cited in the deed.

Such revenue stamps as are required by law must be affixed to the deed and canceled.

Where the conveyance is made by an individual it must show whether the person conveying is married or single, and if married, the wife or husband of such person, as the case may be, must join in the execution of the conveyance in such a manner as to effectually bar any right of curtesy or dower, or any claim whatsoever to the land conveyed, or it must be fully shown that under the laws of the State in which the conveyed land is situated such wife or husband has no interest whatsoever, present or prospective, which makes her or his joining in the conveyance necessary.

Where the conveyance is by a corporation, it should be recited in the instrument of transfer that it was executed pursuant to an order or by the direction of the board of directors or other governing body, a copy of which order or direction should accompany such instrument of transfer, and should bear the impression of the corporate seal.

10. Evidence of title.—Each conveyance must be accompanied by a duly authenticated abstract of title, showing that at the time the conveyance was recorded the title was in the party conveying, and that the land was free from conflicting record claims, tax liabilities, judgment or mortgage liens, pending suits or other encumbrances.

(a) Authentication of abstract.—The certificate of authentication of the abstract must be signed by the recorder of deeds or other proper official, under his official seal, or, if it is preferred, the abstract may be authenticated by an abstracter or an abstract company, approved by the General Land Office, in accordance with section 42 of the Mining Regulations of April 11, 1922 (49 L. D. 15, 69). The certificate must show the title memoranda to be a full, true, and complete abstract of all matters of record or on file in the appropriate office or offices of the county or counties in which the offered land is located, including all conveyances, mortgages, or other encumbrances, judgments against the various grantors, mechanics' liens, lis pendens, or other instruments which are required by law to be filed with the recording officers affecting in any manner whatsoever the title to the described land.

(b) Taxes.—The authenticity of the tax records must be certified showing that all taxes levied or assessed against the land, or that could operate thereon as a lien, have been fully paid; or whether there is a tax lien although such tax is not assessed, due or payable; that there are no unredeemed tax sales and no tax deeds outstanding as shown by the records of the proper county office. In case taxes have been assessed or levied on lands conveyed to the United States and such taxes are not due and payable until some future date, the applicant, in addition to the certificate above required relative to taxes and tax assessments, may submit a sum equal to at least twice the amount of taxes paid on the land for the previous year or in lieu thereof furnish a bond in like amount with qualified corporate surety, in order to indemnify the United States against loss for the taxes assessed or levied but not yet due and payable.

(c) Judgment liens, lis pendens, absence of.—The absence of judgment liens or pending suits against the various grantors which might affect the title of the land conveyed must be shown by the official certificate of the clerks of the courts of record, whose judgments, under the laws of the United States or the State in which the land is situated, would be a lien on the land conveyed.

(d) Title insurance.—Title insurance issued by a company which is acceptable to the General Land Office may be furnished in lieu of an abstract of title and same accepted upon proof that the insuring company is solvent and properly qualified, provided the policy is free from conditions and stipulations unacceptable to the United States.

11. Application for timber.—If timber is desired in exchange for the land to be conveyed to the United States, proof that notice has been published and posted will be all the evidence necessary to be filed in regard to the timber, but all the proof required in connection with the land offered as a basis for the exchange must be filed.

12. Action by the General Land Office.—The application and accompanying proof will, upon receipt by the General Land Office, be examined at as early a date as practicable, and if found defective opportunity will be given the parties in interest to cure the defects, if possible. If the selection appears regular and in conformity with the law and these regulations, the selection will, in the absence of objections, if for land only, be formally approved for patent by letter to the district land office, but if timber is taken in exchange the Secretary of Agriculture will, upon advice of the Secretary of the Interior that the regulations have been fully complied with, issue proper permit or certificate for the cutting of the timber.

13. Practice and procedure.—Notice of additional or further requirements, rejections, or other adverse actions of Registers, the Commissioner or the Secretary, will be given and the right of appeal, review, or rehearing recognized in the manner now prescribed by the Rules of Practice, except as otherwise herein provided. A protest or other objection against the selection or the application to select, must be filed with the register to be forwarded to the General Land Office for consideration and disposal. If there is no district land office in the State in which the lands involved in an application for exchange are situated, the formal application for exchange and all papers required in connection therewith, as well as all protests or other objections against the application, should be filed in the General Land Office.

Application to enter filed subsequent to any conflicting application to select will be rejected, except where the subsequent application to enter is supported by allegations of prior right, in which event it will be transmitted to the General Land Office with appropriate recommendation. Applications presented under these regulations not in substantial conformity with the requirements herein made, not accompanied by the prescribed proof, or where land offered as basis of exchange or the land selected is not situated within the boundaries prescribed by existing laws will be rejected, subject to appeal or curing of the defect where possible.

14. Right reserved to reject applications.—Applications to select either land or timber under the provisions of the act will not defeat the right of the United States to withdraw or reserve the land for such purposes or uses as may be proper prior to the filing in the district land office of an application complete in all particulars.

15. Other forest exchanges.—Other acts providing for exchanges of lands in national forests will be found in a list appended hereto. Special regulations governing these acts have not been prepared, but exchanges thereunder must be made under the foregoing regulations, modified however to meet the limitations, conditions and provisions of the acts mentioned.

16. Conveyed lands added to National Forests.—All lands conveyed to the United States pursuant to these regulations shall, upon acceptance of title, become parts of the national forests within whose boundaries they are located.

These regulations supersede those approved March 20, 1925 (51 L. D. 69).

Commissioner.

The Middle West Corporation, a registered holding company, having heretofore applied, pursuant to Section 9 (c) (3) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, for an order exempting from the provisions of Section 9 (a) the applicant's acquisition of not more than 10,000 shares of the $6.00 cumulative preferred stock of Central Illinois Public Service Company, one of its subsidiaries; the Commission having by its order of November 26, 1937, granted such exemption subject to certain conditions specified in such order, one of which was that such order should expire at the close of business on June 30, 1938;

It is further ordered, That in all other respects the conditions to said order shall remain unchanged and in full force and effect.

The Administrative Committee consists of the Archivist or Acting Archivist, an officer of the Department of Justice designated by the Attorney General, and the Public Printer or Acting Public Printer.

The daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER will be furnished by mail to subscribers, free of postage, for $1 per month or $10 per year; single copies 10 cents each; payable in advance. Remit by money order payable to Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Correspondence concerning the publication of the FEDERAL REGISTER should be addressed to the Director, Division of the Federal Register, The National Archives, Washington, D. C.

For farms for which the average daily wage paid in 1937 was—Continued	The applicable percentum by which the agreed upon rates are to be increased shall be—
From $2.073 through $2.091	10
From $2.092 through $2.110	9
From $2.111 through $2.130	8
From $2.131 through $2.150	7
From $2.151 through $2.170	6
$2.171 or more	5

For the purpose of computing the increased amounts to be paid for work performed under long term cultivation or irrigation agreements, the applicable per centum shall be applied to a rate of not less than $2.20 in the case of adult males and not less than $1.65 in the case of females and non-adult males, for each day (computed on the basis of eight hours per day, as herein provided) worked thereunder by them during the period from September 1, 1937, to December 31, 1937.

The average daily wage paid in 1937 shall be calculated by taking the average wage paid for an eight-hour working day (including the total turn-out and sugar price bonus applicable to each month of the calendar year 1937) to adult unskilled male laborers employed in the production, cultivation or harvesting of sugarcane during the calendar year 1937 (including such laborers employed by adherent planters in the cutting of sugarcane on the farm during the calendar year 1937). Such average shall be determined by computing the wages paid to those employed in planting, fertilizing, irrigating, cutting, loading, hauling or fluming, cultivating (short term), mechanical harvesting of sugarcane, laying or removing portable track or flumes, those employed under long term cultivation or irrigation agreements and those employed as minimum rate field hands. In such average, the earnings of adult unskilled male laborers who are employed under long term cultivation or irrigation agreements shall be computed at the rate of $2.20 for an eight-hour working day, by applying such rate of earnings to the number of days worked thereunder during the calendar year 1937.

In those cases where the hourly time is kept, the eight-hour working day shall be computed by dividing the total number of men hours worked in 1937 by eight. In those cases where the hourly time is not kept, any day during which work was performed, as aforesaid, by adult unskilled male laborers shall be deemed to be an eight-hour working day.

This determination supersedes the "Determination of Fair and Reasonable Wages for Persons Employed in the Production, Cultivation, or Harvesting of Sugarcane in Hawaii, during the period September 1, 1937 to December 31, 1937. Pursuant to the Sugar Act of 1937", issued April 1, 1938.[1]

Done at Washington, D. C., this 7th day of July, 1938. Witness my hand and the Seal of The Department of Agriculture.

GENERAL LAND OFFICE

[Circular No. 1082a]

SURVEY AND DISPOSAL OF INDIAN POSSESSIONS IN TRUSTEE TOWNS AND SURVEY AND DISPOSAL OF NATIVE TOWNS, IN ALASKA

1. Statutory authority.—The act of May 25, 1926 (44 Stat. 629), provides for the town-site survey and disposition of public lands set apart or reserved for the benefit of Indian or Eskimo occupants in trustee town sites in Alaska and for the survey and disposal of the lands occupied as native towns or villages.

2. Administration of Indian possessions in trustee towns.—As to Indian possessions in trustee town sites in Alaska established under authority of section 11 of the act of March 3, 1891 (26 Stat. 1095), and for which the town-site trustee has closed his accounts and been discharged as trustee, and as to such possessions in other trustee town sites in Alaska, such person as may be designated by the Secretary of the Interior will perform all necessary acts and administer the necessary trusts in connection with the act of May 25, 1926.

3. Survey and disposal of Indian or Eskimo possessions.—Where the matter of surveying and disposing of Indian or Eskimo possessions in trustee town sites is taken up for consideration, the town-site trustee will submit a report to the Commissioner of the General Land Office showing whether or not it would be of interest to the Indian or Eskimo occupants of the land to extend the established streets and alleys of the town site upon and across the tract, and whether or not subdivisional surveys should be made. The report will be examined and considered by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, and will be referred to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs for consideration before transmittal to the Secretary with appropriate recommendations.

Before directing the survey and disposal of such Indian or Eskimo possessions under authority of the act of May 25, 1926, the Secretary of the Interior will determine whether or not the patent which issued for the town-site tract includes the tract designated as "Indian possessions". If it does not, a supplement patent will be issued, to accompany the departmental order for survey and disposal.

4. Sale of land for which restricted deed has issued.—If the parties to a proposed sale involving land for which a restricted deed has been issued under authority of the act of May 25, 1926, wish to have the sale approved by the Secretary of the Interior, the fact should first be submitted to the town-site trustee. Upon receiving information regarding any proposed sale, the trustee will make such investigation as he deems proper, and he will submit a report to the Commissioner of the General Land Office as to the advisability of approving the proposed sale. The report will be examined by the Commissioner of the General Land Office and will be referred to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs for consideration before transmittal to the Secretary of the Interior with appropriate recommendation.

5. Administration of native towns.—The trustee for any and all native towns in Alaska which may be established and surveyed under authority of section 3 of the said act of May 25, 1926, will take such action as may be necessary to accomplish the objects sought to be accomplished by that section. In any case in which he thinks it would be of advantage to the Indian or Eskimo occupants to have the lands occupied and claimed by them surveyed as town or village, he should bring the matter to the attention of the Commissioner of the General Land Office with appropriate recommendation.

6. No payment, publication or proof required on entry for native towns.—In connection with the entry of lands as a native town or village under section 3 of the said act of May 25, 1926, no payment need be made as purchase money or as fees, and the publication and proof which are ordinarily required in connection with trustee town sites will not be required.

7. Provisions to be inserted in restricted deeds.—The town-site trustee will note a proper reference to the act of May 25, 1926, on each deed which is issued under authority of that act and each such deed should provide that the title conveyed is inalienable except upon approval of the Secretary of the Interior, and that the issuance of the restricted deed does not subject the tract to taxation, to levy and sale in satisfaction of the debts, contracts, or liabilities of the transferee, or to any claims of adverse occupancy or law of prescription; also, if the established streets and alleys of the town site have been extended upon and across the tract, that there is reserved to the town site the area covered by such streets and alleys as extended. The deed should further provide that the approval by the Secretary of the Interior of a sale by the Indian or Eskimo transferee shall vest in the purchaser a complete and unrestricted title from the date of such approval.

8. Unrestricted deeds not to be issued.—The trustee shall not issue other than restricted deeds to Indians or other Alaskan natives.

9. Native towns occupied partly by white occupants.—Native towns which are occupied partly by white lot occupants will be surveyed and disposed of under the provisions of both the act of March 3, 1891 (26 Stat. 1095, 1099), and the act of May 25, 1926 (44 Stat. 629).

In each case of this kind the town site trustee will report the facts to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, showing the name and location of the town, the number of Indian or Eskimo lot occupants and the number of white lot occupants, the amount of land used or claimed by each and the approximate periods for which it has been used or claimed, the value of the improvements on the lands and by whom owned, and such other facts as he may deem appropriate.

Upon receipt of such report special instructions will be issued as to the procedure which should be followed with respect to the survey, entry, and disposal of the lands, assessment of costs, etc.

10. Forms.—The following forms have been issued for use in connection with the regulations under the act of May 25, 1926: (a) Application for deed by native Indian or Eskimo of Alaska, Form 4–231; (b) trustee's deed to native Indian or Eskimo of Alaska, Form 4–232; and (c) deed of native Indian or Eskimo of Alaska, Form 4–232a.

11. Regulations superseded and amended.—These regulations supersede the regulations contained in Circular 1082 and amend the regulations contained in Circular 491 in so far as they refer to the subject matter herein.

12. Regulations revoked.—Paragraph 8 of the regulations concerning town sites in Alaska entered by trustees under the act of March 3, 1891 (26 Stat. 1095) page 103, Circular 491, dated February 24, 1928, is hereby revoked. The section so revoked reads as follows:

IN THE MATTER OF TRADE PRACTICE RULES FOR THE MACARONI, NOODLES,[1] AND RELATED PRODUCTS INDUSTRY

PROMULGATION

Due proceedings having been had under the trade practice conference procedure in pursuance of the Act, of Congress approved September 26, 1914, as amended (Federal Trade Commission Act), and other provisions of law administered by the Commission;

It is now ordered, That the trade practice rules of Group I which have been approved by the Commission in this proceeding be promulgated July 7, 1938.

[1] 3 F. R. 1283 DI.

TRADE PRACTICE RULES

These rules promulgated by the Commission are designed to foster and promote fair competitive conditions in the interest of the industry and the public. They are not to be used, directly or indirectly, as part of or in connection with any combination or agreement to fix prices, or for the suppression of competition, or otherwise to unreasonably restrain trade.

Group I

Unfair trade practices which are embraced in Group I rules are considered to be unfair methods of competition, unfair or deceptive acts or practices, or other illegal practices, prohibited under laws administered by the Federal Trade Commission as construed in the decisions of the Commission or the courts; and appropriate proceedings in the public interest will be taken by the Commission to prevent the use of such unlawful practices in or directly affecting interstate commerce.

RULE 1. Misrepresentation of industry products.—The practice of selling, advertising, describing, branding, marking, labeling, or packing macaroni, noodles, or related products, or any simulation or imitation thereof, in a manner which is calculated to mislead or deceive, or has the tendency and capacity or effect of misleading or deceiving, purchasers, prospective purchasers or the consuming public with respect to the grade, quality, quantity, substance, character, nature, origin, size, material, content, composition, coloring, preparation, or manufacture of such products, or in any other material respect, is an unfair trade practice.

RULE 2. Specifications—Macaroni and noodle products.—For the purpose of and as used in these rules:

(a) Macaroni is understood to be the shaped and dried doughs prepared by adding water to one or more of the following: semolina, farina, wheat flour. It may contain added salt. In the finished product the moisture content does not exceed 13 percent. Various shapes of macaroni are known under distinguishing names, such as spaghetti, vermicelli, etc.

(b) Egg Macaroni is understood to be the shaped and dried doughs prepared by adding eggs and water, with or without salt, to one or more of the following: semolina, farina, wheat flour. The egg ingredient may be whole egg and/or egg yolk. In the finished product the moisture content does not exceed 13 percent and the egg-solids content upon the moisture-free basis is not less than 5.5 percent.

(c) Noodles, Egg Noodles are understood to be the shaped and dried doughs prepared from semolina, farina, or wheat flour and eggs, with or without water, and with or without salt. The egg ingredient may be whole egg and/or egg yolk. In the finished product the moisture content does not exceed 13 percent and the egg-solids content upon the moisture-free basis is not less than 5.5 percent. Noodles are commonly ribbon-shaped.

(d) Plain Noodles are understood to be the shaped and dried doughs prepared from semolina, farina, or wheat flour and water, with or without salt. In the finished product the moisture content does not exceed 13 percent: Plain noodles are commonly ribbon-shaped.

RULE 3. Misuse of words "macaroni," "spaghetti," "vermicelli," "egg-macaroni," "noodles," "egg noodles," "plain noodles," etc.—It is an unfair trade practice to sell, offer for sale, advertise, describe, brand, label, or otherwise represent, directly or indirectly, any product as being macaroni, spaghetti, vermicelli, egg macaroni, noodles, egg noodles, plain noodles, or other similar macaroni or noodle product, when such product does not conform to the specifications hereinbefore set forth in Rule 2.

RULE 4. Misrepresentation of semolina or farina products.—It is an unfair trade practice to sell, offer for sale, advertise, describe, brand, label, or otherwise represent any macaroni or noodle product as being a semolina or farina product when such is not true in fact.

RULE 5. Misrepresentation as to egg content of product.—It is an unfair trade practice to sell, offer for sale, advertise, describe, brand, label, or otherwise represent, directly or indirectly, any product as being egg macaroni, noodles, or egg noodles when such is not true in fact, or when such product does not actually contain egg in sufficient proportion to meet the specifications hereinbefore set forth in Rule 2.

RULE 6. Use of deceptive coloring or deceptive containers.—It is an unfair trade practice to use yellow coloring in, or yellow transparent containers for, any macaroni, noodle, or related product, in such manner as deceptively to import or imply to purchasers, prospective purchasers or the consuming public that such product contains egg in greater proportion than is in fact present, or in such manner as to mislead or deceive in any other respect.

RULE 7. Deception as to additional food ingredients.—(a) In case additional food ingredients, not including those specified under Rule 2, are used in macaroni, noodles, or related products, full and non-deceptive disclosure of such fact should be made; and it is an unfair trade practice to conceal, or fail or refuse to disclose, or to misrepresent, directly or indirectly, the proportion of such food ingredients present in said macaroni, noodles, or related products, with the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers, prospective purchasers, or the consuming public.

(b) It is an unfair trade practice to advertise, describe, brand, label, or otherwise represent any product of the industry as containing a food ingredient when such food ingredient is not present at all or when such food ingredient is not present in substantial and characterizing amounts, with the capacity and tedency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers, prospective purchasers, or the consuming public.

(c) Nothing in these rules shall be construed as authorizing or permitting the use of any food ingredient contributing a yellow color for the purpose or with the effect of misleading or deceiving the purchasing public.

RULE 8. Deceptive depictions.—The use of photographs, cuts, engravings, illustrations, or pictorial or other depictions or devices of industry products in catalogs, sales literature, or advertisements, or on packages or containers, or otherwise, in such manner as to have the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving the purchasing or consuming public as to the grade, quality, quantity, substance, character, nature, origin, size, material, content, composition, coloring, preparation, or manufacture of such products, is an unfair trade practice.

RULE 9. Defamation of competitors and disparagement of their products.—The defamation of competitors by falsely imputing to them dishonorable conduct, inability to perform contracts, questionable credit standing, or by other false representations, or the false disparagement of the grade, quality, or manufacture of the products of competitors, or of their business methods, selling prices, values, credit terms, policies, or services, is an unfair trade practice.

RULE 10. Failure to brand industry products.—In the sale, offering for sale or shipment of industry products, the failure to brand, mark, or identify such products so as to disclose their true character, where such failure has the tendency, capacity, or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers, prospective purchasers, or the consuming public, is an unfair trade practice.

RULE 11. Selling below cost.—The practice of selling industry products below the seller's cost, with the intent and with the effect of injuring a competitor and where the effect may be substantially to lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly or unreasonably restrain trade, is an unfair trade practice; all elements recognized by good accounting practice as proper elements of such cost shall be included in determining cost under this rule.

RULE 12. Imitation or simulation of trade-marks, etc.—The imitation or simulation of the trade-marks, trade names, labels, or brands of competitors with the purpose or with the tendency and capacity or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers, prospective purchasers, or the consuming public, is an unfair trade practice.

RULE 13. Publication or circulation of false or misleading price quotations, etc.—The publishing or circulating, by any member of the industry, of false or misleading price quotations, price lists, or terms of sale, with the tendency, capacity or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers, prospective purchasers, or the consuming public, is an unfair trade practice.

RULE 14. False invoicing.—Withholding from or inserting in invoices any statements or information by reason of which omission or insertion a false record is made, wholly or in part, of the transactions represented on the face of such invoices, with the purpose or effect of thereby misleading or deceiving purchasers, prospective purchasers, or the consuming public, is an unfair trade practice.

RULE 15. (a) Prohibited discriminatory prices, or rebates, refunds, discounts, credits, etc.,[1] which effect unlawful price discrimination.—It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce,[2] in the course of such commerce, to grant or allow, secretly or openly, directly or indirectly, any rebate, refund, discount, credit, or other form of price differential,[1] where such rebate, refund, discount, credit, or other form of price differential effects a discrimination in price between different purchasers of goods of like grade and quality, where either or any of the purchases involved therein are in commerce,[2] and where the effect thereof may be substantially to lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in any line of commerce,[2] or to injure, destroy, or prevent competition with any person who either grants or knowingly receives the benefit of such discrimination or with customers of either of them: Provided, however—

(1) That the goods involved in any such transaction are sold for use, consumption, or resale within any place under the jurisdiction of the United States;

(2) That nothing herein contained shall prevent differentials which make only due allowance for differences in the cost of manufacture, sale, or delivery resulting from the differing methods or quantities in which such commodities are to such purchasers sold or delivered;

(3) That nothing herein contained shall prevent persons engaged in selling goods, wares, or merchandise in commerce[2] from selecting their own customers in bona fide transactions and not in restraint of trade;

(4) That nothing herein contained shall prevent price changes from time to time where made in response to changing conditions affecting either (a) the market for the goods concerned, or (b) the marketability of the goods, such as, but not limited to, actual or imminent deterioration of perishable goods, obsolescence of seasonal goods, distress sales under court process, or sales in good faith in discontinuance of business in the goods concerned.

(b) Prohibited brokerage and commissions.—It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce,[2] in the course of such commerce, to pay or grant, or to receive or accept, anything of value as a commission, brokerage, or other compensation, or any allowance or discount in lieu thereof, except for services rendered in connection with the sale or purchase of goods, wares, or merchandise, either to the other party to such transaction or to an agent, representative, or other intermediary therein where such intermediary is acting in fact for or in behalf, or is subject to the direct or indirect control, of any party to such transaction other than the person by whom such compensation is so granted or paid.

(c) Prohibited advertising or promotional allowances, etc.—It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce[2] to pay or contract for the payment of advertising or promotional allowances or any other thing of value to or for the benefit of a customer of such member in the course of such commerce as compensation or in consideration for any services or facilities furnished by or through such customer in connection with the processing, handling, sale, or offering for sale of any products or commodities manufactured, sold, or offered for sale by such member, unless such payment or consideration is available on proportionally equal terms to all other customers competing in the distribution of such products or commodities.

(d) Prohibited discriminatory services or facilities.—It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce[2] to discriminate in favor of one purchaser against another purchaser or purchasers of a commodity bought for resale, with or without processing, by contracting to furnish or by furnishing, or by contributing to the furnishing of, any services or facilities connected with the processing, handling, sale, or offering for sale of such commodity so purchased upon terms not accorded to all purchasers on proportionally equal terms.

(e) Illegal price discrimination.—It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry or other person engaged in commerce,[2] in the course of such commerce, to discriminate in price in any other respect contrary to Section 2 of the Clayton Act as amended by the Act of Congress approved June 19, 1936 (Public No. 692, 74th Congress), or knowingly to induce or receive a discrimination in price which is prohibited by such section as amended.

A Committee on trade practices is hereby created by the industry to cooperate with the Federal Trade Commission and to perform such acts as may be legal and proper to put these rules into effect.

By the Commission.

1. Waters open to fishing.—All waters of the Refuge, except as hereinafter provided, are hereby designated as areas open to hook and line fishing as defined by State law. Fishing is prohibited in the following described waters: That portion of Big Egg Lake northerly of the south one-sixteenth line of Section 3, T 141 N., R. 39 W.; That portion of Two Island Lake lying westerly of the west one-sixteenth line of Sections 9 and 16 respectively, T. 141 N., R. 39 W.; That portion of Waboose Lake lying westerly of the west one-sixteenth line of Section 14, T. 141 N., R. 39 W.; That portion of Carmen Lake lying in Section 16, T. 141 N., R. 39 W.

2. State fishing laws.—Every person who fishes in any of the aforesaid waters under the aforesaid conditions must comply with the applicable fishing laws and regulations of the State of Minnesota, and in the absence of any State law or regulation in respect to number and size of fish that may be taken, the Chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture may fix such limits; and in the event he shall find that fishing in any of the aforesaid waters is unduly depleting any species of fishes therein, he may suspend the privilege of fishing in such waters pending final determination by the Secretary of Agriculture.

3. Fishing permits.—Any person exercising the privilege of fishing within the Refuge shall be in possession of a valid State fishing license issued by the State of Minnesota, if such license is required, and shall carry such license on his person while fishing, and when requested to do so shall exhibit the license to any representative of the Minnesota State Conservation Commission authorized to enforce the game and fish laws of the State, or to any representative of the Bureau of Biological Survey: Provided, that fishing shall be done in such manner as will not interfere with the objects for which the Refuge was established.

4. Routes of travel.—Persons entering the Refuge for the purpose of reaching waters thereof open to fishing shall follow such routes of travel as shall from time to time be designated by the officer in charge of the Refuge and shall not enter upon any other portion of the Refuge other than said open waters and areas immediately adjacent thereto.

TITLE 25—INDIANS

OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE ADMISSION OF PATIENTS INTO INDIAN SERVICE HOSPITALS IN ALASKA

JUNE 13, 1938.

1. Indian Service hospitals in Alaska are maintained and operated primarily for the benefit of Indians, Eskimos, and Aleuts, who are wards of the Federal Government.

2. Due to great distances between villages in Alaska, and the lack at many places of any hospital other than an Indian Service hospital, it is recognized that in emergencies, and where no other hospital facilities are available, the dictates of humanity require that persons other than Indians, Eskimos, and Aleuts be received into Indian Service hospitals for treatment.

3. Under regulations which have been in force to date, the charge for hospitalization of non-beneficiaries has been fixed at $2.00 a day. As a result of this low rate, admissions of non-beneficiaries to Indian Service hospitals in Alaska have been increasing rapidly. The rate of $2.00 a day is not sufficient to cover the actual cost of service rendered.

4. As promptly as possible there shall be put into effect in all Indian Service hospitals in Alaska a rate of $5.00 a day to be charged to all non-beneficiaries for hospitalization. In addition to this per diem rate for hospitalization, the Indian Office schedule of fees for medical treatment shall be in effect in Alaska, and collections should be made from non-beneficiaries in accordance with such schedule.

5. Employees of the Indian Service and their families shall be charged a rate of $3.50 a day for hospitalization in Indian Service hospitals, but shall not be required to pay any fees for medical treatment such as are required of other non-beneficiaries.

6. Charge shall be made for the date of admission, but no charge shall be made for the date of discharge.

7. The present rate of 75¢ a day which is charged to all beneficiaries who are able to pay for hospitalization will be continued.

Assistant Commissioner.

PART 50.—ADMINISTRATION

Address of the Commission; Office Hours

SEC. 50.1 Address, office hours. All communications to the Commission must be addressed to Washington, D. C., unless otherwise specifically directed. Pleadings and other papers required to be filed with the Commission shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., within the time limit, if any, for such filing.

The office is open from 9 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. of each business day except Saturday, upon which day it is open from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m., or as provided by statute or Executive order.

Public Sessions and Hearings

SEC. 50.2 Notice. Public sessions of the Commission for hearing evidence or oral argument or for public conferences and hearings before any Commissioner, examiner, or other representative of the Commission, will be held as set upon notice by the Commission, subject to change upon reasonable notice.

Parties; Appearances

SEC. 50.3 Classes. The parties to proceedings before the Commission are applicants, complainants, petitioners, defendants, interveners, and respondents, according to the nature of the proceedings and their relationship thereto. Admission of a party as intervener or protestant shall not be construed as recognition by the Commission that such party might be aggrieved by any order of the Commission in such proceeding.

SEC. 50.4. Appearances. Any party may appear and be heard in person or by an attorney at law or attorney in fact and a corporation or association may be represented by a bona fide officer thereof. All persons appearing in such proceedings must conform to the standards of ethical conduct required of practitioners before the courts of the United States and, where applicable, to the requirements of section 12 (i) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. Failure to conform to these standards will be ground for declining to permit appearance in any proceeding before the Commission.

SEC. 50.5 Former employees barred for one year. No person serving or having served as a Commissioner, officer, expert, examiner, attorney, accountant, engineer, or other employee in the Federal Power Commission shall be permitted to practice, appear, or act as counsel, attorney, representative, or agent in any proceeding before the Commission, or before any regional office, division, or agency thereof, or in any manner or by any means aid or assist in the prosecution of any such matter or proceeding, within one year next after the separation of the said person from the service of the Commission; provided, however, this rule shall not be construed to bar any such person from appearing before the Commission in behalf of any other branch of the Federal Government or in behalf of any State, municipality, or other public agency.

SEC. 50.6 Applicants defined. In proceedings involving applications, by persons subject to the act, for permission or authorization which the Commission may give under the authority of the act, the parties on whose behalf the applications are made are styled applicants.

SEC. 50.7 Complainants. Parties who complain to the Commission of anything done or omitted to be done in violation of the provisions of the act by any person subject to the act, are styled complainants. (See Sec. 50.15 to Sec. 50.22.)

SEC. 50.8 Petitioners. Parties seeking relief, not otherwise designated herein, are styled petitioners. (See Sec. 50.13 to Sec. 50.14.)

SEC. 50.9 Defendants. Persons subject to the act, against whom any complaint is filed, are styled defendants. (See Sec. 50.15 to Sec. 50.22.)

SEC. 50.10 Interveners. Parties permitted to intervene as hereinafter provided, are styled interveners. (See Sec. 50.13 to Sec. 50.14.)

SEC. 50.11 Protestants. A protestant is anyone objecting on the ground of private or public interest to the approval of an application or petition which the Commission may have under consideration. (See Sec. 50.26 to Sec. 50.27.) Protestants desiring to become parties to any proceeding before the Commission may file a petition for intervention.

SEC. 50.12 Respondents. Persons subject to the act, to whom an order or notice is issued by the Commission instituting a proceeding or investigation on its own initiative, are styled respondents.

Petitions

SEC. 50.13 Contents. Petitions for relief under the act should be under oath and state clearly and concisely the interest of the petitioner in the subject matter of the petition and the relief sought and cite by appropriate reference the section, paragraph, etc., of the act relied upon for relief and must conform to the requirements of Sec. 50.31 to Sec. 50.40.

SEC. 50.14 Intervening petitions. Any interested State, State commission, municipality, or any representative of interested consumers or security holders, or any competitor of a party to any pending proceeding, or any other person whose participation in a pending proceeding may be in the public interest, may petition to intervene in any proceeding pending before the Commission prior to or at the time it is called for hearing, but not thereafter except for good cause shown. Petitions for intervention must set forth the grounds of the proposed intervention; the position and interest of the petitioner in the proceeding; and must conform to the requirements of a formal complaint and must be subscribed and verified in the same manner as a formal complaint. If leave is granted, the petitioner thereby becomes an intervener and a party to the proceeding.

Complaints

SEC. 50.15 Complaints; informal and formal. Complaints may be informal or formal.

SEC. 50.16 Informal complaints. Informal complaints may be made by letter or other writing, and will be filed as received. Matters informally presented will, if their nature so warrants, be taken up by correspondence or conference with the party or parties complained of in an endeavor to bring about satisfaction of the complaint without formal hearing.

SEC. 50.17 Substance of informal complaints. No form of informal complaint is prescribed, but in substance the letter or other writing should contain the name and address of complainant, the name of the party against whom the complaint is made, and a brief statement of the facts forming the basis of such complaint. While the filing of an informal complaint is without prejudice to complainant's right to file formal complaint, only formal complaints submitted and prosecuted in the manner hereinafter prescribed will entitle any person, natural or artificial, to initiate formal proceedings or to become a party to any proceedings already initiated, and only formal complaints will be admitted in the record of formal proceedings. It is desirable that the informal complaint be accompanied by sufficient copies to enable the Commission to transmit one to each party named, and retain one for its own use, and it may be accompanied by supporting papers.

SEC. 50.18 Formal complaints; form and style. Formal complaints must conform to the requirements of Sec. 50.31 to Sec. 50.40. The names of all parties, complainant and defendant, must be stated in full without abbreviations, and the address of each complainant with the name and address of its attorney, if any, must appear.

SEC. 50.19 Joinder of complaints or complainants. Two or more grounds of complaint involving the same purposes, subject, or state of facts, may be included in one complaint, but should be separately stated and numbered; and two or more complainants may join in one complaint if their respective causes of complaint are against the same defendant or defendants, and involve substantially the same purposes and subject, and a like state of facts.

SEC. 50.20 Substance of formal complaints. Formal complaints should be so drawn as fully and completely to advise the parties defendant and the Commission, wherein the provisions of the act have been or are violated by the acts or omissions complained of, or will be violated by a continuance of such acts or omissions, and should set forth briefly and in plain language the facts claimed to constitute such violations, and the relief sought.

SEC. 50.21 Subscription and verification. Every formal complaint must be personally subscribed by the duly authorized representative of the complainant or complainants. In addition, the facts alleged must be verified under oath by the duly authorized representative of the complainant.

SEC. 50.22 Supplemental complaints. Supplemental complaints may be tendered for filing by the complainant against the defendant in the original complaint, setting forth any causes of action under the act alleged to have accrued in favor of the complainant and against the defendant since the filing of the original complaint, and, upon leave granted, will be filed and served by the Commission as provided for original complaints, and heard, considered, and disposed of therewith in the same proceeding, if practicable.

Answers

SEC. 50.23 Answers to formal complaints. Answers to formal complaints must be filed with the Commission within 30 days after the day on which the complaint was served. This period may be shortened or extended by the Commission in its discretion. Any defendant failing to file answer within such period will be deemed in default, and issue as to such defendant will be thereby joined. All answers should be under oath and so drawn as fully and completely to advise the parties and the Commission as to the nature of the defense, and should admit or deny, specifically and in detail, each material allegation of the pleading answered and must conform to requirements of Sec. 50.31 to Sec. 50.40.

SEC. 50.24 Answers to petitions. Answers to petitions in intervention or amended complaints, filed and served upon leave granted, need not be separately made unless the defendants so elect, and their answers to the formal complaint will be deemed answers to the petition in intervention or amended complaint. Answers if separately made should be filed and served in the same manner as is provided for answers to the original complaint.

SEC. 50.25 Satisfaction of complaints. If the defendant satisfies a formal complaint either before or after answering, a statement to that effect signed by the opposing parties must be filed setting forth when and how the complaint has been satisfied and requesting dismissal.

Protests

SEC. 50.26 Contents. Protests to be considered formal must set forth the position and interest of the protestant in the proceeding and must be so drawn as fully and completely to advise the parties and the Commission as to the acts or omissions complained of, and should in other respects conform to the requirements of Sec. 50.15 to Sec. 50.21 and Sec. 50.31 to Sec. 50.40.

SEC. 50.27 Subscription and verification. Every formal protest must be personally subscribed (1) by the protestant, and by each protestant if there be more than one, (2) by an officer of the protestant if it be a corporation or (3) for the protestant by his attorney. In addition, the facts alleged must be verified under oath by a protestant, an officer of protestant, or by the attorney for the protestant. If the subscription and verification, or either thereof be by anyone other than the protestant or an officer or attorney thereof as aforesaid, the reason it is so made must be stated, and the power of attorney or authority authorizing such affiant to prosecute the protest or make the verification must be filed with the protest.

Amendments to Pleadings

SEC. 50.28 Allowance or refusal discretionary. Amendments to any pleading will be allowed or refused by the Commission in its discretion.

SEC. 50.29 Subscription and verification. Whenever by these rules a principal pleading is required to be subscribed and verified an amendment thereto must be similarly subscribed and verified.

SEC. 50.30 Directed amendments. The Commission, or during a hearing a Commissioner, examiner, or other representative presiding, may direct a party to state his case by way of amendment, more fully or in more detail.

Specifications as to Applications, Complaints, Answers, Petitions, Briefs, Etc.

SEC. 50.31 Typewritten or printed only. Except where otherwise specifically provided, all papers to be filed under these rules must be typewritten or printed.

SEC. 50.32 Size and legibility. If typewritten, they must, unless otherwise specifically provided, be on paper cut or folded to 8½ inches wide by 11 inches long, with left-hand margin not less than 1½ inches wide. The impression must be on only one side of the paper and must be double-spaced, except that long quotations should be single-spaced and indented. Mimeographed, multigraphed, or planagroph copies will be accepted as typewritten. All copies must be clearly legible.

SEC. 50.33 Sizes of printed paper. If printed, they must be not less than 10-point type on unglazed paper cut or folded so as not to exceed 8½ inches wide by 11 inches long, with inside margin not less than 1 inch wide and with double-leaded text and single-leaded citations.

SEC. 50.34 Signature. Applications, complaints, answers, petitions, statements, protests, and notices must be signed in ink by the party in interest, or by his or its duly authorized attorney, and must show the office and post office address of the same.

SEC. 50.35 Improper matter. Any paper containing defamatory, scurrilous, or unethical matter will be rejected by the Commission, and the person submitting the same, after hearing, may be debarred from practice before the Commission.

Service, Number of Copies

SEC. 50.36 By the Commission. Applications, formal complaints, petitions, and upon leave granted, petitions in interventions, supplemental complaints, and amended complaints, will be served by the Commission. Such service will be by mail or otherwise, as may be appropriate in each specific case.

SEC. 50.37 Service by parties. Protests, answers, briefs, notices and all other papers, except depositions, in formal proceedings pending before the Commission shall, when tendered to the Commission for filing, show service thereof upon all parties to the proceeding. Such service shall be made by delivering in person or by mail, properly addressed with postage prepaid, one copy to each party. (See Sec. 250.1.)

SEC. 50.38 Service upon attorneys. When any party has appeared by attorney service upon such attorney will be deemed service upon the party.

SEC. 50.39 Number of copies of pleadings. Except where otherwise specifically provided in these rules, all pleadings which are served by the Commission must be accompanied by copies in sufficient number to enable the Commission to transmit one copy to each party to the proceeding and retain five copies for its own use. Where service is made by the parties or service is not required to be made, five copies are required for the use of the Commission.

SEC. 50.40 Number of copies of reports, etc. Except where otherwise specifically provided, all reports and other statements required under these rules shall be filed in triplicate.

Continuances, Extensions of Time

SEC. 50.41 Contents; time of filing. Applications for continuances or for the extension of time in which to file any pleadings or briefs shall be by petition, in writing, stating the facts on which the application rests, and must be filed with the Commission at least seven days before the date set for hearing, or on or before the time for filing such pleadings or briefs, and must conform to the requirements of Sec. 50.31 to Sec. 50.40.

SEC. 50.42 Discretion in granting or denying. Continuances and extensions of time will be granted or denied at the discretion of the Commission.

Documentary Evidence

SEC. 50.43 Designation. When relevant and material matter offered in evidence by any party is embraced in a book, paper, or document containing other matter not material or relevant, the party offering the same must plainly designate the matter so offered. If other matter is in such volume as would necessarily cumber the record, such book, paper, or document will not be received in evidence, but may be marked for identification, and, if properly authenticated, the relevant or material matter may be read into the record, or, if the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative so directs, a true copy of such matter, in proper form, shall be received as an exhibit, and like copies delivered by the party offering the same to opposing parties or their attorneys appearing at the hearing, who shall be afforded an opportunity to examine the book, paper, or document, and to offer in evidence in like manner other portions thereof if found to be material and relevant.

SEC. 50.44 Commission's files. In case any matter contained in a report or other document on file with the Commission is offered in evidence, such report or other document need not be produced or marked for identification, but in other respects the provisions of the foregoing Sec. 50.43 will apply.

SEC. 50.45 Records in other proceedings. In case any portion of the record in any other proceeding is offered in evidence, a true copy of such portion shall be presented for the record in the form of an exhibit unless—

A. The party offering the same agrees to supply such copies later at his own expense, if and when required by the Commission; or

B. The portion is specified with particularity in such manner as to be readily identified; or

C. The parties represented at the hearing stipulate upon the record that such portion may be incorporated by reference, and that any portion offered by any other party may be incorporated by like reference subject to A and B; and

D. The presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative directs such incorporation.

SEC. 50.46 Objections. Any documentary evidence offered, whether in the form of exhibit or by reference, shall be subject to appropriate objection.

SEC. 50.47 Copies to opposing counsel. When exhibits of a documentary character are offered in evidence, copies must be furnished to opposing counsel unless the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative otherwise directs.

SEC. 50.48 Size; form. Whenever practicable, all exhibits of a documentary character received in evidence must be on paper of good quality and so prepared as to be plainly legible and durable, whether printed or typewritten; if typewritten, they must conform to the requirements of Sec. 50.31 to Sec. 50.35.

SEC. 50.49 Copies for the Commission. Unless the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative shall otherwise direct, three copies of each exhibit of a documentary character must be furnished for the use of the Commission, in addition to the copies provided for under Sec. 50.47 hereof.

Stipulations

SEC. 50.50 How evidenced. A party or parties may, in writing filed with the Commission or presented at the hearing, stipulate as to any facts involved in the proceeding; but such stipulation shall not bind the Commission.

SEC. 50.51 Form and style; service. Stipulations must conform to the requirements of Sec. 50.31 to Sec. 50.41.

Witnesses and Subpoenas

SEC. 50.52 Subpoenas. Subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses or for the production of books, papers, or documents, unless directed by the Commission upon its own motion, will issue only upon application in writing. Applications to compel witnesses to produce documentary evidence must be verified, and must specify as nearly as may be, the books, papers, or documents desired and the facts to be proved by them.

SEC. 50.53 Fees of witnesses. Witnesses who are summoned are entitled to the same fees as are paid for like services in the courts of the United States, such fees to be paid by the party at whose instance the testimony is taken, and the Commission before issuing subpoena may require a deposit of an amount adequate to cover the fees and mileage involved.

SEC. 50.54 Subpoenas; service; return. If service of subpoena is made by a United States marshal or his deputy, such service shall be evidenced by his return thereon. If made by any other person, such person shall make affidavit thereof, describing the manner in which service is made and return such affidavit on or with the original subpoena. In case of failure to make service, the reasons for the failure shall be stated on the original subpoena. In making service, a copy of the subpoena shall be exhibited to and left with the person to be served. The original subpoena, bearing or accompanied by the required return, affidavit, or statement, shall be returned forthwith to the Secretary of the Commission, or if so directed on the subpoena, to the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative of the Commission before whom the person named in the subpoena is required to appear.

Depositions

SEC. 50.55 When permissible. The testimony of any witness may be taken by deposition, at the instance of a party to any proceeding pending before the Commission, at any time before the hearing is closed, upon approval by the Commission, in compliance with these rules of practice, but not otherwise.

SEC. 50.56 Officer before whom taken. Such depositions may be taken before a Commissioner, examiner, or other authorized representative of the Commission, and judge, commissioner, or clerk of any court of the United States, any chancellor, judge, or justice of a State court, mayor or chief magistrate of a city, or any notary public not being of counsel or attorney to either of the parties or interested in the proceeding or investigation, according to such designation as the Commission may make in its order in the premises. Where such deposition is taken in a foreign country, it may be taken before an officer or person designated by the Commission or agreed upon by the parties by stipulation in writing to be filed with the Commission. The magistrate, person, or officer so designated in Sec. 50.55 to Sec. 50.59 will be referred to as the officer.

SEC. 50.57 Notice of application; service; order for taking. Reasonable notice of not less than 10 days, and when the deposition is to be taken in a foreign country, of not less than 15 days, must first be given in writing by the party or his attorney proposing to take such deposition, to the opposing party or his attorney of record, and to the Commission. In such notice, there should be stated the name and post office address of the witness, the subject matter concerning which the witness is expected to testify, the time and place of taking the deposition, and the name and post office address of the officer before whom it is desired that the deposition be taken. The opposing party may, within the time stated above, make any appropriate response to such notice. Thereupon, if the application so warrants, the Commission will make and serve upon the parties or their attorneys an order, wherein the Commission will name the witness whose deposition is to be taken, and specify the time, place, and the officer before whom the witness is to testify, but such time and place and the officer before whom the deposition is to be taken, so specified in the Commission's order, may or may not be the same as those named in said notice to the Commission.

SEC. 50.58 Oath; reduction to writing. Every person whose deposition is so taken shall be sworn (or permitted to affirm if he so requests) to testify to the whole truth and nothing but the truth concerning the matter about which he shall testify, and shall be carefully examined. His testimony shall be reduced to typewriting by the officer before whom the deposition is taken, or under his direction, after which the deposition shall be subscribed by the witness, and certified in usual form by the officer. After the deposition has been so subscribed and certified it shall, together with two copies thereof made by such officer or under his direction, be forwarded by such officer, in a sealed envelope addressed to the Commission at its office in Washington, D. C., with sufficient stamps for postage affixed. Upon receipt of the deposition and copies, the Commission will file the deposition in the record in said proceeding, and forward one copy to the party at whose instance the deposition has been taken or his attorney, and the other copy to the opposing party or his attorney. When the deposition is taken at the instance of more than one party, or there is more than one opposing party, the copies will be forwarded by the Commission to the parties or their attorneys designated for that purpose in advance.

SEC. 50.59. Fees of officers and witnesses. Witnesses whose depositions are taken and the officers taking same, shall be entitled to the same fees as are paid for like services in the courts of the United States, which fees shall be paid by the party at whose instance the depositions are taken.

Hearings

SEC. 50.60 How ordered. Hearings may be ordered by the Commission in its discretion, either upon its own motion, or upon the motion of any party to the proceeding. Witnesses will be examined orally, unless the testimony is taken by deposition, as provided in Sec. 50.55 to Sec. 50.59 or the facts are stipulated in the manner provided for in Sec. 50.50 to Sec. 50.51.

SEC. 50.61 Notice of hearing. Appropriate public notice of any hearing will be given. The notice will state the nature of the matters to be heard, the time and place of the hearing, and, if designated, the name of the Commissioner, examiner, or other representative before whom the testimony is to be taken or the evidence produced. Such notice will be mailed to the parties to the proceeding, to State or other governmental authorities having official interest in the proceeding.

SEC. 50.62 Appearance. The presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative before whom the hearing is held will enter upon the record all appearances, with a notation in whose behalf the appearance is made.

SEC. 50.63 Order of procedure. At hearings on formal complaints, the complainant shall open and close. At hearings upon applications, the applicant shall open and close. At hearings on investigations, the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative may direct who shall open and close. In hearings on several proceedings on a consolidated record the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative shall designate who shall open and close. Interveners shall follow the parties in whose behalf the intervention is made, and in all cases where the intervention is not in support of either original party, the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative will designate at what stage such intervener shall be heard.

SEC. 50.64 Calling for further evidence. At any stage of the hearing, or after the close of testimony, the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative may call for further evidence upon any issue, and require such evidence to be presented by the party or parties concerned or by the staff of the Commission, either at that hearing or at a further hearing. At the hearing, the Commissioner, examiner, or other representative presiding, if he deems advisable, may authorize any party to the proceeding to file specific documentary evidence as a part of the record within a time to be fixed by him, but which shall expire not less than 10 days before the date fixed for filing and serving briefs.

SEC. 50.65 Closing of record. Except as provided in Sec. 50.64 the Commissioner, examiner, or other representative conducting the hearing will not receive in evidence or consider as part of the record any document, letter, or other writing submitted after the close of testimony, and will so advise the sender.

Transcript of Testimony

SEC. 50.66 Copies not furnished by the Commission. The Commission will make provision for a stenographic record of the proceeding and for such copies of the transcript as it requires for its own purposes, but no copies will be furnished to parties by the Commission.

Briefs and Oral Argument

SEC. 50.67. Oral argument. If oral argument before the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative is desired, he should be so notified before or at the hearing, and he may arrange to hear the argument at the close of the testimony. He may impose such limits of time on the argument as he may determine, having regard for other assignments for hearing before him. Such argument will be transcribed and bound with the transcript of testimony and will be available to the Commission for consideration in deciding the case.

SEC. 50.68 Forms and style of briefs. Briefs must comply with the requirements of Sec. 50.31 to Sec. 50.35. The date of each brief must appear on the front cover or title page. Each brief should contain an abstract of the evidence relied upon by the party filing it, preferably assembled by subjects with reference to the pages of the record or exhibit where the evidence appears. It should include requests for such specific findings as the party thinks the Commission should make.

SEC. 50.69 Arrangement of contents. The brief should contain a concise statement of the case, which should precede the abstract of evidence. The abstract of evidence should precede the argument. Exhibits should not be reproduced in the brief, but if desired may be reproduced in the appendix of the brief. Analyses of such exhibits should be included in the abstract of evidence under the subjects to which they pertain. Every brief of more than 20 pages should contain on its front leaves a subject index with page references, and a list of all cases cited, alphabetically arranged, with references to the pages where the citations appear.

SEC. 50.70 Filing; service; number of copies. At the close of the testimony in each case, the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative will, within his discretion, fix the time for filing and service of the respective briefs, depending upon the magnitude of the issues involved. All briefs should be filed simultaneously. Only one initial brief shall be filed by each party. All briefs must be accompanied by notice showing service upon all parties or their attorneys who appeared at the hearing or on brief, and 15 copies of each brief shall be furnished for the use of the Commission.

SEC. 50.71 Reply briefs. The presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative shall fix for all parties the same time within which to file their reply briefs. Parties who fail to file an opening or initial brief as required by this rule will not be permitted, except upon leave granted, to file reply to the brief of an opposing party.

Application for Further Hearing, Rehearing, Reargument, Reconsideration, or Modification of an Order

SEC. 50.72 Petition; filing; service. An application for further hearing in a proceeding before final submission, for reopening a proceeding after final submission, or for rehearing, reargument, or reconsideration after decision, must be made by petition, under oath, stating specifically the grounds relied upon, filed with the Commission, and served by the petitioner upon all parties to the proceeding or their attorneys of record.

SEC. 50.73 Statement as to new evidence. If the application be for further hearing before final submission, or for reopening the proceeding to take further evidence, the nature and purpose of the evidence to be adduced must be briefly stated, and it must appear not to be merely cumulative.

SEC. 50.74 Specification of errors. If the application be for rehearing, reargument, or reconsideration, the matters claimed to have been erroneously decided must be specified, and the alleged errors briefly stated. If the order of the Commission is sought to be vacated, reversed, or modified by reason of matters which have arisen since the hearing, or of a consequence which would result from compliance therewith, the matters relied upon by the petitioner must be set forth in the petition.

SEC. 50.75 Time of filing. A petition for rehearing must be filed within 30 days after service of the order therein.

SEC. 50.76 Form and style; service. Applications under this rule must conform to the requirements of Sec. 50.31 to Sec. 50.35.

Other reports and statements made to the Commission by natural gas companies or others may be withheld from public inspection in the discretion of the Commission.

SEC. 50.80 Hours for inspection. Dockets and other records open for public inspection may be inspected during office hours of the Commission insofar as consistent with the proper discharge of the Commission's duties.

An additional charge of 25 cents will be made for each certification of documents by the Secretary of the Commission.

PART 53.—APPLICATION FOR AUTHORIZATION TO EXPORT OR IMPORT NATURAL GAS

SEC. 53.1 Who shall apply. The owner of a source of supply of natural gas who proposes to export or import any portion of such natural gas or who has entered or proposes to enter into a contract to supply natural gas to be so exported or imported, and the exporter or importer thereof, are necessary parties to an application for the authorization sought under this rule.

SEC. 53.2 Form and time of filing. An application under this part shall conform with Sec. 50.31 to Sec. 50.35, shall be made at least 30 days in advance of the proposed exportation or importation, except where otherwise ordered by the Commission for good cause shown, and the original application shall be signed and verified under oath by an executive officer or officers of the applicant or applicants having knowledge of the matters therein set forth.

SEC. 53.3 Contents of application. Until such time as the Commission shall promulgate rules and regulations pertaining to the contents of applications required to be filed under the provisions of section 3 of the Act, an application for an order authorizing any person to export any natural gas from the United States to a foreign country or import any natural gas from a foreign country shall set forth sufficient facts to enable the Commission to determine whether the authorization sought would be consistent with the public interest. The applicant shall furnish such additional information as the Commission may deem pertinent.

PART 54.—FILING OF RATE SCHEDULES

SEC. 54.1 Definition. The term "rate schedule" as used herein shall include and mean any contract, agreement, lease of facilities or other writing, including supplements thereto, which specifies or affects the rates and charges to be assessed or collected for the transportation or sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, or which establishes any rule, regulation, classification, or practice affecting such rates and charges or the service rendered or to be rendered.

SEC. 54.2 Effective rates and charges. No natural gas company shall directly or indirectly demand, collect, or receive, for the transportation or sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, or for the lease or utilization of any facilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, any rate or charge different from that prescribed in its rate schedule or schedules actually on file with the Commission, unless the Commission shall, for good cause shown, otherwise provide by order.

SEC. 54.3 Filing of rate schedules, rates, charges, etc.

A. Obligation to file. Every natural gas company shall post and file with the Commission full and complete rate schedules clearly and specifically setting forth all rates and charges for any transportation or sale of natural gas, the classification, practices, and regulations affecting such rates, and all contracts which affect or relate to such rates, charges, classifications, or services as required by section 4 (c) of the Natural Gas Act. Where two or more natural gas companies are parties to the same rate schedule, each natural gas company furnishing service, transporting, selling, or pooling natural gas shall post and file such rate schedule, or the rate schedule may be filed by one such natural gas company and all other parties having an obligation to file may post and file a certificate of concurrence on the form indicated in Sec. 250.2.

B. Newly established rates, charges, etc. Unless otherwise provided by order of the Commission, every rate or charge for the transportation or sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, as well as any classification, practice, regulation, or operation affecting such rate or charge and any contract or agreement which affects or relates to such rate, charge, classification, regulation, or service which has not theretofore been in effect, shall be posted and filed with the Commission not less than ten days prior to the date upon which it is to become effective.

C. Changes in filed rates, charges, etc. All rate schedules making a change in any rate, charge, classification, or service, on file with the Commission, or in any rule, regulation, or contract relating thereto shall be posted and filed with the Commission not less than 30 days prior to the proposed effective date thereof, unless a shorter period of time is authorized by the Commission; and as to each proposed change there shall be submitted to the Commission at the same time—

(1) A statement outlining the reasons for the proposed change and the desirability thereof;

(2) Pertinent data supporting the statements in (1) above, and

(3) An estimate of the probable sales and revenue under the rate after the proposed change becomes effective for a period of 12 months thereafter.

D. Changes in rate schedules to be indicated. All rate schedules making a change in any existing rate schedule on file with the Commission shall state plainly the change, or changes, to be made. The following symbols, which shall appear in the margin opposite each paragraph, shall be used to indicate changes in the superseding rate schedule.

O=No Change.
C=Change.
N=New Provision.

E. Rates, charges, etc., made effective prior to date of filing upon order of the Commission. For good cause shown, and upon application duly made at the time of filing, the Commission may by order provide that any rate schedule, charge, classification or service, or any rule, regulation, practice, or contract relating thereto, shall be effective as of a date prior to the date of filing.

F. Acceptance for filing not approval. The acceptance for filing by the Commission of any rate schedule, or supplement thereto, is not to be considered as approval of the reasonableness of any such rate schedule or any part thereof.

SEC. 54.4 Identification and numbering of rate schelules.

A. Every rate schedule filed will be numbered in the office of the Commission and the filing natural gas company advised of the Rate Schedule FPC number. Whenever a rate schedule offered for filing, changes, alters, or modifies any rate, charge, classification, or service, or any rule, regulation or contract relating thereto or provides additionally for a rate, charge, classification or service, or any rule, regulation, or contract relating thereto, but is dependent upon and amendatory of an existing rate schedule, it will be designated as a supplement to the existing rate schedule and will be so numbered.

B. Every rate schedule offered for filing with the Commission under these rules shall show on a title page, which shall be otherwise blank, (1) the name of the filing natural gas company, (2) the names of other natural gas companies receiving or rendering service under the rate schedule, and (3) a brief description of the service to be provided thereunder.

SEC. 54.5 Notice of cancellation. When a rate schedule, rate, charge, classification, or service, or any rule, regulation, or contract relating thereto and on file with the Commission is proposed to be cancelled and no new rate schedule is filed in its place, except as hereinafter provided, each natural gas company required to file the schedule shall formally notify the Commission of the proposed cancellation on the form indicated in Sec. 250.3 at least 30 days prior to the proposed effective date of such cancellation; and shall therewith submit a statement showing the reasons therefor and that notice has been served upon each natural gas company that is a party to the rate schedule. A copy of such notice to the Commission shall be duly posted. For good cause shown, the Commission may permit notice of cancellation to be filed within less than 30 days of the proposed effective date thereof.

SEC. 54.6 Notice of succession. Whenever, the name of a natural gas company is changed, or its operating control is transferred to another natural gas company in whole or in part, or a receiver or trustee is appointed to operate any natural gas company, the exact name of the natural gas company, receiver, or trustee which will operate the property thereafter shall be filed within 30 days after such change, transfer or appointment with the Commission on the form indicated in Sec. 250.4.

SEC. 54.7 Rates established by order of the Commission. Every rate schedule filed to make effective the rates, charges, classifications, or services or any rule or regulation relating thereto, established in conformity with an order of the Commission shall bear the following additional notation on the title page, viz.:

SEC. 54.8. Posting for public inspection. A true copy of every rate schedule required to be filed with the Commission shall be posted by each natural gas company, not later than the date of filing with the Commission, by keeping such rate schedules open and available for public inspection in a convenient form and place, during ordinary business hours at its principal and district or division offices in the territory served.

SEC. 54.9 Protests and complaints against rate changes. Every protest and complaint concerning any rate, charge, classification or service, or any rule, regulation, or contract relating thereto may be filed at any time prior to the date upon which such rate, charge, classification, or service, or rule, regulation, or contract relating thereto is proposed to become effective.

SEC. 54.10 Number of copies of rate schedules to be supplied. Four copies of every rate schedule, certificate of concurrence, notice of succession in ownership or operation, and notice of cancellation submitted for filing must be supplied to the Commission. All copies are to be included in one package, together with a letter of transmittal listing all rate schedules included, and addressed to the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D. C. The Commission reserves the right to request such additional copies of any of the above mentioned instruments as it may find necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act.

SEC. 54.11 Form and style of rate schedules. All rate schedules filed under these rules must be printed, or if printed copies are not available, must be typewritten on paper 8½ inches wide by 11 inches long. Photostatic copies on white paper, in lieu of written or printed copies, may be filed. All copies must be clear and legible and complete as to signatures, dates, and other essential data. The Commission reserves the right to reject any rate schedule that does not meet the requirements of this section.

SEC. 54.12 Filing date. By filing date is meant the date on which a rate schedule submitted by a natural gas company is received in the office of the Secretary of the Commission, unless rejected by the Commission for failure to comply with provisions of these rules of practice and regulations.

SEC. 54.13 Report of termination date. All natural gas companies having rate schedules on file with the Commission, shall advise the Commission of the termination date of all rate schedules, thirty days in advance of such termination date.

PART 57.—APPLICATION FOR APPROVAL OF ABANDONMENT OF FACILITIES OR SERVICE AND FOR CERTIFICATE OF CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY

The applicant shall furnish such additional information as the Commission may deem pertinent.

SEC. 57.2 Form of filing. An application under this part shall conform with Sec. 50.31 to Sec. 50.35, and the original application shall be signed and verified under oath by an executive officer of the applicant having knowledge of the matters therein set forth.

PART 58.—ACCOUNTS, RECORDS, AND MEMORANDA

Adjustment of Accounts and Reports

SEC. 58.1 Notice of deficiencies. If, as the result of an examination by a representative of the Commission of the accounts of a person subject to the act and to the Commission's accounting requirements, or of an examination of any statement or report submitted by such person, it appears that the accounts, or any books or records pertaining to or in support thereof, are not being kept and maintained as required by the Commission, or that the statements or reports prepared and submitted are not in proper form, the failure or deficiency will be called to the attention of such person either formally or informally as the circumstances appear to warrant.

SEC. 58.2. Response to notification. If, as the result of such formal or informal notice, the matter is not adjusted within the time fixed by said notice, or within a reasonable time in case no date is specified, or if there is a disagreement between such person and the Commission or its representative respecting the application or interpretation of the act or requirements of the Commission with respect to the matter at issue, such person will be requested to advise the Commission in writing within a time to be specified whether it consents to the disposition of the questions involved under the shortened procedure hereinafter provided.

SEC. 58.3 Facts and argument. If the person consents to the matter being handled under such shortened procedure, the person and any other parties interested, including representatives of the Commission, shall submit to the Commission, within 30 days after the receipt of notice from the Commission to do so, a memorandum of the facts and, separately stated, of the argument relied upon, to sustain the position taken respecting the matter at issue together with copies in sufficient number to enable the Commission to retain three copies for its own use and make service in accordance with Sec. 50.36 to Sec. 50.40 upon all parties designated in said notice. Twenty days will be allowed in which to file a reply by any party who filed an original memorandum.

SEC. 58.4 Form and style. All memoranda must conform to the requirements of Sec. 50.31 to Sec. 50.35, and each copy must be complete in itself. All pertinent data should be set forth fully, and each memorandum should set out the facts and argument as prescribed for briefs in Sec. 50.67 to Sec. 50.71.

SEC. 58.5 Verification. The facts stated in the memorandum must be sworn to by persons having knowledge thereof, which latter fact must affirmatively appear in the affidavit. Except under unusual circumstances, such persons should be those who would appear as witnesses if hearing were had to testify as to the facts stated in the memorandum.

SEC. 58.6 Determination. If no formal hearing is had the matter in issue will be determined by the Commission on the basis of the facts and arguments submitted.

SEC. 58.7 Assignment for oral hearing. In case consent to the shortened procedure is not given, or if at any stage of the proceeding prior to the submission of the case to the Commission any party in interest requests a hearing, the proceeding will be assigned for hearing as provided for by Sec. 50.60 to Sec. 50.65. The Commission may also in its discretion set the proceeding for hearing on its own motion at any stage thereof.

SEC. 58.8 Burden of proof. The burden of proof to justify every accounting entry shall be on the person making, authorizing, or requiring such entry.

PART 67.—COOPERATIVE PROCEDURE WITH STATE COMMISSIONS

NOTE. Section 17 of the Natural Gas Act authorizes cooperation between the Federal Power Commission and the State commissions of the several States in the administration of said act. Subsection (a) authorizes the reference of any matter arising in the administration of the act to a board to be composed of a member or members from the State or States affected or to be affected by particular matters pending before the Federal Power Commission. Subsection (b) authorizes conferences with State commissions regarding the relationship between rate structures, costs, accounts, charges, practices, classifications, and regulations of natural gas companies, and joint hearings with State commissions in connection with any matter with respect to which the Federal Power Commission is authorized to act.

Obviously, it is impossible to determine in advance what matters should be the subject of a conference, what matters should be referred to a board, and what matters should be heard at a joint hearing of State commissions and the Federal Power Commission. It is understood, therefore, that the Federal Power Commission or any State commission will freely suggest cooperation with respect to any proceeding or matter affecting any natural gas company, and concerning which it is believed that cooperation will be in the public interest.

To enable this to be done, whenever a proceeding shall be instituted before any commission, Federal or State, in which another commission is believed to be interested, notice should be promptly given each such interested commission by the commission before which the proceeding has been instituted. Inasmuch, however, as failure to give notice as contemplated by the provisions of this plan will sometimes occur purely through inadvertence, any such failure should not operate to deter any commission from suggesting that any such proceeding be made the subject matter of cooperative action, if cooperation therein is deemed desirable.

SEC. 67.1 Notice of institution of proceeding.

A. Whenever there shall be instituted before the Federal Power Commission any proceeding under the Natural Gas Act, the State commission or commissions of the State or States affected thereby will be notified immediately thereof by the Federal Power Commission, and each notice given a State commission will request such commission, if it deems the proceeding one which should be considered under the cooperative provisions of the act, to notify the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in said matter, and to request a conference, the creation of a board, or a joint hearing, if desired, indicating its preference and the reasons therefor.

B. Upon the receipt of such request the Federal Power Commission will consider the same, and may confer with the commission making the request and with other interested commissions, if any, in such manner as may be most suitable and, if cooperation shall appear to be practicable and desirable, shall so advise each interested State commission.

C. Each State commission should in like manner notify the Federal Power Commission of any proceeding instituted before it, the subject matter of which is also subject to the jurisdiction of the Federal Power Commission.

SEC. 67.2 Procedure governing joint conferences. The Federal Power Commission, in accordance with the indicated procedure, will confer with any State commission regarding any matter relating to the regulation of natural gas companies. The commission desiring a conference upon any such matter should notify the other without delay, and thereupon the Federal Power Commission will promptly arrange for a conference in which all interested State commissions will be invited to be represented.

SEC. 67.3 Procedure governing matters referred to a board. Whenever the Federal Power Commission, either upon its own motion or upon the suggestion of a State commission or at the request of any interested party, shall determine that it is desirable to refer a matter arising in the administration of the Natural Gas Act to a board to be composed of a member or members from the State or States affected or to be affected by such matter, the procedure shall be as follows:

The Federal Power Commission will send a request to each interested State commission to nominate a specified number of members to serve on such board. Whenever more than one State is involved, the representation of each State concerned shall be equal, unless one or more of the States affected chooses to waive such right of equal representation. When the member or members of any board have been nominated and appointed in accordance with the provisions of the Natural Gas Act, the Federal Power Commission will make an order referring the particular matter to such board, and such order shall fix the time and place of hearing, define the force and effect the action of the board shall have, the manner in which its proceedings shall be conducted, and specify the allowances to be made for the expenses of the members of the board. The rules of practice and procedure, as from time to time adopted or prescribed by the Federal Power Commission, shall govern such board, as far as applicable. The board shall have authority to adjourn the hearing from day to day, subpoena witnesses, rule on the relevancy, competency, and materiality of evidence, and, after hearing all interested parties, submit its recommendations to the Federal Power Commission, together with its findings of fact and conclusions of law.

SEC. 67.4 Procedure governing joint hearings. Whenever the Federal Power Commission, either upon its own motion or at the suggestion of any interested State commission, shall determine that a joint hearing is desirable in connection with any matter pending before the Federal Power Commission in which it is authorized to act, the procedure shall be as follows:

A. The Federal Power Commission will send a request to each interested State commission to name a specified number of members or representatives to sit with said Federal Power Commission or its member or representative in the joint hearing of said matter. Where more than one State is affected, the representation of each State concerned shall be equal, unless one or more of the States affected chooses to waive such right of equal representation, except that in cases where the number of States affected makes it impracticable for each State to be represented, the commissions of such States will be requested to name a representative committee not exceeding five in number to sit with the Federal Power Commission or its member or representative in the joint hearing of said matter. Where the joint hearing is upon a matter concerning which a proceeding is pending before a State commission in which action can be taken by said State commission, a joint record will be made.

B. Joint hearings will be followed by a conference to consider the facts developed of record, so as to provide opportunity for an exchange of views before final determination of the subject matter of the proceeding. Where a satisfactory exchange of views at such time proves impracticable, the State representative or representatives shall be afforded subsequent opportunity therefor in such manner as may be convenient.

C. When joint hearings are held, the rules of practice and procedure as from time to time adopted or prescribed by the Federal Power Commission shall govern, as far as applicable. The Federal Power Commission shall have authority to set the time and place of the hearing, subpoena witnesses, rule on the relevancy, competency, and materiality of evidence, and control in all other respects the conduct of such hearings.

SEC. 67.5 Special procedure may be prescribed in each case. The foregoing sections of this part are a general outline of procedure to be followed with respect to cooperation with State commissions under section 17 of the Federal Power Act. In any particular case, an order may be entered setting forth the manner in which said proceeding shall be conducted.

TEXT OF THE ACTS OF CONGRESS GOVERNING THE 1937 COTTON PRICE ADJUSTMENT PAYMENT PLAN

1. Excerpt from the Third Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1937, 50 Stat. 762.

PRICE ADJUSTMENT PAYMENT TO COTTON PRODUCERS

Notwithstanding any other provisions of section 32 of Public Law Numbered 320, Seventy-fourth Congress, as amended, not to exceed $65,000,000 of the funds available under said section 32 in each of the fiscal years 1938 and 1939 shall be available (at such times and in such amounts as the Secretary of Agriculture may determine) until expended for a price-adjustment payment, upon such terms and conditions as the Secretary of Agriculture may determine, with respect to the 1937 cotton crop to cotton producers who have complied with the provisions of the 1938 agricultural adjustment program formulated under the legislation contemplated by Senate Joint Resolution Numbered 207, Seventy-fifth Congress [being Public Resolution No. 69, 75th Congress, 1st Session, approved August 24, 1937, 50 Stat. 754]. Such payments to any producer shall be at a rate per pound equal to the difference between 12 cents per pound and the average price of seven-eighths Middling cotton on the ten designated spot cotton markets on the dates of sale of such cotton, but in no case shall exceed 3 cents per pound. The bases for any such payment, or the amount thereof, when officially determined in conformity with rules prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture shall be reviewable only by the Secretary of Agriculture.

2. Section 381 (a) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1936, approved February 16, 1938, 52 Stat. 67, as amended by section 12 of the Act of April 7, 1938, Public No. 470, 75th Congress, 52 Stat. 202.

SEC. 381. (a) For the purposes of the provisions (relating to cotton price adjustment payments with respect to the 1937 cotton crop) of the Third Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1937, a producer shall be deemed to have complied with the provisions of the 1938 agricultural adjustment program formulated under the legislation contemplated by Senate Joint Resolution Numbered 207, Seventy-fifth Congress, if his acreage planted to cotton in 1938 does not exceed his farm acreage allotment for 1938 under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended (including the amendments made by this Act), or under section 344 of this Act, whichever is the lesser. For the purposes of this subsection a producer shall not be deemed to have exceeded his farm acreage allotment unless such producer knowingly exceeded his farm acreage allotment. Such compliance shall not be required in any case where the producer is not engaged in cotton production in 1938. In cases where in 1937 a total or partial crop failure resulted from hail, drought, flood, or boll-weevil infestation, or where any part of a producer's 1937 cotton crop was destroyed after the harvesting thereof by fire or other unavoidable natural cause, if the producer is otherwise eligible for payment, payment shall be made at the same rate per pound on the same percentage of the producer's normal base production established by the Secretary [of Agriculture] as in the case of other producers. For the purpose of such provisions of the Third Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1937, cotton not sold prior to July 1, 1938, shall be held and considered to have been sold on June 30, 1938, and all applications for price adjustment payments shall be filed with the Secretary not later than July 15, 1938. Such payments shall be made at the earliest practicable time. Application for payment may be made by the 1937 operator of a farm on behalf of all persons engaged in cotton production on the farm in 1937 and need be signed only by such operator, but payment shall be made directly to each of the persons entitled thereto. In case any person who is entitled to payment hereunder dies, becomes incompetent, or disappears before receiving such payment or is succeeded by another who renders or completes the required performance, payment shall, without regard to any other provisions of law, be made as the Secretary may determine to be fair and reasonable in all the circumstances and provide by regulations.

3. Excerpt from the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1939.

"And provided further, That in carrying out the provisions of the Third Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1937, and section 381 (a) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, relating to cotton price adjustment payments with respect to the 1937 cotton crop, in order to accelerate such payments the Secretary [of Agriculture] shall, notwithstanding said provisions, (1) treat all cotton not sold prior to September 10, 1937, as if it had been sold on a date when the average price of seven-eighths-inch Middling cotton on the ten designated spot cotton markets was less than 9 cents per pound; (2) make payment on the basis of applications filed prior or subsequent to July 16, 1938, on forms prescribed by the Secretary, by the 1937 operator or other person designated pursuant to regulations prescribed by the Secretary on behalf of all the producers on the farm in 1937 or by individual producers, provided that (a) payment will not be made to the 1938 operator of the farm unless he certifies that he has complied thereon with the requirements defined in said section 381 (a), which certificate shall be taken to certify to such compliance on the part of all producers on the farm in 1938 who produced cotton in 1937, (b) payment shall not be delivered to any operator or producer until he has agreed in writing to refund the payment forthwith upon demand in case it is subsequently found that he has failed to comply with the requirements as defined herein and in said section 381 (a), (c) in cases where cotton was produced in 1937 on two or more producer units on the farm it shall be assumed that the production thereon was uniform, and (d) it shall be assumed that there was a total or partial crop failure resulting from hail, drought, flood, or boll-weevil infestation (which is defined to include any other insect or fungus) only if the yield in 1937 is below the base yield for the farm and in such case the total production shall be considered to be the normal yield for the farm multiplied by the number of acres planted to cotton in 1937; and (3) make payments, as soon as practicable, on the basis of his estimate of the amounts which will be covered by the applications to be filed and of the funds to be used out of the appropriation for the necessary administrative expenses of making the cotton price adjustment payments".

PART I.—ELIGIBILITY FOR PAYMENT

SEC. 1. Producers eligible for payment.—A. Every person who was a cotton producer in 1937, whether or not he is engaged in cotton production in 1938, shall be entitled to receive a payment upon the terms and conditions set forth in these regulations, but no payment shall be made to any person—

(1) if he is an operator of a farm in 1938 unless he certifies that he has not knowingly planted, or caused or permitted the planting of, cotton in 1938, on any farm in which he has an interest as a cotton producer in 1938, in excess of the cotton acreage allotment established for the farm for 1938; or

(2) who the County Committee finds has knowingly planted or caused or permitted the planting of, cotton in 1938, on any farm in which such person is interested as a cotton producer in 1938, in excess of the cotton acreage allotment established for the farm for 1938.

B. No payment shall be delivered to any person unless (1) he has certified that he has not knowingly planted, or caused or permitted the planting of, cotton in 1938, on any farm in which he has an interest as a cotton producer in 1938, in excess of the cotton acreage allotment established for the farm for 1938, and (2) he has agreed in writing to refund to the United States, forthwith upon demand, any payment received by him in case it is subsequently found that he has knowingly planted, or caused or permitted the planting of, cotton on any such farm in 1938 in excess of such allotment.

SEC. 2. Eligible cotton.—A. Payments may be made with respect to the following:

(1) cotton grown in 1937 and harvested and sold prior to September 10, 1937.

(2) cotton grown in 1937 and harvested but which was not sold prior to September 10, 1937, which shall include (but not be restricted to) cotton stored in a warehouse or elsewhere, cotton under the 1937 Commodity Credit Corporation Cotton Loan, and cotton destroyed by fire or other unavoidable natural cause without a sale of such cotton having been made, and

(3) the normal production on the acreage planted to cotton in 1937 where there was a total or partial crop failure for the farm as a whole caused by hail, drought, flood, or infestation by boll-weevils or any other insect or fungus (hereinafter referred to as "crop failure").

B. The amount of cotton with respect to which payment may be made for any farm shall be the smaller of the following:

(1) that percentage (which shall be the same for all eligible farms) of the 1937 base cotton production established for the farm which the Secretary of Agriculture determines will result in total payments for all cotton producers approximating but not in excess of the $130,000,000 appropriated less estimated expenses for administration, or

(2) the total amount of cotton produced on the farm in 1937 and harvested (including cotton destroyed after harvesting by fire or other unavoidable natural cause), except that in cases of crop failure payment may be made with respect to an amount of cotton equal to the smaller of the following:

(a) the base yield per acre multiplied by the acreage planted to cotton on the farm in 1937, or

(b) the percentage of the base cotton production for the farm specified in paragraph (1) of this subsection B.

SEC. 3. Total or partial crop failure.—A crop failure shall be deemed to have resulted only if the County Committee finds that:

(1) a total or partial crop failure on the acreage planted to cotton on the farm as a whole in 1937 did in fact result from hail, drought, flood, or infestation by boll-weevils or any other insect or fungus, and

(2) the total production in 1937 on the acreage planted to cotton on the farm was less than the product obtained by multiplying such acreage by the 1937 base yield per acre designated for the farm in accordance with subsection B of section 4.

SEC. 4. Base acreage yield per acre, and base production.—A. The 1937 cotton soil-depleting base acreage for any farm shall be whichever of the following is applicable:

(1) the cotton soil-depleting base which was or could have been established for the farm pursuant to the provisions of the 1937 program, except that the sum of the cotton soil-depleting bases for all such farms in a county (or other specified area) for which cotton soil-depleting bases are established pursuant to these regulations shall not exceed their proportionate share of the quota established therefor under such program for the county (or other specified area); or

(2) for farms on which cotton was planted in 1937 and on which a cotton soil-depleting base could not have been established under the 1937 program, a cotton soil-depleting base acreage shall be established which shall be comparable with cotton soil-depleting bases established under the 1937 program for other farms in the same community on which cotton was grown in 1936 for the first time since 1927 and which are similar with respect to size, type of soil, topography, production facilities, type of farming, and farming practices.

B. The 1937 base yield per acre of lint cotton shall be the yield per acre which was or could have been designated for the farm pursuant to the provisions of the 1937 program.

C. The 1937 base cotton production for each farm on which cotton was planted in 1937 shall be the product obtained by multiplying the 1937 cotton soil-depleting base acreage established for the farm by the 1937 base yield per acre designated for the farm except that:

(1) the sum of the base cotton production for all farms in the county (or other specified area) for which a cotton soil-depleting base acreage is established pursuant to subsection (A) 1 shall not exceed their proportionate share of the quota of cotton production established for the county (or other specified area) under the 1937 program; and

(2) the total 1937 base cotton production for all farms for which a cotton soil-depleting base acreage is established pursuant to A (2) of this section 4 shall not exceed the product obtained by multiplying the sum of the base cotton acreage established for all such farms in the county (or other specified area) by the yield derived by dividing the quota of cotton production by the quota of cotton acreage for the county (or other specified area).

PART II.—PAYMENTS

SEC. 21. Rates of Payment.—A. The payment per pound to each eligible producer by or for whom an application is made shall be whichever of the following is applicable:

(1) with respect to cotton sold prior to September 10, 1937, the amount per pound by which the base price is below 12 cents per pound on the date of sale of such cotton, but in no case in excess of 3 cents,

(2) with respect to cotton not sold prior to September 10, 1937, 3 cents per pound, and

(3) with respect to the normal cotton production in case of crop failure, 3 cents per pound, except that the rate of payment with respect to whatever cotton was produced on the farm shall be the rate specified in (1) or (2) of this subsection A, whichever is applicable.

B. If on any day prior to September 10, 1937, the official average base price is 12 cents or above, no payment will be made with respect to cotton sold on such day. If for any reason the base price was not announced on any particular day, the rate of payment shall be computed on the basis of the base price announced for the next succeeding day for which a base price was announced. The payments to be made respecting sales of cotton on any day will be computed at the rate applicable for such day without regard to variances in grade or staple or to the price received by the producer for the cotton sold. Following is the official average base price for each day beginning with January 1, 1937, and ending with September 9, 1937:

SEC. 22. Sales.—A. Sales of cotton shall include the following:

(1) Any transaction, contract, or agreement made in good faith prior to September 10, 1937, whereby a person entitled to the whole of or a share in the cotton crop produced by or for him transfers or agrees to transfer the title to the whole or any part of his cotton or share in cotton to another, called the purchaser, for money or some thing of value.

(2) Any transaction whereby as a result of attachment, foreclosure, or other legal process the cotton is sold prior to September 10, 1937, by a sheriff or other officer of the law and the title to and possession of the cotton is transferred from the producer by or for whom the cotton was produced and harvested.

(3) The delivery of cotton prior to September 10, 1937, by the producer thereof in payment of standing-rent or fixed-rent or the whole or any part of the purchase price of real or personal property (except cotton) or in payment for labor or services.

(4) Any transaction whereby pursuant to any contract or agreement of membership in any cooperative marketing association or other cotton farmers' association the producer delivers his share of the cotton crop or any part thereof or title thereto to such association prior to September 10, 1937, provided the control over the cotton is relinquished by the producer and such producer had not previously entered into any contract or agreement such as specified in paragraph A (1).

B. Cotton harvested from the 1937 crop but which had not been sold prior to September 10, 1937, shall be held and considered to have been sold on a date on which the base price was below 9 cents per pound, and such cotton shall include (but shall not be restricted to) cotton destroyed by fire or other unavoidable natural cause before consummation of a sale thereof.

C. At the time application for payment is made it must be established to the satisfaction of the County Committee that all cotton sold in accordance with subsection A up to the amount eligible for payment is covered by one or more cotton sale certificates or cotton sale receipts filed in the office of the Secretary of the County Association.

SEC. 23. Date of sale.—The date of sale shall be deemed to be whichever of the following is applicable:

(1) For cotton sold as specified in paragraph A (1) of section 22 the date of sale shall be the date on which the person by or for whom such cotton was produced and harvested entered into the contract or agreement to sell such cotton whether or not delivery thereof was simultaneously made and whether or not title thereto simultaneously passed.

(2) For cotton sold as specified in paragraph A (2) of section 22 the date of sale shall be the date on which the sheriff or other officer of the law entered into any agreement or contract to sell such cotton whether or not delivery thereof was simultaneously made and whether or not title thereto simultaneously passed.

(3) For cotton sold as specified in paragraph A (3) of section 22 the date of sale shall be the date on which the cotton was delivered in payment of standing-rent or fixed-rent or the whole or any part of the purchase price of real or personal property (except cotton) or in payment for labor or services.

(4) For cotton sold as specified in paragraph A (4) of section 22 the date of sale shall be the date on which the cotton or title thereto was delivered to the marketing association, whichever was earlier.

SEC. 24. Division of payment among producers on a farm.—In determining the amount of the payment which may be made to each producer on a particular farm the following provisions shall apply:

A. Where two or more persons under their lease or operating agreement (whether written or oral) were entitled to share in the cotton crop planted on the farm, or its proceeds, the acreage planted to cotton by each producer on the farm in 1937 shall be divided in accordance with such producer's respective lease or operating agreement.

B. The total amount of cotton eligible for payment with respect to the farm shall be apportioned among the cotton producers on the farm in 1937 by dividing the total eligible cotton by the total acreage planted to cotton on the farm in 1937 and multiplying the result so obtained by each producer's share of the acreage planted to cotton as determined by the rule in subsection A. The result so obtained for each producer shall be such producer's share of the cotton eligible for payment.

C. The payment with respect to each producer's share of the eligible cotton for a farm shall be computed, first, with respect to cotton sold prior to September 10, 1937, sales of which shall be considered in their chronological order, and second, with respect to the eligible cotton not sold prior to September 10, 1937. The amount of payment attributable to any particular number of pounds of a producer's eligible cotton having the same rate of payment shall be the product obtained by multiplying such poundage by the applicable rate as determined under the provisions of section 21. The total amount of payment for each individual shall be the sum of the products so obtained with respect to the entire amount of such producer's eligible cotton.

D. If only one person had any interest in cotton produced on the farm in 1937, he shall be entitled to receive the entire amount of payment attributable to the eligible cotton for the farm.

SEC. 25. Checks.—A separate check for each individual's share of the payment will be issued to him.

PART III.—PROOF OF SALES, COTTON NOT SOLD, AND APPLICATION FOR PAYMENT

SEC. 31. Proof of Sales.—A. Cotton sold in accordance with paragraphs A (1) through A (4) of section 22 by or for the producer thereof may be covered by an application for payment only if such cotton is evidenced by a buyer's sale receipt or a Cotton Sale Certificate (Form CAP–101) signed by the buyer or a person authorized by him. The buyer's sale receipt or the cotton sale certificate must show the date of sale, name and address of the producer, the total number of bales and the gross weight (including bagging and ties) thereof, or if seed cotton is sold the gross weight thereof (including seed) and the number of pounds of lint therein, or if lint cotton not baled is sold the net weight thereof. If more than one producer is entitled to share in the cotton or the proceeds of its sale or an undivided interest in the cotton is sold and a cotton sale certificate is issued, the interest of each producer in the cotton or undivided interest therein which is sold should be expressed in terms of pounds of lint and entered in section II of the certificate, which should be signed by the 1937 operator of the farm.

In case a buyer's sale receipt is submitted covering a sale of cotton in which more than one producer is entitled to share in the cotton or its proceeds, the producer submitting the receipt shall be required to file a statement signed by the 1937 operator of the farm showing the interest of each producer, expressed in pounds of lint, in the cotton sold and such statement shall be attached to the receipt to which it relates. Section II of Form CAP–101 may be used for this purpose.

If the 1937 operator has not executed section II of the cotton sale certificates) or separate statement(s) showing the interest of each producer in the cotton sold, the person designated by the County Committee to submit the application for payment, otherwise any person having an interest in such cotton other than the person selling it, may execute such section II or such statement.

B. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection A where cotton produced on the farm in 1937 was sold on a plantation-pool basis (that is, the proceeds of the 1937 crop were divided among the producers on the farm according to their respective interests), the respective interest of each producer in the cotton sold prior to September 10, 1937, need not be shown in section II of cotton sale certificate(s) or in statements filed with buyer's sale receipt(s) covering the cotton so sold.

C. In case a producer sold cotton from his 1937 cotton crop prior to September 10, 1937, without procuring a buyer's cotton sale receipt or cotton sale certificate signed by the buyer and such buyer's identity or address is unknown to him or such producer is for any other reason unable to obtain the execution by the buyer or someone authorized by him of a buyer's sale receipt or cotton sale certificate covering the cotton so sold, he may file a cotton sale certificate without the signature of the buyer, upon his executing and filing a statement in duplicate, supported by gin tickets or certificates of public weighers covering the ginning or weighing of the cotton, or in the absence of gin tickets or weight certificates (because of destruction, loss, or nonissuance) a statement signed by the person ginning or weighing the cotton establishing the weight thereof. Any such statement of the producer must recite the date of sale and the amount of cotton sold (expressed in pounds of lint) and show that the cotton so sold is not otherwise covered on any application for payment. If the County Committee finds that it has no reason to disbelieve that the statement and accompanying receipts, tickets, or ginner's or weigher's statements establish the transaction, it shall cause to be endorsed upon the cotton sale certificate a statement to the following effect: "The County Committee finds that this cotton was sold as indicated by the entries contained herein", signed by a member of the County Committee on behalf of such committee, which statement, in order to be acceptable, must be approved by the Secretary of the County Association by affixing his signature and the date thereof. The cotton sale certificate so executed and endorsed, together with the producer's statement and supporting evidence, shall be deemed to establish such transaction. No person shall be eligible for any payment who fails to establish the exact dates of sale of all cotton from his 1937 crop which was sold by or for him prior to September 10, 1937.

D. Buyer's sale receipts and cotton sale certificates shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the County Association of the county in which the 1937 farming headquarters (or in the absence of headquarters, the major part) of the farm on which the cotton was produced is located. Buyer's sale receipts and cotton sale certificates shall be considered strictly in the chronological order of sales for the purpose of recording sales on the application for payment.

SEC. 32. Proof of total cotton production and cotton not sold prior to September 10, 1937.—It shall be the duty of the County Committee to determine the total cotton production on the farm in 1937. In making such determination the County Committee shall take into consideration whatever proof is presented to it by the 1937 operator of the farm or any one or more persons by or for whom application for payment is made, the cotton sale certificates and buyer's sale receipts filed covering cotton of the 1937 cotton crop sold prior or subsequent to or on September 10, 1937, gin tickets, certificates of public weighers, and other facts within the knowledge of the committeemen, such as weather conditions, productivity of the soil, etc.

SEC. 33. Application for payment.—A. Only one application for a payment (Form CAP–103, Revised, hereinafter referred to as "application") should be submitted for a farm, except that where necessary an adjustment or a supplemental application may be submitted. Such application should be made on behalf of all cotton producers on the farm in 1937 by the 1937 operator of the farm, or, in case he is not available or fails to make such application, by a person designated by the County Committee. The application for payment shall state the name and the last-known mailing address of every cotton producer on the farm in 1937 and there shall be set forth thereon, for each producer, the essential data constituting the basis of payment and all necessary findings of fact and representations and, if found by the County Committee to be in order, it shall be signed by a member on behalf of the committee and in order to be acceptable shall also be approved by the Secretary of the County Agricultural Conservation Association or his duly authorized substitute. Nothing contained in these regulations shall be construed to prevent the execution and acceptance of individual applications by the respective producers in case there were two or more cotton producers on the farm in 1937, but where such individual applications are tendered they shall not be acted upon until the County Committee finds that all applications submitted respecting the farm account for all the cotton producers thereon in 1937 and all their 1937 cotton acreage and production.

B. The application shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the County Association of the county in which the 1937 farming headquarters (or in the absence of headquarters, the major part) of the farm, as it was operated in 1937, is located.

C. Each cotton producer on the farm in 1937 may examine the data contained therein at any time before the application is submitted to the State office. If the application has been forwarded to the State office, he may examine the copy retained in the county office. If any cotton producer shown on the application disagrees with any of the data shown opposite his name he may make his objections known to the County Committee in writing or otherwise. If the application has been forwarded to the State office, the County Committee, if the facts warrant, shall request its return, but if the application cannot be returned (because it has been forwarded to the General Accounting Office or has been paid) the matters in controversy shall be adjusted in accordance with the established procedure prescribed by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

If the application has not been forwarded to the State office or has been returned, the County Committee shall forthwith give notice of any objections raised and of the time and place of a hearing thereon to the other producer(s) shown on the application who would be affected by the objections if sustained. In the event the parties affected and the objecting producer should agree to a settlement of the matters in controversy, changes in the data on the application shall be made in accordance with such agreement, if consistent with these regulations, and the application shall be handled in all other respects in the regular manner. Should the parties fail so to agree, the County Committee, after hearing the matters in dispute, at the time and place notified, shall make its findings and determinations with regard to such matters and such changes as are necessary shall be made, and if no appeal from the decision of the committee has been taken within the time allowed for appeal the application shall be handled in the regular manner. If an appeal is taken from the decision of the County Committee, the application shall not be submitted for payment until final determination has been made respecting the matters in controversy.

PART IV.—SUCCESSORS IN INTEREST

SEC. 41. Death, disappearance, incompetency, etc.—A. Where prior to the time of completion of harvesting in 1937 a person died, disappeared, became incompetent, or voluntarily ceased to cultivate, abandoned, sold, or through his own fault or neglect lost control of his cotton crop, such producer shall not be entitled to any payment hereunder which might otherwise have been made to him, but whoever succeeded him, and as such successor became entitled to such crop or to share in it or its proceeds in his own right and completed the cultivating or harvesting of the crop, shall, for the purposes of the 1937 Cotton Price Adjustment Payment Plan, be deemed to be a cotton producer on the farm in 1937 and as such shall be entitled to the payment attributable to such cotton or to share upon the same terms and conditions as other producers. The term "successor" as used herein does not include any person who as a result of attachment, foreclosure, or other legal process came into possession of the cotton crop before, during, or after the harvesting of the crop, and in such case the person who so lost control shall nevertheless be deemed to be the cotton producer eligible for payment.

B. In cases covered by subsection A, where the successor who gained control of the crop or share therein which the outgoing producer had in 1937 was entitled to the crop or share not in his own right but in a representative or fiduciary capacity, such as administrator, executor, guardian, committee, receiver, etc., and completed the harvesting of the 1937 crop, such fiduciary shall be entitled to the payment attributable to such cotton or share upon the same terms and conditions as other producers.

C. Where prior to the time application is made the 1937 operator of the farm has died, become incompetent, or disappeared, or failed, or refused, to execute, within a reasonable time, an application for and on behalf of himself and the other producers on the farm, the County Committee, upon being notified or finding the fact of such death, incompetency, disappearance, failure, or refusal, shall forthwith designate a readily available and trustworthy person who is conversant with the 1937 operation of the farm as the person to make such application and shall immediately notify him in writing of such designation.

D. Where, subsequent to harvest of the 1937 cotton crop but before the application is made, any producer dies the payment which would otherwise be made to him shall be made only as follows:

(1) To the administrator or executor of his estate if one has been or will be appointed.

(2) If no administrator or executor has been or will be appointed, the payment shall be made in the following order to whomever survives:

a. the surviving spouse;

b. the sons and daughters in equal shares (for minor children, to their legal guardian, for their benefit; but if no legal guardian has been appointed, to their natural guardian, for their benefit; unless the minors' share of the payment is over $500, in which case payment will be made only to the legal guardian);

c. all his heirs.

E. Where, subsequent to harvest of the 1937 cotton crop but before the application is made, any producer becomes incompetent the payment which would otherwise be made to him shall be made to the guardian or committee appointed for him, but in case no such guardian or committee is appointed then to such person as may be authorized under State law to receive payment for him (see the standard procedure heretofore prescribed for the respective Region).

F. Payment shall not be delivered to any person otherwise entitled to payment pursuant to subsection D or E until he has agreed in writing to refund the payment forthwith upon demand in case it is subsequently found that he, as successor in interest or in his representative or fiduciary capacity, or the deceased or incompetent, has knowingly planted, or caused or permitted the planting of, cotton in 1938 on any farm, in which he, as such successor or representative or fiduciary, or the deceased or incompetent has or had an interest as a cotton producer in 1938, in excess of the cotton acreage allotment established for the farm in 1938.

PART V.—COMPLIANCE

SEC. 51. Compliance.—A. The County Committee shall determine with respect to each person by or for whom an application for payment has been made whether such person is engaged in cotton production in 1938 and, if so engaged, whether such producer knowingly planted, or caused or permitted the planting of, cotton in 1938, on any farm in which he has an interest as a cotton producer, on acreage in excess of the cotton acreage allotment established for such farm.

B. A person shall be deemed to have knowingly planted, or caused or permitted the planting of, cotton on any farm in which he has an interest as a cotton producer, on acreage in excess of such cotton acreage allotment if notice of the farm cotton acreage allotment for the farm is mailed to the operator of the farm prior to the completion of the planting (that is, the seeding) of cotton on the farm, unless he proves to the satisfaction of the County Committee that the fact is that the excess acreage planted to cotton was due to his lack of knowledge of the number of acres in the tract or tracts planted to cotton. Notice of the farm cotton acreage allotment, if mailed to the operator of the farm, shall be deemed to be notice thereof to all persons entitled to share in the production of cotton thereon in 1938.

C. Instructions with respect to determining the acreage planted to cotton in 1938 on any farm issued or to be issued in connection with the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program or in connection with marketing quotas under section 344 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 are hereby made a part of these regulations.

D. No payment shall be made to the 1938 operator of the farm pursuant to the application covering such farm or to any producer shown on such application who the County Committee knows is the 1938 operator of any farm, unless either

(1) section I of the application was executed by such operator or producer, or

(2) a Form CAP–104, "1938 Operator's Certificate of Compliance," executed by such operator or producer is attached to the application.

No payment shall be made to any operator or producer who, the County Committee finds, has knowingly planted, or caused or permitted the planting of, cotton, or contributed to the planting of cotton, in 1938 on any farm in which he has an interest as a cotton producer in 1938, in excess of the cotton acreage allotment for the farm.

E. Payment shall not be delivered to any person by or for whom an application is made unless such person has certified that he has not knowingly planted, or caused or permitted the planting of, cotton, or contributed to the planting of cotton, in 1938 on any farm in which he has an interest as a cotton producer, in excess of the cotton acreage allotment for the farm, and agreed in such certificate to refund the payment forthwith upon demand in case it is subsequently found that he has failed to comply with the cotton acreage allotment for the farm. Such certificate shall be on a prescribed form or on the check issued in payment. It shall be the duty of every community and county committeeman, County Agent, and officer, member, or employee of the County Association to report promptly to the County Committee any case coming to his knowledge where there has been any such failure to comply which has not previously been reported to it. The County Committee shall report such cases immediately to the State Committee, and it shall be the duty of the State Committee to make the aforesaid demand in every case in which it finds that there has been such failure, and, if the refund is not made within thirty calendar days from the date of the demand, to report the case forthwith to the Regional Director.

PART VI.—MISCELLANEOUS

SEC. 61. Appeals.—Any person who considers himself aggrieved by any recommendation or determination of the County Committee with respect to any farm in which he has an interest may, within fifteen days after notice thereof is forwarded to or available to him, request the County Committee in writing to reconsider its recommendation or determination with respect to any of the following matters:

(a) eligibility to receive payment or

(b) any other matter affecting the right to or the amount of his payment with respect to the farm.

The procedure respecting appeals under this section shall be the same as under the appeals provisions in the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program applicable in the Region in which the appeal arises.

SEC. 62. Forms and instructions.—The Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall prescribe such forms and issue such instructions as may be necessary to carry out the 1937 Cotton Price Adjustment Payment Plan in conformity with these regulations.

SEC. 63. Signatures and authorizations.—The provisions of ACP–16 (Instructions on Signatures and Authorizations in Connection with the Execution of Applications for Payment or Related Papers under the Agricultural Conservation Program) are hereby made a part of these regulations.

Preference in employment on FSA projects will be given to persons on relief rolls, persons in actual need although not on relief rolls, and farmers in need and who need employment to supplement their farm income but who are not on relief rolls; provided further, that the fact that a person is entitled to or has received either adjusted-service bonds or a Treasury check in payment of an adjusted-compensation certificate shall not be considered in determining actual need of such employment. Preference in employment on FSA projects, as above indicated, shall be given in the following order: (1) Veterans of the World War and the Spanish-American War and veterans of any campaign or expedition in which the United States has been engaged (as determined on the basis of the laws administered by the Veterans' Administration) who are in need and are American citizens; (2) other American citizens, Indians and other persons owing allegiance to the United States who are in need; and (3) those aliens in need whose declarations of intention to become American citizens were filed prior to June 21, 1938, and are valid and have not expired.

B. Community managers are authorized to certify to employing officers of the FSA, the conditions of need of homesteaders (occupants of FSA projects).

C. County RR supervisors are authorized to certify to employing officers of the FSA, farmers in need and who need employment to supplement their farm income. (This authorization is not limited to grant and loan clients of the FSA, but may apply to any persons engaged in agricultural employment.)

D. Certifications shall be valid for three months, and shall be made in the following form:

No person under the age of 16 years, and no one whose age or physical conditionis such as to make his employment dangerous to his health or safety, or to the health or safety of others, may be employed on any FSA project. This paragraph will not be construed to operate against the employment of physically handicapped persons otherwise employable, where such persons may be safely assigned to work which they can ably perform.

B. No person currently serving sentence in a penal or correctional institution will be employed on any FSA project. This will not be interpreted to include persons on probation or parole.

C. Only one member of a family group may be employed on an FSA project, except that enrollment of a member of the family in the CCC (Civilian Conservation Corps) or in the NYA National Youth Administration) program shall not interfere with the employment of another member of such family on an FSA project.

D. The employing officer will not knowingly employ or permit the continuance in employment on FSA projects of any alien illegally within the limits of the United States, or any alien who had not, prior to June 21, 1938, filed a declaration of intention to become an American citizen which is valid and has not expired, and will make every reasonable effort to see that such aliens are not employed and that if employed and their status as such aliens disclosed, they will thereupon be discharged.

E. No person in need employed on an FSA project who refuses a bona fide offer of private employment which he is capable of performing, under reasonable working conditions, providing equivalent earnings opportunities, shall be retained in employment for the period such private employment shall be available. A person accepting such employment, however, shall be eligible for immediate reemployment, if he is still in need, and if he has lost such private employment through no fault of his own.

F. No person shall be employed in a supervisory or administrative position who is a candidate for any state, district, county, or municipal office (such office requiring the full time of such person and to which office a salary or per diem attaches), in any primary, general or special election, or who is serving as a campaign manager or assistant thereto for any such candidate.

B. Workers other than homesteaders and farmers.—1. When an employing officer wishes to employ other workers, he will prepare and submit WPA Form 401, "Requisition for Workers," to the nearest office of the USES (United States Employment Service). If there are any special requirements in connection with any occupational classifications, such special requirements should be given. On the face of every such Form shall be written the statement, "It is requested that preference be given to persons in need, in accordance with the provisions of the ERA Act of 1938."

2. The employment office will refer workers to the project, in response to such requisitions, on USES Form 320. The employing officer will appropriately execute the return card of this Form and forward same to the employment office.

3. If a worker so referred is employed, an Employment Agreement shall be executed and distributed as indicated in paragraph VI A 1.

4. When a change in occupation or wage rate is to be effected, a new Employment Agreement will be executed and copies distributed as indicated in paragraph VI A 1.

5. When the employee's services are to be terminated, a Notice of such termination, as indicated in paragraph VI A 3 shall be executed in quadruplicate. Three copies shall be distributed as indicated in paragraph VI A 1, and the fourth copy shall be forwarded to the local employment office which referred the worker to the project.

6. It shall be the duty of the employing officer, upon execution of any Notice of Termination of the services of a worker who is eligible for employment on the works program of the WPA (Works Progress Administration) to advise such worker that he must inform the WPA district Division of Employment office of the termination of his employment before he can be eligible for further employment by the WPA.

C. Workers already on assignment to projects on July 1, 1938, whose services it is desired to continue, will not need to enter into new Employment Agreements unless a change in their occupational status is desired. Assignment forms at that time in effect (WPA Form 402, "Reassignment Slip", WPA Form 404, "Reclassification Slip", or USES Form 325, Assignment Slip) may be continued in effect until a change in the worker's status occurs.

D. Reclassifications shall be made effective only with the beginning of semimonthly pay roll periods, except that workers, upon their return to duty after a disability, may be reclassified at any time within the pay roll period. In such excepted cases, the names of workers may not be listed more than once on a pay roll voucher, nor should payment be made on two vouchers unless the second payment is supplemental and gives voucher information concerning the first payment.

E. All workers must be employed in occupational classifications for which wage rates have been established by the FSA in accordance with the procedure set forth in this Instruction.

F. Employment records for non-appointive workers will be maintained in each FC pay roll section or unit on Form FSA-Gen 121. Copies of the Employment Agreement specified in paragraph VI A 1 hereof, and of the Notice of Termination specified in paragraph VI A 3 hereof, when executed, will be stapled in the space provided on Form FSA-Gen 121 in place of USES Form 325 (Assignment Slip) or WPA Form 402 ("Reassignment Slip"); WPA Form 403 (Change in Work Status) and WPA Form 404 ("Reclassification Slip").

VII. Procedure for securing owner-operators of equipment.—Owner-operators of equipment MUST be secured by requisition upon, and assignment from, the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department.

A. Owner-operators will be secured through the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department by using Treasury Form A–6, "Requisition for Purchase", and will be assigned to the project on Treasury Form A–7–a, "Assignment Order". This Form must be issued at least fifteen days in advance of the beginning of the period for which the equipment is needed. The state Procurement officer will supply the employing officer with the names and addresses of owners and description of equipment which may be hired, and also the schedule of rental rates to be paid for such equipment. This information will be given to the employing officer on Treasury Form A–7–a, "Assignment Order". After the employing officer has received the list of names and addresses, he will communicate with such owner-operators listed, as he desires to employ, and the designated owner-operators of equipment will then enter into rental agreements with the Procurement Division. Owner-operators hired through the Procurement Division will be paid on WPA Form 506, "Pay Roll for Personal Services and Owner-operated Equipment—Work Project."

VIII. Wage rates.—A. Wage rates for persons employed on FSA projects will be determined by the Administrator of the FSA, upon the basis of advice and information furnished by the LR (Labor Relations) Division. Such rates of pay shall be not less than the prevailing rates of pay for work of a similar nature in the same locality as determined by the Works Progress Administration.

1. Notification of such wage rates determined by the Administrator of the FSA will be given on Form FSA–LR 10, "Notice of Wages Determined by the Farm Security Administration". No alteration whatever may be made in this Form as issued. Any change is a falsification of the record, and may lead to serious consequences. The distribution of Form FSA–LR 10 will be as follows:

(a) Fourteen copies of the Form will be prepared and distributed as follows: Ten copies to the FC pay roll section or unit having jurisdiction over the project; one copy to the regional director; one copy to the employing officer; one copy to the LR representative; and one copy to be filed in the office of the Director of the LR Division.

(b) The responsible FC pay roll section or unit will retain one of the allotted ten copies and forward the remaining nine copies to the U. S. Treasury Accounts office for the region responsible for the project's pay roll. The U. S. Treasury Accounts office for the region will keep four of these nine copies received from the FC pay roll section or unit and will forward the remaining five copies to the Commissioner of Accounts and Deposits who will retain two copies and forward three to the GAO (General Accounting Office), Washington, D. C.

B. Wages will be paid only for time actually worked.—Workers, including owner-operators, however, must be given not less than two hours' work in any day when, in accordance with instructions, they report to the project for work, except for the following: Employing officers may advise workers that they will not report for work even though they have been so instructed, in case of inclement weather which would make it improbable that work could be carried on. In case of such obviously inclement weather, no work need be furnished men who report.

C. Owner-operators of equipment employed through the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department will be paid such wages as are determined by the Procurement officers.

D. When rental contracts, which provide for the employment of operators of the equipment by the contractors, are made through the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department with owners of trucks or construction equipment, determination of minimum wage rates to be paid the operators of the equipment will be made by the regional directors upon the advice of the LR representatives. The minimum wage rates so determined will be stated in the requisition sent to the Procurement Division as the minimum to be paid to the operator employees of contractors. Form FSA DM 165 will be attached to the requisition and shall be made a part of each such contract.

IX. Assignment of wages.—Wages of project workers will be paid to them in full, except where such workers are indebted to the Federal Government as the result of overpayment or charges for subsistence in work camps. Wages to be paid by the Federal Government may not be pledged or assigned, and any purported pledge or assignment will be null and void.

X. Hours of work.—A. The maximum hours of work for workers employed at hourly wage rates will be eight hours per day and 40 hours per week, except as indicated in paragraph X C below.

B. It is expected that work will be carried on normally on the basis of an eight-hour day from Monday through Friday. No construction work normally will be done on Saturday or Sunday.

C. When it becomes necessary to exceed the established hours of work either because of the existence of an emergency involving the public welfare or the protection of work already done on the project, or because of special and unusual circumstances, a full explanation of the reasons for such excess time, approved by the LR representative, must be attached to the pay roll on which excess hours are shown, for the information of the pay roll section or unit.

D. It is the policy of the FSA that, except in emergencies and in special and unusual circumstances, workers employed at monthly rates of wages will not work more than eight hours per day, 48 hours per week, or more than six days in every seven.

E. The minimum hours of work for workers employed on a monthly basis, shall be, when engaged principally in office, station or laboratory, seven hours per day and 39 hours per week; when engaged principally on outside work, eight hours per day and 44 hours per week.

F. In the case of workers employed on a monthly basis, one-thirtieth of the monthly wage must be deducted for each working day on which the employee is absent from duty.

XI. Injuries and compensation.—A. Claims of non-appointive employees will be reported by the employing officer, or his designated representative in accordance with procedure set forth in Field Instruction LR 3 (or latest revision or supplement thereto).

B. In all cases of injuries involving lost time or medical expense, the source of the funds from which the injured worker was being paid at the time of injury must be stated. There are four sources of funds from which workers may be paid: (1) Federal relief appropriations; (2) collections under the Bankhead-Black Act; (3) state RR corporation trust and state RR corporation managed accounts; (4) appropriations from regular funds. The statement as to the source of funds ordinarily should be typed on the face of U. S. Employees' Compensation Commission Form CA-2.

XII. General conditions of employment.—A. Right to organize.—1. Workers have the right to organize and select representatives of their own choice for the purpose of adjusting grievances with the FSA, and shall not be required to limit their choice of representatives to persons employed on the project.

2. Community managers, resident engineers, or other FSA officials shall not interfere with, restrain or coerce FSA employees in the exercise of their right to organize or to act collectively through representatives of their own choosing.

B. Discrimination.—Workers who are qualified by training and experience for assignment to FSA projects and who are eligible for employment shall not be discriminated against because of union membership, political affiliation, race, religion, or because of any other reason. Persons practicing such discrimination, are subject to prosecution in accordance with Section 19 of the ERA Act of 1938.

C. Cause for discharge.—1. It is expected that workers on FSA projects will discharge their duties with their available skill and diligence. When workers fail to apply themselves to their jobs in a reasonable manner the employing officer may discharge them after giving every worker adequate advice and warning and after allowing time to secure evidence that the workers involved are not discharging their duties to the best of their ability.

2. In each case of discharge, a full statement of the reason for termination must be made on the Notice of Termination referred to in paragraph VI A 3. No entry such as "agitator", or any other expression which may be construed to refer to organizational activity may be made on the Notice of Termination and no person shall be discharged for any such reason. In every case of discharge, the worker is entitled to, and must be given, an explanation of why he is discharged. The worker must further be given opportunity to present to the community manager, resident engineer or LR representative, reasons, if any, why he should be not discharged.

D. Adjusting complaints and grievances.—1. Workers may present complaints either individually or through their designated representatives. If satisfactory adjustment of a complaint cannot be secured through the foreman, community manager or resident engineer, the matter should be taken up with the LR representative.

2. In the event that the LR representative cannot secure a satisfactory adjustment of the complaint or grievance, either the workers or their designated representative, community manager, or resident engineer, or the LR representative may appeal to the Director of the LR Division.

E. Strikes.—1. If all or any portion of the workers on an FSA project go on strike because of a labor dispute, the employing officer will stop the work involved in the strike until the dispute is adjusted. New workers shall not be requisitioned to fill the jobs left vacant by the striking workers. If the entire project is affected by the strike or stoppage of work, the project shall be closed down until the dispute is adjusted. Work will not be continued on any FSA project if it is necessary to use police or any other protection involving force.

2. In case of a strike or stoppage of work on a project, the employing officer shall notify immediately the LR representative assigned to the project, who is responsible for conducting negotiations to settle the dispute.

F. Posting notices on projects.—1. Notices giving the wages, hours of work, and working conditions must be posted on every project in places easily accessible to all workers. Notices will be posted on the latest revision of Form FSA–LR 21, "Working Conditions", and Form FSA–LR 21a, "Schedule of Wage Rates." The name and address of the LR representative to whom workers may appeal complaints and grievances must be given on every notice posted.

2. Notices setting forth injury compensation benefits and instructions for injured workers shall be prominently displayed on every project. The poster "In Case of Injury", in revised form, will be used for this purpose.

G. All work shall be conducted in accordance with safe working conditions, and every effort shall be made for the prevention of accidents. In the maintenance of safe working conditions, employment officers will be governed by the provisions of Field Instruction LR 6 (or latest revision or supplement thereto).

SEC. 1.15 INVITATIONS FOR BIDS

* * * * * *

(f) Special conditions authorized or required to be included.

* * * * * *

(6) Options permitted by specifications.— (i) General.— Many adopted specifications cover several grades or types and provide for several options in methods of inspection, etc. When such specifications are used in conformity with paragraph (e) above, the invitation will specifically state the grade, type, or method of inspection, etc., on which bids are to be based.

(ii) Lumber.—Due to the nature of lumber and the methods employed in its production, marketing and inspection, proper decisions as to the action in paragraph (i) above are especially demanded. Invitations for bids should ordinarily provide that the lumber to be delivered will be grade-marked, or furnished on a certificate of grade. In addition, the invitation will state that in case of equal bids, awards will be made for softwood lumber in the following order of preference: that which is grade-marked, that which is accompanied by a certificate of grade (inspection) furnished by one of the associations recognized in the specification, and that which is inspected by the purchasing agency; for hardwood lumber in the following order of preference: that which is furnished on a certificate of grade (inspection) furnished by one of the associations recognized in the specification, and that which is inspected by the purchasing agency. The option permitted in the specification providing for inspection by the purchasing agency will be used as such a basis only when the inspection facilities of that agency are adequate to make a competent inspection, less than a carload is needed, or because of great difference in cost, or the inability of the inspection associations recognized in the specifications to make timely inspections or other sufficient reasons, the needs of the Government will not permit purchase on the basis of other options.

REGULATION 6.—CONTRACTS

SECTION 1. All contracts, except for the purchase and leasing of lands, shall be based upon free and open competitive bids.

SEC. 2. If a contract be awarded to any other than the lowest responsible bidder, the Federal government shall not pay more than its pro rata share of the lowest responsible bid, unless it is satisfactorily shown that it was advantageous to the work to accept the higher bid.

SEC. 3. A copy of each contract as executed shall be promptly certified by the State fish and game department and furnished to the Secretary, and no alteration or modification which changes the character or extent of the work from that indicated in the plans, specifications, and estimates as approved by the Secretary or which increases the amounts to be paid from the lowest competitive bid, shall be subsequently made without the approval of the Secretary or his authorized representatives.

Such records of the cost of lands acquired, improvements made thereon, construction work, overhead costs, and of maintenance done by or on behalf of the State shall be kept separately for each project by or under the direction of the State fish and game department who shall report the amount and nature of the expenditure for these purposes, upon the request of the Secretary or his authorized representatives.

SEC. 2. The accounts and records, together with all supporting documents, shall be open at all times to the inspection of the Secretary or his authorized representatives, and copies thereof shall be furnished when requested.

REGULATION 9.—PAYMENTS

SECTION 1. No part of the Federal funds set aside on account of any project shall be paid until it has been shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary or his authorized representatives that adequate means, either advertising or other devices appropriate for the purpose, were employed to insure economy and efficiency in the expenditure of such money.

The supplemental farm unit plats referred to above were approved on the date of this order and are on file in the office of the Superintendent, Bureau of Reclamation, Powell, Wyoming, and in the local land office at Cheyenne, Wyoming.

2. Increase of irrigable area.—The irrigable areas of the various farm units and tracts described in paragraph 1 above have been determined by soil and instrument survey. Nonirrigable areas therein were eliminated because of doubtful quality but in the future some of the areas tentatively determined as nonirrigable may prove susceptible of irrigation and reclamation. In such event the farm unit plats will be amended to include such additional irrigable lands and the total construction charges for any farm unit or tract affected will be increased accordingly. Each entryman or land owner shall agree in the water-rental application to pay additional construction charges at the same rate per acre applicable to his original irrigable area for any increase in the irrigable area of his farm unit or tract brought about by future reclamation.

3. Limit of acreage for which entry may be made or water rental secured.—For the farm units described above, the limit of area of public land per entry, representing the area which, in the opinion of the Secretary of the Interior, may be reasonably required for the support of a family upon such land, is fixed at the amounts shown upon the said farm unit plats for the respective farm units thereon. The maximum limit of area for which water rental application may be made for lands in private ownership shall be 160 acres of irrigable land for each landowner.

4. Filing of water rental applications.—Water rental applications for entered lands and lands in private ownership must be filed in the office of the Superintendent, Bureau of Reclamation, Powell, Wyo., and such applications may be made on or after the date of this order. For public land farm units the water rental applications must be made in accordance with the conditions hereinafter stated.

5. Preference rights to ex-service men.—Pursuant to the provisions of joint Public Resolution No. 85, 71st Congress, approved June 12, 1930 (46 Stat., 580), and until October 14, 1938 the farm units described above will be open to entry only by officers, soldiers, sailors, or marines who have served in the Army or Navy of the United States in any war, military occupation, or military expedition, and have been honorably separated or discharged therefrom or placed in the regular Army or Naval Reserve. The same preference rights are applicable to those citizens of the United States who served with the allied armies during the World War and who were honorably discharged, upon their resumption of citizenship in the United States, provided the service with the allied armies was similar to the service with the Army of the United States for which recognition is granted in the aforesaid Public Resolution No. 85; Provided, however, That they must be qualified to make entry under the homestead laws and also possess the qualifications as to industry, experience, character, and capital required of all applicants under this order.

6. Applicants must be qualified.—No entry shall be accepted by the local land office until the applicant therefor has satisfied the Examining Board appointed for the Shoshone Project to consider such matters, that he is possessed of such qualifications (in addition to the qualifications required under the homestead laws) as to industry, experience, character, and capital, as in the opinion of the board are necessary to give reasonable assurance of success by the prospective settler.

7. Requirements as to industry, experience, character and capital.—Each applicant must possess good health and have had at least two years' actual experience in farm work and farm practice. He must have at least $2,000 in money free of liability, or the equivalent thereof in livestock, farming equipment, or other assets deemed by the Examining Board to be as useful to the applicant as money.

8. Examining Board.—An Examining Board of three members has been appointed by the Secretary of the Interior, to consider the fitness of each applicant to undertake the development and operation of a farm on the Shoshone project. Each applicant, except those described in paragraph 14 (a) must appear in person before the Examining Board, and the project Superintendent, who is the member representing the United States, and who will act as Secretary of the board, will notify each applicant of the period of time set for his appearance and examination. The members of the board will be present at the project office when the opening is being held, and interested applicants, and particularly nonresidents, will be examined at such times as it is convenient for them to be present. There must be, of course, some limit of time covering this feature, and the board will fix this limit, and will also announce such other incidental rules as will necessitate one appearance only by each applicant. Careful investigation shall be made to verify the statements and representations made by applicants, to the end that no misunderstanding may prevail, either regarding the applicant's fitness or his appreciation of the problem before him.

9. Determination of relative standing of applicants.—The relative standing of the applicants will be based upon a percentage rating with the following weights given to the four prescribed qualifications:

	Percent
Character	15
Industry	20
Capital	30
Farm Experience	35

Applicants will be rated according to the following schedules and no applicants will be considered eligible who fall below the minimum named in any one of the headings of these schedules, or who do not, in the opinion of the board, possesses the health and vigor necessary for active farm work:

10. When, and how to apply for a farm unit.—Any person desiring to acquire any of the farm units described in paragraph 1 must, as a first step, secure from the Superintendent at Powell, Wyoming, or from the Commissioner, Bureau of Reclamation, Washington, D. C., a farm application blank. The blanks will be available on and after the date of this notice, and full answer must be made to each question propounded therein. The farm application must designate in the first paragraph the particular farm desired. If the applicant claims a preference right on account of military service, he shall attach to this application an affidavit setting forth such military service. The affidavit shall state the applicant's time of service, the unit of which he was a member, the date on which he was honorably discharged, or separated, or transferred to the regular Army or Naval Reserve, and that he did not refuse to wear the uniform of such service or to perform the duties thereof. If the applicant claims a preference right on account of military service with the allied armies during the World War, the affidavit should also state, if true, that the service with the allied armies was similar to the service with the Army of the United States for which recognition was granted in the said Public Resolution No. 85. There shall be attached to said affidavit a copy of such honorable discharge or separation from the service, or the order of transfer to the regular Army or Naval Reserve, as the case may be, which copy shall be certified by a notary public to be a true copy of the original.

11. When and where to file the farm application.—The farm application with the proof to be furnished by the ex-service man, must be filed with the Superintendent at Powell, Wyoming, in person, if convenient, or by mail, or otherwise, prior to July 15, 1938, if the applicant desires to qualify under paragraph 12 below. No advantage will accrue to an applicant presenting his application in person rather than by mail, and, if the applicant does not reside at Powell, his application should be mailed. Farm applications received on or after July 15, 1938, will be filed and noted in the order of their receipt.

12. Simultaneous filing of farm applications.—All applications received prior to July 15, 1938, the date of opening, will be held and treated as simultaneously filed.

13. Preference rights for ex-service men not filing in accordance with Paragraph 12.—In order that ex-service men may take advantage of the preference right as provided in Paragraph 5 of this order, in the event that they fail to file prior to July 15, 1938, as set forth in Paragraph 12 above, their applications together with the proof to be furnished by them, must be filed in the Office of the Superintendent, Powell, Wyoming, on or prior to October 14, 1938, the day before the date upon which the farm units herein described, except those units for which applications of ex-service men have been accepted, become open to entry by the general public. No advantage will accrue to an applicant presenting his application in person rather than by mail.

14. Showing of applicants and selection thereof.—(a) Where the applicant fails to make a prima facie case—that is, where the applicant does not possess good health or does not show at least two years' farm experience, and the assets required in Paragraph 7, the application shall be rejected and the applicant notified thereof by registered mail, and of his right to appeal to the Secretary of the Interior within 10 days from receipt of notice. Like action shall be taken where the evidence of military service is defective or not furnished. All appeals allowed under this order must be filed in the office of the project superintendent at Powell, Wyoming, and within 10 days from receipt of notice.

(b) Each applicant who makes a prima facie case and has not been previously examined by the board shall be notified by the board, by registered mail, of the time within which he must appear before it. After such personal examination, and after consideration of the showing made in the application, the board will rate the applicant in accordance with the scale set forth above, and place such rating in red ink, with the initials of each member of the board upon the face of the farm application blank. Should the applicant fail to appear for examination after due notice, his application will receive no further consideration by the board at that time. Should he later appear his application may be considered for any farm then remaining unassigned. The date of receipt of his application shall then be considered as being the day he actually appeared before the board. The rating necessary to establish qualification is the minimum named in Paragraph 9 of this order, and the applications of all who fail to attain this minimum shall be rejected and the applicants notified thereof by registered mail, and of the right of appeal to the Secretary within 10 days from the receipt of notice. After the expiration of the appeal period and in the absence of any pending appeals, the board shall select the 7 applicants (there being 7 farm units) with the highest rating, and notify each of the other applicants that since the number of qualified applicants exceeds the number of available farms it is necessary to reject all applications below the first 7 in qualification ratings. Each rejected applicant may appeal to the Secretary within ten days. In the event that the number of qualified applicants is less than the number of available farm units, and also if in such case there are several applications for the same farm unit, the board shall assign a farm unit to each of such applicants. Whenever practicable, the board shall allow the applicants to exercise a choice of farms; and if it is found practicable to do so, the applicants will be given the right of selection, regardless of other applications, in the order of their ratings. The intent of the law is to select the best qualified applicants for the farms available, and the Government reserves the right to assign the farms regardless of individual preferences. Where two or more applicants have received identical ratings a drawing shall be made by the examining board to determine the order in which the available farms shall be awarded.

15. Notification of applicant that he has been selected.—After the expiration of the appeal periods in all of the contingencies named above, or any other that may arise, and in the absence of any pending appeals, the board shall notify each applicant selected for a farm, by registered mail, and enclose a water-rental application for the farm selected, which must be filled in by the applicant and returned to the Superintendent within 10 days from receipt of such notice with payment of the water-rental charges, as specified in Paragraph 19 hereof. Upon receipt by the project Superintendent of the water-rental application, executed by the applicant and accompanied by the required payment, the board shall make appropriate notation on a copy of said water-rental application, which will entitle the applicant to file homestead application at the local land office, and the board will return said copy by registered mail to the applicant for that purpose. Such homestead application shall be made within 15 days from the date of receipt of the approved water-rental application. Failure to make homestead entry within the period named will render the application subject to rejection.

16. Failure of selected applicant to complete transaction.—If the applicant fails to comply with any of the requirements named above the board will select the next highest in qualification rating, and when the list has been exhausted, and if there still remain lands unallotted, the board will consider applications filed thereafter in the order filed, and such applications will otherwise be handled by the board as prescribed in Paragraph 14.

17. General entry.—On and after October 15, 1938 any farm units described in paragraph 1 above which remain unentered, shall be subject to entry under this order by any person having the necessary qualifications. If, on October 15, 1938 prior to 2 p. m., the number of applications filed exceeds the number of available farm units, then the right to make entry for any such farm unit shall be determined in accordance with Paragraph 14 of this order, the provisions of which shall continue in effect in a similar manner in the future if the number of applications at any time exceeds the number of remaining available farm units.

18. Warning against unlawful settlement.—No person shall be permitted to gain or exercise any right under any settlement or occupation of any of the public lands covered by this order except under the terms and conditions prescribed by this order: Provided, however, That this shall not affect any valid existing right obtained by settlement or entry while the land was subject thereto.

19. Water-rental charges.—Water rental charges for all lands described in this order shall be the same as the charges announced or to be announced by the Secretary of the Interior in public notices for other lands of the Willwood division, and these lands shall be subject to all the terms and conditions of said public notices. If application is made in the year 1938 for water to be used on any of the lands covered by this order payment of the minimum charge of one dollar and twenty-five cents ($1.25) per irrigable acre for that year must be made at the time of filing water-rental application. This payment will be credited against any water used in 1938 at the rate of fifty cents ($0.50) per acre-foot up to 2½ acre-feet per irrigable acre, and any balance of the payment remaining will be credited on 1939 water-rental charges. If no water is used during 1938 the minimum payment will be applied against water-rental charges for the irrigation season of 1939. If application is made subsequent to the year 1938 for water to be used on any of such lands the minimum charge for the year in which water is applied for must be paid at the time of filing water-rental application and credits will be allowed in the same manner as specified above for applications filed during 1938.

20. Construction cost.—Subsection D of Section 4 of the act of December 5, 1924, (43 Stat. 702) authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to fix different construction charges against different classes of land and in pursuance thereof, the lands of the Willwood Division have been classified and different construction charges have been fixed against the different classes of land to the end that all such lands may, as far as practicable, bear the burden of the total construction cost according to their productive value. Paragraph 1 hereof contains a list of the farm units available for entry and of the lands which will become subject to water-rental application under this order, with the per acre construction charge as fixed against the irrigable area of each farm unit and other tract. These fixed charges were computed in 1927 prior to the opening to entry of any farm units. At that time the total estimated cost of the features charged to the Willwood Division was $1,372,197. The amount expended to December 31, 1937, amounted to $1,281,022. If, when the various features for the division are completed, it is found that the actual cost is different from the original estimate the per acre construction charge for all lands of the division will be changed to make the charges equal only the cost, it being understood that proper allowance may be made for any reduction in the irrigable area on account of the use of irrigable lands for drainage or canal rights of way or on account of the elimination of lands formerly considered a part of the irrigable area but later determined to be nonproductive. However, the expenditure of $1,372,197 will not be exceeded unless the water users agree to repay all sums in excess of this amount.

21. Repayment of construction cost.—The act of May 25, 1926 (44 Stat., 648), authorized the Secretary to fix a period of not more than 40 years for the repayment of construction costs, but provides also that before the 40-year plan may be made effective, a contract must be executed with a water users association or irrigation district whereby such water users association or irrigation district shall be required to pay the entire charge against all productive lands within the division without regard to default in the payment of charges against any individual tract of land. Since the Willwood Division, except for a few tracts, embraces mostly public land, it would not be possible to make such a contract until the lands are opened and entered. Under the circumstances, the division will be operated on a water-rental basis until sufficient settlers have been secured, in the judgment of the Secretary of the Interior, to permit the formation of an irrigation district, at which time a so-called joint liability contract will be required, and the construction charges announced herein will be payable over a period of forty years. Should the water users fail or refuse to proceed in the manner outlined above, it will become necessary to issue public notice in accordance with the provisions of the Extension Act of August 13, 1914, (38 Stat., 686), under which the construction charges must be paid within 20 years.

22. Place and manner of payment of water charges.—All water charges announced herein must be paid at the office of the Bureau of Reclamation at Powell, Wyoming, by cash or bank draft, cashier's check, certified check, or postal or express money order, payable to Bureau of Reclamation.

23. Water right application.—Each holder of a water-rental application covering lands described in this order shall, if required by the Secretary of the Interior and within three months of the issuance of notice by him to that effect, make a formal water right application covering his farm unit or tract. Upon any failure to meet this requirement the Secretary may, at his option, cancel the entry in question, or the water-rental application if the land is in private ownership, together with all rights acquired thereunder.

24. All land to be included in irrigation district.—Each water-rental application for land covered by this order shall be made on a form furnished by the Superintendent which form shall include the following clause:

"I agree to the inclusion of my land in an irrigation district and to petition for and participate in the organization of an irrigation district at the earliest practicable date."

25. Reservation of rights of way for County Highways.—Rights of way are reserved for county highways along all section lines, said rights of way being 30 feet in width on each side of said lines.

26. Effect of relinquishment prior to one year's residence.—In the event that any entry of public land shall be relinquished at any time prior to actual residence upon the land by the entryman for not less than one year, the lands so relinquished shall not be subject to entry for a period of 60 days after the filing and notation of the relinquishment in the local land office. During the 10-day period next succeeding the expiration of such 60-day period, any person having the necessary qualifications may file application for said public land. If, on the tenth day of said 10-day period, prior to 2 p. m., the number of applications filed exceeds the number of available farm units, then the right to make entry for such farm units shall be determined in accordance with the procedure described in Paragraph 14 of this order.

27. Waiver of mineral rights.—All homestead entries for any of the above described farm units will be subject to the laws of the United States governing mineral land and all homestead applicants under this order must waive the right to the mineral content of the land, if required to do so by the land office, otherwise the homestead application will be rejected or the homestead entry cancelled.

OSCAR L. CHAPMAN,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE CORPORATION

[F. C. I. R.—Series 1, No. 1]

AMENDMENTS TO REGULATIONS RELATING TO WHEAT CROP INSURANCE

By virtue of the authority vested in the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation by the Federal Crop Insurance Act, approved February 16, 1938, as amended by Public Law No. 691, 75th Congress, approved June 22, 1938, the regulations relating to wheat crop insurance adopted by the Board of Directors of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation on April 26, 1938, and approved by the Secretary of Agriculture on April 28, 1938,[1] as amended, are hereby further amended:

1. By inserting after Section 62 the following new sections:

SEC. 63. Deposits of payments to be applied toward future premiums.—(a) Any person whose application for a policy with respect to any farm has been approved by the Corporation for a current crop year may, subject to the approval of the Corporation, at the time he delivers the premium for such policy, tender for deposit payments, not in excess of the amount of the premium specified in the premium notice for such policy, to be applied toward the premium on a policy for the next succeeding crop year.

(b) Deposits may be made either in wheat or in cash. Deposits of wheat shall be made in accordance with the provisions of section 61 (a) of these regulations, relating to the payment of premiums in wheat. One warehouse receipt may be delivered to cover both the premium and the deposit.

(c) If, for any reason whatsoever, it appears at any time that the transfer of a warehouse receipt, evidencing a deposit of wheat, to the Corporation did not convey to it complete and unencumbered title to the receipt and the wheat represented thereby, except as is provided in subsection (b) of this section, or if at any time the Corporation's title to such receipt or wheat is drawn into question by any person, then, unless such question is immediately settled without cost to the Corporation, the depositor shall indemnify and save the Corporation harmless against all actions, proceedings, claims, demands, costs, damages, and expenses which may be brought or made against it or which it may pay, sustain, or incur in connection with such receipt or wheat. Without limitation of any other right or remedy of the Corporation, such charges may be set off against any indemnity which may be or become due under any policy issued to the depositor or in which he may have an interest.

(d) All deposits of cash will be credited to the depositor's account in terms of the wheat equivalent of such cash deposit. The equivalent in wheat of any cash deposit will be determined on the same basis as that used in fixing the cash equivalent specified in the premium notice in connection with which the deposit is made.

(e) The depositor shall have no title or interest in any wheat (including any wheat deposited) held by the Corporation. The Corporation shall be liable to the depositor only for the cash equivalent of the amount of wheat credited to the depositor's account, such cash equivalent to be determined in accordance with the provisions of section 90 of these regulations.

SEC. 64. Deposits not advance premium payments.—Deposits are accepted by the Corporation only as a convenience to applicants for crop insurance. The acceptance of any deposit shall not place the Corporation under any obligation to issue a policy to the depositor. Depositors will be required to make applications in the same manner and subject to the same regulations as are applicable to other applicants. A policy for any crop year will be issued only in accordance with provisions of the wheat crop insurance program in effect for such crop year.

SEC. 65. Application of deposits toward premiums.—A deposit, at the direction of the depositor, will be applied by the Corporation toward the payment of the premium on any policy for which the depositor's application has been approved. In such case, the depositor's account will be charged with an amount of wheat adjusted, as determined by the Corporation, to reflect differences, if any, between the freight and other usual charges in connection with the movement and handling of wheat, and the basic class and grade of wheat, applicable at the place where the deposit was made, and such charges and class and grade of wheat applicable to the policy applied for.

2. Amending Part 9 to read as follows:

Part 9. Refund of premiums and deposits.

SEC. 90. Computation of refunds; claims for refunds.—(a) Any refund of premiums or payments deposited for application toward the payment of future premiums and not so applied (whether made pursuant to the provisions of the contract or these regulations or required by law) shall be made only in the cash equivalent of the quantity of wheat to be refunded less an amount, fixed by the Corporation, of not exceeding one-twentieth of one cent per day per bushel to cover storage and handling expenses in storage. The period for which such deductions shall be computed shall commence with and include the day following the day on which the premium or deposit was delivered at the office of the county committee for the county in which the farm in connection with which the premium or deposit was delivered is located. Such period shall end with and include the day on which payment of the refund is approved by the Corporation.

(b) Claims for refunds shall be made on forms prescribed by the Corporation. Claims for refunds of premiums shall be submitted to the Corporation at the office of the county committee where the premium was delivered. Claims for refunds of deposits shall be submitted at the office of any county committee. No claim for refund of premium shall be acted upon by the Corporation until it has determined the acreage seeded to wheat on the farm covered by the policy. Except as may otherwise be provided by the Corporation, no claim for a refund of a deposit shall be considered prior to the final closing date fixed by the Corporation for the receipt of applications for the crop year for which the deposit was made in the county where the farm in connection with which the deposit was made is located. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to restrict the Corporation's right to refund any deposit at such earlier time as it may determine.

(c) The cash equivalent of any refund shall be determined in accordance with the rules provided by these regulations for the conversion of indemnities into their cash equivalents, except that the basic market and the current basic market price to be applied under this subsection shall be those applicable for the day when payment of the refund is approved by the Corporation. No refund shall be made if the amount thereof is less than one dollar.

SEC. 91. Refund of excess premium.—In any case where the total insured production is adjusted in accordance with the provisions of section 41 of these regulations, the premium allocable to the acreage equal to the difference between the acreage used in adjusting such total insured production and the acreage specified in the policy as proposed to be seeded, shall be credited to the insured's account as a deposit to be applied toward the premium on a policy for the next succeeding crop year, unless the insured indicates on a form prescribed by the Corporation at the time he delivers the premium that he elects to have such excess premium refunded. Any amount credited to the insured's account pursuant to this subsection shall be deemed to have been deposited on the date of delivery of the premium.

SEC. 92. Death, incompetency, or disappearance of person entitled to refund; change of fiduciaries.—In any case where a person who is entitled to a refund of premium or deposit has died, become incompetent, has disappeared leaving his whereabouts unknown for a period of 150 days, or has ceased to act as a fiduciary, such refund will be made to his legal representative or successor. If no such legal representative or successor has been appointed or is otherwise legally qualified and the quantity of wheat to be refunded, before deduction of storage and handling expenses, is less than 500 bushels, such refund may be made to any one or more of the persons beneficially entitled to share in such refund on behalf of all the persons so entitled upon proof of the facts satisfactory to the Corporation. The determination of the Corporation as to the existence or non-existence of a circumstance in the event of which payment of a refund may be made to a person other than the person who paid the premium or made the deposit, as the case may be, shall be final and conclusive and payment in accordance with such determination shall constitute a complete discharge of the Corporation's obligation with respect to the refund.

SEC. 93. Assignment of claims for refunds; creditors.—(a) No claim for a refund, or any part or share thereof, or any interest therein, shall be transferable. Notwithstanding any assignment, power of attorney, order, or other authority for receiving payment of any refunds, such refund shall be paid only to the persons entitled thereto as provided in these regulations.

(b) The provisions of section 107 of these regulations shall be applicable to the payment of refunds.

Adopted by the Board of Directors on July 13, 1938.

[SEAL] M. L. WILSON,
Chairman.

Approved, July 13, 1938.

H. A. WALLACE,
Secretary of Agriculture.

41. Trophies and medals.—The Gold Cup trophy will be awarded to the winning team to be held until the next national matches. A medal will be awarded to each member of the highest one-third of the competing teams.

A miniature of the "gold cup" trophy will also be awarded to the team winning the original trophy, this miniature trophy to be the permanent property of the winning team.

42. Allowances for members of pistol teams.—Allowances or reimbursements for transportation and subsistence will not be paid to any member of a pistol team unless he is entitled thereto as a properly certified member of a national match rifle team. All other members of the several national match pistol teams must provide for their own expenses, except that the executive officer is authorized to furnish all such members with tentage and such other equipment as may be available. See paragraphs 6 and 7.

43. Entries.—Not later than 6 PM of Monday, September 5, 1938, each team captain will submit to the statistical officer at his office on blank score cards in duplicate, furnished for the purpose, a legible list of the members of his team certifying as to their eligibility, and showing the correct first name, middle initial, last name, grade, and organization of the team. (Team captain, 5 principals, and one alternate.) At the same time he will submit to the statistical officer the team eligibility list on the blank form furnished by the chief statistical officer. The alternate listed; and no other, may be substituted as a principal at any time previous to the beginning of the score of the last principal of the initial stage of the match. Thereafter, substitution may be made only on surgeon's certificate of disability approved by the executive officer. The team captain may serve as a shooting member provided he has been listed as a shooting member or alternate and is otherwise eligible.

b. Teams other than those represent the several arms of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard will be subject to the following elimination rules:

(1) A team listed in class A after the last national matches in which such team competed will have at least 40 percent of its shooting members composed of men who have never before fired on any national match rifle team.

(2) A team listed in class B after the last national matches in which such team competed will have at least 30 percent of its shooting members composed of men who have never before fired on any national match rifle team.

b. No team may have as a shooting member or alternate any man who has been a shooting member of any team in three of the five national rifle team matches immediately preceding. (The last five national matches were 1930, 1931, 1935, 1936, and 1937.)

c. All team members in order to be eligible to shoot in the national rifle team match shall have been selected through competition before arrival at the national match camp and will be so certified to the executive officer of the national matches in proper credentials, and will attend the full course of the Small Arms Firing School unless they have received a certificate of proficiency from it or from a similar service school of the Regular Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard, or can furnish satisfactory evidence of completing such a course.

d. Upon arrival at Camp Perry, each team captain, exclusive of service teams, will present to the executive officer of the national matches an order in quadruplicate issued by the adjutant general of the State or other proper authority designating the team officials and other members of the team, giving their home addresses and certifying as to their eligibility under these rules and regulations. The list will contain the names of not to exceed 14 eligibles, from among whom the team, including the team captain and team coach, will be finally selected. This order will state by name the members who are graduates of the Small Arms Firing School. In the case of service teams listed under paragraph 4*a*, a list will be submitted to the executive officer by team captains not later than noon on the opening day of instruction of the Small Arms Firing School, properly certifying to the eligibility of the members of their teams.

e. Any person, regardless of his classification, is eligible to act as coach for civilian teams other than Reserve Officers' Training Corps and Citizens' Military Training Camps teams, which teams will be coached by Regular Army officers only. A civilian team reporting at the national matches without a coach may request the executive officer to assign a coach, and upon such request the executive officer will assign a coach from any officers, enlisted men, or civilians available. A coach selected after arrival at Camp Perry will not be entitled to any change in previous status as to pay and allowances from the United States, nor will he be eligible to fire as a member of any team unless he fulfills all other eligibility requirements.

f. Members of the Regular Army, Navy, Marine Corps, the National Guard and all Reserve components will shoot only as members of their respective components.

g. Former members of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps and of the Citizens' Military Training Camps who have joined any other component of the Army may compete as a member of a Reserve Officers' Training Corps team or Citizens' Military Training Camps team, provided that they were in attendance as trainees at and were selected from 1938 camps.

50. Entries.—Not later than 6 PM of Wednesday, September 7, 1938, each rifle team captain will submit to the statistical officer at his office, on blank score cards in duplicate, furnished for the purpose, a legible list of the members of his team, showing the correct first name, middle initial, last name, grade of members, and organization of the team. (Team captain, team coach, principals, and alternates.) Any or all of the alternates listed, and no others, may be substituted as shooting members at any time prior to the beginning of the score of the last pair of the initial stage of the match. Thereafter, substitution may be made only on surgeon's certificate of disability approved by the executive officer.

Each team captain will submit to the statistical officer with the score cards the team eligibility lists on the blank forms furnished by the chief statistical officer.

Either the team captain or the coach or both, if otherwise eligible under the rules, may serve as shooting members provided they have been listed as shooting members or alternates.

51. Drawing targets.—In the national rifle team match, targets will be drawn for each half day's firing, or whenever the firing has been interrupted and the pits unsealed. This drawing will take place at a point designated by the range director about one-half hour previous to the time set for firing to begin. The team captain or his authorized substitute will be present and draw for his team. A team representative will accompany each team captain to the place designated for the drawing and will report to the range director's assistant for duty in the pits. Thereafter, no person will enter the pits until firing is interrupted and the pits unsealed. Care will be taken that no information concerning the assignment of targets is conveyed by telephone or otherwise to the pits while they are scaled. The drawing of targets will not take place until all persons who are to enter the pits have passed out of sight behind the butts.

52. Team representatives in the pits.—In the national rifle team match, each team will furnish a team representative for duty in the pits from its team personnel or from personnel furnished by the executive officer of the matches upon request. The team representatives will assemble at the times and places ordered. They will be sent to the pits before the drawing for targets is made by team captains. (See par. 51.) They will be assigned to targets without regard to the assignments at the firing points. They will be subject to the orders of the pit officers on duty in the pits and will make with a pencil, before each shot is marked or pasted, a small circle around each shot hole. They will call any irregularity or question of doubt to the attention of a pit officer whose decision will be final.

53. Classification.—After the national rifle team match the teams will be classified in descending sequence as class A, class B, class C, and "unclassified." In each of the first three classes there will be listed in order of standing 10 teams exclusive of service teams. Service teams will be placed in class A, class B, class C, or "unclassified" according to their total score regardless of the number of teams then resulting in each class.

54. Medals.—A distinctive medal will be awarded each member of each classified team. Each team officer, principal, and alternate herein provided for will be awarded a medal. No individual will receive more than one medal by reason of having acted in a dual capacity.

55. Award of trophies.—One trophy will be awarded to the highest team representing the Regular services. One trophy will be awarded to the highest team from the National Guard or State troops of the several States and Territories. One trophy will be awarded to the highest team representing the Organized Reserves, the Naval Reserve, the Marine Corps Reserve, and the American Legion. One trophy will be awarded to the highest team representing the Reserve Officers' Training Corps and the Citizens' Military Training Camps. One trophy will be awarded to the highest civilian team.

Among the above-stated trophy teams, the "National Trophy" will be awarded to the highest team. The "Hilton Trophy" will be awarded to the highest team of National Guard or State troops. The "Soldier of Marathon Trophy" will be awarded to the highest civilian team, exclusive of Reserve Officers' Training Corps, Citizens' Military Training Camps, and American Legion teams. The "Minuteman Trophy" will be awarded to the highest team of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps and Citizens' Military Training Camps. The "Rattlesnake Trophy" will be awarded to the highest team from the Naval Reserve, the Marine Corps Reserve, the Organized Reserves, and the American Legion. In case a team wins two trophies under the foregoing distribution, it will be entitled to the National Trophy only and the other trophy will be awarded to the highest team of the class not otherwise provided for.

To the highest individual competitor in the national rifle team match will be awarded the "Pershing Trophy," to be held until the next national match, and the Perishing Trophy gold medal, to be the permanent property of the winner.

A miniature of each of the above-named trophies will also be awarded in each case where the original trophy is awarded, such minature trophy to be the permanent property of the team or individual winning the original trophy.

SECTION VI

General Regulations Applicable to all Matches

56. General.—The executive officer may, in his discretion, in order to operate the range efficiently, change the order of firing the stages of any match.

57. Firing areas.—The firing areas on each range will be organized into a firing line, a ready line, and an assembly line.

58. Duties of range officers.—a. The chief range officer of each range will be responsible at all times to the range director for the proper equipment and operation of the range to which he is assigned.

b. All other officers assigned to duty as range officers will function directly under the chief range officer on the range to which they are assigned. As assistants on any range their duties will be—

(1) To insure that all competitors comply with range and match regulations.

(2) To supervise scoring.

(3) To verify the scores on the score card with the blackboard and to see that they agree; to verify the totals and certify their correctness.

(4) To make any necessary changes on score cards and to initial them.

(5) To require the competitor, or in case of team matches, the team captain, to sign the score card when firing is finished.

(6) To deliver the completed score cards to the chief scorer.

59. Duties of pit officers.—The chief pit officer on each range is an assistant to the chief range officer on that range. Other pit officers will function directly under the chief pit officer. During match firing, a pit officer will be assigned from 4 to 8 targets, and will be responsible for the proper operation and marking of all targets to which he is assigned. Only a pit officer will signal misses in slow fire.

60. Status of competitors.—a. A competitor can have but a single status, Regular service, National Guard, Reserve, police, or civilian, except as provided in paragraph 102.

b. Members of the Regular services may compete only in such status and in the arm or service to which they actually belong. Individuals of the Regular services holding Reserve appointments will be eligible to shoot in their Regular status only. Retired officers and retired enlisted men of the Regular services are classified as "service" individuals.

c. A civilian competitor is one who is without any Regular service, National Guard, or Reserve affiliation whatsoever. Members of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps and trainees of the Citizens' Military Training Camps teams are classified as civilians.

d. In pistol and revolver matches, a member of an organized constabulary or police force is not classified as a civilian.

e. Any competitor reporting or entering in any but his proper status, as provided herein, will be ineligible to compete, and a team will be disqualified in any match in which any of its members or alternates have entered in a false status.

61. Coaching.—Coaching will be permitted in team matches, but not in individual matches. In team matches, any member of the team (captain, coach, principal, or alternate) may function as coach. Officers or enlisted men of the Regular services may act as coaches for teams of their respective services, and for civilian, Reserve Officers' Training Corps, and Citizens' Military Training Camps teams. National Guard teams may be coached only by officers or enlisted men of the National Guard. Upon application of the team captain of a civilian team, the executive officer may assign as coach of that team any available person requested by the team captain. A coach once assigned will not be changed except for cogent reasons.

62. Station of team captain.—In team matches, the team captain and one assistant may be seated in front of the assembly line but not in advance of a line established three paces in rear of the line of scorers. They may not make any remark from this position loud enough to be heard at the firing point. A team captain may coach, but only if he removes his coach from the line and himself actually occupies the coaching position.

63. Station of team coach.—In team matches, a coach may take his place on the firing line and between the men of the pair firing. He cannot shift his position nor shift the position of the men of the pair firing for the purpose of forming a windshield for the firer. He must confine himself to the normal position of a coach and his activities to those normally expected of a coach. The coach will not assist the firer in any manner in loading his piece.

64. Station of competitors.—Each competitor will remain on or in rear of the assembly line in rear of the firing point until called by the range officer to take his position at the ready line or firing point.

65. Station of noncompetitors.—No one except the officials of the range, the competitors on the firing points, and scorers and others on duty will be permitted in front of the assembly line without special permission of the officer in charge of the range.

66. Competitors present punctually.—Competitors will be present at the firing points punctually at the time stated on their squadding tickets. In team matches, the first pair only need be present at the hour set for firing to begin. No application on the part of a competitor for an alteration of his squadding assignment will be entertained, except that in team matches team captains may change the sequence of firing of the members of their teams if they so desire.

67. Mass-squadding.—When any range is available for practice firing, competitors reporting to that range will be mass-squadded on the range by the chief range officer or an assistant.

Instructions to Competitors

68. Competitors called in advance.—In slow-fire stages of individual matches, the competitor next to fire may be called to the ready line when the competitor firing has five remaining shots to fire and called to the firing point when the competitor firing has completed his score. Any competitor will forfeit his right to fire if he appears at the proper target after the time shown on his score card for him to appear unless he presents satisfactory evidence that he is late through no fault of his own. If he does not appear when called, any competitor present and assigned to the target, taken in order, may be called to the firing point.

69. Time limit.—In individual slow fire, competitors may fire with the deliberation they deem necessary, provided the firing time at that particular range is not exceeded. Competitors will take their places promptly on the firing line. Time will begin when they are ready to fire. However, any time in excess of 3 minutes used for preparation will be deducted from firing time.

70. Time allowance for teams.—In team matches, a total team time is allotted for each stage. The time is determined by adding the total number of shots at each stage, multiplying by the time as indicated above, and adding three minutes for each change of relays. The time will be taken from the command to "commence firing" to the firing of the last shot required at each range; no time credit will be carried back from one range to another. When the firing of a stage is to be interrupted by an intermission, the executive officer will decide the number of pairs to fire before the intermission and assign the time proportionately.

71. Extensions of time.—If an accident to the target, difficulty in operating the same, or any other reason over which the competitor or team has no control causes delay, such time credit as the range officer may decide will be allowed and immediately entered on the scoreboard and score card, the effect of which will be to extend the time limit by that amount.

72. Challenges.—If a competitor desires to challenge his shot just fired for alleged incorrect marking, he will pay one dollar to the range officer.

a. On the rifle range the range officer will go to the telephone, call the pit officer on the target and say "Re-mark Target No. —, it is challenged." The pit officer will call the nearest available pit officer and both will carefully recheck the target and cause it to be re-marked. If the competitor's challenge is sustained and it is shown that the marking is incorrect, the money will be returned to him immediately; otherwise it is forfeited.

b. On the pistol range the target will be reexamined. If the competitor's challenge is sustained, the money will be refunded to him.

c. If for any reason the competitor's target is not re-marked when challenged, his money will be returned to him immediately, but he will not be allowed to fire over.

d. If a competitor desires to challenge the correctness of an official bulletin, he will pay one dollar to the chief statistical officer. If the challenge of the competitor is sustained and it is decided that the bulletin in question is incorrect, the money will be returned to him immediately; otherwise the money will be forfeited.

e. Repeated challenges of the same shot, target, or bulletin will not be permitted.

f. Each chief range officer will deliver the challenge money collected on his range to the range director at the end of each day's firing.

g. All challenge money of every nature will be delivered to the executive officer for use in the improvement of the recreational program of the camp.

73. Competitors to sign score cards.—Competitors will check and sign the score card in individual matches, and team captains will check and sign the score cards in team matches.

74. Safety precautions.—No arms will be loaded except at the firing point. During and after loading, the pistol will be kept at raised pistol until unloaded except when aimed at the target for firing. Pistols will have their magazines withdrawn and the slides pulled back except when the competitor is at the firing point in the act of firing or ready to fire. During and after loading, the muzzle of the rifle will be kept pointed in the direction of the target until unloaded. Rifles will be carried at all times with bolts open except when the competitor is at the firing point in the act of firing or ready to fire.

75. Ammunition, unauthorized.—Any competitor having any ammunition in his belt or about his person when he takes his place at the firing line, other than that authorized, will be immediately disqualified.

76. Firing, unauthorized.—No firing except at the targets in prescribed competition or practice will be allowed. Any violation of this rule will disqualify the offending competitor for the period of the matches.

77. Piece, unserviceable.—An unserviceable or disabled piece is a rifle or pistol which is pronounced by a range officer as unsuitable for match competition.

78. Cartridge, defective.—A defective rifle cartridge is one which bears the mark of the firing pin on the primer and which, when tried once under the direction of a range officer in the same rifle, still remains unfired. A defective pistol cartridge is one which clearly shows the imprint of the firing pin on the primer. No retest of a pistol cartridge will be made.

79. Competitors may be required to score, mark targets, or act as range officers.—Any competitor who is detailed to perform any of these duties and fails to do so in a manner satisfactory to the range director will forfeit his right to compete in that match and, in the discretion of the executive officer, may be disqualified during the remainder of the matches from further participation in any match or any practice. In team matches, teams may be required to furnish scorers for teams firing on adjacent targets. Members of a team may perform this duty in turn.

80. Protests.—Protests and appeals may not be submitted directly to the executive officer, but will be submitted to the range officer of the firing point concerned. In case a competitor considers the decision of the latter unwarranted by the facts presented, he may appeal orally to the range director through the chief range officer of that range and then to the executive officer in writing before 9 p. m. of the day of the occurrence. On questions of rules or conditions of National Rifle Association matches, the executive officer will accept the opinion of the executive committee of the National Rifle Association and base his decision thereon. Appeals from the decisions of the executive officer may be made in writing and forwarded through that officer to the appeals board, which will consist of those members of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice, not less than three in number, who are present at the national matches at the time of the protest. The decisions of this appeals board will be final.

81. Penalties.—a. Any person interfering with a competitor on the firing point or annoying him in any way will be warned to desist, and if he repeats the offense, he will be ordered off the range at once.

b. Any competitor—

(1) Who shall fire under a name other than that under which he entered, or who shall fire twice for the same prize, or

(2) Who shall be guilty of any conduct considered by the executive officer to be discreditabe, or

(3) Who shall be guilty of falsifying his score or being accessory thereto, or

(4) Who shall offer a bribe of any kind to any official or other person, or

(5) Who shall be detected in an evasion of the conditions prescribed for the conducting of any match, or

(6) Who shall refuse to obey any instructions of the executive officer or a range officer, or may, upon the offense being proved to the satisfaction of the executive officer, be disqualified from competing further in the matches and may be denied any prize won by him during the current matches. He may be barred from Camp Perry.

(7) Who shall be guilty of disorderly conduct—

82. Awards by the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice.—Distribution of medals and trophies won in the national trophy matches will be made at the office of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice at the national matches during the time such office is open at Camp Perry, Ohio, and thereafter at the office of that board in Washington, D. C. All correspondence concerning such medals and other badges will be conducted with the Washington office. Qualification insignia will be issued from the Washington office of the National Board after the close of the matches.

SECTION VIII

Rules Governing Rifle Matches

83. Two competitors on the firing point.—In team competitions, two competitors will occupy a firing point and fire alternately at the target, the competitor on the right firing first. A shot fired out of turn will be scored a miss. When in his opinion it is necessary, a range officer may require a left-handed firer to be on the left of a pair.

84. Drawing targets.—In all team matches, except the national rifle team match, targets will be assigned by lot in advance by the statistical officer. These assignments may be obtained from the statistical officer after 6 PM of the day before he match is scheduled.

85. Changing arms.—No two competitors will fire in the national trophy matches with the same rifle. In National Rifle Association matches in which more than one competitor is permitted to fire the same rifle, the program will definitely so state. No competitor will change his rifle during any competition unless his first piece has become unserviceable through accident. Such contingency will be verified by a range officer. Violation of this rule will be cause for disqualification.

86. Competitors on firing point in individual competitions.—In individual competitions, one competitor may be required to complete his score before the next competitor begins to fire, or two competitors may be required to occupy a single firing point and fire alternately, the competitor on the right firing first.

87. Time allowance on firing point.—In the absence of specific protest to the range officer by the competitor prior to the completion of his score, and in ample time to enable the range officer to check the time used by the competitor and by the target operator, it will be assumed that the target is being satisfactorily operated. If protest is made by the competitor, the range officer will check the time used by the competitor and by the target operator and make such adjustment as in his judgment is warranted. A competitor may appeal verbally from the decision of the range officer through the chief range officer to the range director, whose decision will be final, except on written appeal to the executive officer.

88. Time allowance calculations.—The time limit for slow-fire rifle competitions is one minute per shot at ranges up to and including 600 yards. At ranges over 600 yards the time limit is one and a half minutes per shot.

In rapid fire the time limit at 200 yards is one minute for ten shots, the competitor to be in a standing position when the target starts to appear.

At 300 yards the time limit is one minute ten seconds for ten shots, the competitor to be in a standing position when the target starts to appear.

89. Shots fired after expiration of time scored misses.—All shots fired after expiration of the time limit will be recorded as marked, but circles will be drawn around any such shots, and notation will be made on the score card of such shots as may be fired after the expiration of the time limit. Such shots will be considered as having been misses and will not be added to the score.

90. Changing value of shot.—The record value of any shot will not be changed after the following shot has been fired, unless some special message with reference to it is received from one of the pit officers.

91. Competitors pay attention to score.—Competitors will pay attention to the score as announced and recorded, so that any error may be promptly investigated.

92. Field glasses and telescopes.—Competitors may use field glasses or telescopes on the firing point. They may also use a watch, a micrometer, a rifle fork, small individual score book, blacking lamp, pencil, and shooting bag or box. During rapid fire stages in individual rifle matches, the use of telescopes by any individual on the ready line, on the assembly line, or in the vicinity thereof is forbidden.

93. Wind flags.—For purposes of instruction in practices and in the matches, two streamers will be put up over each target pit, except on range A. The executive officer of the matches is authorized to lower these flags during the Infantry match.

94. Challenges.—When the scoring of a shot is challenged, the range officer will receive the dollar, go to the telephone, call the pit officer on the target and say "Re-mark Target No. —, it is challenged."

The pit officer will call the nearest available pit officer and both will carefully recheck the target and cause it to be re-marked. If the competitor's challenge is sustained and it is shown that the original marking was incorrect, the money will be returned to him immediately; otherwise it is forfeited. Repeated challenges of the same shot are not permitted.

95. Gun sling, pads, and gloves.—a. The gun sling may be used at all ranges, except 200 yards standing, as an auxiliary to steady the piece in connection with one arm only. No knot will be tied in the sling and the sling itself will not be added to or modified except that an empty cartridge case or small article that does not mutilate the sling in any way may be used between the keepers for the purpose of adjustment. The use of a hook or roll on the sleeve of a shooting coat or shirt to keep the sling in place on the arm is prohibited.

b. Pads of moderate size and thickness may be worn on both elbows, on the right or left shoulder, and upper arm. Shoulder pads so designed as to aid materially in retaining the rifle butt in the firing position against the shoulder are prohibited. Pads of such size or thickness as to form artificial support are prohibited.

c. No gloves may be worn which in any way form an artificial support.

d. The making or use of holes on the firing points is prohibited.

96. Authorized positions.—The authorized positions are standing, kneeling, sitting, and prone, and are defined as follows:

a. Standing.—Erect on both feet. No other portion of the body receiving artificial support. The rifle will be supported by both hands and one shoulder only. The forward hand will be extended, so that the arm will be entirely free from touching or resting against the body. The gun sling may not be used and will be adjusted to what is known as the "parade" position. Including the sling within the grasp of the hand will be optional.

b. Kneeling.—Weight of the body supported on right knee and foot and left foot, or left knee and foot and right foot; no other part of the body to touch the ground. Sitting on the side of the foot instead of the heel will be permitted. The rifle will be supported by both hands and one shoulder only. The elbow supporting the piece will be approximately on or just inside the knee. The elbow of the trigger arm will be free from all support.

c. Sitting.—Weight of the body supported on buttocks and feet. No other portion of the body to touch the ground. Rifle to be supported by both hands and one shoulder only. The left hand (or in the case of a left-handed shooter, the right hand) must not rest on leg or knee. Elbows resting approximately on or just inside the knee. Legs to be apart or crossed at the option of the firer.

d. Prone.—Body extended on the ground, head toward the target, rifle supported by both hands and one shoulder only, both elbows on the ground. No portion of the arms below the elbow will rest on the ground or any artificial support. No part of the rifle will touch the ground.

e. The method of assuming any position will be optional with the firer.

97. Ties in the National Individual Rifle Match.—a. Ties will be decided—

(1) By the highest numerical score at 1,000 yards.

(2) By the highest numerical score at 600 yards.

(3) By the highest numerical score at 300 yards rapid fire.

(4) By the highest numerical score at 200 yards rapid fire.

(5) By the highest numerical score at 200 yards slow fire.

b. In the event the tie is not broken, the scores at each range in the above order will be ranked by—

(1) The fewest misses.

(2) The fewest hits of the lowest value.

(3) The fewest hits of the next lowest value, etc.

(4) In slow fire, by the inverse order of the hits, counted singly from the last to the first.

c. If still a tie the competitors concerned will fire single shots at the longest range until the tie is broken.

98. Ties in the National Rifle Team Match.—a. Ties will be decided—

(1) By the highest total numerical team score at 1,000 yards.

(2) By the highest total numerical team score at 600 yards.

(3) By the highest total numerical team score at 300 yards rapid fire.

(4) By the highest total numerical team score at 200 yards rapid fire.

(5) By the highest total numerical team score at 200 yards slow fire.

b. In the event the tie is not broken the score at each range in the above order will be ranked by—

(1) The fewest misses.

(2) The fewest hits of lowest value.

(3) The fewest hits of the next lowest value, etc.

99. Ties in the Infantry Match will be decided—

a. By the highest total numerical team score at the longest range.

b. By the highest total numerical team score at the next longest range, etc.

c. Thereafter, by the fewest hits of lowest value.

100. Ties in National Rifle Association matches.—Ties in all other rifle matches will be decided as provided for in Official Rules for Rifle and Pistol Shooting, National Rifle Association, latest revision.

101. In small bore rifle matches, the rules of the National Rifle Association will govern.

SECTION IX

Rules Governing Pistol Matches

102. a. Members of the National Guard and Reserve components attending the matches at other than Federal expense may fire as policemen in pistol matches either as individuals or as team members, provided they are bona fide members of organized police or constabulary forces or other law enforcing agencies and maintain but a single status throughout the pistol matches.

b. Except as provided in a above, members of organized police and constabulary forces may not fire in any other status, either in individual or team matches. A team composed both of civilians and policemen will not be permitted.

103. Two or more competitors may use the same pistol in any competition. However, the application of this rule will not be permitted to interfere with the routine squadding of pistol matches; and no squadding changes will be made to adjust conflicts caused by this practice.

104. Pistol range procedure.—The procedure for pistol and revolver firing will follow generally that laid down in Rules for Pistol and Revolver Matches published by the National Rifle Association, latest revision, and chapter 3, Part One, B. F. M., volume III. Such modification of these rules as may be necessary to provide for the special conditions existing at Camp Perry may be authorized by the executive officer.

105. Too many hits on a target.—If more than the required number of hits appears on the target, any shots which can be identified as having been fired by some competitor other than the competitor assigned to that target will be disregarded. If more than the required number of hits then remains on the target a complete new score will be fired and the original score will be disregarded, except that if all such hits are of equal value the score will be recorded as the required number of hits of that value.

106. If a competitor fires less than the prescribed number of shots through his own fault, and there should be more hits on the target than he fired shots, he will be scored the number of shots of highest value equal to the number he fired and given a miss for each unfired cartridge.

107. Malfunction.—If a competitor fails to complete his score due to a defective cartridge, or due to failure of his pistol to function properly, he will immediately assume and hold the position of "raise pistol" and call a range officer, whose duty it will be to draw back the slide and investigate the malfunction. The competitor will not clear the malfunction nor draw the slide to the rear.

108. Misfires.—The imprint of the firing pin on the primer of a pistol cartridge will clearly constitute a misfire without any further test.

109. Ties in National Individual Pistol Match.—a. Ties will be decided—

(1) By the highest numerical score at rapid fire.

(2) By the highest numerical score at timed fire.

(3) By the highest numerical score at slow fire.

b. In the event the tie is still unbroken, the scores at each stage in the above order will be ranked by—

(1) The fewest misses.

(2) The fewest hits of lowest value.

(3) The fewest hits of next lowest value, etc.

110. Ties in the National Pistol Team Match.—a. Ties will be decided—

(1) By the highest total numerical team score at rapid fire.

(2) By the highest total numerical team score at timed fire.

(3) By the highest total numerical team score at slow fire.

b. In the event the tie is still unbroken, the scores at each stage in the above order will be ranked by—

(1) The fewest misses.

(2) The fewest hits of lowest value.

(3) The fewest hits of next lowest value, etc.

111. Ties in National Rifle Association matches.—Ties in all other pistol matches will be decided as provided for in Official Rules for Rifle and Pistol Shooting, National Rifle Association, latest revision.

SECTION X

Description of Arms and Ammunition

112. Rifle.—a. National Trophy matches.—Rifle, United States, caliber .30, M1903, having not less than 3-pound trigger pull, equipped with either the old service model stock or the pistol grip, type C, modified stock, with the knurled head cocking piece with either regular or reversed safety lock. Modification of the rifle to permit the use of the telescopic sight or receiver sight is permitted.

b. National Rifle Association matches as prescribed in the conditions of the match.

c. The headless cocking piece will be permitted on service rifles only when used with telescopic sights. It will be permitted in rifles of a commercial manufacture when these rifles are designed for a headless cocking piece.

113. Rifles available.—National match type rifles, current model, furnished by the Ordnance Department, will be made available upon arrival of teams and individuals participating in the matches, under rules and regulations announced by the executive officer thereof. Such necessary orders and instructions regarding the issue of arms and equipment to, and return thereof by, all teams and individuals attending the national matches as are necessary to provide adequate protection to the United States will be published by the executive officer of the national matches.

114. Rifle ammunition.—Rifle ammunition furnished at the national matches will be issued by the range personnel to the competitors at the firing points for practice and for match firing. No rifle ammunition other than that issued will be used in the national trophy matches. In those rifle matches of the National Rifle Association in which any ammunition may be used, the program will definitely so state.

115. Pistols and revolvers.—a. National Trophy matches.—Pistol, United States, caliber .45, M1911 or M1911A1, having not less than 4-pound trigger pull, issued by the ordnance officer, national matches, or the same type and caliber of pistol as manufactured by Colt Patent Fire Arms Co., privately owned, which may be equipped with front and rear sights similar in design to the issue sights, though different in dimensions. The notch of the rear sight may be rectangular.

b. National Rifle Association matches.—As prescribed in the conditions of each match.

116. Pistol ammunition.—Pistol ammunition furnished at the national matches will be issued by the range personnel to competitors at the firing points for practice and for match firing. No pistol ammunition other than that issued will be used in the national trophy matches. In those revolver or pistol matches of the National Rifle Association in which any ammunition may be used, the program will definitely so state.

117. Changing arms.—No competitor will change his pistol during any competition unless his first piece has become unserviceable through accident. Such contingency will be verified by a range officer. Violation of this rule will be cause for disqualification.

118. Marking of equipment.—Marking of any equipment in a manner that will deface it is forbidden.

SECTION XI

Scorers and Their Duties

119. Field glasses.—Scorers at ranges greater than 200 yards will be supplied with field glasses.

120. Scorers will confine their language strictly to their duties.—They will not enter into disputes with competitors or others. If any question should arise, the scorer will promptly call: "Range officer, number —," stating the number of his target.

121. In individual matches, as soon as he receives the score cards, the scorer will enter on the scoreboard the names of all competitors in the order of the relays, placing the number of the relay before each name and leaving blank spaces on the scoreboard when there are vacancies in the relays.

122. In team matches, the scorer will enter on the scoreboard the names of the members of the team in the order in which the team captain desires that the competitors fire.

123. If a competitor is not present when it is his turn to fire, or when his name is called, or in case competitors arrive after their relays are due and have been called, the scorer will report the fact to the range officer.

124. When a competitor is going to or leaving the firing point, with the chamber of his rifle closed, the scorer will require him to open the bolt.

125. If a scorer or a competitor desires a target disked, semaphored, redisked, or re-marked, the scorer will call the range officer.

126. When spotters are used without disking, the scorer may tell a competitor the value and location of the shot if competitor is not equipped with a telescope or field glass.

127. A scorer will not be permitted to make any erasures, corrections, or changes on the score card. If a correction is necessary, it will be made and initialed by the range officer.

128. Scores on the blackboard will not be erased without orders from a range officer.

129. When a target is marked, the scorer will announce the score in a tone sufficiently loud to be heard by the firer. No alteration will be made in the recorded score after a succeeding shot has been fired except by the range officer on notification from the pit.

130. The scorer will write upon the scoreboard the value of each hit as soon as he shall have announced it, and then, unless the shot is challenged, he will enter it upon the score card.

131. Care will be taken to enter the slow-fire scores in exactly the order in which the shots are fired.

132. In slow fire, if more than one hit is found on a target after a competitor has just fired from the firing point of that target, that competitor will receive the highest value, and no record will be made of the other hits.

133. In slow fire the score is announced thus: "(Title, name); first (second, etc.) shot, a 5."

134. In rapid fire the score will be announced, for example, thus: "Target number—(title, name) 1 five, 2 fives, 3 fives, 4 fives, 5 fives; 1 four, 2 fours, 1 three, 1 two, 1 miss." The score will be recorded on the blackboard in the same manner as in slow fire.

135. When the target is improperly operated, or in case of a misfire, disabled piece, or any other unusual occurrence, the scorer will promptly report the facts to the range officer.

136. All shots fired count.—All shots fired by a competitor after he has taken his place at the firing point will be considered in his score, even if his piece is not directed toward the target or is accidentally discharged. Exceptions to this rule will not be made for any reason except as provided in paragraph 137. In team firing a shot fired out of turn will be scored a miss. A shot fired by a competitor after taking his place at the firing point and before the order "commence firing" will be scored a miss.

137. Target withdrawn while firing.—In slow fire, if the target is withdrawn from the firing position just as the shot is fired, the scorer at that firing point will at once report the fact to the range officer, who, if satisfied upon investigation that the case is as represented, will direct that the shot fired be not considered, that the competitor fire another shot, and that credit be given for time lost.

138. Hits on the wrong target will be scored as misses.

139. In rapid fire, any unfired cartridges will count as misses, except that in case of a defective cartridge or a disabled piece the hits will not be recorded and another score may be fired.

140. In rapid fire, if a competitor should fire less than the prescribed number of shots through his own fault, and there should be more hits marked on his target than the number of shots he fired, he will be scored the number of shots of highest value equal to the number he fired and a miss for each unfired cartridge.

141. In rapid fire, if there are more than ten hits on a target, the target will not be marked, the hits will not be recorded, and another score will be fired, except that if all the hits are of equal value the competitor assigned to that target will be scored with 10 hits.

142. In an individual slow-fire match, when a competitor has made a possible score at all stages, he will continue to fire at the longest range until he has made a hit of less than the highest value. Each extra shot will be scored on the board and on the face of the score card, beginning under the first shot at that range.

143. Use of the telephone.—a. Messages on the telephone will be brief and clear.

b. "Mark" a target will mean that the competitor at the firing point has fired and the target has not been pulled.

c. "Disk," "semaphore," or "redisk" a target will mean that the target must be disked, semaphored, or redisked without being pulled. It will not be necessary to call the pit officer of the target.

d. The use of the telephone will be confined strictly to necessary business. No other conversation or information of any kind whatsoever will be permitted.

144. When a competitor has fired and the target has not been pulled, the scorer will call to the telephone, "Mark number—", but must call the range officer when a message to disk, semaphore, redisk, re-mark, or any other message is to be telephoned.

145. During matches, no communication will be transmitted to the pit from anyone except range officers or other officers of the match, except that scorers may send messages to mark a target, but not to disk or redisk.

146. Scorers will direct their attention to the competitor on their target while he is aiming and firing and will be prepared to state at any time whether competitor has fired, and in rapid fire, how many shots he has fired. They will report all irregularities observed to the range officer.

147. When a competitor has finished his string, the scorer will place the total on the scoreboard and announce thus: "(Title, name); total score 92." He will then enter the total on the score card, sign it, and exhibit it to the competitor or team captain who will check and sign the card in the space provided.

148. Upon the completion of the scores at any range, score cards will be verified, signed, and collected by the range officers, and by them delivered to the chief scorer at the earliest practicable moment.

SECTION XII

Pit Personnel and Their Duties

149. A shot hole, the leaded edge of which comes in contact with the outside of bull's-eye or figure or the rings or lines of a target, will receive the higher value as if it had struck inside the line.

150. Ricochets.—A hole made by a ricochet bullet will be marked and scored as a miss. A bullet that "keyholes" is not necessarily a ricochet. If there is doubt as to whether a hole is caused by a ricochet bullet, the pit officer will be called to make a decision.

151. A target is at "half-mast" when the center of the bull's-eye or figure is opposite the top of the parapet. When targets are at half-mast the marker will remain at his station ready to serve the target immediately. The targets will be placed at half-mast until all firing at that range is completed.

152. "Secure" a target means that the target is no longer needed for service. It should be pulled down, the spotters removed, and all shot holes pasted.

153. Use of spotters.—The use of spotters in marking slow fire will be mandatory. In marking targets only 3-inch or 5-inch spotters will be used. Competitors may request that a larger or a smaller spotter (within the above limits) be substituted when the target is down for marking, but the target will not be pulled for the sole purpose of changing a spotter except that a spotter will be removed upon request of a competitor made before firing his first shot.

154. Marker must watch the target attentively.—In slow fire when the target is hit, the marker will pull it down and remove the spotter from the old shot hole and place one in the new shot hole. If the hit is a V–5 or three, a black and white cross spotter will be used. If the hit is in the bull's-eye outside of the V–5 circle, the white side of the spotter will be shown. If the hit is in the four or two space the black side of the spotter will be shown. The hole from which the spotter has been removed will be pasted and the target raised and disked by placing the center of the disk over the shot hole. In lieu of disks, semaphores may be used for marking.

155. Disking may be dispensed with.—The use of disks and semaphores in marking may be dispensed with in slow fire when, in the opinion of the executive officer, the use of spotters makes disking unnecessary.

156. In slow fire, if more than one hit is found on a target, spotters will be placed in each hole. The hit of the highest value will be signaled and the pit officer called. He will cause a report to be telephoned to the firing line.

157. Before a miss is signaled, the edge of the bull's eye, the rings, the outer boundary lines, and the numbers will be carefully examined by moving the fingers over them. If no hit is found, a pit officer will be called to inspect the target. He will repeat this operation. In slow fire, red flags for signaling misses will not be furnished to markers but to pit officers only, who will personally signal all misses.

158. Misses in rapid fire will be signaled by the marker as directed by the pit officer.

159. No attempt will be made in marking misses to indicate on which side of the target the miss was made, or whether the shot was high or low. To mark a miss the red flag will be moved once only across the center of the target from right to left and then withdrawn into the pit.

160. Special instructions in rapid fire procedure.—a. For rapid fire, all targets on a particular range (or subdivision) will be operated as a unit under control of the chief pit officer.

b. The chief pit officer will take his post at the center of his group near a telephone and the control key of the bell system.

c. On receiving a message from the firing line, "Ready on the firing line," the chief pit officer will signal "stand by" on the bell system. All target operators will stand by with their hands on their targets. The red flag in front of the center of the pit will be waved three times and then withdrawn.

d. Five seconds after the flag has disappeared below the parapet, the chief pit officer will signal "up" on the bell system. All targets will be run up together and will be fully exposed above the parapet for the prescribed time.

e. To expedite the location of all shot holes after the targets shall have been withdrawn, target operators will watch their respective targets during the firing and count the hits as they come on the target.

f. After the lapse of the specified time, the chief pit officer will signal "down" on the bell system. All targets will be pulled down together.

g. When exactly ten hits are found on the target, it will be run up promptly and the score disked. Five's will be marked first, then four's, then three's then two's. Misses will be signaled last. In disking rapid fire scores, the center of the disk will be placed over the shot holes. The scores will be disked slowly. When disking rapid fire scores, the disk will be brought on the target from the right to mark five's and four's and from the left to mark three's and two's. The disk will be withdrawn toward the bottom of the target and after marking the last shot of a group of a certain value. A brief time interval will be allowed between marking hits of different value. The red flag will be moved slowly from right to left once across the face of the target for each miss.

h. If more than ten hits are found on a target, the pit officer assigned to that target will be called to examine the target while it is still down. The pit officer will call the range officer on the firing line by telephone and inform him that there are more than ten hits on the target. The target will be marked only if all hits are of equal value.

i. If less than ten hits are found on a target, the pit officer will verify the misses before they are signaled.

j. Spotters will not be used in rapid fire.

k. After the targets are marked, they will remain up until the command "paste all targets" is received from the firing line and the signal to paste has been given by the chief pit officer. A target that has been challenged will not be pasted or run up except on message from the firing line. In pasting, a check will be made to insure that all shot holes are pasted, counting the five's, four's, three's, and two's as when disking.

l. Discovery of errors in the pit.—A target operator who discovers that he has made an error in marking will immediately call it to the attention of a pit officer. A pit officer who shall learn that an error has been made in marking will immediately call by telephone the range officer on the firing point in charge of the target and explain the error.

BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF WAR:

[SEAL] MALIN CRAIG,
Chief of Staff.

TITLE 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS

IN THE MATTER OF DETERMINING THE PREVAILING MINIMUM WAGES IN THE LUGGAGE AND SADDLERY INDUSTRIES

This case is before me pursuant to Section 1 (b) of the Act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. Sup. III 35), entitled "An Act to provide conditions for the purchase of supplies and the making of contracts by the United States, and for other purposes." At my direction the Public Contracts Board, created in accordance with Section 4 of the said Act by Administrative Order dated October 6, 1936, held a hearing on April 13, 1938, in the above entitled matter.

Notice of this hearing was sent to all known members of the luggage and saddlery industries and to all known trade associations, trade publications and trade unions in the field. Invitation to attend the hearing was also extended through the national press to all other interested parties.

Testimony was given at the hearing by representatives of the National Luggage and Leather Goods Manufacturing Association of America, the Chicago Luggage and Leather Goods Manufacturers' Association, the International Ladies' Handbag, Pocket-Book and Novelty Workers Union, and by individual members of the industry. Letters received from 6 members of the saddlery industry and from 7 members of the luggage industry, containing information as to wages in the industry, were made a part of the record.

The Luggage Industry, for the purpose of this decision, is defined as that industry which is engaged primarily in the manufacture of trunks, suitcases, bags, brief cases, hat boxes and related products, regardless of the material from which they are made.

The evidence as presented at the hearing before the Board indicates that there are about 6,650 productive employees in the luggage industry. About 1,100 are employed in and around New York City; 800 in Newark; 750 in Philadelphia; 1,000 in Petersburg, Virginia and 2,000 in Chicago. Approximately 5,650, or roughly 83 per cent, of the productive employees in the industry are concentrated in the localities mentioned. The remaining employees are to be found at points of lesser but definite concentration.

The industry is highly unionized. In New York City and in Newark the industry has been organized for about 25 years. In these cities the organization is about 95 per cent complete; in Philadelphia about 90 per cent complete. At other points unionization is recent but at least 75 to 80 per cent of the employers in the industry as a whole have signed wage agreements.

The union scale for New York incorporated in wage agreements with 93 manufacturers employing 1100 workers provides for a minimum of 40 cents per hour. This minimum is limited to unskilled workers during the first three months of their employment. Identical wage scales are provided for in union agreements with manufacturers in Newark. The Philadelphia minimum union rate is 40 cents an hour for unskilled workers without any limitation as to time of employment. Evidence of record shows a significant concentration of minimum wage employees in Petersburg, Virginia, in the interval between 30 and 35 cents. The minimum wages paid to employees on government work are substantially higher.

The union minimum wage for Chicago, where the employees are 100 per cent organized, or nearly so, is 37.5 cents. The minimum wage at two Wisconsin points within a relatively short distance of Chicago is 50 cents for men and 40 cents for women. The higher minimum in these plants is accounted for by the fact that they produce only the highest type goods. They do not produce in large quantities and are not potential bidders on government contracts. The St. Louis minimum wage is comparable with the Chicago minimum.

The West Coast is partially organized and the minimum wage is not less than the New York minimum.

The Board advises me that the evidence introduced at the hearing was totally inadequate to present a picture of the wage structure in the saddlery industry. The union representatives were not in a position to give wage data and excepting the letters referred to above the evidence was limited to the wage structure existing in a single plant. This plant is engaged extensively in the manufacture of mail satchels and has specialized in their manufacture for some years, and the minimum wage prevailing in the manufacture of these satchels is not less than 37.5 cents an hour. Because of the fact that leather mail pouches are similar in kind to suitcases and other leather bags, and because of the further fact that the minimum wage being paid in the production of these mail satchels is in excess of the minimum paid in the luggage industry, the purposes of the Act can best be furthered by the inclusion, for the purposes of this decision, of mail satchels in the products that are manufactured by the luggage industry.

In a report dated May 6, 1938, the Board made the recommendation that the minimum wage for the luggage industry be found to be 40 cents an hour in the Northeast and far West and 37.5 cents an hour in the Midwest and South. The Board recommends that the Northeast and far West sections of the country be held to be composed of the following States, and that the Midwest and South be comprised of the remaining States in the United States:

Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Nevada, Arizona, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Colorado and New Mexico.

Recommendations were served on all who attended the public hearing and on all who were originally given notice that a hearing was to be held in this matter. Fourteen days were allowed to all parties to file with the Administrator of Public Contracts such criticisms as they might have of the Board's recommendations. One letter was received in reply from a union official who made suggestions as to a higher wage in the Midwest area but who did not fortify his position with any evidence in addition to that recited above.

I have examined the findings and recommendations of the Board, and the record of the hearing, and I am of the opinion that such findings and recommendations, with such modifications as have been indicated above, are proper and I adopt them as my own.

Therefore, I hereby determine:

That the minimum wage for employees engaged in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the provisions of the Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036; U. S. C Sup. III 35) for the manufacture or supply of luggage, including mail satchels or pounches, shall be 40 cents an hour, or $16.00 per week of forty hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece work basis, for the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Nevada, Arizona, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Colorado, New Mexico; and 37.5 cents an hour, or $15.00 per week of forty hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece work basis, for the other 26 States and the District of Columbia.

This determination shall be effective and the minimum wage hereby established shall apply to all such contracts bids for which are solicited on or after July 27, 1938.

[SEAL] C. V. McLAUGHLIN,
Acting Secretary.

Dated: July 12, 1938.

[SEAL] H. A. WALLACE,
Secretary of Agriculture.

ORDER REGULATING HANDLING IN INTERSTATE OR FOREIGN COMMERCE, AND SUCH HANDLING AS DIRECTLY BURDENS, OBSTRUCTS, OR AFFECTS INTERSTATE OR FOREIGN COMMERCE, OF GRAPES GROWN IN COUNTIES OF WASHINGTON, BENTON, AND MADISON IN STATE OF ARKANSAS

Whereas, under the provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, (hereinafter referred to as the "act") it is provided that the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States (hereinafter referred to as the "Secretary") shall, subject to the provisions of said act, issue orders regulating such handling of certain agricultural commodities, including grapes, as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodities; and

Whereas, the Secretary has found and proclaimed that the purchasing power of grapes grown in the counties of Washington, Benton and Madison during the period August 1909–July 1914 cannot be satisfactorily determined from the available statistics of the United States Department of Agriculture, but that the purchasing power of such commodity can be satisfactorily determined from available statistics of the United States Department of Agriculture for the period August 1, 1922, to July 31, 1929, both dates inclusive, and the period August 1, 1922, to July 31, 1929, both dates inclusive, is the base period to be used in connection with this order in determining the purchasing power of such commodity; and

Whereas, the Secretary having reason to believe that the issuance of an order would tend to establish and maintain such marketing conditions for grapes grown in the counties of Washington, Benton, and Madison in the State of Arkansas as would establish prices to the producers of grapes at a level that would give such grapes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such grapes in the base period,

FEDERAL REGISTER

The Administrative Committee consists of the Archivist or Acting Archivist, an officer of the Department of Justice designated by the Attorney General, and the Public Printer or Acting Public Printer.

The daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER will be furnished by mail to subscribers, free of postage, for $1 per month or $10 per year; single copies 10 cents each; payable in advance. Remit by money order payable to Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Correspondence concerning the publication of the FEDERAL REGISTER should be addressed to the Director, Division of the Federal Register, The National Archives, Washington, D. C.

August 1, 1922, to July 31, 1929, both dates inclusive, did, pursuant to the provisions of the act and the regulations thereunder, on the 12th day of February 1938, give notice of a hearing to be held at Fayetteville, Arkansas, on March 3, 1938, on a proposed order regulating the handling of grapes grown in the counties of Washington, Benton, and Madison in the State of Arkansas, at which time all interested parties in attendance at such hearing were afforded due opportunity to be heard concerning the proposed order; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds upon the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof:

(1) That customarily a substantial percentage of all shipments of grapes grown in the aforesaid counties of Washington, Benton, and Madison in the State of Arkansas is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects such commerce;

(2) That, in order to give such grapes a purchasing power with respect to articles that farmers buy equivalent to the average purchasing power of such grapes during the base period, August 1, 1922, to July 31, 1929, both dates inclusive, the average price received by the grower of grapes should have been 16.6 cents per four-quart basket of grapes during the 1937 season;

(3) That the average price received by growers of such grapes for the 1937 season was 7 cents per four-quart basket of grapes;

(4) That the average price per four-quart basket of said grapes received by growers during the nine years from 1929 to 1937 was substantially less than the purchasing power of such grapes during the aforesaid base period;

(5) That, in the past, the lack of regulation of the shipment of grapes produced in the aforesaid counties of Washington, Benton, and Madison in the State of Arkansas was an important factor contributing toward unstable marketing conditions for such grapes and consequently depressed prices to growers;

(6) That the regulation of shipments of grapes by proration, as provided in this order, and the regulation of shipments by grades, subject to the terms and provisions contained in this order, will tend to prevent fluctuation of prices to growers, particularly prices which are so low as to represent losses to growers, and thereby establish and maintain a more stable market for said grapes, tending to restore prices to growers of said grapes to a level that will have a purchasing power with respect to articles that producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of said grapes in the aforesaid base period;

(7) That the method of regulating shipments by proration among handlers, as provided in this order, and the method of regulation of shipments by grades, as prescribed in this order, are fair and equitable;

(8) That this order is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area and regional marketing area that is practicable;

(9) That the issuance of several orders applicable to any subdivision of the regional production and marketing areas covered by this order will not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act with respect to establishing and maintaining such marketing conditions for grapes as will reestablish prices to growers that will give such commodities a purchasing power with respect to articles that producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such commodity in the aforesaid base period;

(10) That there are no differences in the production and marketing of grapes in the production area covered by this order that make necessary different terms applicable to different parts of such area;

(11) That the pro rata contribution of handlers to the expenses of the administrative agency herein created, based upon the quantity of grapes handled as provided in this order, is fair and equitable;

(12) That this order and all the terms and provisions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to said grapes, grown in said area, by establishing and maintaining such orderly marketing conditions therefor as will establish prices to producers thereof at a level that will give said grapes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such grapes in the aforesaid base period and by protecting the interest of the consumer by (a) approaching such level of prices, which it is declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish, by a gradual correction of the current level of prices at as rapid a rate as the Secretary of Agriculture deems to be in the public interest and feasible in view of the current consumptive demand in domestic and foreign markets, and by (b) authorizing no action which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to producers above the aforesaid level which it is declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish; and

Whereas, the Secretary further finds:

(1) That the marketing agreement regulating the handling of grapes grown in the counties of Washington, Benton, and Madison in the State of Arkansas executed by him on July 15, 1938, and upon which a public hearing was held on March 3, 1938,[1] was signed by handlers who handled more than 50 percent of such commodity produced during the year of 1937;

(2) That this order regulates the handling of said grapes in the same manner as the said marketing agreement does, and this order is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activities specified in the aforesaid marketing agreement; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds and determines that the issuance of this order is favored by producers of grapes who, during the year of 1937, which the Secretary determines to be a representative period, produced for market at least two-thirds of the volume of such commodity for market within the production area specified in this order.

Now, therefore, it is ordered by the Secretary, acting under the authority vested in him by the act, that the handling of grapes, grown in the counties of Washington, Benton, and Madison in the State of Arkansas, in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate or foreign commerce in such grapes, from and after the date hereinafter specified, shall be in conformity to, and in compliance with, the terms and conditions of this order.

SECTION 1. Control Committee membership.—1. A Control Committee, consisting of ten (10) members, is hereby established to administer the terms and provisions of this order as herein specifically provided. There shall be an alternate for each of said ten (10) members of the Control Committee. The members and alternates shall be selected in accordance with the provisions of this article and shall serve for a term ending February 14, 1939; provided, however, said members and alternates shall serve until their respective successors have been selected and qualified. The members and alternates of said Control Committee selected subsequent to those selected for the aforesaid initial period ending February 14, 1939, shall serve for a term of one year, beginning on February 15; provided, however, said members and alternates, selected subsequent to those selected for the aforesaid initial period ending on February 14, 1939, shall serve until their respective successors have been selected and qualified. In event any member or alternate, selected subsequent to those selected for the aforesaid period ending February 14, 1939, is selected or qualified subsequent to February 15 of any year, the term of said member or alternate shall end on February 14, following his selection, except such member or alternate shall serve until his successor shall have been selected and qualified. Any person selected as a member or alternate of the Control Committee shall qualify by filing with the Secretary, or with the designated representative of the Secretary, a written acceptance of the appointment.

2. Seven members of the Control Committee and their respective alternates shall represent all growers of grapes. Four of said seven members of the Control Committee and their respective alternates, representing growers of grapes, shall be selected by the Secretary from a group of eight nominees designated by growers of grapes at an election held at a general meeting in Washington County in which all growers of grapes in Washington County shall be entitled to participate, or the Secretary may select some or all of said members and alternates from other growers of grapes in Washington County. At any such election, designating the group of eight nominees aforesaid, each grower of grapes in Washington County shall cast only one vote, for each nominee, on behalf of himself, his agents, partners, affiliates, subsidiaries and representatives. Two members of the Control Committee and their respective alternates, representing the growers of grapes, shall be selected by the Secretary from a group of four nominees designated by growers of grapes at an election held at a general meeting in Benton County in which all growers of grapes in Benton County shall be entitled to participate, or the Secretary may select some or all of the members and alternates from other growers of grapes in said Benton County. At any such election, designating the group of four nominees aforesaid, each grower of grapes in Benton County shall cast only one vote, for each nominee, on behalf of himself, his agent, partners, affiliates, subsidiaries, and representatives. One member of the Control Committee and his alternate, representing the growers of grapes, shall be selected by the Secretary from a group of two nominees, designated by growers of grapes at an election held at a general meeting in Madison County in which all growers of grapes in Madison County shall be entitled to participate, or the Secretary may select the member and alternate, or either, from other growers of grapes in said Madison County. At any such election, designating the two nominees of Madison County, each grower of grapes in Madison County shall cast only one vote, for each nominee, on behalf of himself, his agents, partners, affiliates, subsidiaries, and representatives. In the respective elections designating nominees as aforesaid, no person who is not a grower of grapes in the county in which the general meeting and election is being held shall be entitled to participate in said meeting and election; and also, in event a person is a grower of grapes in more than one of the aforesaid counties, such person may exercise an option as to the county in which he shall participate in the election or designation of the group of nominees aforesaid, but such person can participate in the election in only one county.

3. Three members of the Control Committee and their respective alternates shall represent all handlers of grapes. The three members of the Control Committee and their respective alternates, representing handlers of grapes, shall be selected by the Secretary from a group of six nominees designated by handlers of grapes in the area included in this order, at an election held at a general meeting in which all handlers of grapes shall be entitled to participate, or the Secretary may select some or all of the members and alternates from other handlers of grapes in said area. At any such election, designating the group of six nominees aforesaid, each handler shall cast only one vote for each 10,000 baskets of grapes handled, in interstate or foreign commerce, by such handler during the season previous to the year in which the election is being held, on behalf of himself, his agents, partners, affiliates, subsidiaries, and representatives; provided, however, if any such handler shipped in interstate or foreign commerce less than 10,000 baskets of grapes during said previous season, such handler shall be entitled to cast one vote in said election.

4. Nominees for members of the Control Committee and their respective alternates whose term of office shall expire on February 14, 1939, shall be selected by the above designated groups in the following manner: The Secretary, or such person as the Secretary may designate, shall cause to be held as soon as practicable after the effective date of this order a meeting of all handlers of grapes in the area included in this order. Such meeting shall select its chairman and secretary. In the selection of the six nominees, from whom the Secretary of Agriculture may select three members and three alternates to represent handlers, each handler shall be entitled to vote without regard to the number of counties from which he may ship grapes. The chairman and the secretary of the meeting shall forthwith transmit to the Secretary of Agriculture, or to such person as the Secretary of Agriculture may designate, their certificate as to the number of votes so cast and the names of the nominees so designated. Also, the Secretary of Agriculture, or such person as the Secretary may designate, shall cause to be held, as soon as practicable after the effective date of this order, a meeting in each county, included in the area designated in this order, of all growers of grapes in the respective county. Each such meeting shall select its chairman and secretary. The chairman and the secretary of the meeting shall forthwith transmit to the Secretary of Agriculture, or to such person as the Secretary of Agriculture may designate, their certificate as to the number of votes so cast and the names of the nominees so designated. Nominees for the handler members and the grower members, and their respective alternates, selected subsequent to those selected for the aforesaid initial period ending February 14, 1939, shall be designated by the aforesaid respective groups each year not less than 20 days nor more than 40 days prior to February 14; and said nominees shall be designated at meetings and elections caused to be held by the Control Committee, and said meetings and elections shall be of the same character and specification, and the procedure shall be substantially the same, as specified herein above for the designation of nominees for the initial period ending February 14, 1939.

5. To fill any vacancy occasioned by the failure of any person selected as a member of the Control Committee or selected as an alternate to qualify, a nomination for his unexpired term shall be made at an election held at a meeting in the manner heretofore indicated for the selection of the original member or alternate who has thus failed to qualify. If a nomination for any such vacancy is not made within 20 days after the beginning of said vacancy, the Secretary may select such member without regard to his nomination; and also the Secretary may select the person to fill such vacancy from among persons not nominated at an election so held. In event of the death, removal, resignation, or disqualification of any member or his alternate, after having qualified as a member or alternate of said Control Committee, a successor for the unexpired term of such member or alternate shall be selected by the Secretary. Such selection may be made without resorting to the provision as to nomination of candidates for the office of member or alternate.

6. An alternate for a member of the Control Committee, selected pursuant to this order, shall, in the event of such member's absence, act in the place and stead of such member; and, in event of such member's (a) removal, (b) resignation, (c) disqualification, or (d) death, the alternate for said member shall, until a successor for the unexpired term of such member has been selected, act in the place and stead of such member.

7. The members of the Control Committee, and their respective alternates, shall serve without compensation; but said members and their respective alternates shall be reimbursed for expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of their respective duties.

SEC. 2. Powers.—The Control Committee shall have the following powers:

1. To administer, as herein specifically provided, the terms and provisions of this order.

2. To make administrative rules and regulations in accordance with, and to effectuate the terms and provisions of, this order.

1. To act as intermediary between the Secretary and any producer or handler.

2. To keep minute books and records which will clearly reflect all of the acts and transactions of said Control Committee; and such minute books and records shall be subject at any time to examination by the Secretary or by such person as may be designated by the Secretary.

3. To investigate, from time to time, and assemble data on, the growing, shipping and marketing conditions respecting grapes grown in the aforesaid area included in this order, and to furnish to the Secretary such available information as may be requested.

4. To perform such duties as may be assigned to it from time to time by the Secretary in connection with the administration of Section 32 of the Act to amend the Agricultural Adjustment Act, and for other purposes, Public No. 320, approved on August 24, 1935, as amended.

5. To cause the books of the Control Committee to be audited by one or more competent accountants at least once each year and at such other times as the Control Committee may deem necessary or as the Secretary may request; and file with the Secretary copies of any and all audit reports made.

6. To appoint such employees as it may deem necessary, and to determine the salaries of such employees. The duties of all employees shall be designated by the Control Committee in administering the terms and provisions of this order; and the Control Committee may adopt such rules for the conduct of the business as it may deem desirable.

7. To give the Secretary, or the designated agent of the Secretary, the same notice of meetings of the Control Committee as is given to the members of the Control Committee.

8. To select a chairman of the Control Committee and, from time to time, such other officers as it may deem advisable; and to adopt rules and regulations for the performance of its duties under this order.

SEC. 4. Procedure.—1. The Control Committee shall not perform any of its powers or duties herein prescribed while there are more than three (3) vacancies in its membership. A quorum shall consist of seven (7) members in attendance at the meeting, and all decisions shall be made by the concurring vote of at least six (6) of the members present; provided, however, that the Control Committee can recommend a proration period or period of regulation of shipments by grades, as provided for in article III and article IV hereof, only if at least seven (7) members, one of whom shall be a handler member, vote in favor of such recommendation for such regulation period.

2. The Control Committee may provide for voting by telephone, mail or telegraph, subject to disapproval by the Secretary; provided, however, that when any proposition is submitted by telephone, mail or telegraph, seven (7) affirmative votes, one of which shall be by a handler member, shall be necessary for its adoption or approval; and promptly after voting by telephone, the members thus voting shall confirm in writing the votes so cast by telephone.

3. The members of the Control Committee, including successors and alternates, and any agent or employee appointed or employed by the Control Committee shall be subject to removal or suspension by the Secretary at any time. Each and every regulation, decision, determination or other act of the Control Committee shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time, and, upon such disapproval, shall be deemed null and void except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in compliance therewith prior to such disapproval by the Secretary.

SEC. 5. Funds and other property.—1. All funds received by the Control Committee pursuant to any of the provisions of this order shall be used solely for the purposes herein specified, and the Secretary may require the Control Committee and its members to account for all receipts and disbursements.

2. Upon the death, resignation, removal or expiration of the term of office of any member of the Control Committee or of any employee of the Control Committee all books, records, funds and other property in his possession shall be delivered to the Control Committee or to his successor in office; and such assignments and other instruments shall be executed as may be necessary to vest in the Control Committee, or vest in the successor of such member or employee, full title to all the books, records, funds and other property in the possession or under the control of such member or employee, pursuant to this order.

3. The Control Committee may maintain, with the approval of the Secretary, in its own name or in the names of its members, a suit against any shipper for the collection of such shipper's pro rata share of expenses.

ARTICLE III.—PERIOD PRORATION

SECTION 1. Establishment of period proration.—1. It shall be the duty of the Control Committee to investigate supply and demand conditions with respect to grapes. Whenever such conditions make it advisable to regulate, by means of a proration period or series of proration periods, the shipment of grapes, the Control Committee shall recommend to the Secretary the establishment of a proration period or series of proration periods during which the shipment of grapes, in interstate or foreign commerce, may be regulated pursuant to the provisions of this article. Such recommendation, as aforesaid, including the time of commencement and duration of the proration period or series of proration periods, shall be made at a meeting of the Control Committee held at least twenty-four hours prior to the commencement of such recommended proration period or series of proration periods. The Control Committee shall promptly notify, by giving notice in such manner as it shall deem adequate under the circumstances, all handlers and growers of any such recommendation.

2. Based upon such recommendation made pursuant to paragraph 1 of this section, or other information available to the Secretary, the Secretary may establish a proration period or series of proration periods, including the time of commencement and termination of any such period, if the Secretary deems that such regulation of the flow of shipment of grapes in the current of interstate or foreign commerce during the period or periods within the season would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

SEC. 2. Computation of quantity available for shipment.—1. The Control Committee, prior to the beginning of each season as defined in article I hereof, shall compute the total quantity of grapes which will be available for shipment during the season. To assist in such determination each handler shall report to the Control Committee, in such form and estimated in such manner as the Control Committee may prescribe, the total quantity of grapes, to which he has legal title or for which he has legal authority from the owners or growers thereof to handle, which the respective handlers will have available for shipment; and, also such report shall include the name of each such owner or grower and the quantity of grapes which such handler is authorized to handle for each such owner or grower. Each grower having grapes which no handler has authority to handle may in like manner report to the Control Committee his total quantity of grapes which he will have available for shipment during the season. Such reports may be checked by the Control Committee. Investigation may be made by the Control Committee, or the employees duly designated by it, in such manner as may be necessary to arrive at a reasonably correct computation of the total quantity of grapes which will be available for shipment during such season; and, on the basis of such investigation or recalculation of the report submitted by each handler or grower, the Control Committee may revise any such report. The total quantity of grapes which will be available for shipment by each handler and by each grower shall be computed by the Control Committee in accordance with the provisions of this article. The Control Committee shall make such adjustment or recalculation, from time to time, of the aforesaid computations of the total quantity which is or will be available for shipment as may be necessary to determine, as correctly as reasonably possible, the total quantity of grapes available for shipment during the respective season or the remainder of said season. Such estimated total quantity of grapes available for shipment by each handler and by each grower shall be revised at the beginning of each proration period whenever such revision is substantiated by additional information available to the Control Committee or the Secretary. The Control Committee shall report to the Secretary all computations and recommendations of the Control Committee, pursuant to the provisions of this article, and the evidence on which such computations and recommendations were predicated.

2. The Control Committee shall advise each handler and each grower of the result of the original computation or any revised computation by such Control Committee with regard to the estimated total quantity of grapes available or which will be available for shipment by such grower or by such handler during the season or remainder of the season.

SEC. 3. Determination of total advisable shipments.—For each regulation period established pursuant to section 1 of this article, the Control Committee shall procure available evidence concerning the supply of and demand for grapes during the period for which proration is contemplated; and from such evidence the Control Committee shall make a computation of the quantity of grapes which it is deemed advisable by the Control Committee to be shipped, in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, during such proration period. The evidence procured pursuant to this section and the recommendation of the Control Committee as to the total advisable shipments, during such proration period, shall be transmitted to the Secretary.

SEC. 4. Fixing of allotments by the Secretary.—1. From the reports made pursuant to sections 2 and 3 of this article, and other available information, the Secretary shall determine: (a) the total quantity of grapes which will be available for shipment during the season or the remainder of the season; and (b) the total quantity of grapes advisable to be shipped during the regulation period. Thereupon the Secretary shall fix for such regulation period the allotment for each handler and each grower; and such allotment for each grower and each handler shall be calculated as follows: The total quantity of grapes available for shipment by the respective grower or handler, as aforesaid, shall be multiplied by the quotient (which is a percentage) obtained when the total quantity of grapes advisable for shipment, as aforesaid, is divided by the total quantity available for shipment by all growers and handlers during the season or remainder of the season. The result obtained by the foregoing calculation shall be the quantity allotted to the respective grower or handler. The Control Committee shall notify, by such methods as may be deemed adequate under the circumstances, each grower and handler with regard to the amount of his allotment.

2. Each handler shall apportion the quantity of grapes, represented by his allotment, equitably among the growers whose grapes he reported to the Control Committee pursuant to section 2 of this article.

SEC. 5. Transfer of allotments.—Subject to such procedural rules and regulations as may be adopted by the Control Committee and approved by the Secretary, shippers and growers to whom allotments have been made may transfer such allotments in whole or in part.

SEC. 6. Overshipment.—No shipper shall ship grapes in excess of his allotment for any regulation period except for additional allotments transferred to him by a grower or handler pursuant to the provisions of this article.

SEC. 7. Modification or termination of regulation period.—If the limitation of shipment during any regulation period established pursuant to this article is rendered unnecessary or improper by reason of unforeseen increased demands, reduction of the available supply, or other causes, the Secretary may modify or terminate such limitation or regulation period.

ARTICLE IV.—REGULATION OF SHIPMENTS BY GRADES

SECTION 1. Recommendation.—1. Whenever the Control Committee deems it advisable to regulate the shipment of any grade or grades of grapes for a specified period, it shall so recommend to the Secretary. In such event the Control Committee shall furnish to the Secretary all information and data upon which such recommendation is predicated, including, but not being limited to, information with respect to the factors affecting the supply of and demand for grapes by grade. Such recommendation, including the time of commencement and termination of the regulation period, shall be made at a meeting of the Control Committee held at least twenty-four hours prior to the commencement of such regulation period. The Control Committee shall notify the shippers and growers of such recommendation by giving notice thereof in such manner at it may deem adequate under the circumstances.

2. Based upon the recommendations made pursuant to paragraph 1 of this section, or other information available to the Secretary, the Secretary may establish a regulation period, including the time of commencement and termination thereof, if the Secretary deems that such regulation of the flow of shipments of grapes in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, during such regulation period, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. Such regulation of shipments by grades may be accomplished by (a) prohibiting the shipment of certain grades during such period, or (b) by prohibiting the shipment of a part of any grade of grapes. When the Secretary has determined to regulate shipments as provided in this article, he shall immediately notify the Control Committee of such determination; and the Control Committee shall immediately notify shippers and growers of such determination by giving notice in such manner as the Control Committee shall deem adequate under the circumstances.

SEC. 2. Exemptions.—1. In the event of a regulation period established pursuant to the provisions of this article, the Control Committee shall determine the percentage which the grades of the grapes permitted to be shipped is of the total quantity of grapes which would be shipped in the absence of regulation under this article. The Control Committee shall announce forthwith this percentage and the procedure by which exemption certificates will be issued to growers pursuant to this section.

2. If any grower shall present proof to the Control Committee that the regulation of shipments will allow him to ship during the period a percentage of his grapes less than the percentage found in accordance with paragraph 1 of this section, the Control Committee shall issue to him an exemption certificate allowing the shipment of such quantity of the limited grade as will make the percentage of his crop that may be shipped equal to the percentage found in accordance with paragraph 1 of this section. If any grower is dissatisfied with the determination by the Control Committee with respect to such exemption certificates, he may appeal to the Secretary; and the Secretary may modify or cancel the issuance of exemption certificates, or the Secretary may authorize the issuance of exemption certificates. The authority of the Secretary to supervise and control the issuance of exemption certificates is plenary and complete; and any determination made by the Secretary with respect to exemption certificates shall be final.

SEC. 3. Grading and certification.—1. During any regulation period established pursuant to the provisions of this article, all shipments of grapes, in interstate or foreign commerce, grown in the area specified in article I hereof shall be graded and certified on the basis of the grades now promulgated by the United States Department of Agriculture or as the same may be modified or changed hereafter, or as the same may be modified or supplemented by regulatory orders by the Secretary pursuant to this article.

2. Each handler, prior to making each shipment of grapes in interstate or foreign commerce during any such regulation period established pursuant to this article, shall have the grapes included in each such shipment inspected by a duly authorized representative of the Federal-State Inspection Service; and each such shipper shall submit promptly, or cause to be submitted promptly, to the Control Committee the Federal-State shipping point inspection certificates, issued by the Federal-State Inspection Service, stating the grade or grades of grapes in each such shipment.

ARTICLE V.—SHIPMENTS FOR SPECIFIED PURPOSES

SECTION 1. Shipment of grapes for by-product use and charitable purposes.—1. Subject to such rules and regulations as may be adopted by the Control Committee and approved by the Secretary, any person may ship, free from any restriction or obligation imposed by this order, grapes that will be used solely for purposes of conversion into by-products or for unemployment or relief purposes.

2. As used in this order, the term "by-product" or "by-products" means and includes all processed and manufactured products of grapes and all products in the manufacturing or processing of which grapes are used, including, but not being limited to, wine and juice.

ARTICLE VI.—ASSESSMENTS

SECTION 1. Expenses and assessments.—1. The Control Committee is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary finds may be necessary to carry out its functions under this order. The funds to cover such expenses shall be acquired by the levying of assessments are hereinafter provided.

2. Each handler shall pay to the Control Committee upon demand such handler's pro rata share, as is approved by the Secretary, of the expenses which the Secretary finds will be necessarily incurred by the Control Committee for the maintenance and functioning of the Control Committee. Each handler's share of such expense shall be that proportion thereof which the total quantity of grapes shipped by such handler in the current of interstate or foreign commerce during the season is of the total quantity of grapes shipped by all handlers in the current of interstate or foreign commerce during said season. Said assessment may be adjusted from time to time by the Control Committee, with the approval of the Secretary, in order to cover any later finding by the Secretary of estimated expenses or the actual expenses of the Control Committee. The assessment of each handler for the season shall be due and payable at such time and shall be payable in such installments, if any, as the Control Committee, with the approval of the Secretary, shall determine.

3. At the end of each season, the Control Committee shall credit each contributing handler with the excess of the amount paid by such handler above his pro rata share of the expenses, or debit such shipper with the difference between his pro rata share and the amount paid by such shipper. Any such debits shall become due and payable upon the demand of the Control Committee.

4. From the funds acquired pursuant to this article, the Control Committee shall pay the salaries of its employees, if any, and pay the expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of the duties of the Control Committee.

ARTICLE VII.—REPORTS

SECTION 1. Reports.—Upon the request of the Control Committee, made with the approval of the Secretary, each handler shall furnish the Control Committee, in such manner and at such times as it prescribes, such information as will enable it to perform its powers and duties under this order.

SECTION 1. Proposals.—Amendments to this order may from time to time be proposed by the Control Committee, or by the Secretary.

ARTICLE IX.—AGENTS

SECTION 1. Agents.—The Secretary may, by a designation in writing, name any person, including any officer or employee of the Government or any Bureau or Division in the United States Department of Agriculture, to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this order.

SEC. 2. Termination.—1. The Secretary may at any time terminate this order.

2. The Secretary shall terminate this order whenever he finds that such termination is favored by a majority of the growers of grapes who, during the preceding season, have been engaged, in the area covered by this order, in the production of grapes for market; provided that such majority have, during such period, produced in the area covered by this order, for market, more than fifty (50) percent of the volume of grapes produced in the area covered by this order, for market; provided, however, such termination shall be and become effective on and after the 14th of February subsequent to the announcement thereof by the Secretary.

3. This order shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

SEC. 3. Proceedings after termination.—1. Upon the termination of this order, the members of the Control Committee then functioning shall continue as joint trustees, for the purpose of liquidating this order, of all funds and property then in the possession or under the control of the Control Committee, including claims for any funds unpaid or property not delivered at the time of such termination. Said trustees (a) shall continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary, (b) shall from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements or deliver all funds and property on hand, together with all books and records of the Control Committee and the joint trustees, to such person as the Secretary shall direct, and (c) shall, upon the request of the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all of the funds or claims vested in the Control Committee or the joint trustees pursuant to this order. Any funds collected for expenses pursuant to article VI of this order, and held by such joint trustees or such person, over and above amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the joint trustees or such other person in the performance of their duties hereunder, shall, as soon as practicable after the termination of this order, be returned to the handlers pro rata in proportion to their contributions made thereto pursuant to this order or pursuant to such order.

2. Any person to whom funds, property or claims have been delivered by the Control Committee or its members upon direction of the Secretary as herein provided shall be subject to the same obligations and duties with respect to said funds, property or claims as are hereinabove imposed upon the members of said Committee or upon said joint trustees.

ARTICLE XI.—DURATION OF IMMUNITIES

SECTION 1. Duration of immunities.—The benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred by virtue of this order shall cease upon its termination except with respect to acts done under and during the existence of this order; and benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred by this order upon any parties shall cease upon its termination as to such party except with respect to acts done under and during the existence of this order.

ARTICLE XII.—SEPARABILITY

SECTION 1. Separability.—If any provision of this order is declared invalid or the applicability thereof to any person, circumstance, or thing is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this order or the applicability thereof to any other person, circumstance, or thing shall not be affected thereby.

ARTICLE XIII.—DEROGATION

SECTION 1. Derogation.—Nothing contained in this order is, or shall be construed to be, in derogation or in modification of the rights of the Secretary or of the United States (1) to exercise any powers granted by the act or otherwise, or in accordance with such powers, (2) to act in the premises whenever such action is deemed advisable.

The copy of the determination or order shall contain at the top thereof the following statement: "To all persons who as operator, landlord, tenant or sharecropper are interested in the farm for which this quota is established", and such statement shall constitute notice to all such persons. The clerk shall make a notation on the original determination or order of the date and place of such mailing. The clerk forthwith shall forward a copy of such determination or order to the Hearing Clerk, to the chairman of the State committee, and to the chairman of the county committee.

SEC. 515. The record.—The record of the proceedings shall be prepared by the clerk to the review committee and shall consist of the following:

(a) All procedural documents in the case under review, including the application and written notice of hearing and any other written notice in connection with the application.

A bill of complaint in such proceeding may be served by delivering a copy thereof to any member of the committee.

(b) Upon the institution of such suit, the clerk to the review committee shall immediately send a telegram addressed to the Hearing Clerk, Office of the Solicitor, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. NATIONAL ACREAGE ALLOTMENT FOR 1939 CROP OF WHEAT

By the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States of America

A PROCLAMATION

Whereas, the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, provides:

SEC. 332. Not later than July 15 of each marketing year—for wheat, the Secretary shall ascertain and proclaim the total supply and the normal supply of wheat for such marketing year, and the national acreage allotment for the next crop of wheat.

SEC. 333. The national acreage allotment for any crop of wheat shall be that acreage which the Secretary determines will, on the basis of the national average yield for wheat, produce an amount thereof adequate, together with the estimated carryover at the beginning of the marketing year for such crop, to make available a supply for such marketing year equal to a normal year's domestic consumption and exports plus 30 per centum thereof. The national acreage allotment for wheat for 1938 shall be sixty-two million five hundred thousand acres. The national acreage allotment for wheat for 1939 shall be not less than fifty-five million acres.

Whereas said act contains, in section 301 (b), the following definitions of terms here pertinent:

"Carry-over" of wheat, for any marketing year shall be the quantity of wheat on hand in the United States at the beginning of such marketing year, not including any wheat which was produced in the United States during the calendar year then current, and not including any wheat held by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation under Title V.

"Marketing year" means, in the case of the following commodities, the period beginning on the first and ending with the second date specified below:

Wheat, July 1–June 30.

"Normal supply" in the case of * * * wheat shall be a normal year's domestic consumption and exports of the commodity, plus * * * 15 per centum in the case of wheat, of a normal year's domestic consumption and exports, as an allowance for a normal carry-over.

"Normal year's domestic consumption" in the case of * * * wheat shall be the yearly average quantity of the commodity, wherever produced, that was cosumed [consumed] in the United States during the ten marketing years immediately preceding the marketing year in which such consumption is determined, adjusted for current trends in such consumption.

"Normal year's exports" in the case of * * * wheat shall be the yearly average quantity of the commodity produced in the United States that was exported from the United States during the ten marketing years * * * immediately preceding the marketing year in which such exports are determined, adjusted for current trends in such exports.

"Total supply" of * * * wheat for any marketing year shall be the carry-over of the commodity for such marketing year plus the estimated production of the commodity in the United States during the calendar year in which such marketing year begins.

Whereas said act provides, in section 301 (c), that "The latest available statistics of the Federal Government shall be used by the Secretary [of Agriculture] in making the determinations required to be made by the Secretary under this Act.";

Now therefore, be it known that I, M. L. Wilson, Acting Secretary of Agriculture of the United States of America, acting under and pursuant to, and by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, upon the basis of latest available statistics of the Federal Government do hereby find, determine, and proclaim under sections 332 and 333 of said act:

(1) That the "total supply" of wheat for the marketing year commencing July 1, 1938, is 1147 million bushels;

(2) That the "normal supply" of wheat for the marketing year commencing July 1, 1938, is 866 million bushels;

(3) That the national acreage allotment for the 1939 crop of wheat, if the act did not specify a minimum national acreage allotment for such crop of 55,000,000 acres, would have been less than such amount; and

(4) That the national acreage allotment for the 1939 crop of wheat is 55,000,000 acres.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 15th day of July, 1938. Witness my hand and seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[SEAL] M. L. WILSON,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

(a) A person shall be deemed to be incompetent when proof is presented in the form of a certificate from the clerk of a court of competent jurisdiction of the State wherein the person resides, to the effect that the person has been adjudged incompetent by that court.

(b) A person shall be deemed to have disappeared when proof is presented in the form of an affidavit executed by the person making application for payment, to the effect that the holder of record has been missing for a period of more than three months and that diligent search has failed to reveal his whereabouts, substantiated by an affidavit of a disinterested person.

(c) For purposes of this section V the use of Form C-5-P, "Application for Payment of Amounts Due Cotton Pool Participation Trust Certificate (Form C-5-I) Holders who have Died, been declared Incompetent, or have Disappeared", will be adequate.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

[Administrative Order]

RULES AND REGULATIONS GOVERNING PROTECTION, OCCUPANCY, USE, AND ADMINISTRATION OF LAND UTILIZATION PROJECTS BY THE FOREST SERVICE

Whereas certain land utilization projects in the States of Colorado, New Mexico, Oregon and Washington were established by the Resettlement Administration and lands therein were vested in the ownership of the United States by purchase to withdraw them from submarginal farm use, and

Whereas administrative jurisdiction over said lands was vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by Executive Order No. 7530 of December 31, 1936, as amended by Executive Order No. 7557, of February 19, 1937 (2 F. R. 7, 343), and

Whereas by Executive Order No. 7908 of June 9, 1938,[1] said lands were made subject to the provisions of Title III of the Farm Tenant Act, approved July 22, 1937 (50 Stat. 526), and

Whereas the adjacency of said lands to existing national forests makes it desirable as a matter of economy and efficiency that they be administered by the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture, to which they therefore have been assigned for administration by the Secretary of Agriculture, and

Whereas the Acts of March 4, 1907 (34 Stat. 1271), and of June 15, 1926 (44 Stat. 745), prohibit the creation or enlargement of national forests in said States except by or under authority of Act of Congress, and

Whereas it is necessary to prescribe rules and regualtions for the protection and administration of said lands, and the Secretary of Agriculture is empowered by section 32, paragraph (f) of said Act of July 22, 1937, to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to protect said lands and control their use and management, and

Whereas the requirements of protection, use and management of said lands are identical to those of the adjoining and related national forest lands.

Now, therefore, I, M. L. Wilson, Acting Secretary of Agriculture, do hereby direct that until said lands shall have been added to and made parts of the related national forests by Acts of Congress, the rules and regulations providing for the protection, occupancy, use and administration of the national forests, as approved by the Acting Secretary of Agriculture August 12, 1936 (1 F. R. 1090), are herewith adopted and promulgated as rules and regulations for the protection, occupancy, use and administration of such land utilization projects administered by the Forest Service in so far as is practical and consistent with the Acts of Congress under which said lands were or are being acquired.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and the official seal of the U. S. Department of Agriculture at the City of Washington, District of Columbia, this 15th day of July, 1938.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

[T. D. 4827]

TAXES ON ADMISSION, DUES AND INITIATION FEES

REGULATIONS 43, ARTICLE 1, AMENDED

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

In conformity with the provisions of section 712 of the Revenue Act of 1938, Regulations 43, approved June 14, 1932, as amended by Treasury Decision 4379, approved August 9, 1933, are further amended as follows:

[1] 1 F. R. 2024.

Immediately after the quotation of section 500 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, which precedes article 1, as amended by Treasury Decision 4379, the following subtitle and quotation of section 712 of the Revenue Act of 1938 are inserted:

REVENUE ACT OF 1938

SEC. 712. Tax on admissions to theaters.—

(a) Section 500 (a) (1) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, is amended by inserting before the period at the end of the second sentence the following: ", and except that in the case of tickets or cards of admission to any such spoken play sold at the ticket office of theaters at reduced rates the tax shall be based upon the price for which sold".

(b) The amendment made by subsection (a) shall apply with respect to sales made after June 30, 1938.

The first paragraph of article 1, as amended, is further amended to read as follows:

"Except as specifically amended by the Revenue Act of 1932, section 219 of the National Industrial Recovery Act and section 712 of the Revenue Act of 1938, the provisions of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1928, with respect to the tax on admissions are still in full force and effect. The amendment to section 500 (a) (1) made by section 711 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1932 was effective June 21, 1932, the amendment made by section 219 of the National Industrial Recovery Act was effective June 16, 1933, and the amendment made by section 712 of the Revenue Act of 1938 is effective July 1, 1938."

Article 1 is also amended by amending the seventh paragraph to read as follows:

"In the case of a person admitted free or at a reduced rate to any place at a time when and under circumstances under which an admission charge is made to other persons, the person so admitted free or at a reduced rate is liable to tax, except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, in an amount equivalent to the tax on the amount paid by such other persons for the same or similar accommodations. A bona fide employee of the management of the place, a municipal officer who is acting in his official capacity, or a child under twelve years of age, is not liable to tax if admitted free; and if admitted at a reduced rate is liable to tax on the reduced price, provided such price is 41 cents or more. No tax attaches to free admissions to a spoken play (not a mechanical reproduction) whether or not set to music or with musical parts or accompaniments, which is a consecutive narrative interpreted by a single set of characters, all necessary to the development of the plot, in two or more acts, the performance consuming more than 1 hour and 45 minutes of time. In case tickets or cards of admission to such spoken play are sold at the ticket office of theaters at reduced rates for more than 40 cents on and after July 1, 1938, the tax shall be based upon the price for which such tickets are sold. In any case where tickets or cards of admission are issued the tax due should be collected at the time of the issuance of such tickets or cards, while if no tickets or cards are used, tax should be collected when the persons are admitted."

This Treasury decision shall be effective as of July 1, 1938.

[SEAL] GUY T. HELVERING,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Approved, July 15, 1938.

ROSWELL MAGILL,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

FEDERAL ALCOHOL ADMINISTRATION DIVISION

REVISION OF CAUTION NOTICE ON BOTTLED IN BOND DISTILLED SPIRITS

JULY 18, 1938.

To All Bottlers of Distilled Spirits:

It is understood that under the terms of Regulations No. 6,[1] Relating to Bottling of Distilled Spirits in Bond, issued by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, effective July 1, 1938, every person bottling distilled spirits in bond, except for export, is required to attach to each bottle filled by him a revised caution notice, reading as follows:

"This bottle has been filled and stamped under the provisions of the Act of Congress entitled 'An Act to allow the bottling of distilled spirits in bond', approved March 3, 1897, as amended. Any person who shall reuse the stamp affixed to this bottle, or remove the contents of this bottle without so destroying the stamp affixed thereto as to prevent reuse, or who shall sell this bottle, or reuse it for distilled spirits, will be liable to the penalties prescribed by law."

This Administration has issued a number of certificates of approval for labels of domestically bottled distilled spirits covering sets of labels which include, on the back label, the old caution notice previously required by Regulations No. 6. In revising the caution notice it is not believed that bottlers should be required to secure new certificates of label approval. This circular letter, therefore, constitutes a certificate of label approval for all labels, covered by certificates of label approval heretofore issued, when so revised. It does not, however, authorize any change other than the revision of the caution notice to be made on such labels.

[SEAL] W. S. ALEXANDER, Administrator.

ACCOUNTS AND DEPOSITS

[1938—Department Circular No. 589]

REGULATIONS GOVERNING PAYMENTS ON ACCOUNT OF AWARDS OF THE SPECIAL MEXICAN CLAIMS COMMISSION

JULY 14, 1938.

SEC. 1 GENERAL PROVISIONS

(a) Authority for and scope of regulations.—The following regulations governing payments in respect of the awards of the Special Mexican Claims Commission are issued under authority contained in section 161 of the Revised Statutes (U. S. C. title 5, sec. 22), the Act of April 10, 1935 (49 Stat. 149), hereinafter referred to as "the Act", and the Joint Resolution of August 25, 1937 (50 Stat. 783), hereinafter referred to as "the Joint Resolution."

(b) Pro-rata payments.—Pursuant to the provisions of the Convention between the United States and Mexico, signed on April 24, 1934, the amount agreed to be paid by the Government of Mexico to the Government of the United States is to be paid at the rate of $500,000.00 (five hundred thousand dollars) per annum, beginning January 1, 1935. Accordingly payments on awards, in accordance with the Act and the Joint Resolution, will be made in ratable proportions as payments are received from the Government of Mexico.

(c) Expenditures of the Commission.—Before payment on any awards, the amount of the expenditures of the Special Mexican Claims Commission will be deducted from the payments made by the Government of Mexico.

(d) Forms to be used.—Forms of vouchers, affidavits and certificates prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury should be used in connection with payments of awards hereunder. Copies of such forms may be obtained from the Commissioner of Accounts and Deposits, Room 376, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.

(e) Authentication of documents.—All copies of records and documents submitted in connection with the execution of vouchers must be properly authenticated.

SEC. 2. EXECUTION OF VOUCHERS

(a) Necessity for signature of vouchers.—No payment of any part of the amount due in respect of an award will be made unless a voucher therefor properly executed (preferably in ink or indelible pencil) is received by the Secretary of the Treasury. A single voucher for each part of an award as funds become available for payment must be signed by each person (including each member of a partnership or association whether or not dissolved) in whose favor the award was made. Each such person must sign the voucher and verify it by affidavit sworn to before any officer authorized by law to administer oaths or, if executed abroad, before a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States. In the case of a corporation, the voucher must be signed by the appropriate officer or officers thereof having authority to do so, which officer or officers shall verify the voucher by affidavit sworn to as above prescribed, and the voucher must also be accompanied by a duly executed certificate, under the seal of the corporation, certifying to the authority of such officer or officers to execute such voucher and affidavit on behalf of the corporation.

(b) Method of signature. — The voucher must be signed by each person exactly as his name appears as "payee" therein. If any difference occurs between the name of the "payee" in the voucher and the signature to the voucher, appropriate evidence explaining the discrepancy must be furnished. Affidavits of two other persons in position to know the facts, stating of their own knowledge that the person signing the voucher is the person designated therein as "payee", and indicating the reasons for the discrepancy, will ordinarily be sufficient.

A signature by mark (x) must be witnessed by two persons in addition to the officer before whom the affidavit is executed and the signature and address of each such witness should appear on the voucher and the affidavit.

SEC. 3. ADDITIONAL PROVISIONS CONCERNING EXECUTION OF VOUCHERS BY PERSONS OTHER THAN THOSE IN WHOSE FAVOR AWARDS HAVE BEEN MADE

(a) Legal representative of deceased person or person under legal disability.—Where a voucher is drawn to a deceased person or person under legal disability as payee the legal representative of such person shall execute such voucher. In lieu of the affidavit prescribed in section 2 (a) herein, the legal representative should verify the voucher by an appropriate affidavit. In addition there should be submitted with the voucher a copy of the order or letters of appointment of such legal representative and a certificate of the clerk of the appointing court, dated not more than six months prior to the date of execution of the voucher, to the effect that such legal representative has not been discharged.

(b) Where legal representative of decedent has been discharged.—Where the legal representative of a decedent has been discharged and the estate closed, there should be submitted with the voucher a copy of the order of distribution or any other pertinent orders in probate proceedings sufficient to prove the authority and interest of the person or persons executing the voucher, together with an appropriate affidavit verifying that the person executing the affidavit is the person who signed the voucher and is entitled under such order to receive the payment described in the voucher.

(c) Where estate of decedent is not administered.—If a voucher is drawn to the estate of a decedent as payee, or if the person designated in a voucher as payee is deceased, and an executor or administrator has not and will not be appointed and the total amount of the final award due the estate of the decedent is not in excess of $500, the voucher may be signed by the person or persons who under the laws of the domicile of the decedent would be entitled to receive payment on the award. Evidence should be submitted to establish that administration of the estate of the decedent is not required under the laws of the decedent's domicile, that the debts of the decedent and of his estate have been paid or provided for, and that the person or persons who signed the voucher are entitled to receive payment on the award. Such evidence will, in general, include affidavits of the person or persons claiming to be entitled to the award setting forth the facts in detail, supported by affidavits of at least two other persons having personal knowledge of such facts, and by the official certificate or other proof of the death of the decedent. Wherever possible such supporting affidavits should be executed by public officers of the United States, or executive officers of incorporated banks or trust companies, and where this is not possible the affidavits of the person or persons claiming to be entitled to payment should so state. Upon request there must also be submitted an affidavit or certificate from a practicing attorney or judicial officer of the state of the decedent's domicile, showing that administration of the estate of the decedent is not required under the laws of the decedent's domicile and that the person or persons signing the voucher are entitled to receive payment on the award, and referring specifically to any pertinent statutes and judicial decisions of the courts of such state.

(d) Receivers and trustees.—If a receiver or trustee for a person designated as payee in a voucher has been duly appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction, the voucher must be signed by such receiver or trustee, or by a person duly authorized by an order of such court and the voucher must be accompanied by an appropriate affidavit verifying that the person executing the affidavit is the person who signed the voucher and is entitled to receive the payment described in the voucher. In such cases, the voucher should be accompanied by a copy of the order of the court appointing such receiver or trustee and a certificate of the clerk of such court, dated not more than six months prior to the date of execution of the voucher, to the effect that such receiver or trustee has not been discharged. If a receiver or trustee has been appointed as aforesaid, but the voucher is signed by a person other than such receiver or trustee, there should be submitted, in addition to a copy of the order of the court appointing such receiver or trustee, all orders of court and documents necessary to prove the authority and interest of the person signing the voucher.

(e) Corporations the existence of which has been terminated.—In the case of a corporation the existence of which has been terminated, the voucher must be signed by the person or persons authorized by law to wind up the affairs thereof or by a trustee, duly appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction, having authority to sign such voucher and receive payment. The voucher should be accompanied by court orders and other documents sufficient to prove the authority and interest of the person signing the voucher and by an appropriate affidavit verifying that the person executing the affidavit is the person who signed the voucher and is entitled to receive the payment described in the voucher.

SEC. 4. PAYMENTS

(a) Forwarding of vouchers.—The voucher and all related papers should be transmitted to the Commissioner of Accounts and Deposits, Room 376, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.

(b) Manner of payment.—Payment will be made by check drawn on the Treasurer of the United States. Checks will be mailed to the payee at the address indicated in the voucher unless subsequent to the execution of the voucher the Treasury Department receives a written request from the person entitled to receive payment to deliver the check to him at some other address. Where the award has been entered in favor of more than one person, only one check will be drawn in making payment, except that if the persons entitled to receive payment specify the share of each, and so request, separate checks will be drawn in accordance therewith.

(c) Allowances for attorneys' fees.—Vouchers for allowances made by the Special Mexican Claims Commission in favor of attorneys pursuant to section 8 of the Act must be executed as provided in sections 2 and 3 of these regulations and such allowances will be paid in the same manner as awards entered in favor of claimants.

SEC. 5. POWERS OF ATTORNEY AND ASSIGNMENTS

(a) Powers of attorney.—No power of attorney to sign a voucher will be recognized, but a power of attorney, executed subsequent to the submission of the report of the Special Mexican Claims Commission to the Secretary of State on May 31, 1938, to receive, endorse, and collect a check given in payment on an award, will be recognized. An appropriate form for such a power of attorney may be obtained from the Office of the Treasurer of the Unitetd States.

(b) Assignments.—Assignments by operation of law and assignments of awards executed subsequent to the submission of the report of the Special Mexican Claims Commission to the Secretary of State on May 31, 1938, will be recognized.

SEC. 6. ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE AND BONDS OF INDEMNITY

The Secretary of the Treasury may in any case require such additional information and evidence as may be deemed necessary and may also require a bond of indemnity with satisfactory sureties.

SEC. 7. RESERVATION OF POWER TO REVOKE OR AMEND

These regulations may be revoked or amended at any time.

Secretary of the Treasury.

(b) Senior leaders, mess stewards, cooks, and project assistants.—Not to exceed one leader, one mess steward, three cooks, and five project assistants per junior work company may be selected and enrolled without regard to age and marital status. * * * * * *

(c) Reenrollment.—To qualify for reenrollment a present member of the Civilian Conservation Corps must be physically qualified for ordinary labor and free from active disease, honorably discharged from the immediately preceding period of service, considered worthy of reenrollment, unmarried, if a junior, unless exempted as one of ten excepted men per company, under 24 years of age, if a junior (i. e., must not have passed his 24th birthday), unless exempted as one of ten excepted men per company, and with not more than 18 months previous enrolled service if a junior. Enrolled service prior to July 1, 1937, will not be computed in determining eligibility under this qualification.

An enrollee who in the opinion of both the company commander and the project superintendent is unworthy of the privilege of reenrollment, because of unsatisfactory performance of duties or other substantial reasons, will not be reenrolled. He will be informed by his company commander of that decision not less than 20 days prior to the prospective date of final departure from his camp.

An enrollee advised of the adverse decision of nonelligibility for reenrollment may appeal therefrom to the corps area commander. The appeal will be in writing and submitted or mailed to the company commander not later than 24 hours from the time of receipt of notice by him of the decision. It will be forwarded through the district commander to the corps area commander who will cause a thorough investigation to be made by a disinterested officer not belonging to the appellant's organization. The investigation will be in the form of a hearing. The record of the hearing, concluding with the investigating officer's finding and recommendation, will be in duplicate. Upon review, the action of the corps area commander will be noted thereon, one copy returned to the company commander for use in informing the appellant of the result of his appeal and for file. The decision of the corps area commander will be final.

The discharge certificate of an enrollee denied the privilege of reenrollment after having been found to be unworthy of that privilege, as provided above, will contain under "Remarks" the notation: "Not considered worthy of reenrollment". The notation will be immediately followed by the authenticating signatures of the company commander and the project superintendent. (50 Stat. 319) [C. C. C. Regs., W. D., Dec. 1, 1937; C 6, May 31, 1938.]

SEC. 3.07. Enrollment.—Certified selectees who pass the required physical examination upon subscribing to the oath on C. C. C. Form No. 1 will be enrolled, for periods of not less than 6 months, at place of acceptance, when the physical examination is given at that place and the corps area commander deems it expedient to direct such action, or at, reconditioning or work camps designated by the corps area commander.

An applicant rejected by reason of falsification of qualifications is not entitled to transportation in kind nor subsistence en route to place of selection or to his home.

Persons in any of the classifications listed in section 3.03, paragraph a, ante, if enrolled or reenrolled fraudulently, will be dishonorably discharged by the company commander for "fraudulent enrollment". Such persons who have been enrolled without fraud will be forthwith administratively discharged, except that members of the National Guard and civil law enforcement officers may, in such cases, be honorably discharged. It will be the duty of the company commander upon discovering that an enrollee has become a member of the Civilian Conservation Corps through falsification of qualifications for selection to report the facts to the appropriate State selecting agency whose field agents originally certified the individual for enrollment. Except as noted above, discharge from the Civilian Conservation Corps is not mandatory in cases of revealed falsification of qualification. Corps area commanders will determine the final disposition of each case, considering the recommendation received from the State selecting agency, and discharge under the provision of this subparagraph will be the exception rather than the rule. In all cases of discharge under the foregoing provisions due to deceit or error in establishing eligibility for selection and enrollment, the individual will be paid his full accumulated cash allowance to date of discharge and provided with the subsistence allowance and transportation as herein provided for all other discharged personnal. Claims for amounts due deceased enrollees as stated on Standard Form No. 1055 will be forwarded directly to the General Accounting Office, Claims Division. If an enrollee is not mentally competent to sign commercial papers and no guardian has legally been appointed, Standard Form No. 1055 will be forwarded to the disbursing officer for his action. If an enrollee is mentally competent to sign commercial papers, or if a guardian has legally been appointed, no Standard Form No. 1055 is required. (50 Stat. 319) [C. C. C. Regs., W. [Amendment 1 to S. and R. Announcements 143, Rev.]

AMENDMENT TO RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR CARRYING OUT THE PROVISIONS OF THE EXPORT APPLE AND PEAR ACT

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by "An Act To promote the foreign trade of the United States in apples and/or pears, to protect the reputation of American-grown apples and pears in foreign markets, to prevent deception or misrepresentation as to the quality of such products moving in foreign commerce, to provide for the commercial inspection of such products entering such commerce, and for other purposes," approved June 10, 1933 (48 Stat. 123), known as the Export Apple and Pear Act, I, M. L. Wilson, Acting Secretary of Agriculture, do hereby amend Regulation 13 (7 C. F. R., 33.17) of the rules and regulations issued under said Act on the 30th day of March, 1938,[1] to read as follows and to become effective on August 1, 1938:

REGULATION 13

Such shipments to Mexico, Cuba and the West Indies, Bahamas, Bermuda Islands, Newfoundland, or other islands adjacent to North America, or any country in Central America or South America except Argentina, or to any African port not on the Mediterranean Sea, or to any trans-Pacific port, need not comply with the requirements of the act: Provided, That shipments of less than 200 pounds gross weight to any foreign destination shall not be subject to the provisions of this act.

It is directed that notice of this amendment shall be published in at least two trade papers of the fruit industry within one week of its promulgation.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, this 19th day of July 1938.

[SEAL] M. L. WILSON,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

[B. E. P. Q.—475]

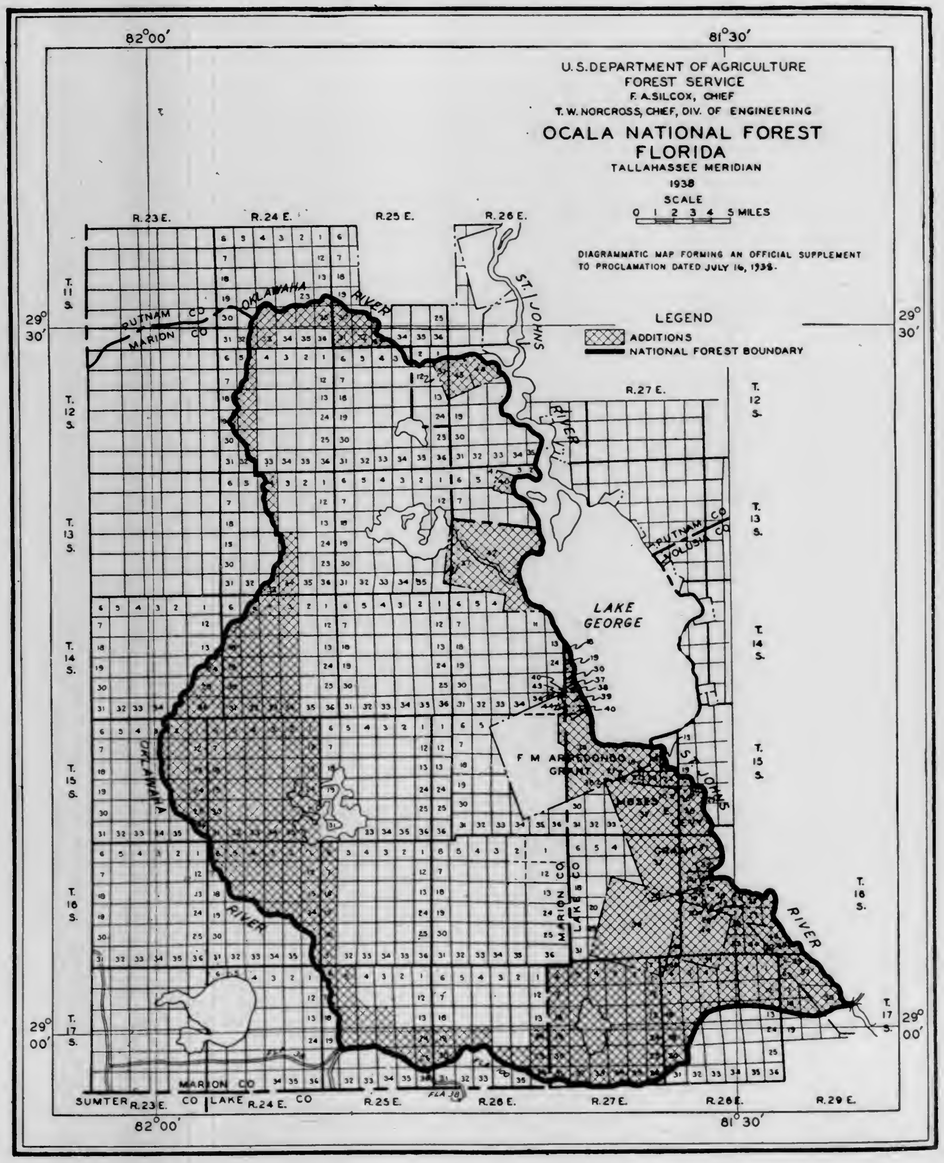
ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTIONS

Regulation 5, Sec. B, paragraph (6) of the Japanese beetle quarantine (No. 48)[1] authorizes the issuance of certificates for the interstate movement of onions via refrigerator car from the area listed in that regulation to points outside the regulated areas between June 15 and October 15 when the onions have been fumigated in the car, when deemed necessary in the judgment of the inspector and when the doors and hatches of the car have been tightly closed or adequately screened under the supervision of an inspector.

Treatment Authorized



The treatment described herein has been found to be effective against the Japanese beetle and such treatment is authorized as a basis for certification of onions moving to points outside the regulated areas between June 15 and October 15 via refrigerator car when such treatment is carried out under the supervision of an inspector and in a manner satisfactory to him.

Treatment Method

Fumigation of onions in dry refrigerator cars with methyl bromide at a dosage of 2 pounds per 1,000 cubic feet of space, including the space occupied by the onions and bunkers of the cars, for a period of 2 hours, during which time the car shall remain tightly closed with the plugs in place in the ventilator hatches. The temperature within the car when fumigated shall be not less than 70° F. Provision shall be made for circulating the mixture of air and fumigant in the car for as long a time as is deemed necessary by the inspector. At the end of the fumigation period the hatches shall be opened, the plugs removed, screens placed in the hatch openings, and the car shipped under standard ventilation.

In authorizing the movement of onions fumigated according to the requirements stated above, it is to be understood that no liability shall attach either to the United States Department of Agriculture or to any of its employees in the event of injury.

Caution.—Methyl bromide is a gas at ordinary temperatures. It is colorless and practically odorless in concentration used for the fumigation of onions. It is a poison, and the operator should use an approved gas mask when exposed to the gas at concentrations used in fumigation, and when opening the hatches for ventilating the cars. The car should not be entered until it is well aerated.

Chief, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

[T. D. 4828]

INCOME TAX

REGULATIONS 94, 86, 77, 74, 69, 65, AND 62 AMENDED TO ACCORD WITH SECTION 816 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1938, WITH RESPECT TO EXTENSIONS OF TIME FOR PAYMENT OF DEFICIENCIES IN INCOME TAX

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

1. In order to accord with section 816 of the Revenue Act of 1938, enacted May 28, 1938 (Public, No. 554, Seventy-fifth Congress, Chapter 289, third session), with respect to extensions of time for the payment of deficiencies in income tax under the Revenue Acts of 1936, 1934, 1932, 1928, 1926, 1924, and 1921, Regulations 94,[1] 86, 77, 74, 69, 65, and 62 are amended as follows:

(a) The following is inserted immediately preceding article 272–1 of Regulations 94[2] and 86, article 1171 of Regulations 77 and 74, article 1231 of Regulations 69 and 65, and article 1001 of Regulations 62:

"Section 816 of Title V of the Revenue Act of 1938 provides:

SEC. 816. Extension of Time for Payment of Deficiencies Approved by Commissioner.—The requirement of section 272 (j) of the Revenue Act of 1936, 1934, 1932, and 1928, section 274 (k) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, section 274 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1924, section 250 (f) of the Revenue Act of 1921, section 513 (i) of the Revenue Act of 1932, and section 308 (i) of the Revenue Act of 1926, of approval by the Secretary of extension of time for payment of deficiency in income, estate, or gift tax shall not apply after thirty days after the date of the enactment of this Act, but the approval shall be by the Commissioner under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary.

(b) Article 272–3 of Regulations 94[3] and 86, article 1173 of Regulations 77 and 74, article 1234 of Regulations 69 and 65, and article 1014 of Regulations 62 are amended by inserting immediately following the heading of the first paragraph of each of those articles the following:

"(a) Extensions granted prior to June 28, 1938.—"

(c) The following is inserted after the last paragraph of each of the articles enumerated in paragraph 1 (b) of this Treasury Decision:

"(b) Extensions granted on or after June 28, 1938.—If it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the payment of a deficiency upon the date or dates prescribed for the payment thereof will result in undue hardship to the taxpayer, the Commissioner may grant an extension of time for the payment of the deficiency or any part thereof for a period not in excess of 18 months, and in exceptional cases for a further period not in excess of 12 months. The extension will not be granted upon a general statement of hardship. The term 'undue hardship' means more than an inconvenience to the taxpayer. It must appear that substantial financial loss, for example, due to the sale of property at a sacrifice price, will result to the taxpayer from making payment of the deficiency at the due date. If a market exists, the sale of property at the current market price is not ordinarily considered as resulting in an undue hardship. The Act provides that no extension will be granted where the deficiency is due to negligence or intentional disregard of rules and regulations or to fraud with intent to evade tax.

"An application for an extension of time for the payment of a deficiency should be made under oath on Form 1127 and must be accompanied or supported by evidence showing the undue hardship that would result to the taxpayer if the extension were refused. A sworn statement of assets and liabilities of the taxpayer and an itemized statement under oath showing all receipts and disbursements for each of the three months immediately preceding the month in which falls the date prescribed for the payment of the deficiency are required and should accompany the application. The application, with the evidence, must be filed with the collector, who will transmit it to the Commissioner with his recommendations as to the extension. When it is received by the Commissioner, it will be examined, and, if possible, within 30 days will be denied, granted, or tentatively granted subject to certain conditions of which the taxpayer will be notified. The Commissioner will not consider an application for an extension of time for the payment of a deficiency unless request therefor is made to the collector on or before the date prescribed for payment thereof, as shown by the notice and demand from the collector, or on or before the date or dates prescribed for payment in any prior extension granted.

"As a condition to the granting of such an extension, the Commissioner will usually require the taxpayer to furnish a bond on Form 1127B in an amount not exceeding double the amount of the deficiency or to furnish other security satisfactory to the Commissioner for the payment of the liability on or before the date or dates prescribed for payment in the extension, so that the risk of loss to the Government will not be greater at the end of the extension period than it was at the beginning of the period. If a bond is required it shall be conditioned upon the payment of the deficiency, interest, and additional amounts assessed in connection therewith in accordance with the terms of the extension granted, and shall be executed by a surety company holding a certificate of authority from the Secretary of the Treasury as an acceptable surety on Federal bonds, and shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioner. In lieu of such a bond, the taxpayer may file a bond secured by deposit of bonds or notes of the United States as provided in section 1126 of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended by the Act entitled 'An Act to amend the second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, and for other purposes', approved February 4, 1935 (49 Stat. 20). The amount of the deficiency and additions thereto shall be paid on or before the expiration of the period of the extension without the necessity of notice and demand from the collector. Payment of the deficiency and additions thereto before the expiration of the extension will not relieve the taxpayer from paying the entire amount of interest provided for in the extension."

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

EXCESS-PROFITS TAX

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE EXCESS-PROFITS TAX IMPOSED BY SECTION 602 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1938

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

PARAGRAPH A. Section 601 (Title III—Capital Stock and Excess-Profits Taxes) of the Revenue Act of 1938, enacted May 28, 1938 (Public, No. 554, Seventy-fifth Congress, Chapter 289, third session), provides:

SEC. 601. Capital Stock Tax.—(a) For each year ending June 30, beginning with the year ending June 30, 1938, there is hereby imposed upon every domestic corporation with respect to carrying on or doing business for any part of such year an excise tax of $1 for each $1,000 of the adjusted declared value of its capital stock.

(b) For each year ending June 30, beginning with the year ending June 30, 1938, there is hereby imposed upon every foreign corporation with respect to carrying on or doing business in the United States for any part of such year an excise tax equivalent to $1 for each $1,000 of the adjusted declared value of capital employed in the transaction of its business in the United States.

(c) The taxes imposed by this section shall not apply—

(1) to any corporation enumerated in section 101 of this Act;

(2) to any insurance company subject to the tax imposed by sections 201, 204, or 207 of this Act.

(d) Every corporation liable for tax under this section shall make a return under oath within one month after the close of the year with respect to which such tax is imposed to the collector for the district in which is located its principal place of business or, if it has no principal place of business in the United States, then to the collector at Baltimore, Maryland. Such return shall contain such information and be made in such manner as the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary may by regulations prescribe. The tax shall, without assessment by the Commissioner or notice from the collector, be due and payable to the collector before the expiration of the period for filing the return. If the tax is not paid when due, there shall be added as part of the tax interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum from the time when the tax became due until paid. All provisions of law (including penalties) applicable in respect of the taxes imposed by section 600 of the Revenue Act of 1926 shall, insofar as not inconsistent with this section, be applicable in respect of the taxes imposed by this section. The Commissioner may extend the time for making the returns and paying the taxes imposed by this section, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe with the approval of the Secretary, but no such extension shall be for more than sixty days.

(e) Returns required to be filed for the purpose of the tax imposed by this section shall be open to inspection in the same manner, to the same extent, and subject to the same provisions of law, including penalties, as returns made under Title II of the Revenue Act of 1926.

(f) (1) The adjusted declared value shall be determined with respect to three-year periods beginning with the year ending June 30, 1938, and each third year thereafter. The first year of each such three-year period, or, in case of a corporation not subject for such year to the tax imposed by this section, the first year of such three-year period for which the corporation is subject to the tax, shall constitute a 'declaration year'.

(2) For each declaration year the adjusted declared value shall be the value, as declared by the corporation in its return for such declaration year (which declaration of value cannot be amended), as of the close of its last income-tax taxable year ending with or prior to the close of such declaration year (or as of the date of organization in the case of a corporation having no income-tax taxable year ending with or prior to the close of such declaration year).

(3) For each year of any three-year period subsequent to the declaration year, the adjusted declared value in the case of a domestic corporation shall be the value declared in the return for the declaration year plus—

(A) the cash, and the fair market value of property, paid in for stock or shares,

(B) paid-in surplus and contributions to capital,

(C) its net income,

(D) its income wholly exempt from Federal income tax, and

(E) the amount, if any, by which the deduction for depletion exceeds the amount which would be allowable if computed without regard to discovery value or to percentage depletion, under section 114 (b) (2), (3), or (4) of this Act or a corresponding section of a later Revenue Act;

and minus—

(I) the cash, and the fair market value of property, distributed to shareholders,

(II) the amount disallowed as a deduction by section 24 (a) (5) of this Act or a corresponding provision of a later Revenue Act, and

(III) the excess of the deductions allowable for income tax purposes over its gross income.

(4) The adjustments provided in paragraph (3) shall be made for each income-tax taxable year included in the three-year period from the date as of which the value was declared in the return for the declaration year to the close of the last income-tax taxable year ending with or prior to the close of the year for which the tax is imposed by this section. The amount of such adjustment for each such year shall be computed (on the basis of a separate return) according to the income tax law applicable to such year.

(5) For each year of any three-year period subsequent to the declaration year, the adjusted declared value in the case of a foreign corporation shall be the value declared in the return for the declaration year adjusted (for the same income-tax taxable years as in the case of a domestic corporation), in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, to reflect increases or decreases in the capital employed in the transaction of its business in the United States.

(6) The capital-stock tax year beginning with or within an income-tax taxable year within which bankruptcy or receivership, due to insolvency, of a domestic corporation, is terminated shall constitute a declaration year. In such case the adjusted declared value for any subsequent year of the three-year period shall be determined on the basis of the value declared in the return for such declaration year.

(g) For the purpose of the tax imposed by this section there shall be allowed in the case of a corporation organized under the China Trade Act, 1922, as a credit against the adjusted declared value of its capital stock, an amount equal to the proportion of such adjusted declared value which the par value of the shares of stock of the corporation, owned on the last day of the taxable year by (1) persons resident in China, the United States, or possessions of the United States, and (2) individual citizens of the United States or China wherever resident, bears to the par value of the whole number of shares of stock of the corporation outstanding on such date. For the purposes of this subsection shares of stock of a corporation shall be considered to be owned by the person in whom the equitable right to the income from such shares is in good faith vested; and as used in this subsection the term "China" shall have the same meaning as when used in the China Trade Act, 1922.

(h) The capital stock tax imposed by section 105 of the Revenue Act of 1935, as amended, shall not apply to any taxpayer with respect to any year after the year ending June 30, 1937.

PAR. B. Section 602 (Title III) of the Revenue Act of 1938 provides:

SEC. 602. Excess-profits tax.—(a) If any corporation is taxable under section 601 with respect to any year ending June 30, there is hereby imposed upon its net income for the income-tax taxable year ending after the close of such year, an excess-profits tax equal to the sum of the following:

6 per centum of such portion of its net income for such income-tax taxable year as is in excess of 10 per centum and not in excess of 15 per centum of the adjusted declared value;

12 per centum of such portion of its net income for such income-tax taxable year as is in excess of 15 per centum of the adjusted declared value.

(b) The adjusted declared value shall be determined as provided in section 601 as of the close of the preceding income-tax taxable year (or as of the date of organization if it had no preceding income-tax taxable year). If the income-tax taxable year in respect of which the tax under this section is imposed is a period of less than 12 months, such adjusted declared value shall be reduced to an amount which bears the same ratio thereto as the number of months in the period bears to 12 months. For the purposes of this section the net income shall be the same as the net income for income-tax purposes for the year in respect of which the tax under this section is imposed, computed without the deduction of the tax imposed by this section, but with a credit against net income equal to the credit for dividends received provided in section 26 (b) of this Act.

(c) All provisions of law (including penalties) applicable in respect of the taxes imposed by Title I of this Act, shall, insofar as not inconsistent with this section, be applicable in respect of the tax imposed by this section, except that the provisions of section 131 of that title shall not be applicable.

(d) The excess-profits tax imposed by section 106 of the Revenue Act of 1935, as amended, shall not apply to any taxpayer with respect to any income-tax taxable year ending after June 30, 1938.

Par. C. Section 53 (Title I) of the Revenue Act of 1938 provides:

SEC. 53. Time and place for filing returns.—(a) Time for filing.—

(1) General rule.—Returns made on the basis of the calendar year shall be made on or before the 15th day of March following the close of the calendar year. Returns made on the basis of a fiscal year shall be made on or before the 15th day of the third month following the close of the fiscal year.

(2) Extension of time.—The Commissioner may grant a reasonable extension of time for filing returns, under such rules and regulations as he shall prescribe with the approval of the Secretary. Except in the case of taxpayers who are abroad, no such extension shall be for more than six months.

(b) To whom return made.—

(1) Individuals.—Returns (other than corporation returns) shall be made to the collector for the district in which is located the legal residence or principal place of business of the person making the return, or, if he has no legal residence or principal place of business in the United States, then to the collector at Baltimore, Maryland.

(2) Corporations.—Returns of corporations shall be made to the collector of the district in which is located the principal place of business or principal office or agency of the corporation, or, if it has no principal place of business or principal office or agency in the United States, then to the collector at Baltimore, Maryland.

PAR. D. Section 145 (Title I) of the Revenue Act of 1938 provides:

SEC. 145. Penalties.—(a) Any person required under this title to pay any tax, or required by law or regulations made under authority thereof to make a return, keep any records, or supply any information, for the purposes of the computation, assessment, or collection of any tax imposed by this title, who willfully fails to pay such tax, make such return, keep such records, or supply such information, at the time or times required by law or regulations, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both, together with the costs of prosecution.

(b) Any person required under this title to collect, account for, and pay over any tax imposed by this title, who willfully fails to collect or truthfully account for and pay over such tax, and any person who willfully attempts in any manner to evade or defeat any tax imposed by this title or the payment thereof, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a felony and, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both, together with the costs of prosecution.

(c) The term "person" as used in this section includes an officer or employee of a corporation or a member or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in respect of which the violation occurs.

(d) For penalties for failure to file information returns with respect to foreign personal holding companies and foreign corporations, see section 340.

PAR. E. Section 62 (Title I) of the Revenue Act of 1938 provides:

SEC. 62. Rules and regulations.—The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe and publish all needful rules and regulations for the enforcement of this title.

Pursuant to the above-quoted provisions and other provisions of the internal revenue laws, the following regulations are hereby prescribed with respect to the excess-profits tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1938:

ARTICLE 1. Definitions.—As used in these regulations, the term—

(a) Adjusted declared value means in the case of a domestic corporation the adjusted declared value of its capital stock as determined under section 601 of the Revenue Act of 1938, and the regulations issued respecting the capital stock tax imposed by that section and in the case of a foreign corporation the adjusted declared value of capital employed in the transaction of its business in the United States as determined under such section and the regulations issued in reference thereto.

(b) Tax, except as otherwise indicated, means the excess-profits tax imposed by section 602 of the Revenue Act of 1938.

(c) Income-tax taxable year means the calendar year, the fiscal year ending during such calendar year, or the fractional part of a year, upon the basis of which the corporation's net income is computed and for which its income tax returns are made for Federal income tax purposes.

(d) Net income means (1) "net income" within the contemplation of section 21 of the Revenue Act of 1936, or (2) in the case of an income-tax taxable year governed by the Revenue Act of 1938, "net income" within the contemplation of section 21 of the Revenue Act of 1938. Neither the amount of income tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1936 or the Revenue Act of 1938, nor the amount of the excess-profits tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1935, as amended, or the Revenue Act of 1938, shall be deducted from net income in computing the excess-profits tax and none of the credits allowed corporations against net income for income tax purposes are applicable in respect of the excess-profits tax except the credit against net income equal to the credit for dividends received provided in section 26 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1936 and in section 26 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1938.

ART. 2. Scope of tax.—The excess-profits tax, imposed by section 602 of the Revenue Act of 1938, is imposed upon the net income of every corporation for each income-tax taxable year ending after the close of any year ending June 30 in respect of which the corporation is subject to the capital stock tax imposed by section 601 of that Act.

ART. 3. Measure and rate of tax.—(a) Domestic and foreign corporations.—The tax is imposed in an amount equal to the sum of (1) 6 percent of such portion of the corporation's net income for the income-tax taxable year as is in excess of 10 percent and not in excess of 15 percent of the adjusted declared value plus (2) 12 percent of such portion of its net income for the income-tax taxable year as is in excess of 15 percent of the adjusted declared value, as of the close of the last preceding income-tax taxable year (or as of the date of organization if the corporation had no preceding income-tax taxable year).

(b) Adjusted declared value.—No variation is permitted between the adjusted declared value set forth in the corporation's capital stock tax return and the adjusted declared value set forth in its excess-profits tax return, except that in the case of an excess-profits tax return for an income-tax taxable year which is a period of less than twelve months the adjusted declared value set forth in its capital stock tax return shall be reduced to an amount which bears the same ratio thereto as the number of months in the period bears to twelve months. The first return of a corporation covering the part of a year in which it was incorporated, or the final return of a corporation covering the part of the year in which it was dissolved, is a return for twelve months and not for a period of less than twelve months, for the purposes of this Treasury Decision.

ART. 4. Method of computation, example.—The application of the provisions of article 3 of these regulations may be illustrated generally by the following example:

Example.—The M Corporation, the income-tax taxable year of which is the calendar year, is subject to the capital stock tax imposed by section 601 of the Revenue Act of 1938 for the year ending June 30, 1938. The value declared in its capital stock tax return for the year ending June 30, 1938, of its capital stock as of the close of its preceding income-tax taxable year (the calendar year 1937) is $100,000. The net income of the corporation for the calendar year 1938, determined under the Revenue Act of 1938, is $25,000. (The net income for income-tax taxable years beginning after December 31, 1937, shall be determined under the Revenue Act of 1938.) During its taxable year the corporation received dividends from corporations subject to taxation under Title I of the Revenue Act of 1938, amounting to $5,000. The excess-profits tax for the calendar year 1938 is $990, computed as follows:

Net incomes for calendar year 1938	$25,000
Less:
Credit for dividends received (85 percent of $5,000)	4,250
Balance of net income	20,750
Less:
10 percent of the value declared in the capital stock tax return for the year ending June 30, 1938, of the capital stock as of December 31, 1937 (10 percent of $100,000)	10,000
Net income subject to excess-profits tax	10,750
Less:
Amount taxable at 6 percent, portion of net income in excess of 10 percent and not in excess of 15 percent of the adjusted declared value of the capital stock as of December 31, 1937 ($15,000 minus $10,000)	5,000
Amount taxable at 12 percent	5,750
Excess-profits tax at 6 percent (6 percent of $5,000)	300
Excess-profits tax at 12 percent (12 percent of $5,750)	690
Total excess-profits tax ($300 plus $690)	990

ART. 5. Returns.—Every corporation which is subject to the capital stock tax imposed by section 601 of the Revenue Act of 1938, for any year shall make an excess-profits tax return for each income-tax taxable year which ends after the close of the year in respect of which it is subject to such capital stock tax. There is no provision in the Revenue Act of 1938 which authorizes the making of a consolidated return by an affiliated group of corporations for the purpose of the excess-profits tax imposed by section 602 of that Act. Accordingly, every corporation which is liable for the making of an excess-profits tax return under section 602 of the Revenue Act of 1938 (for any income-tax taxable year ending after June 30, 1938), whether or not such corporation is a member of an affiliated group of corporations, must make its excess-profits tax return and compute its net income separately, without regard to the provisions of section 141 of the Revenue Act of 1938.

The excess-profits tax return shall be made within the time prescribed for making the corporation's Federal income tax return for the income-tax taxable year, and shall be made to the collector of internal revenue to whom such income tax return is required to be made.

ART. 6. Payment of tax.—The excess-profits tax for any income-tax taxable year shall be paid within the time prescribed for paying the Federal income tax for such taxable year.

ART. 7. Credits against tax prohibited.—Foreign income and profits taxes may not be credited against the excess-profits tax imposed by section 602 of the Revenue Act of 1938.

ART. 8. Determination of tax, assessment, collection.—The determination, assessment, and collection of the tax, and the examination of returns and claims in connection therewith, will be made under such procedure as may be prescribed from time to time by the Commissioner.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

CONDITION OF THE APPORTIONMENT AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS FRIDAY, JULY 15, 1938

Important.—Although the apportioned classified civil service is by law located only in Washington, D. C., it nevertheless includes only about half of the Federal Civilian positions in the District of Columbia. Positions in local post offices, customs districts, and other field services outside of the District of Columbia which are subject to the Civil Service Act are filled almost wholly by persons who are local residents of the general community in which the vacancies exist. It should be noted and understood that so long as a person occupies, by original appointment, a position in the apportioned service, the charge for his appointment continues to run against his State of original residence. Certifications of eligibles are first made from States which are in arrears.

AGRICULTURAL ADJUSTMENT ADMINISTRATION

PROCLAMATION WITH RESPECT TO BASE PERIOD TO BE USED FOR PURPOSE OF MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER REGULATING HANDLING OF FRESH PRUNES GROWN IN UMATILLA COUNTY IN STATE OF OREGON, AND WALLA WALLA AND COLUMBIA COUNTIES IN STATE OF WASHINGTON

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the terms and provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, the Secretary of Agriculture hereby finds and proclaims that, in connection with the execution of a marketing agreement and the issuance of an order regulating the handling of fresh prunes grown in Umatilla County in the State of Oregon, and Walla Walla and Columbia Counties in the State of Washington, the purchasing power of such fresh prunes during the base period August 1909–July 1914 cannot be satisfactorily determined from available statistics of the Department of Agriculture, but that the purchasing power of such fresh prunes can be satisfactorily determined from available statistics of the Department of Agriculture for the post-war period August 1919–July 1929; and the period August 1919–July 1929 is hereby found and proclaimed to be the base period to be used in connection with ascertaining the purchasing power of fresh prunes grown in Umatilla County in the State of Oregon, and Walla Walla and Columbia Counties in the State of Washington, for the purpose of the execution of a marketing agreement and the issuance of an order regulating the handling of fresh prunes in that area.

In witness whereof, the Secretary of Agriculture has executed this proclamation in duplicate and has hereunto set his hand and caused the seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, this 19th day of July, 1938.

ORDER REGULATING THE HANDLING IN INTERSTATE AND FOREIGN COMMERCE, AND SUCH HANDLING AS DIRECTLY BURDENS, OBSTRUCTS OR AFFECTS INTERSTATE OR FOREIGN COMMERCE OF FRESH PRUNES GROWN IN UMATILLA COUNTY IN STATE OF OREGON AND WALLA WALLA AND COLUMBIA COUNTIES IN STATE OF WASHINGTON

Whereas, it is provided in Public Act No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, approved June 3, 1937, as amended (hereinafter called the act), as follows:

SEC. 8c. (1) The Secretary of Agriculture shall, subject to the provisions of this section, issue, and from time to time amend, orders applicable to processors, associations of producers, and others engaged in the handling of any agricultural commodity or product thereof specified in subsection (2) of this section. Such persons are referred to in this title as "handlers." Such orders shall regulate, in the manner hereinafter in this section provided, only such handling of such agricultural commodity, or product thereof, as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects, interstate or foreign commerce in such commodity or product thereof.

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture, having reason to believe that the issuance of an order would tend to establish and maintain such marketing conditions for fresh prunes grown in Umatilla County in the State of Oregon, and Walla Walla and Columbia Counties in the State of Washington, as would establish prices to growers at a level that will give such fresh prunes a purchasing power with respect to articles that farmers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such fresh prunes in the base period, did, pursuant to the provisions of the act and regulations thereunder, on the fifteenth day of April, 1938, give notice of a hearing to be held in Milton, Oregon, on May 3, 1938,[1] on a proposed order regulating the handling of fresh prunes grown in Umatilla County in the State of Oregon, and Walla Walla and Columbia Counties in the State of Washington, and did, upon said date and at said place, conduct a public hearing thereon, and did give opportunity to all interested parties to be heard concerning the said proposed order; and

Whereas, the Secretary has found and proclaimed that the purchasing power of fresh prunes grown in Umatilla County in the State of Oregon, and Walla Walla and Columbia Counties in the State of Washington, during the period August 1909–July 1914, cannot be satisfactorily determined from the available statistics of the Department of Agriculture, but that the purchasing power of such commodity can be satisfactorily determined from available statistics of the Department of Agriculture for the period August 1919–July 1929, and the period August 1919–July 1929, is the base period to be used in connection with this order in determining the purchasing power of such commodity; and

Whereas, the Secretary further finds upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof:

(1) That customarily more than 95 per cent of all shipments of fresh prunes grown in Umatilla County in the State of Oregon, and Walla Walla and Columbia Counties in the State of Washington is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce and directly burdens, obstructs or affects such commerce;

(2) That at the time of the hearing the prices received by the growers of such fresh prunes were at a level that gave such fresh prunes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such growers buy appreciably below the purchasing power of such fresh prunes during the base period;

(3) That in the past, lack of regulation of shipments of fresh prunes produced in Umatilla County in the State of Oregon, and Walla Walla and Columbia Counties in the State of Washington, was an important factor contributing to unstable marketing conditions for said fresh prunes and consequently depressed prices to growers;

(4) That the regulation of shipments of fresh prunes by grades and by other methods prescribed by this order will tend to prevent fluctuations of prices to growers, particularly prices which are so low as to represent losses to growers, and thereby establish and maintain a more stable market for said fresh prunes and tend to restore prices to growers of fresh prunes to a level that will have a purchasing power with respect to articles that farmers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of fresh prunes in the base period;

(5) That the methods provided for the regulation of shipments are fair and equitable;

(6) That this order is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area and to the smallest regional marketing area that is practicable, consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act, and that the issuance of several orders applicable to any subdivision of such regional production and marketing areas would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act; and

(7) That this order and all the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to fresh prunes grown in the said area by establishing and maintaining such orderly marketing conditions therefor as will establish prices to producers thereof at a level that will give such fresh prunes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such fresh prunes in the base period and by protecting the interest of the consumer by (a) approaching the level of prices which it is declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish by a gradual correction of the current level of prices at as rapid a rate as the Secretary deems to be in the public interest and feasible in view of the current consumptive demand in domestic and foreign markets, and by (b) authorizing no action which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to producers above the level which it is declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish; and

(8) That the pro rata contribution of handlers to the expenses of the administrative agency herein created, based upon the quantity of fresh prunes shipped, as provided in this order, is fair and equitable; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture further finds:

(1) That the marketing agreement regulating the handling of fresh prunes grown in Umatilla County in the State of Oregon, and Walla Walla and Columbia Counties in the State of Washington, executed by him on July 19, 1938 and upon which a public hearing was held on May 3, 1938, was signed by handlers who handled more than fifty percent of such commodity produced during the period August 1, 1936–October 1, 1937; and

[1] 3 F. R. 899 DL

(2) That this order regulates the handling of said fresh prunes in the same manner as the said marketing agreement does, and is made applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activities specified in the aforesaid marketing agreement; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture finds and determines that the issuance of this order is favored by producers, who, during the marketing seasons of 1936 and 1937, which the Secretary determines to be a representative period, produced for market at least two-thirds of the volume of such commodity produced for market within the production area specified in such order;

Now, therefore, it is ordered by the Secretary of Agriculture, acting under the authority vested in him as aforesaid, that the handling of fresh prunes grown in Umatilla County in the State of Oregon, and Walla Walla and Columbia Counties in the State of Washington, in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or so as directly to burden, obstruct or affect interstate or foreign commerce in such fresh prunes from and after the date herein specified shall be in conformity to, and in compliance with, the terms and conditions of this order.

A Control Committee, consisting of nine (9) members, is hereby established to administer the terms and provisions of this order as herein specifically provided. There shall be an alternate for each of said nine (9) members of the Control Committee. The initial members and alternates shall be selected in accordance with the provisions of this article and shall serve for a term ending April 30, 1939. The members and alternates of said Control Committee selected subsequent to those selected for the aforesaid initial period ending April 30, 1939, shall be selected in accordance with the provisions of this article and shall serve for a term of one year, beginning on May 1. In the event any members or alternates, selected subsequent to those selected for the aforesaid initial period ending April 30, 1939, are selected or have qualified subsequent to May 1 of any year, the term of said members or alternates shall end on April 30, following their selection. All members or alternates shall serve until their successors shall have been selected and shall have qualified. Any person selected as a member or alternate of the Control Committee shall qualify by filing with the Secretary, or with the designated representative of the Secretary, a written acceptance of the appointment.

2. One member of the Control Committee and his alternate shall represent growers of prunes. Such member and his alternate shall be selected by the Secretary from two nominees designated by all growers of prunes at an election held at a general meeting in which all growers of prunes shall be entitled to participate, or from other growers of prunes in the area covered by this order. At any such election, designating the two nominees aforesaid, each grower shall cast only one vote for each nominee, on behalf of himself, his agents, partners, affiliates, subsidiaries, and representatives. Each grower member and alternate so nominated shall be a grower, who produces prunes in the area covered by this order and who does not handle prunes in excess of twenty (20) percent of the quantity grown by him, nor shall such member or alternate be an employee or representative of a handler.

3. One member of the Control Committee and his alternate shall represent growers of prunes not members of the Blue Mountain Prune Growers Cooperative. 4. Four members of the Control Committee shall represent all handlers of prunes. The four members of the Control Committee and their respective alternates, representing handlers of prunes, shall be selected by the Secretary from a group of eight nominees designated by handlers of prunes in the area included in this order, at an election held at a general meeting in which all handlers of prunes shall be entitled to participate, or from other handlers of prunes in said area. At any such election, designating the group of eight nominees aforesaid, each handler shall cast only one vote for each standard car or equivalent quantity of prunes handled, in interstate or foreign commerce, by such handler during the season next preceding the year in which the election is being held, on behalf of his agents, partners, affiliates, subsidiaries, and representatives; Provided, however, If any such handler shipped in interstate or foreign commerce less than one standard car or equivalent quantity of prunes during such season, such handler shall be entitled to cast one vote in said election.

5. Three members of the Control Committee and their respective alternates shall represent the Blue Mountain Prune Growers Cooperative. The three members of the Control Committee and their respective alternates, representing the Blue Mountain Prune Growers Cooperative, shall be selected by the Secretary from six nominees designated by and from the Board of Directors of said Cooperative, or from other members of the said Cooperative.

6. Nominees for members of the Control Committee to represent the handlers, growers and the Blue Mountain Prune Growers Cooperative and their respective alternates whose term of office shall expire on April 30, 1939, shall be selected at meetings of the handlers, growers and the Board of Directors of the Blue Mountain Prune Growers Cooperative called by the Secretary, or such person as the Secretary may designate, as soon as practicable after the effective date of this order.

Each of such meetings shall select its chairman and secretary. After the selection of the nominees to represent handlers, growers and the Blue Mountain Prune Growers Cooperative, from whom the Secretary may select the members and alternates to represent the handlers, growers and the Blue Mountain Prune Growers Cooperative, respectively, the chairman and the secretary of each of the meetings shall forthwith transmit to the Secretary, or to such person as the Secretary may designate, their certificate as to the number of votes cast for said nominees and the names of the nominees so designated.

7. To fill any vacancy occasioned by the failure of any person, selected as a member of the Control Committee or selected as an alternate, to qualify, or the death, removal, resignation or disqualification of any qualified member or alternate, a successor for his unexpired term shall be selected at a meeting in the manner heretofore indicated. If a successor for any such vacancy is not selected within 20 days after such vacancy occurs, the Secretary may select such member or alternate without regard to his nomination, or may select a successor to fill such vacancy from persons not nominated at an election so held.

8. An alternate for a member of the Control Committee, selected pursuant to the provisions of this order, shall act in the place and stead of such member, in event of such member's absence, or until a successor for the unexpired term of such member has been selected, in the event of such member's (a) removal, (b) resignation, (c) disqualification, or (d) death.

9. The members of the Control Committee, and their respective alternates shall serve without compensation, but said members and their respective alternates shall be reimbursed for expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of their respective duties.

3. To investigate, from time to time, and assemble data on, the growing, shipping and marketing conditions respecting prunes grown in the area covered by this order, and to furnish to the Secretary such available information as may be requested;

4. To perform such duties as may be assigned to it from time to time by the Secretary in connection with the administration of section 32 of the Act to Amend the Agricultural Adjustment Act, and for other purposes, Public No. 320, 74th Congress, approved August 24, 1935, as amended:

5. To cause the books of the Control Committee to be audited by one or more competent accountants at least once each fiscal year and at such other times as the Control Committee may deem necessary or as the Secretary may request, and to file with the Secretary copies of any and all audit reports made;

6. To appoint such employees as it may deem necessary, and to determine the salaries and define the duties of such employees;

7. To give the Secretary, or the designated agent of the Secretary, the same notice of meetings of the Control Committee as is given to the members of the Control Committee; and

8. To select a chairman of the Control Committee and, from time to time, such other officers as it may deem advisable.

SEC. 4. Procedure.—1. The Control Committee shall not perform any of its powers or duties herein prescribed while there are more than two vacancies in its membership. A quorum shall consist of seven (7) members, or alternates then serving in the place and stead of any members, in attendance at the meeting, and all decisions of the Control Committee shall be made by not less than six (6) affirmative votes.

2. The Control Committee may provide for members voting by telephone, mail or telegraph upon due notice to all members, and promptly after voting by telephone, the members thus voting shall confirm in writing the votes so cast by telephone.

3. The members of the Control Committee, including successors and alternates, and any agent or employee appointed or employed by the Control Committee shall be subject to removal or suspension by the Secretary at any time. Each and every regulation, decision, determination or other act of the Control Committee shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time, and, upon such disapproval, shall be deemed null and void except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in compliance therewith prior to such disapproval by the Secretary.

SEC. 5. Funds and other property.—1. All funds received by the Control Committee pursuant to any of the provisions of this order shall be used solely for the purposes herein specified, and the Secretary may require the Control Committee and its members to account for all receipts and disbursements.

2. Upon the death, resignation, removal or expiration of the term of office of any member of the Control Committee or of any employee of the Control Committee all books, records, funds and other property in his possession shall be delivered to the Control Committee or to his successor in office, and such assignments and other instruments shall be executed as may be necessary to vest in the Control Committee or his successor full title to all the books, records, funds and other property in the possession or under the control of such member or employee pursuant to this order.

3. The Control Committee may, with the approval of the Secretary, maintain in its own name, or in the names of its members, a suit against any shipper for the collection of such shipper's pro rata share of expenses.

ARTICLE III.—REGULATION OF SHIPMENTS

SECTION 1. Establishment of regulation period.—1. It shall be the duty of the Control Committee to investigate supply and demand conditions with respect to prunes. Whenever such conditions make it advisable to regulate the shipment of prunes, the Control Committee shall recommend to the Secretary the establishment of a regulation period or series of regulation periods during which the shipments of prunes may be regulated pursuant to the provisions of this article. Such recommendation of the Control Committee shall be made at a meeting of the Control Committee held at least 24 hours prior to the commencement of such recommended regulation period or series of regulation periods. The Control Committee shall promptly notify all growers and shippers of such recommendation by giving notice in such manner as it shall deem adequate under the circumstances.

2. Based upon such recommendations made pursuant to paragraph 1 of this section or other information available to the Secretary, the Secretary may establish a regulation period or series of regulation periods, if the Secretary shall find that to establish a regulation period or series of regulation periods for shipments of prunes in the current of interstate or foreign commerce during the particular period or periods within the season would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, and he shall notify the Control Committee of the establishment thereof, as well as of the time of commencement, duration and termination thereof.

SEC. 2. Computation of quantity available for Shipment.—1. The Control Committee, prior to the beginning of shipments in each season, shall compute the total quantity of prunes which will be available for shipment during the season. To assist in such determination, each shipper shall report to the Control Committee, in such form and substantiated in such manner as the Control Committee may prescribe, the total quantity of prunes available for shipment to which he has legal title or for which he has authority from the owners or growers thereof to handle, and also the name of each such owner or grower and the quantity of prunes which such shipper is authorized to handle for each such owner or grower. Each grower having prunes which no shipper has authority to handle may in like manner report to the Control Committee his total quantity of prunes available for shipment during the season. Such reports and the orchards represented by them may be checked by the Control Committee or the employees duly designated by it in such manner as may be necessary to arrive at a reasonably correct determination of the total quantity of prunes available for shipment during such season, and on the basis of such check or recalculation of the reports submitted by each shipper or grower, the Control Committee may revise any such report. The total quantity of prunes available for shipment by each grower and handler for the remainder of a season may be revised at the beginning of any regulation period whenever such revision is substantiated by additional information available to the Control Committee or the Secretary. The Control Committee shall report to the Secretary all determinations and recommendations of the Control Committee pursuant to the provisions of this section and the evidence on which such determinations and recommendations were predicated.

2. The Control Committee shall advise each shipper and each grower who has reported prunes available for shipment of the result of the original determination or any revised determination of the Control Committee with regard to the probable total quantity of prunes available for shipment by such shipper and grower during the season or remainder of the season.

SEC. 3. Determination of total advisable shipments.—For each regulation period established pursuant to section 1 of this article, the Control Committee shall procure available evidence concerning the supply of and demand for prunes during the period for which regulation of shipments is contemplated and from such evidence the Control Committee shall determine the total quantity of prunes which it deems advisable to be shipped during such regulation period or during each day within a regulation period. The evidence procured pursuant to this section and the recommendation of the Control Committee as to total or daily advisable shipments during any regulation period shall be transmitted to the Secretary.

SEC. 4. Fixing of allotments by the Secretary.—1. From the reports made pursuant to sections 2 and 3 of this article and other available information, the Secretary shall determine (a) the total quantity of prunes available for shipment by each and all shippers and growers during the season or the remainder of the season, and (b) the total quantity of prunes advisable to be shipped during the regulation period, or (c) the quantity advisable to be shipped each day during the regulation period. Thereupon the Secretary shall fix the allotment for each shipper and grower reporting prunes available for shipment by directing; (a) that the allotment for each shipper or grower for such regulation period shall be that percentage of the total quantity of prunes advisable for shipment during the regulation period which the total quantity of prunes available for shipment by each such grower and shipper during the season or the remainder of the season is of the total quantity of prunes available for shipment by all shippers and growers during the season or the remainder of the season; or (b) that the allotment for each shipper and grower for each day during such regulation period shall be that percentage of the total quantity of prunes advisable for shipment during each day of the regulation period which the total quantity of prunes available for shipment by each shipper or grower during the season or the remainder of the season is of the total quantity of prunes available for shipment by all shippers and growers during the season or the remainder of the season. The Control Committee shall notify, by such methods as may be deemed adequate, under the circumstances, each shipper and grower of the amount of his allotment.

2. Each shipper shall apportion the quantity of prunes represented by his allotment equitably among the growers whose prunes he reported to the Control Committee pursuant to section 2 of this article.

SEC. 5. Lending and transfer of allotments.—Subject to such procedural rules and regulations as the Control Committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe, shippers and growers to whom allotments have been made may transfer such allotments in whole or in part. The amount of such transfer shall be deducted from the allotment of the transferor and added to the allotment of the transferee. Shippers may also borrow allotments or portions of allotments from other shippers: Provided, That the shipper borrowing the allotment shall agree to return to the lender at a later period of time in the same shipping season an allotment or portion of an allotment of the same quantity. The lending of allotments shall be subject to such procedural rules and regulations as the Control Committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe.

SEC. 6. Over and undershipments.—No shipper shall ship prunes in excess of his allotment for any regulation period or any day within a regulation period, except for additional allotments transferred or borrowed from a shipper or grower pursuant to the provisions of this article; Provided, however, That in the event such shipper's daily allotment plus all allotments transferred to such shipper, shall give such shipper the right to ship a fractional part of a carload, such shipper may ship such fractional carload at such later date as will permit the accumulation of such fractional carloads into one whole carload. The Control Committee shall endeavor to secure such transfers among the shippers holding allotments for such fractional carloads as will cause the shipment of such accumulated fractional carloads to be evenly distributed over the regulation period.

SEC. 7. Modification or termination of regulation period.—If the limitation of shipments during any regulation period is rendered unnecessary by reason of unforeseen increased demand, reduction in the available supply or other causes, the Secretary may modify or terminate such regulation.

SEC. 8. Shipments for charitable and relief purposes.—Nothing contained in this order shall be construed to authorize any limitation of the right to ship prunes for consumption by charitable institutions or distribution by relief agencies.

ARTICLE IV.—REGULATION BY GRADE

SECTION 1. Recommendation.—1. Whenever the Control Committee deems it advisable to regulate the shipment of any grade of prunes for a specified period, it shall so recommend to the Secretary. In such event the Control Committee shall furnish to the Secretary all information and data upon which such recommendation is based, including but not being limited to information with respect to the factors affecting the supply of and demand for prunes by grade. Such recommendation, including the time of commencement and termination of the regulation period, shall be made at a meeting of the Control Committee held at least twenty-four hours prior to the commencement of such regulation period. The Control Committee shall notify handlers and growers of such recommendation by giving notice thereof in such manner as it may deem adequate under the circumstances.

2. Based upon such recommendation made pursuant to paragraph 1 of this section, or other information available to the Secretary, the Secretary may establish a regulation period, if the Secretary shall find that to limit the shipment of a particular grade of prunes in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, during such regulation period, would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. Such regulation of shipments of prunes may be accomplished by (a) prohibiting the shipment of certain grades during such period, or (b) by prohibiting the shipment of a part of any grade. When the Secretary has determined to regulate shipments as provided in this article, he shall immediately notify the Control Committee of such determination, and the Control Committee shall immediately notify shippers and growers of such determination by giving notice in such manner as the Control Committee shall deem adequate under the circumstances.

SEC. 2. Exemptions.—1. In the event of a regulation period established pursuant to the provisions of this article, the Control Committee shall determine the percentage which the grades of the prunes permitted to be shipped is of the total crop which would be shipped in the absence of regulation under this article. The Control Committee shall announce forthwith this percentage and the procedure by which exemption certificates will be issued to growers pursuant to this section.

2. If any grower shall present proof to the Control Committee that the regulation of shipments will permit the shipment during the period of a percentage of his prunes less than the percentage found in accordance with paragraph 1 of this section, the Control Committee shall issue to him an exemption certificate allowing the shipment of such quantity of the limited grade as will make the percentage of his crop that may be shipped equal to the percentage found in accordance with paragraph 1 of this section. If any grower is dissatisfied with the determination by the Control Committee with respect to such exemption certificates, he may appeal to the Secretary, and the Secretary may modify or cancel the issuance of exemption certificates, or the Secretary may authorize the issuance of exemption certificates. The authority of the Secretary to supervise and control the issuance of exemption certificates is plenary and complete, and any determination made by the Secretary with respect to exemption certificates shall be final.

SEC. 3. Grading and certification.—1. During any grade regulation period or periods established pursuant to the provisions of this article, all shipments of prunes, in interstate or foreign commerce, grown in the area covered by this order shall be graded and certified on the basis of the grades now promulgated by the United States Department of Agriculture, or as the same may be modified or changed hereafter.

2. Each handler, prior to making each shipment of prunes in interstate or foreign commerce during any such regulation period established pursuant to this article, shall have the prunes included in each such shipment inspected by a duly authorized representative of the Federal-State Inspection Service, and each such shipper shall submit promptly, or cause to be submitted promptly, to the Control Committee shipping point inspection certificates issued by the Federal-State Inspection Service stating the grade of prunes in each such shipment.

ARTICLE V.—PRICE FILING AND POSTING

SECTION 1. Recommendation.—Whenever the Control Committee deems it advisable that prunes should be sold by handlers only at prices filed by such handlers, it may so recommend to the Secretary. Such recommendation, including the time of commencement and termination of the regulation period, shall be made at a meeting of the Control Committee held at least twenty-four hours prior to the commencement of such regulation period.

SEC. 2. Establishment.—Based upon such recommendation made pursuant to section 1 of this article, or other information available to the Secretary, the Secretary may establish a regulation period during which time handlers shall file, in the manner hereinafter prescribed, prices at which such handlers may quote, offer for sale or sell prunes, if the Secretary deems that such regulation of the flow of shipments of prunes during the regulation period would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

SEC. 3. Notice of regulation.—Whenever the Secretary establishes a regulation period pursuant to the provisions of this article, he shall notify the Control Committee thereof. The Control Committee shall promptly notify shippers and growers of such regulation by giving notice in such manner as the Control Committee shall deem adequate under the circumstances, and the Control Committee shall give notice likewise of all regulations issued and forms prescribed as it may deem advisable to procure the dissemination of information to all interested persons.

SEC. 4. Price filing and posting.—Immediately after a price filing regulation period becomes effective, pursuant to the provisions of this article, each handler shall file with the Control Committee a complete schedule of prices at which he quotes, offers for sale or sells prunes; Provided, however, That such filed prices shall not apply to prunes sold at auction by such handlers. All such schedules and revisions thereof filed pursuant to this section of this article shall be posted in the office of the Control Committee. The Control Committee shall notify all handlers in the area covered by this agreement of all price schedules or revisions thereof by mail posted at or before the end of the same business day such schedule or revision thereof was filed. Such notice shall state the time at which such filed price schedules or revisions thereof shall become effective.

SEC. 5. Revision of price schedules.—In event any handler desires to quote, offer for sale or sell prunes at a price or prices different from the price or prices stated in the schedule filed by him with the Control Committee, such handler shall file with said Committee a revised schedule of his prices. Such revised schedule shall become effective at such time as may be established by the Control Committee, after it has been received by the Committee; Provided, however, That if such period of time is less than twenty-four (24) hours or more than forty-eight hours, it shall be approved by the Secretary. If any handler files a revised price schedule any other handler may file a revised price schedule which shall become effective at the same time as the schedule filed by the first handler; Provided, Such price schedule is not lower than that filed by the first handler.

SEC. 6. Manner of filing prices.—The Control Committee shall prescribe a standard form of price schedule on which each handler shall file his selling prices, discounts, all other terms and conditions of sale and such other information deemed necessary by the Control Committee for each grade and type of pack of prunes. Price schedules filed or revised by telephone shall be confirmed as soon as possible on standard forms signed by the handler. The Control Committee shall cause the exact time and date that any schedule is received to be written on forms prescribed therefor.

ARTICLE VI.—ASSESSMENTS

SECTION 1. Expenses and assessments.—1. The Control Committee is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary finds may be necessary to carry out its functions under this order. The funds to cover such expenses shall be acquired by the levying of assessments as hereinafter provided.

2. Each handler shall pay to the Control Committee upon demand such handler's pro rata share, as is approved by the Secretary, of the expenses as the Secretary finds will be necessarily incurred by the Control Committee for the maintenance and functioning of the Control Committee during the fiscal year. SECTION 701. When it is desired to stop payment of any check drawn on the Treasurer of the United States because of failure of the payee to receive same, or for any other reason, the State, Division, District, or Territorial Manager, or Regional Treasurer shall promptly notify the Treasurer of the Corporation, describing the check, stating the name of the officer or agent of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation by whom the check was drawn, giving, if possible, its payee, date, number, symbol number, amount, reason for requesting that payment be stopped, whether the check was endorsed, and if so, a description of the endorsements.

Upon determination by the Treasurer that a check is outstanding, payment will be stopped and, in appropriate cases, a bond of indemnity and affidavit will be transmitted for execution by the claimant. Upon satisfactory execution of a bond of indemnity and affidavit, or, in appropriate cases, of an application and affidavit, and the approval of such bond of indemnity and affidavit, or application and affidavit, by the General Counsel as to legal sufficiency and conformance with regulations governing the issuance of duplicate checks, the Treasurer is authorized to issue and sign duplicate checks upon any account of the Corporation now or hereafter established; provided that no duplicate check shall be issued until after the expiration of thirty (30) days from the date of the original check, except as hereinafter provided, or after the close of the fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the original check was issued. The signing of the duplicate check by the Treasurer shall constitute approval of the issuance of the duplicate check. The requirement of a bond of indemnity and affidavit may be waived, in the discretion of the Treasurer, in any of the following classes of cases:

(a) If the Treasurer is satisfied that the loss, theft, destruction, mutilation, or defacement, as the case may be, occurred without fault of the owner or holder and while the check was in the custody or control of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation (not including the Postal Service when acting solely in its capacity as the public carrier of the mails), or of a person thereunto duly authorized as lawful agent of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation;

(b) If substantially the entire check is presented and surrendered by the owner or holder and the Treasurer is satisfied as to the identity of the check presented, and that any missing portions are not sufficient to form the basis of a valid claim against the Home Owners' Loan Corporation or the United States;

(c) If the Treasurer is satisfied that the original check is not negotiable and cannot be made the basis of a valid claim against the Home Owners' Loan Corporation or the United States.

(d) If the amount of the check is less than $50 and the Treasurer is satisfied that the giving of a bond of indemnity would be an undue hardship to the owner or holder, it being ordinarily assumed that the giving of a bond of indemnity would constitute an undue hardship in those instances where the amount of the check is not over $20 and the original check has not been received by the payee; and

(e) If the owner or holder is a State or political subdivision thereof, a corporation the whole of whose capital is owned by the United States, a foreign government, or a Federal Reserve Bank.

The General Manager, in his discretion, may waive the requirement that no duplicate check be issued until the expiration of thirty (30) days, and may, in event the payee refuses to execute a bond of indemnity or affidavit and in his opinion it is to the best interests of the Corporation that a duplicate check be issued, waive the requirement of the bond of indemnity and affidavits.

"The return must be filed in duplicate and under oath. If the return is filed for the calendar year 1939, or for any calendar year thereafter, it must set forth every transfer by gift to any one donee during such calendar year which singly or in the aggregate exceeds $4,000 in value (or regardless of value in the case of a gift in trust or of a future interest in property). A return filed for the portion of the calendar year 1932 subsequent to June 6, 1932, or for any calendar year thereafter prior to the calendar year 1939, must set forth every transfer by gift to any one donee during such calendar year which singly or in the aggregate exceeds $5,000 in value (or regardless of value in the case of a gift of a future interest in property)."

The seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth sentences of the first paragraph of article 31, which read—

"A sworn statement of assets and liabilities of the donor is required and should accompany the application. An itemized statement showing all receipts and disbursements for each of the three months preceding the due date of the tax shall also be submitted. The application with the evidence must be filed with the collector, who will at once transmit it to the Commissioner with his recommendations as to the extension. The Commissioner will not consider an application for an extension of time unless such application is made on or before the due date of the tax for which the extension is desired."

are amended to read as follows:

"A sworn statement of assets and liabilities of the donor and an itemized statement under oath showing all receipts and disbursements for each of the three months immediately preceding the month in which falls the date prescribed for the payment of the tax are required and should accompany the application. The application, with the evidence, must be filed with the collector, who will transmit it to the Commissioner with his recommendations as to the extension. When it is received by the Commissioner, it will be examined and, if possible, within 30 days will be denied, granted, or tentatively granted subject to certain conditions of which the donor will be notified. The Commissioner will not consider an application for such an extension unless request therefor is made to the collector on or before the due date. If the executor desires to obtain an additional extension, the request therefor must be made to the collector on or before the date of the expiration of the previous extension."

The second and third paragraphs of article 31, which read—

"As a condition to the granting of such an extension, the Commissioner may require the donor to furnish a bond in an amount not exceeding double the amount of the tax. If a bond is required, it must be filed with the collector within 10 days after notification by the Commissioner that such bond is required. The bond, if required, shall be conditioned upon the payment of the tax and interest assessed in connection therewith in accordance with the terms of the extension granted, and shall be executed by a surety company holding a certificate of authority from the Secretary of the Treasury as an acceptable surety upon Federal bonds and shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioner. In lieu of such surety, the bond may be secured by the deposit of Liberty bonds, other bonds or notes of the United States, any public debt obligations of the United States, or any bonds, notes, or other obligations which are unconditionally guaranteed as to both interest and principal by the United States, equal in their total par value to the amount of such bond. (See section 1126 of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended by section 7 of H. R. 4304, Public, No. 3, Seventy-fourth Congress.)"

"If an extension of time for payment of the tax is granted, the amount, time for payment of which is so extended, shall be paid on or before the expiration of the period of extension, together with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum on such amount from the date when the payment should have been made if no extension had been granted until the expiration of the period of the extension. (See section 521 and article 54.)"

are amended to read as follows:

"As a condition to the granting of such an extension, the Commissioner will usually require the donor to furnish a bond in an amount not exceeding double the amount for which the extension is desired, or to furnish other security satisfactory to the Commissioner for the payment of the liability on or before the date prescribed for the payment in the extension, so that the risk of loss to the Government will not be more at the end of the extension period than it was at the beginning of the period. If a bond is required it shall be conditioned upon the payment of the amount for which the extension is granted, together with interest and additional amounts assessed in connection therewith, in accordance with the terms of the extension granted, and shall be executed by a surety company holding a certificate of authority from the Secretary of the Treasury as an acceptable surety on Federal bonds, and shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioner. In lieu of such a bond, the donor may file a bond secured by the deposit of bonds or notes of the United States, any public debt obligations of the United States, or any bonds, notes, or other obligations which are unconditionally guaranteed as to both interest and principal by the United States, equal in their total par value to the amount of such bond. (See section 1126 of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended by section 7 of the Act of February 4, 1935, 49 Stat. 20, U. S. C., 1934 edition, Sup. II, Title 6, section 15.)

"The amount for which an extension is granted, with the additions thereto, shall be paid on or before the expiration of the period of the extension without the necessity of notice and demand from the collector. Payment of the amount for which the extension was granted and the additions thereto before the expiration of the extension will not relieve the donor from paying the entire amount of interest provided for in the extension."

SEC. 816, Revenue Act of 1938. Extension of time for payment of deficiencies approved by Commissioner.—
The requirement of • • • section 513 (i) of the Revenue Act of 1932 • • • of approval by the Secretary of extension of time for payment of deficiency in • • • gift tax shall not apply after thirty days after the date of the enactment of this Act, but the approval shall be by the Commissioner under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary.

Article 44 is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 44. Extension of time for payment of deficiencies.—If it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the payment of a deficiency upon the date prescribed for payment thereof would result in undue hardship to the donor, the Commissioner may grant an extension of time for the payment of the deficiency or any part thereof for a period of time not in excess of 18 months and in exceptional cases for a further period not in excess of 12 months. The extension will not be granted upon a general statement of hardship. The term 'undue hardship' means more than an inconvenience to the donor. It must appear that substantial fancial loss, for example, due to the sale of property at a sacrifice price, will result to the donor from making payment of the deficiency at the date prescribed for payment. If a market exists, the sale of property at the current market price is not ordinarily considered as resulting in undue hardship. The Act provides that no extension will be granted where the deficiency is due to negligence or intentional disregard of rules and regulations or to fraud with intent to evade tax.

"An application for an extension of time for the payment of the deficiency should be made under oath and must be accompanied or supported by evidence showing the undue hardship that would result to the donor if the extension were refused. A sworn statement of assets and liabilities of the donor and an itemized statement under oath showing all receipts and disbursements for each of the three months immediately preceding the month in which falls the date prescribed for the payment of the deficiency are required and should accompany the application. The application, with the evidence, must be filed with the collector, who will transmit it to the Commissioner with his recommendation as to the extension. When it is received by the Commissioner, it will be examined and, if possible, within 30 days will be denied, granted, or tentatively granted subject to certain conditions of which the donor will be notified. The Commissioner will not consider an application for an extension of time for the payment of a deficiency unless request therefor is made to the collector on or before the date prescribed for payment thereof, as shown by the notice and demand from the collector. If the donor desires to obtain an additional extension, the request therefor must be made to the collector on or before the date of the expiration of the previous extension.

"As a condition to the granting of such an extension, the Commissioner will usually require the donor to furnish a bond in an amount not exceeding double the amount of the deficiency, or to furnish other security satisfactory to the Commissioner for the payment of the liability on or before the date prescribed for the payment in the extension, so that the risk of loss to the Government will not be more at the end of the extension period than it was at the beginning of the period. If a bond is required it shall be conditioned upon the payment of the deficiency, interest, and additional amounts assessed in connection therewith in accordance with the terms of the extension granted, and shall be executed by a surety company holding a certificate of authority from the Secretary of the Treasury as an acceptable surety on Federal bonds, and shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioner. In lieu of such a bond, the donor may file a bond secured by the deposit of bonds or notes of the United States, any public debt obligations of the United States, or any bonds, notes, or other obligations which are unconditionally guaranteed as to both interest and principal by the United States, equal in their total par value to the amount of such bond. (See section 1126 of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended by section 7 of the Act of February 4, 1935, 49 Stat. 20, U. S. C., 1934 edition, Sup. II, Title 6, section 15.)

"The amount for which an extension is granted, with the additions thereto, shall be paid on or before the expiration of the period of the extension without the necessity of notice and demand from the collector. Payment of the amount for which the extension was granted and the additions thereto before the expiration of the extension will not relieve the donor from paying the entire amount of interest provided for in the extension."

Immediately preceding article 45 there is inserted a partial quotation of section 819 of the Revenue Act of 1938, as follows:

SEC. 819, Revenue Act of 1938. Abatement of jeopardy assessment. • • •
(c) Section 514 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1932 is amended to read as follows:

"(c) Amount assessable before decision of Board.—The jeopardy assessment may be made in respect of a deficiency greater or less than that notice of which has been mailed to the donor, despite the provisions of section 513 (f) prohibiting the determination of additional deficiencies, and whether or not the donor has theretofore filed a petition with the Board of Tax Appeals. The Commissioner may, at any time before the decision of the Board is rendered, abate such assessment, or any unpaid portion thereof, to the extent that he believes the assessment to be excessive in amount. The Commissioner shall notify the Board of the amount of such assessment, or abatement, if the petition is filed with the Board before the making of the assessment or is subsequently filed, and the Board shall have jurisdiction to redetermine the entire amount of the deficiency and of all amounts assessed at the same time in connection therewith." • • •
(e) • • • section 514 (f) of the Revenue Act of 1932 • • • [is] amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new sentence: "If any portion of the jeopardy assessment is abated by the Commissioner before the decision of the Board is rendered, the bond shall, at the request of the taxpayer, be proportionately reduced."
(f) The amendments made by this section shall be effective only with respect to jeopardy assessments made after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The second paragraph of article 45 is amended by adding the following sentence at the end thereof:

"If the jeopardy assessment is made after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1938, the Commissioner may, at any time before the decision of the Board is rendered, abate the assessment or any unpaid portion thereof, to the extent that he believes it to be excessive in amount."

The third paragraph of article 45 is amended by adding the following sentence at the end thereof:

"If the Commissioner believes that the amount of the jeopardy assessment is excessive and abates a portion thereof before the decision of the Board is rendered, the amount of the bond will be proportionately reduced at the request of the donor."

Any such interest accruing during such period which has been collected prior to the date of the enactment of this Act in excess of such rate shall be credited or refunded to the taxpayer, if claim therefor is filed within six months after the date of the enactment of this Act. No interest shall be allowed or paid on any such credit or refund.

SEC. 821. Revenue Act of 1938. Interest accruing after October 24, 1933, and before August 30, 1935, on delinquent income, estate, and gift taxes.—
Interest accruing after October 24, 1933, and prior to August 30, 1935, on delinquent income, estate, and gift taxes shall be computed at the rate of 6 per centum per annum. Any such interest accruing during such period which has been collected prior to the date of the enactment of this Act in excess of such rate shall be credited or refunded to the taxpayer, if claim therefor is filed within six months after the date of the enactment of this Act. The first paragraph of article 68 is amended by changing the words "Except as provided in (b) of this article" to "Except as provided in (b) or (c) of this article."

"(1) If the Board finds that the donor has overpaid his tax for the year to which the notice of deficiency relates, and the decision of the Board as to the amount overpaid has become final (see section 1005 of the Revenue Act of 1926), and further determines as part of its decision that any portion of the overpayment was made within three years before the filing of the refund claim or the filing of the petition, whichever is earlier, the amount of such portion of the overpayment shall be credited or refunded. The portion of the overpayment made within such period will be credited or refunded, even though the Board has not determined as part of its decision that the overpayment was so made, where a hearing upon the petition was held by the Board prior to the expiration of 30 days after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1934."

The portion of the overpayment, if any, made after the mailing of the notice of the deficiency will be credited or refunded even though the Board has not determined as part of its decision that the overpayment was so made, if the decision of the Board is rendered before the expiration of 30 days after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1938."

Article 68 is further amended by adding the following paragraph at the end thereof:

"(c) A credit or refund of the excess of any interest over 6 per centum per annum accruing between October 24, 1933, and August 30, 1935, on delinquent tax, where such excess was collected prior to May 28, 1938, is prohibited unless claim therefor is filed within six months after May 28, 1938."

The amendments made by this section shall be effective only with respect to jeopardy assessments made after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The first paragraph of article 77 is amended by adding the following sentence at the end thereof:

SEC. 503. Revenue Act of 1938.—
Section 305 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, is amended to read as follows:

"(b) Where the Commissioner finds that the payment on the due date of any part of the amount determined by the executor as the tax would impose undue hardship upon the estate, the Commissioner may extend the time for payment of any such part not to exceed ten years from the due date. In such case the amount in respect of which the extension is granted shall be paid on or before the date of the expiration of the period of the extension, and the running of the statute of limitations for assessment and collection, as provided in sections 310 (a) and 311 (b), shall be suspended for the period of any such extension. If an extension is granted, the Commissioner may, if he deems it necessary, require the executor to furnish security for the payment of the amount in respect of which the extension is granted in accordance with the terms of the extension."

SEC. 816. Revenue Act of 1938.—
The requirement of • • • section 308 (i) of the Revenue Act of 1926, of approval by the Secretary of extension of time for payment of deficiency in • • • estate • • • tax shall not apply after thirty days after the date of the enactment of this Act but the approval shall be by the Commissioner under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary.

Article 82 (a) is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 82. (a) Extension of time for payment of tax shown on return.—In any case in which the Commissioner finds that payment, on the due date, of any part of the tax shown on the return would impose undue hardship upon the estate, he may extend the time for payment thereof for a period or periods not to exceed in all ten years from the due date.

"The extension will not be granted upon a general statement of hardship. The term 'undue hardship' means more than an inconvenience to the estate. It must appear that substantial financial loss, for example, due to the sale of property at a sacrifice price, will result to the estate from making payment of the tax at the due date. If a market exists, a sale of property at the current market price is not ordinarily considered as resulting in an undue hardship.

"An application for such an extension must be in writing and must contain, or be supported by, information under oath showing the undue hardship that would result to the estate if the requested extension were refused. The application, with the supporting information, must be filed with the collector, who will transmit it to the Commissioner with his recommendations as to the extension. When it is received by the Commissioner, it will be examined, and, if possible, within 30 days will be denied, granted, or tentatively granted subject to certain conditions of which the executor will be notified. The Commissioner will not consider an application for such an extension unless request therefor is made to the collector on or before the due date. If the executor desires to obtain an additional extension, the request therefor must be made to the collector on or before the date of the expiration of the previous extension. No single extension for more than one year will be granted. The granting of an extension of time for paying the tax is discretionary with the Commissioner, and such authority will be exercised under such conditions as he may deem advisable.

"If an extension is granted, the Commissioner may, if he deems it necessary, require the executor to furnish security for the payment of the amount in respect of which the extension is granted in accordance with the terms of the extension.

"The amount of the tax for which an extension is granted, with the additions thereto, shall be paid on or before the expiration of the period of the extension without the necessity of notice and demand from the collector. Payment of the amount for which the extension was granted and the additions thereto before the expiration of the extension will not relieve the executor from paying the entire amount of interest provided for in the extension.

"The granting of such an extension will not relieve the executor from the duty of filing the return on or before the date fixed by the regulations, nor will it operate to prevent the running of interest. (See article 84.) An extension of time to pay the tax may extend the period within which taxes allowed as a credit by section 301 (c) are required to be paid and the credit therefor claimed. (See article 9 (b).) The running of the statute of limitations for assessment and collection, as provided in sections 310 (a) and 311 (b), is suspended for the period of the extension. (See articles 77 and 105.)"

Article 83 is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 83. Extension of time for payment of deficiency tax.—If it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the payment of the deficiency upon the date prescribed for the payment thereof will result in undue hardship to the estate, the Commissioner may grant an extension of time for the payment of the deficiency or any part thereof for a period not to exceed in all four years from the date prescribed for the payment of the deficiency.

"The extension will not be granted upon a general statement of hardship. The term 'undue hardship' means more than an inconvenience to the estate. It must appear that substantial financial loss, for example, due to the sale of property at a sacrifice price, will result to the estate from making payment of the deficiency at the due date. If a market exists, the sale of property at the current market price is not ordinarily considered as resulting in an undue hardship. No extension will be granted where the deficiency is due to negligence or intentional disregard of the rules and regulations, or to fraud with intent to evade the tax.

"An application for such an extension must be in writing and must contain, or be supported by, information under oath showing the undue hardship that would result to the estate were the requested extension refused. The application, with the supporting information, must be filed with the collector, who will transmit it to the Commissioner with his recommendations as to the extension. When it is received by the Commissioner, it will be examined, and, if possible, within 30 days will be denied, granted, or tentatively granted subject to certain conditions of which the executor will be notified. The Commissioner will not consider an application for an extension of time for the payment of a deficiency unless request therefor is made to the collector on or before the date prescribed for payment thereof, as shown by the notice and demand from the collector. If the executor desires to obtain an additional extension, the request therefor must be made to the collector on or before the date of the expiration of the previous extension. No single extension for more than one year will be granted. The granting of an extension of time for paying the deficiency is discretionary, and such authority will be exercised under such conditions as may be deemed advisable.

"As a condition to the granting of such an extension, the Commissioner will usually require the executor to furnish a bond in an amount not exceeding double the amount of the deficiency, or to furnish other security satisfactory to the Commissioner for the payment of the liability on or before the date prescribed for payment in the extension, so that the risk of loss to the Government will not be more at the end of the extension period than it was at the beginning of the period. If a bond is required it shall be conditioned upon the payment of the deficiency, interest, and additional amounts assessed in connection therewith in accordance with the terms of the extension granted, and shall be executed by a surety company holding a certificate of authority from the Secretary of the Treasury as an acceptable surety on Federal bonds, and shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioner. In lieu of such a bond, the executor may file a bond secured by the deposit of bonds or notes of the United States, any public debt obligations of the United States, or any bonds, notes, or other obligations which are unconditionally guaranteed as to both interest and principal by the United States, equal in their total par value to the amount of such bond. (See section 1126 of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended by section 7 of the Act of February 4, 1935, 49 Stat. 20, U. S. C., 1934 edition, Sup. II, Title 6, section 15.)

"The amount of the deficiency for which an extension is granted, with the additions thereto, shall be paid on or before the expiration of the period of the extension without the necessity of notice and demand from the collector. Payment of the amount for which the extension was granted and the additions thereto before the expiration of the extension will not relieve the executor from paying the entire amount of interest provided for in the extension.

"The granting of such an extension will not operate to prevent the running of interest. (See article 85.) An extension of time to pay the deficiency may extend the period within which taxes allowed as a credit by section 301 (c) are required to be paid and the credit therefor claimed. (See article 9 (b).) The running of the statute of limitations for assessment and collection, as provided in sections 310 (a) and 311 (b), is suspended for the period of the extension. (See articles 77 and 105.)"

Immediately preceding article 84, the following is inserted:

SEC. 504. Revenue Act of 1938.—
Section 305 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new sentence: "In the case of any such extension granted after March 31, 1938, the rate of interest shall be 4 per centum per annum.

SEC. 816. Revenue Act of 1938.—
The requirement of • • • section 308 (i) of the Revenue Act of 1926, of approval by the Secretary of extension of time for payment of deficiency in • • • estate • • • tax shall not apply after thirty days after the date of the enactment of this Act, but the approval shall be by the Commissioner under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary.

SEC. 821. Revenue Act of 1938.—
Interest accruing after October 24, 1933, and prior to August 30, 1935, on delinquent income, estate, and gift taxes shall be computed at the rate of 6 per centum per annum. • • •

The first paragraph of article 84 (a) is amended by changing the date "August 31, 1935", appearing in the parenthetical exception at the end thereof, to "October 25, 1933".

The first sentence of the second paragraph of article 84 (a), which reads—

"If an extension of time has been granted for paying any portion of the tax shown on the executor's return, in accordance with article 82 (a), interest accrues thereon at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the expiration of 18 months after the decedent's death to the expiration of the period of the extension."

is amended to read as follows:

"If the time for paying any portion of the tax shown on the executor's return was extended under the provisions of article 82 (a) and such extension of time was granted prior to April 1, 1938, interest accrues on such portion of the tax at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the expiration of 18 months after the decedent's death to the expiration of the period of the extension. If, however, the extension of time was granted after March 31, 1938, interest accrues at the rate of 4 per cent per annum. The lower rate of interest does not apply retroactively to any period of extension as may have been granted in the same case prior to April 1, 1938."

[1] 2 F. R. 2324 (2707 DI).

and such paragraph is further amended by changing the date "August 31, 1935", appearing in the parenthetical exception at the end thereof, to "October 25, 1933."

The third paragraph of article 84 (a) is amended by inserting "4 or" immediately after the word "at" in the first sentence.

The second, third and fifth paragraphs of article 85 are amended by changing the date "August 31, 1935", appearing in the parenthetical exceptions therein, to "October 25, 1933".

Immediately preceding article 95 the following is inserted:

SEC. 819 (e). Revenue Act of 1938.—Section * * * 312 (f) of the Revenue Act of 1926, * * * [is] amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new sentence: "If any portion of the jeopardy assessment is abated by the Commissioner before the decision of the Board is rendered, the bond shall, at the request of the taxpayer, be proportionately reduced."

SEC. 819 (f). Revenue Act of 1938.—The amendments made by this section shall be effective only with respect to jeopardy assessments made after the date of the enactment of this Act.

Immediately preceding article 99 the following is inserted:

(e) The last sentence of section 319 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, is amended to read as follows: "No such refund shall be made of any portion of the tax unless the Board determines as part of its decision that such portion was paid within four years (or, in the case of a tax imposed by this title, within three years) before the filing of the claim or the filing of the petition, whichever is earlier, or that such portion was paid after the mailing of the notice of deficiency; except that where the decision of the Board is rendered before the expiration of thirty days after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1938, the credit or refund may be made of any portion paid after the mailing of the notice of deficiency.

SEC. 821. Revenue Act of 1938.—Interest accruing after October 24, 1933, and prior to August 30, 1935, on delinquent income, estate, and gift taxes shall be computed at the rate of 6 per centum per annum. Any such interest accruing during such period which has been collected prior to the date of the enactment of this Act in excess of such rate shall be credited or refunded to the taxpayer, if claim therefor is filed within six months after the date of the enactment of this Act. No interest shall be allowed or paid on any such credit or refund.

Article 99 is amended by inserting immediately after the third paragraph a new paragraph reading as follows:

"Claims made under the provisions of section 821 of the Revenue Act of 1938 for the refund of interest accruing after October 24, 1933, and before August 30, 1935, at a rate in excess of 6 per cent per annum upon delinquent estate taxes and paid prior to May 28, 1938 (the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1938) must be filed within six months after the date of such enactment."

Article 99 is further amended by inserting immediately after the clause "whichever is earlier," appearing in the first sentence of the original fourth paragraph, an additional clause reading—and by substituting for the last sentence reading—

"or that such portion was paid after the mailing of the notice of deficiency,"

"The portion of the overpayment made within such period will be refunded, even though the Board has not determined as part of its decision that the overpayment was so made, if a hearing upon the petition was held by the Board prior to the expiration of 30 days after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1934."

a new sentence reading as follows:

"The portion of the overpayment, if any, made after the mailing of the notice of deficiency will be refunded, even though the Board has not determined as part of its decision that the overpayment was so made, if the decision of the Board is rendered before the expiration of 30 days after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1938."

Article 100 is amended by adding the following new sentence at the end thereof:

"No interest shall be allowed in respect of any refund of excess interest claimed and allowed under the provisions of section 821 of the Revenue Act of 1938."

Immediately preceding article 101 the following is inserted:

SEC. 815. Revenue Act of 1938.—Section 3229 of the Revised Statutes is amended by striking out "with the advice and consent of the Secretary of the Treasury" and inserting in lieu thereof "with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, or of the Under Secretary of the Treasury, or of an Assistant Secretary of the Treasury".

Immediately preceding article 106 the following is inserted:

SEC. 806. Revenue Act of 1938.—Any oath or affirmation required or authorized by any internal-revenue law or by any regulations made under authority thereof may be administered by any person authorized to administer oaths for general purposes by the law of the United States, or of any State, Territory, or possession of the United States, or of the District of Columbia, wherein such oath or affirmation is administered. This section shall not be construed as an exclusive enumeration of the persons who may administer such oaths or affirmations.

This Treasury Decision is issued under authority prescribed in section 1101 of the Revenue Act of 1926 and section 403 of the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended.

TITLE 31—MONEY AND FINANCE: TREASURY

NEWLY-MINED DOMESTIC SILVER

JULY 11, 1938.

Memorandum for the President:

The Newly-Mined Domestic Silver Proclamation of December 30, 1937,[1] modifying the Proclamation of December 21, 1933, as modified, provides that:

"* * * the said Proclamation of the twenty-first day of December, 1933, as heretofore and hereby modified shall remain in force and effect until the 31st day of December, 1938 unless repealed or further modified by Act of Congress or by subsequent Proclamation."

As you know, in the normal course a considerable period of time elapses between the date silver is mined and the date when the refining of the silver has been completed and the silver is delivered to a Mint. Accordingly, a question has arisen as to whether domestic silver mined prior to midnight, December 31, 1938, may be received by the mints after that date under said Proclamation, as modified.

I am advised by the General Counsel of the Treasury that in his opinion the mints may continue after December 31, 1938, to receive under said Proclamation, as modified, domestic silver mined prior to midnight, December 31, 1938, and otherwise complying with the Proclamation. I am in accord with such opinion. Accordingly, if you approve, the mints will be instructed that they may continue after December 31, 1938, to accept under said Proclamation, as modified, newly-mined domestic silver mined prior to midnight of December 31, 1938. This would be consistent with the action taken pursuant to your approval given under date of September 14, 1937 when the same problem was presented, the basic proclamation as then modified being due to expire on December 31, 1937.

If you approve of the foregoing, I should appreciate it if you would so indicate below.

[SEAL] H. MORGENTHAU, Jr.
Secretary of the Treasury.

Approved July 16, 1938.

FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT,
The White House.
